Are our merchants prepared to meet the competition, constantly growing stiffer, of those alluring spring catalogs from the metropolitan department stores? Trade has to be drummed, and the only efficient drummer is a live newspaper.—Gladwin County Record.

Last Monday, the girls, with Mrs. S. Brabon and Mrs. C. Johnson, as chaperons, enjoyed a drive to Sand Lake where the day was spent at "Kamp Karlo." The fact that they became stuck in a snow bank and broke down on their way home were only items of pleasure compared with the loss of the treasury funds and the frantic search which was made before the lost money was recovered from the snow bank in which the treasurer deposited it. However a most enjoyable day resulted, and all were happy.

WHEREAS, Nelly Kelley and John D. Kelley husband and wife of Turner, Arenac County Michigan, made and executed a certain mortgage, bearing date the 31st day of April, A. D. 1907, to William J. Twin Necessities.
The reader of a newspaper will readily agree that it is necessary for a merchant, with any pretension to progressiveness, to advertise. Yet this would not be true if it were not equally true that it is necessary for the reader of the newspaper, if he or she have any pretensions to progressiveness, to read and answer the ads.

These are twin-facts, twin necessities. Whatever is of enough importance for the merchant to pay for the privilege of saying is of too much importance for the reader to overlook. And just as advertising is the way of the progressive store, so is the reading of advertising the way of the progressive person. Measure your progressiveness by the standard, and you will not go far wrong.

Here Are The Officials Figures.
The officials figures of the recent national election have just been issued from Washington and furnish much interesting information to the political student. The total shows the following votes cast:
Taft, republican, 7,637,676.
Bryan, democrat, 6,393,182.
Debs, socialist, 448,453.
Chafin, prohibitionist, 241,252.
Higsen, independence, 83,186.
Watson, peoples, 33,871.
Gilhaus, socialist labor, 15,421.
Total for all candidates, 14,852,239.
This grand total number exceeds by 1,341,531 the total number of votes cast in the presidential election of 1904, when the grand total was 13,510,708.

Compared with the 1904 election, the candidates of the republican and democrat and socialist parties increased their vote this year. The reverse is true of the candidates of the prohibition, populist and socialist-labor parties. The independence party did not figure in the presidential election four years ago.

The biggest difference in a party vote is shown in an increase for Bryan of 1,315,211 over the total vote cast in 1904 for A. B. Parker, the democratic candidate. Taft received 14,190 votes more than were polled for President Roosevelt in 1904, and Debs ran 49,368 ahead of his 1904 vote.

Debs received his largest vote in Pennsylvania, 30,913; Illinois, 39,711, and New York, 38,451. Delaware gave him only 75 votes.

Higsen's votes in New York, 35,817, and in his own state, Massachusetts, 19,237, together formed nearly two-thirds of all the votes he received in the whole.

In six states not a vote was cast for Higsen. Nine states registered not a single vote for the prohibition candidate. The socialist-labor candidate received votes in only 13 states, and in only 19 states were votes cast for Watson of the populist party.

In Other Words.
A Washington dispatch printed in the New York Tribune, says:
"The president has been advised that a method of prosecution has been found, and although it is too early to reveal the government's plans, it may be said that the prosecution will be pushed with energy. The president is deeply interested in this case, and those charged with the prosecution realize that they will earn his gratitude if their efforts are successful."

In other words, if the lawyers hired by the American government to do public service are able to find a means whereby newspapers or individuals may be successfully prosecuted for lese majeste then they may confidently count upon smiles from the king. Doubtless there would be even more gratitude if these lawyers could discover a method whereby Representative Rainey of Illinois could be called to account for his remarks with respect to the Panama canal.—The Commoner.

Building New Boats.
The Arnold Transit Company of Mackinac Island has under course of construction two new steel steamers which will be ready for service at the opening of navigation next spring. With these new steamers the Arnold Transit Co. will be in better shape than ever before to take care of the large crowds that annually visit the "North Country." This boat line connects at Cheboygan with the D. & M. railroad and at Mackinac Island the D. & C. line.

RANDOM SHOTS
SOME ARE ORIGINAL, SOME ARE NOT

When you have to start your story by pretending it: "I hate to kick or knock," just don't.

The department of agriculture estimates that the ravages of field mice and rats entail a direct loss of $20,000,000 annually.

The Iowa legislature has before it a bill aimed at bad eggs. Some legislature we know of ought to have bad eggs aimed at them.

Don't be too anxious to look into the future. Let the past take care of itself but get a firm grip on the present and make all out of it that you can.

The retail grocers' association all over the country are protesting at the proposed tax on tea. Let us see; where have we heard something like that before?

In 1907, with a population of 86,074,000 the United States had a total of $1,466,056,632 in gold and $705,330,224 in silver coin and bullion, giving a per capita wealth of $25.23.

In 1907 shipping disasters to American vessels near foreign shores on rivers and lakes totaled 1,579 wrecks, 574 lives lost, $12,609,995 lost on ships and $2,995,415 lost on cargoes.

With Knox drawing only $8,000 a year as secretary of state, and the other members of the cabinet drawing $12,000, there is a bare possibility that some one of them may allude in time to the premier as being a sort of "cheap skate."

Democratic County Convention.
The democratic county convention met at the court house Monday to elect delegates to attend the state convention at Lansing and to nominate a candidate for county road commissioner.

James LaBerge was chosen chairman and L. J. Patterson, of this city, secretary, John Newberry, of Wilber, and Nels Brabant, of this city, tellers.

The convention then proceeded to elect delegates to the state convention as follows: Nelson Brabant, of Tawas City; James A. Hull, of Osceola; and H. E. Nunn, of Hale.

William Charters, of Reno, was the unanimous choice of the convention for the office of county road commissioner.

Plants And Flowers.
Do not keep your ferns in the sunshine; they can not stand it without injury; in repotting them the old pot will generally be found so full of strong wiry roots that it is with great difficulty that the soil can be removed. This should be done by shaking the roots back and forth in a tub of water, not by crumbling; in this way a considerable amount of soil can be washed from them; when the plants are placed in new soil, fresh soil should be worked in among the roots; sift in a little, jar the pot sharply so as to settle it and give a little water to wash the earth in among the roots.—Word and Works.

The Secret Of Long Life.
A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolongs life and makes it worth living. It purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, rebuilds wasted nerve cells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. It's a godsend to weak, sick and debilitated people. "Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months," writes W. M. Suerman, of Cushing, Me., "but Electric Bitters cured me entirely." Only 50c at G. S. Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's.

Discussed Over The Prunes.
"Why is it, Miss Willing, that fat men always have the prettiest wives? I seldom see a fat man with an ugly, cross looking wife. By Jove, those fellows just go in and win the pretty women every time."
"Well, Mr. Hammerslee, I can account for that. You see, a husband should be a sort of bromide, should have a soothing effect. Fat men are placid, calm, jolly and good providers. They like the good things of life themselves, and they like to see their wives well dressed, and to sit down to a good table. No wonder women like them better than they do lean, dyspeptic, nervous, cranky men, who find fault, nag, and are stingy. Men like this want a lot of waiting on and attention, they are generally jealous and selfish. Fat men hate a fuss, seem to understand that wives are as fond of being spoiled and of having good clothes and good dinners as other women are, and hence women naturally marry men of this temperament."

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

In a New Scandal.
Jackson, Feb. 22.—The Armstrong case has broken out in a new spot, the center of interest this time being a convict in the Jackson prison. The prosecuting officers say that Fred Warren, the convict, told them that Warden Armstrong got him to write a statement that would discredit Gen. Fred Green, complainant in the bribery case against Armstrong, and that it was Armstrong's plan to use this statement in his own defense.

"We believe the statements of this convict," said Deputy Attorney-General McGill. "We went out after big game and we are going to get it."

The real name of the convict in this case is Fred Carleton. He is doing time in the Jackson prison for forgery. Warren, as he is known in the prison, served a previous sentence in the Ionia reformatory, and while there was a saloon keeper. He was keeping books at the time the shirt contract was displaced at the reformatory by the reed chair contract given to Gen. Green's company.

The story, as told by the prosecuting officials, is that Armstrong induced Warren, under a promise of a parole or pardon, to write statements to the effect that Gen. Fred Green and Warden Fuller, with members of the Ionia reformatory board, divided up $15,000 among the members of the Ionia reformatory board in return for the transfer of a contract to Green's company.

Warren, after writing the statements, refused to sign them and Armstrong is accused of a deep laid plot to obtain confirmatory evidence. Acting Warden Wenzler is involved in this portion of the story, and the entire affair adds more sensation to the Jackson prison scandal which is beginning to involve a large portion of the present state administration.

Soldier Balks Death Plot.
It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Tex., that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed cough that stuck to me, in spite of all remedies, for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds." Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 178 pounds. For severe colds, obstinate coughs, Hemorrhages, asthma, and to prevent pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. S. Darling and Jas. E. Dillon.

If any land owner or tenant has any trees standing in the highway along his farm, or is interested in any trees standing or near his boundary line, whether the same be on his or his neighbor's land or if he is the owner of any shade tree, or is annoyed by any shade tree that overhangs the boundary, he may find the law concerning the ownership and his rights with reference to any such trees in Chapter 28 of the "Michigan Farm Laws," which the Herald is furnishing to all its subscribers. The High Road to Consumption
Neglected Asthma and Bronchitis Invariably Result in Consumption. Cure Them Today by Using Abbey Syrup, the Wonderful European Remedy.

ASTHMA

Asthma is almost invariably associated with Bronchitis. Every asthmatic has catarrh of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. When too long neglected, Asthma becomes chronic, attacks are of almost nightly occurrence, reducing the vitality, unfitting the patient for active occupation, and rendering him incapable of throwing off the effects of germination. Consumption quickly follows.

To those sufferers Abbey Syrup, Cloister Sancto Paulo, comes as a wonderful relief, allaying the irritation, strengthening the tissues, stopping the cough, besides acting as a nerve-builder and tonic. Perfect health has been restored in many cases where relief was absolutely despairing of. Not only for Asthma, but for every kind of throat, chest and lung trouble, Abbey Syrup is an infallible remedy. Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Colds and Coughs yield to its wonderful power.

This is the original remedy and is sold and personally recommended in Tawas City by C. H. Prescott & Sons and G. S. Darling, and in East Tawas by T. O. Gates and J. E. Dillon.

THE LIABLE MAN.
Here's to the steady, reliable man.
The man with the tongue that's true,
Who won't promise more than he can,
But won't do what he says he'll do.

He may not be clever, he's often quite blunt
Without either a dash or a grin;
But though it's a long time to "put up a front,"
When you meet him he's always there.

So here's to the man whom one can rely
And here's to his steady success!
May his species multiply
And his shadow never grow less!

He must cause his customer, the student, to desire it above other things that he may secure at the same price of time and effort. The salesman must get the willing attention of his customer; he must show the value of his goods and make his customer understand their use as well as their worth; then he must clinch the sale. Many teachers can do the first, fewer can accomplish the second, but the valued teacher is the rare individual who can see that the student willingly pays the price, makes the course his own, and carries it away with him.—Adopted from The Schoolmaster.

An Old History.

George C. Braun has loaned the News office a most interesting little book, four inches long, three inches wide and containing about 300 pages, and is entitled "A practical System of Modern Geography, or a View of the Present State of the World." The book was compiled by J. Olney, M. A., and first published in 1828, but its edition was printed in 1833 at Hartford. The book contains illustrations of the wood cut variety in vogue at that period, and are very crude, and the style of dress and the pictorial description of some of the places of importance at that time are humorous to look at now, though faithfully portrayed as they were at the time.

On page 114 of the book there is a brief description of Michigan territory, pronounced here, "Mish-e-gan," which is described a generally level and fertile territory, with a cold but healthy climate.

The principal products of the territory are named wheat, maize, oats, barley, peas, apples, pears and grapes.

It gives a brief space to Detroit as a place of considerable trade, and rapidly increasing in population. It describes Michilimackinack, an important military post situated on an island of the same name, and which was separated from the main land by a strait of the same name. It is or was important at that time, according to the geographer, as being a grand depot, pronounce "day-po," for Canadian fur traders.

Wisconsin is described as a part of the northwest territory, and Missouri and Arkansas were still territories.

Copper and other ores were evidently unknown quantities at the time the author of the little book gathered his data, and did not know that Michigan was destined to become the great state it is through the development of its mines. The upper peninsula is not mentioned in the geography.

The book, which is also an abbreviated gazetteer, gives the religious population of the world, which compared with latter day statistics looks ridiculous, for there are now as many religious people as there were people of all kinds at that time.

As a book of reference, this little volume is very valuable. The volume was originally the property of William A. Gillespie of Syracuse, N. Y.—Pettoskey News.

EMINENT CATAOLIC DIVINE SAYS "PROHIBITION A FAILURE"

Rev. Father T. J. Ryan, of Pontiac, an Enthusiastic Advocate of the License System and Strict Regulation of the Saloons in Michigan, Gives an Interesting Interview on Conditions as They Exist in Oakland County

Pontiac, Feb. 16.

Rev. Father T. J. Ryan, for fifteen years pastor of the church of St. Vincent de Paul at Pontiac and one of the most widely known priests in Michigan, has come out openly in opposition to the county prohibition law.

"The county prohibition law is a palpable farce and has only served to increase drunkenness in Oakland county," declares Father Ryan. "As the spiritual head of a church of over one thousand members I have been able to study the law thoroughly and it is a failure."

"Many boys who would never think of openly entering a saloon now loiter around the so-called 'blind pigs.' They have no difficulty in obtaining all the whiskey they want and as a result drunkenness has greatly increased among young men. 'A stolen apple is always the sweetest' and it was not until the young men were told that liquor was a prohibited article that they began to obtain it by stealth."

"Under the present law the liquor business has simply been transferred from the saloon where the traffic could be regulated to the drug store where minors and undesirable obtain all the whiskey they want. The liquor business should be conducted openly and above board and not over the bars of secret dens."

"There are many places in Pontiac today that are far worse than were any of the saloons. They operate under the guise of pool rooms and cigar stores and a large proportion of their patrons are minors. I have seen more drunkenness since these illicit places began operation than ever before."

"A member of my parish had an option on a drug store in Birmingham, Oakland county, and was about to purchase the place when by chance he became aware that the business consisted practically of selling whiskey. He at once decided that he could not be a party to the traffic that was going on under the guise of 'temperance' and declined to engage in an illegal business."

"There is just as much common sense in closing the saloons because one or two men drink to excess as there would be in enacting a law to do away with automobiles because of a few reckless chauffeurs. During my fifteen years residence in Pontiac I have been a careful student of the liquor question and the result of my studies can be summed up in these words: Prohibition does not prohibit."

Prohibition was enacted in Oakland county one year ago (every licensed saloon in the county being compelled to close its doors), but the sale of liquor has not stopped. The drug store sales of whiskey, as shown by the druggists' returns filed with the county prosecutor, for one week, (January 18th to 24th), amounted to 115 gallons and a half; brandy, three gallons, 1 quart, 1/2 pint; alcohol, 10 gallons, 1 pint; gin, 4 gallons, 1 quart; wine 5 gallons, 1 quart, 1 1/2 pints.

Strong drink is being sold in large quantities while on the other hand the sales of the light beverages, such as ale and beer, amount to scarcely nothing. The same records show that 2 gallons and 1/2 pint of ale were sold during the week and only 2 gallons of beer.

Less than one-tenth of the liquor sales made by druggists are recorded. Not only is a large amount of liquor being sold in Pontiac and Oakland county, but many go to nearby towns and get it. Business men are complaining of the decrease in trade and many prominent men of the town have lifted up their voices to denounce the immortality attendant upon the present prohibition regime.

Hattie L. West.

Died, at the family home, in Grant township, on Tuesday, February 16, Hattie L., the beloved wife of William West, from an attack of acute pneumonia.

Mrs. West was born at Leslie, Ingham county, May 21, 1863, and moved to Oakley with her parents in 1880. She was united in marriage with Mr. West Sept. 23, 1882. She was the mother of five children four of whom survive her—two sons, Walter and Cecil, and two daughters Mrs. Albert Syze, of Long Lake, and Miss Gola, who with the bereaved husband are left to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother.

The family came to Tawas City in 1897, and about 17 years ago moved to the farm home in Grant township.

The deceased was most highly respected and beloved by a large circle of friends, and the funeral, which was held last Friday, was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. Mrs. West was a member of Jennie Scott Hive L. O. T. M. N., of Whittemore.

Laws They Want.

Lansing, Feb. 24.—The executive committee of the State Grange, which has been in session discussing legislative matters, has finally decided to take a stand in favor of the following propositions:

Telephone companies to be made common carriers with compulsory interchange of messages.

Free, uniform text books, part of primary fund to be used in buying them.

Adoption of Torrens system of land title registration.

Direct nomination of all candidates from governor to coroner to be made mandatory on all parties.

Leaving state highway department as it is until the present system has been thoroughly tried out.

Optional township unit school district plan.

Oppose local option bill introduced by Representative Ormsbee.

The committee was against the Ormsbee local option bill because they think it was introduced in the interest of the Brewers' association.

Local Option Meeting.

The local Anti-Saloon League have arranged for a series of meetings beginning March 8. It is expected that the meetings will be held as follows:

- March 8—Tawas town hall.

He was taken to Dr. McColl's office, and then to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Green with whom he lives. He is improving.

The funeral of Mrs. Wm. West at the Baptist church in Reno on Friday last, was attended by many from this place. The funeral was the largest in that vicinity in many years. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The sermon by Rev. Pearson, from St. Mark-11:22: "Have faith in God," was overflowing with peace and consolation. Deceased was 45 years, 8 months and 26 days of age and held in high esteem by all who knew her. Interment in the Reno cemetery.

There was something doing last Wednesday after the Lady Macabees gathered for their regular meeting. An eye witness said "That Sir Knights with somebody and going somewhere could be seen on all corners." About four o'clock they quietly ascended the stairs and asked for admittance. After some consideration they were admitted. In they come with hot coffee and each carrying a basket. It was certainly a surprise, and a fraternal meeting followed. A bountiful repast was then served the ladies, Sir Knights Dillenbeck, Campbell, Barlow and Hurford performing their parts right royally. The Sir Knights of McCabe Tent never do things by halves and we must admit they can keep a secret.

IN WASHINGTON'S

TIME

Beer was as common a beverage as tea or coffee and was used as universally. Every plantation home had its brew house, the products of which were served on all occasions and to all guests. Washington's home at Mt. Vernon was no exception to this rule and the brew house there was considered as much a necessity as the creamery or stables. In Volume I, Chapter 2 of Custis' "Life of Washington" we read of Washington's temperance: He dressed and dined at three. At this meal he ate heartily, he partook sparingly of dessert and drank a home-made beverage. When the cloth was removed, with old fashion courtesy he drank to the health of every person present, and then gave his toast—his only toast—"All Our Friends." In the world's campaign for temperance, eminent ecclesiastical authorities have long recognized beer as an important factor, and have not hesitated to recommend its use in moderation, Beer has always been regarded not only as a popular beverage pleasing to the taste, but as a health-giving food and hence has been very appropriately called "liquid bread." Beer contains so small a percentage of alcohol as to render it absolutely harmless when taken in moderation, yet it does contain alcohol sufficient to produce that mild form of stimulation and exhilaration which the human system craves. Beer is absolutely pure, being entirely free from disease-laden germs so frequently found in milk and water. It is the one beverage that can not be adulterated or tampered with from the time it leaves the manufacturer until it reaches the consumer. Beer is made from pure water and selected materials, high in their percentage of nutritious elements. It does not contain caffeine, as does coffee, nor tannic acid, which is peculiar to tea. Soft drink sold at the soda fountain or other so-called "temperance bars," when not a combination of bad water and decayed fruit juices, frequently contain such deadly drugs as cocaine or caffeine. Beer does not create an appetite for whiskey or other strong liquors, but acts as a tonic, and for this reason has received the hearty endorsement of leading medical and scientific authorities the world over. One quart of beer contains one-tenth to one-fifth pound of dry substances consisting of albumen, nutritious salts, especially the all-important phosphates, and extract of malt. The vast majority of the world's best workers are beer drinkers, and beer drinking nations have long occupied the foremost position in the progress of the world.
