Ganderbone's Forecast for March.

(Copyright, 1909, by C. H. Riehm.)

When the last of a rag is loaded
And the morning van heavily trends
The rats from the White House displaying

Its burden of trophies and heads,
We shall sigh and groan, for good reason,

And our eyes shall be heavy with tears,

For there'll never be anything like it
In another ten thousand of years.

The gun-men shall walk by the wagons
And after their lusty boo-hoos,
The stork shall despair, and the papers
Shall groan for the passing of news,

The hars shall come from their burrows,

The faker shall stek out his lead,
And the milkop shall venture from hiding

And come out from under the bed,
And only the teachers shall teach us,
And only the preacher shall preach,
And no one shall mix it with evil,

And none shall put into the breach,
The tumult shall die and the shouting,
The hip and the hurrah expire,
And the gayety relished of nations

Shall be one with Gomorrah and Tyre.

The winter shall end and the heavens shall smile with the beauty of spring.
The bullfrog shall woe in the gloaming, and the robin shall merrily sing.

The elf shall exort in the pasture with bliss in the pitch of his tail, the lark shall awake in the morning and sing from the tip of a rail, the wind shall disport with the washing and popple the tails of the shirts, and the modest-er maids shall go walking with shot in the hems of their skirts.

T. R. shall sum up in the matter of what may remain to be done, and everyone under his orders shall work like a sun-of-a-gun. A few parting shots at the senate, a har or two for the list, a round with the house for the rubber, a message or so in the wings of the messenger, and the modest-er maids shall go walking with shot in the hems of their skirts.

The spring equinox shall enliven the last of the month in a way, but the total effect will be nothing to those of the Roosevelt way. The lightning shall flash and the thunder shall give us a rumble or two, but they won't sear us into the closet as Teddy's were able to do. The weather, however, shall physic the impurities out of its blood, the sun shall resume with the blower and dry and case-harden the mud, the farmer shall put in his grain with seed that his congressman sent, the thrush shall sit up in the treetop and announce that the winter has went, the roadbeds shall harden and stiffen, decreasing the number of wrecks, and people may travel a little without telescoping their necks.

The night of the sixth shall find Luna
As perfectly round as a dish,
And the zodiac sign shall be Pisces,
Or commonly known as the fish,
The children born under its power
Shall slave in the getting of wealth
And later spend all they have hoard!

Attempting to get back their health,
Which latter, we've often concluded,
And rise to remark now and then,
As one who has thought of these matters,

Is true of a whole lot of men.

And then we shall welcome sweet April, when Teddy shall bid us fare well and sail to give Africa's lions a sample of his kind of hell.

It Saved His Leg.

"All thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swenson, Watertown, Wis., "ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklin's Arnica Salve cured it sound and well." Infallible for skin eruptions, eczema, salt rheum, boils, fever sores, burns, scalds, cuts and piles. 25c at G. S.
Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's.

And forever!" they shouted, and almost a whole grading crew fell on him with flashing stilettos and cut the great Caesar in two. Alas for the fear of destruction that a life of exposure had enloused! Alas for the gorge-colored monkeys the vessels bring over as ballast! Alas for the mightiest figure occurring in history's span, but good for the fate which coadems them forever to sell da banan!

The fateful 15th having happened, and spring having burnished the dove according to all the traditions, the season shall open for love. The soulmate shall sigh for its fellow, the hard-core affinity groan, the common, unclassified lover shall bawl to call someone his own, the young folks shall eoo in the parlor and the cook and the cop at the rear, the telephone wire shall be busy with dialogues sweetened with dear, the love unresponding in winter shall strain as a turnae grown hot, and the widows shall pull hair and quarrel comparing what each other got.

St. Patrick's Day come in the marnin'
Shall give its accustomed parade,
The Irish shall march in the city,
And "Wearing the Green" shall be played,

The shamrock shall wave and the story
Of old be in everyone's mouth.

Albeit the Anti Saloon League Has driven more snakes from the south

Than ever were driven from Ireland—
Except, we are bound to confess,
The snakes that were driven from Ireland

Were never returned by express.

The spring equinox shall enliven the last of the month in a way, but the total effect will be nothing to those of
the Roosevelt way. The lightning

Are You Going to Permit This to Occur in Your Town?

There was a man in our town
And he was wondrous, wondrous wise;
He went up to the polls one day
And voted with the drys.
And when he found that they had won
He danced a dozen jigs;
The day the law went into force
He opened two blind pigs.

Preacher Leads Fight Against "Dry" Town and Urges License Votes.

New York, Feb. 3.—Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Wasson, pastor of Grace Episcopal church of Riverhead, L. I., sent out 2,000 circular letters to voters of the city today, asking the recipients to join the Riverhead License league and vote for the licensing of saloons at the coming election.

"The sole object of the License league," says the preacher, "is to convince our fellow citizens that the licensing and proper regulations of the liquor business under a reasonable and practical law is far better than the plan of no license, which has always caused law breaking, perjury, hypocrisy, and all manner of corrupt and corrupting practices.

"I believe the city will vote for license, but we ought to make the majority for the saloon so great that the question will be settled for many years to come. We should give the prohibitionists such a thorough beating that they will realize, once for all that the people will have none of their farcical brand of 'temperance reform.'

"These prohibitionists have talked so long without being contracted that they have come in the course of time to imagine they alone possess the right of free speech," adds the rector. They have acted as if they had been divinely commissioned as the custodians of the minds and consciences of their neighbors. This state of mental flatulency accounts, I think, for their furious and bitter denunciation during the last option contest here."

The open advocacy of the saloon cause by the preacher and his energetic work in their behalf are credited with having carried Riverhead for the "wets" at the last spring election, and he has been hotly criticised by the "dry" leaders in consequence.

LOCAL OPTION HITS THE RAIL- ROADS HARD.

Inspector Says so and Calls it Great for Express Companies.

"Yes, local option would put a crimp in the financial tail of every railroad entering Battle Creek," said Mr. Rietzke, head of the inspection bureau of Michigan railroads. I am not a drinker of ardent spirits, but as you have asked me what the effect of local option would be on the railroads, I have answered you to the best of my ability.

"It would of course decrease the receipts in freight traffic of every road in the state. The amount of the decrease I could not give until the plan has been in effect for a period of time, and until which time estimates could be prepared. Of course the shipment of beer and other liquors, represent so much revenue to the railroad companies. If it is cut off, they lose that much. I am not discussing the moral aspect of the subject—only the economic.

"On the other hand, local option in Calhoun county would be a boon to the express companies, who would be able to transport liquor from "wet" to "dry" territory without molestation. In a recent fight in a county in Massachusetts—in a city where more shoes are manufac-tured than in any other place on earth—the American Express Company ex-pended $250,000 to obtain local option. Why? Because it would increase the business in handling wet goods into dry territory.

"Passing through Canton, Miss., recently on the Illinois Central rail-road, our train was detained in that town longer than I thought necessary for a small county seat. The conduc-tor replied to my enquiry: 'Tomorrow is a legal holiday, and we have about two thousand jugs to load up for the dry towns along the line.'"—Battle Creek Journal, February 9th, 1909.

The Tyranny of Prohibition.

"LOCAL OPTION. Its essence is this: that if the greater number of the inhabitants of a district so choose, they should be able to forbid the sale of intoxicating liquors, and to enforce teetotalism upon all who are not rich enough to keep a supply of alcoholic drinks in their own houses. It is difficult to imagine any more flagrant violation of the most elementary liberties of the subject. If such tyranny were attempted by an autocratic ruler, the Sultan of Turkey or the Czar of Russia for example—all the world would recognize this. But how does tyranny lose its tyrannousness because it is perpetrated, not by one man, but by a number of men?"—"First Principles in Politics," by W. S. Lilly, Honorary Fellow of Peterhouse, Cam-bridge.

The Lurid Glow Of Doom

was seen in the red face, hands and body of the little son of H. M. Adams, of Henrietta, Pa. His awful plight from eczema had, for five years defied all remedies and baffled the best doctors, who said the poisoned blood had affected his lungs and nothing could save him. "But" writes his mother, "seven bottles of Electric Bitters completely cured him." For eruptions, eczema, salt rheum, sores, and all blood disorders and rheumatism Electric Bitters is supreme. Only 50c Guaranteed by G. S. Darling and Jas. E. Dillon.

Colt For Sale.

A Sudden Death.

Our community was shocked last Saturday evening by the announcement that Mrs. William E. Youngs had been found dead on the street. Mrs. Youngs started from the home of her son Edgar to go to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Grise, a distance of about five blocks. When near the home of F. W. Schlect she suffered an attack of heart failure and fell to the sidewalk where she was found a few minutes later and carried to James Hamilton's store, but died before medical aid could be secured. The announcement of her unexpected death came as a shock to her family and friends as she had been in her usual good health and had never been known to be afflicted with heart trouble.

Christine Elizabeth Fifer, was born October 16, 1850, at Lennox Basin, Oneida county, New York. She came to Michigan with her parents when 16 years of age, where the family located on a homestead in Tawas township. She was united in marriage to William Youngs, at Lapeer, about 40 years ago. They resided at Lapeer until about 25 years ago when they moved to the family home, on the Meadow road, in Tawas township, where she resided until her death, on February 27, 1909, at the age of 58 years, four months and nine days.

Besides the husband, she is survived by three sons, Will, of Cedar, Wis., and Edgar and George, of this place, and four daughters, Mrs. Florence Blust, Mrs. Lon Cox, and Mrs. Wilfred Grise, of this place, and Mrs. William Lyburger, of Woodmoor, Okla., and three sisters, Mrs. Catherine Smeador, of Kinde, Mrs. Herman Wurstenburg, of New Baltimore, and Mrs. Anna Miller, of Shelby, Ohio. There are also fourteen grandchildren.

The deceased has been a member of the M. E. church of this city for many years, was a faithful christian, a kind and loving wife and mother and a true friend. The funeral was held from the M. E. church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. G. W. Gilroy officiating, and was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

R. G. Anschuetz Dead.

Reynold G. Anschuetz died at his home in Saginaw early last Saturday morning, after an illness of several months from Brights disease. The deceased was born in Zella, Germany, February 22, 1847, and came to Saginaw with his parents in 1853, when 20 years of age he came to East Tawas, where he resided for many years. Mr. Anschuetz has for years been employed by the Alger-Smith Lumber Co., in looking after their larger timber interests and locating new purchases. A few years ago he moved to Duluth and later to Saginaw. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the home.

Reserves Forest Land in Michigan

Lansing, March 3.—Land Commissioner Huntley Russell Tuesday received a proclamation from President Roosevelt, setting aside timber lands in Michigan for a state forest reserve. The land lies along the AuSable river in Ogemaw, Iosco, Oscoda and Alcona counties and according to the land commissioner, is comprised of about 165,000 acres. Action will at once be taken to withdraw the land from sale. Although the legislature as a body has taken no action to secure the reserve, its members were all highly in favor of the move and look upon it as a big thing for the state.

Now is the time for our youth to hold tight on with our studies and not get the spring fever, which used to be so common in many schools before the truancy law was made and enforced. "If at first you don't succeed, try try again," would be a good motto for some who gave up on first trial.

Nothing in the way of a cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy, and besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babies.

The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. A few days' test will tell. Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

A falling tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing stomach, heart or kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—those weak and faltering inside nerves. Thus, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

Mat Jordan, the mighty hunter of Sherman, put another feather in his cap last Sunday, by killing an old bear, weighing about 150 pounds, and capturing a yearling cub alive, carrying it home with its legs tied together with his shoe laces, as he had no rope handy. Mat says Old Hound and little Johnny and Matty Pavlock certainly did their share in helping capture and bring home Mr. Bruno, who is now chained in Mr. Jordan's barn.

Tawas City Schools.

Did you read and sign your child's report card this week?

School calls at noon at the old time again 1:15.

Physics and chemistry classes are now interested in electrolysis of water into its two gasses, oxygen and hydrogen, also in electroplating.

Botany and zoology classes are enjoying laboratory work.

Total enrollment to date 299 and number belonging 249.

Normal girls are happy with their boys and girls.

Nearly all rooms show a marked improvement for February.

Commissioner Campbell was a pleasant caller last Friday. The boys enjoyed his talk.

Just what it is, that the school is expected to do for the child is not always clear in the mind of the parent. Ask the man who is digging a ditch why he sends his boy to school, and he will probably tell you that it is because he does not want his boy to dig ditches for a living.

Ask the successful business man the same question, and he will probably say that the boy will be able to make more money with an education than without one. In short, few people would be able to answer the question and intelligently without giving considerable thought to the matter.

Since such a large proportion of the wealth and energy of the masses of the American people is being thrown into the channels of public education, it is certainly worth while to consider carefully just what the school should do for the pupil.

In the first place the school should be a character builder. The education that does not raise the ideals and broaden the character of the pupils has been, to say the least, not a success. In the second place the school should acquaint the pupil with his own powers. It should lead him to realize that from within him and not from without, come the forces that are to mold his life for weal or woe. He should know that a clean mind in a sound body in his rightful heritage, and that, being in possession of these, few things else are impossible to him.

Another thing that the school should do for the pupil is to give him a definite aim. Every year there are thousands of young men graduating from our high schools and even our colleges, going out into the world without any definite idea of what they are going to do for a living. They expect that the world is waiting for them and that all they need to do is to show their passport in the form of a diploma and the doors of success will at once open wide to admit them.

Returned Alpine Tourists Tell Marvelous Stories of Hairbreadth Escapes From the Greatest Danger of Mountaineering.

Across a huge mass of snow and ice poised on the brink of a precipitous mountainside, a party of climbers, roped together, are cautiously threading their way. At any moment a puff of wind or a false step may start the avalanche down the mountain, and hurl the travelers into eternity. You would certainly consider the situation of the adventurous travelers dangerous, wouldn't you?

And yet you are in similar peril yourself if you are neglecting that touch of bronchitis or asthma, that cough or cold, which may lead to terrible consequences. Why not take effective measures by purchasing a bottle of Abbey Syrup, Cloister Sancto Paulo, a remedy which has simply astonished Europe with its marvelous results in the cure of all forms of bronchial and lung disease?

Abbey Syrup is an infallible remedy, and though harmless in itself, is a radical cure for coughs and colds, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, croup and whooping cough, influenza and all chest, throat and lung troubles.
