To forestall the usual uninformed statements regarding Easter that gain currency about this time of year, the Herald may say that Easter is neither early nor late this year. It falls on April 11; and as it may occur as early as Mar. 22 and as late as April 25, it is just about "betwixt and between." The happening of the moon's cycles, Easter depends on the moon, is such that after recurring at somewhat frequent intervals, a given date is then passed by and Easter falls on it only after a lapse of years. The last time Easter fell on April 11 was 1852, and the next time will be in 1971. Last year, Easter fell on April 19—the first time on that date since 1840 and not to re-appear until 1981.

Warner Regime Has a Startling Record.

"Well, Michigan has made something of a record in the Warner administration, starting in with the Ward scandal, followed by the Glazier failure, then came the legislative mileage and expense bills graft, and now the warden of the Jackson state prison is under arrest for bribery and with the strongest kind of evidence as to his absolute guilt. That is going some, surely.

"When the people get enough of this kind of thing they will probably turn and dump the whole kaboodle of politicians and put in men of sterling quality and common business ability.

"It is useless for the ordinary voter to whine about 'machines' and 'gangs' and 'politicians,' for he is himself to blame for the present condition of things. As long as the 'any one can carry Michigan' cry holds good these natural results must necessarily follow.

The voter who votes anything that is placed on his ticket is not true to his party or to his own citizenship. The man who votes to purge his party is the one who is true to that party, to his country and to himself.

"As soon as the legislature gets through its little junket at the expense of the people it should order a thorough investigation of the affairs of Jackson prison, for the presumption is that this is not Warden Armstrong's only offense.

"What will the governor and the prison board do now? Will they appoint another politician to pay another political debt or will they put a man of integrity and experience in the responsible position?

"The primary law was designed especially that the voters might break up machines, cliques and professional political snollygosters and name their own candidates, and every voter should take advantage of his privilege."—Fowlerville Review.

Where Does The Extra Money Go?

It has been the boast of the prison board and administration since Armstrong became warden that Jackson penitentiary was a model institution, economically and progressively conducted. We have heard frequent praise of the "system" in vogue there and what has been done for the convicts and incidentally how the state has benefited. There has been talk about reforms and innovations, until we were almost led to believe that there was not another prison in the country like Jackson.

How different things appear since the bribery expose and the retirement of the warden. The prison board is having a detailed examination of the books made to ascertain if finances are straight, and concurrently with this protective step comes the charge that Jackson prison is the most extravagantly conducted of any penal institution in the state. Rep. Guy Miller had Warden Otis Fuller of Ionia prison prepare a comparative statement of the cost of maintenance, showing all expenditures on the three prisons. Mr. Fuller has submitted his report, which shows that for the four years ending last June, the state spent the following sums on the three penitentiaries for all purposes: Ionia, $103,025; Marquette, $178,021; Jackson $789,458. For current expenses the last year Ionia required $92,000; Marquette $148,000 and Jackson $226,000. There are an average of 726 prisoners at Jackson at the present time, and an average of 516 convicts at Ionia. Inasmuch as conditions are more similar at these penitentiaries than at Marquette, comparisons between them are more significant. There are, according to the above figures, 40 per cent more prisoners in Jackson than in Ionia, but the cost of maintenance at Jackson is 135 per cent greater.

What is the state getting in return for spending two dollars on every convict at Jackson for one dollar on an inmate of Ionia? Are the prisoners receiving the benefit of the difference in grape-fruit for breakfast and quail on toast for dinner? Is it because all the comforts of home and many of the luxuries not found there are to be had at Jackson, that convicts have ceased to climb the walls and remain docile and contented at this famous rest cure? Or is the money going for other purposes which the people might not approve? Surely the investigation of the finances of this institution is timely. In this day of bankrupt treasuries it would seem that considerable retrenchment might be made at Jackson with profit to the prison and taxpayers alike.

Mr. Roosevelt's Libel Suits.

President Roosevelt's prosecution of the New York World in the name of the United States government on a charge of libel appears none the less ridiculous for all the legal ability with which the chief executive is surrounded and supported. If there was a libel it was libel of relatives and associates of the president whom the World named as probable inside operators profiting in a Panama canal deal. The congress of the United States, which still exists as a co-ordinate branch of the government, has accepted notification of the president's action with great mirth and little serious interest. That portion of the press which is usually most fulsome in its approval of everything Rooseveltian, remains for the most part ominously silent. Most ominous of all is the silence of many journals which saw in the recent sentencing of certain labor leaders for contempt in publishing forbidden boycott matter, an invasion of the privileges of the press. While the independent and anti-Roosevelt newspapers are roundly berating the administration for attempting to revive the spirit of the ancient and unholy sedition laws of a century ago.

Possibly the World has merited punishment. Slander should never go unpunished. It is the one cause of satisfaction that the present suit will clear the atmosphere, and happily, throw some more light on the Panama canal project, which, admittedly, is to cost double the original estimate. But it is nevertheless unfortunate that tussle between the president, or the president's associates, and the World, was not begun by individuals rather than in the name of the whole American people; for the whole American people seem strangely calm through it all. Here and there are outbursts of rejoicing over the president's latest scraps and exploits. But the painful fact remains that in the declining days of his administration Mr. Roosevelt's knighly espousal of the square deal is rapidly degenerating into a melodramatic heroism that usually commands the admiration of kindred spirits and the antagonism of alien spirits, to the utter neglect of the merits of the questions or principles involved.—Detroit Saturday Night.

Good Sense Here.

"Mr. Merchant," writes the Macksville (Kan.) Enterprise, "did you ever stop to consider how many of your possible customers buy of mail order houses, because you don't have just exactly what they want, and the mail order house does—or at least they think it does?"

"Did you ever stop to consider that if you made your store absolutely up-to-date, and complete in its stock, there would be a good many more buying in your store, and a good many less buying of the catalogue houses?"

"Did you ever stop to consider that by frequently sizing up your stock and placing orders as you need, sending them by mail to your jobber instead of buying once a season from a salesman, that you'd gain customers and trade?"

"Do you now see how your mail orders for your customers will kill off mail orders by your customers?"

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth, Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is so simple and easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

Investigation into the affairs at Jackson prison indicate that Warden Armstrong has been working the "graft" ever since his appointment. It has long been known that the management of this prison was about the worst of any of our state institutions and it is to be hoped that there will be a house cleaning.

Growing Clover On Jack Pine Lands.

The Bureau of Plant Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture has recently issued a Farmer's Bulletin on how to grow clover for forage and seed on the sandy jack pine lands of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The Bulletin tells how these ought to be handled for best results. Jack pine lands are different from other lands and require special care to make them productive. The author of the bulletin searched for farmers in northern Michigan, parts of Wisconsin and Minnesota, who have made unusual success on these lands, and it is the methods that these practical farmers have tried and found successful that are described.

Jack pine lands can be farmed profitably if they are handled right; when not handled right farming on them is a failure. Particular attention is given in the bulletin to farming clover and the handling of this crop for seed. The vital fact in farming these lands is that clover will grow on them if the crop is handled right. The seed yields of clover, particularly mammoth clover, on these lands is surprisingly good, some years returning twenty to forty dollars an acre.

The bulletin suggests the best practices for securing a crop of seed every year and tells how to secure a stand of clover when the usual methods fail. Matters emphasized are: Plow all the brakes, ferns and wild grasses under without turning off; do all new breaking in July and early August; plow shallow, 3 to 4 inches deep; use the roller to firm the soil and get a better stand of clover and the spike tooth harrow to leave the top loose and rough to retain soil moisture.

The bulletin is entitled, "Clover Farming on the Sandy Jack Pine Lands of the North." It can be had free upon request to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., or to U. S. Representatives and Senators. Farmers on light sandy lands as well as those growing clover for seed in northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota will find many useful suggestions in the bulletin.

Armstrong Freed And Re-Arrested.

Warden A. N. Armstrong was arraigned in the justice court at Jackson Monday on the charge of accepting a bribe and a promise of a bribe preferred against him on complaint of General Fred W. Green, secretary of the Acme Reed Furniture company of Ionia, which has a contract at the prison.

The accused, who had been at liberty on $6,000 bail since his arrest Saturday, Jan. 30, was discharged on this complaint and immediately re-arrested on a charge of soliciting a bribe.

Bail was increased to $10,000, the securities who signed the old bond going on the new, namely ex-Senator A. J. Peek and H. S. Reynolds of the People's National bank. Hearing on the new complaint was adjourned to Tuesday, Feb. 16.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

Armor Brand Tinware is coated with an extra thick coat of pure tin and is the only tinware sold under a trademark label by name. That name is your guide to the tinware that wears and wears. Wonderful European Formula

All Forms of Bronchial and Lung Troubles Disappear by Magie Wherever Abbey Syrup, the Famous European Remedy, is Used.

The grim specter of death lurks in every neglected case of Asthma and Bronchitis. The delicate membrane lining of the air passages becomes irritated and inflamed with the continuous coughing spells, and forms the best breeding-place for consumption germs. Abbey Syrup, which is prepared from a formula handed down through the ages by the monks of Sancto Paulo in Spain, has proved its wonderful efficacy as a permanent cure for every form of lung trouble with a record that has made it famous throughout Europe.

It not only allays the irritation, diminishing and finally stopping the cough altogether, but builds up and strengthens the tissue and acts as a splendid tonic.

Even a simple bottle has been known to completely cure the disease, though in more stubborn cases and those of long duration, a longer treatment may be necessary.

This is the original remedy and is sold and prescribed in Tawas City by C. H. Prescott & Sons and G. S. Darling, and in East Tawas by T. O. Gates and J. E. Dillon.

Things to learn: The value of time; the success of perseverance; the pleasure of working; the dignity of simplicity; the worth of character; the power of kindness; the influence of example; the obligation of duty; the wisdom of economy; the virtue of patience; the improvement of talent; the joy of originating.—Marshall Field.

This is the Cornell creed, according to a Cornell University professor, who has his version on his desk where he can look at it when he works:
I believe in the stuff I am handing out, in the firm I am working for and in my ability to get results.
I believe that honest stuff can be passed out to honest men by honest methods.

I believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking, and in the pleasure of my job.

I believe that a man gets what he goes after; that one deed done today is worth two deeds tomorrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself.

I believe in today and the work I am doing, in tomorrow and the work I hope to do, and in the sure reward which the future holds.

I believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, in friendship and honest competition.

I believe there is something doing somewhere for every man ready to do it.

I believe I am ready right now.—United Mine Workers' Journal.

Rev. Daniel R. Latter.

We have just learned that Rev. Daniel R. Latter, whose parents reside in Rosco county, died on Jan. 13th. He had been engaged in revival meetings at Camp Verde, Arizona, when he received injuries caused by a horse falling on him, which terminated in death after forty-eight hours of suffering.

He was born in England, June 22, 1864, came with his parents to Canada in 1872, and from there with them to the wilds of Isoco county in 1878.

The writer first met him at a woods meeting, held near Whittemore, which was conducted by C. H. Prescott, who furnished free transportation from the extremities of his logging road to that point. During my pastorate at Tawas in 1882 we conducted chapel car services along the line of the railroad Sunday afternoons. Daniel Latter came out at one of those meetings, May 7th and was baptised by myself in the Augres river July 8th.

It would be difficult to rehearse the story of his work as a christian man—among the camps and settlers, organizing Bible schools and churches, his struggles to secure an education, to equip him for greater usefulness. He was ordained for the gospel ministry September 27, 1900, in the Olivet Baptist church of which the writer was pastor. From that time until the day of his death he worked as a missionary pastor in the far west. His labors have come to an end, but his works will follow him.
