William Allen, of Grant, left Tuesday to visit his sister, Mrs. Margaret Pettegrew, near Hamilton, Ont., at whose home there is being held a family reunion such as seldom takes place. The lady is 82 years of age and besides Mr. Allen two other sisters, Mrs. Ann Richey, aged 80, of Manistee, and Mrs. Mary Kelly, aged 78, of Milwaukee, are also visiting there. Two of the sisters have not met in 65 years and two of them in 47 years. Mr. Allen, who is 70 years of age is the youngest of the four. The remains of John B. Dimmick, whose death occurred at Chicago last Sunday, arrived at East Tawas Tuesday and the funeral was held yesterday afternoon. He has had charge of and successfully carried to completion some large and most difficult engineering undertakings for the government. Public Domain Commission

Lansing, June 10.—The act to create a public domain commission provides that the commission shall consist of the auditor general, the commissioner of the state land office, the secretary of state and three members to be appointed by the governor—one from the board of regents of the University of Michigan; one from the members of the state board of agriculture and one member from the board of control of the college of Mines at Houghton, all to be nominated by said board.

The terms of office of the commission shall be continuous with their respective offices. The first meeting is to be held as soon as practical after the law goes into effect in the office of the commissioner of the state land office in Lansing where they are to organize by selecting a chairman and secretary and also arrange for a time and place or places for holding regular and special meetings.

This commission is given power to appoint a supervisor of trespass. It will be the duty of this person to have general supervision of all trespass agents and to keep all records pertaining to any cases of trespass, cost, disposition of all cases, etc.

The words "public domain" are defined to include all lands now owned by the state subject to entry and all lands that shall hereafter be deeded to the state by the auditor general under the existing laws.

The commission has power and jurisdiction over management, control and disposition of public lands, forest reserves and forest interests, of all the interests of the state in connection with stream protection, and all power which was vested in the Michigan forestry commission is transferred to the public domain commission.

The state game, fish and forestry warden is subject to the supervision and direction of this commission so far as warden's duties pertain to fires and public lands.

The commission is also given power to have the commissioner of the state land office, auditor general and state game, fish and forestry warden to perform such other duties which are not inconsistent with existing laws, as the commission shall from time to time require.

As soon as possible after organization the commission is required to cause an investigation to be made for the purpose of determining what state lands are so circumstanced as to be deeded by the auditor general to the state, and to be so deeded without unnecessary delay.

As soon as the state secures absolute title the lands are then under the control of the commission, after which the commission is required to appraise and sell such lands as can be used for agricultural purposes, and it may cause such lands as are unfit for agricultural purposes to be used for forestry reserve purposes and at no time shall the amount set aside be less than 200,000 acres, including present state forest reserves.

The commission also has power to provide that all homestead applications shall contain a provision which will make it a part of the contract with the state that a certain number of acres of each 40 acres homestead shall be set aside for an individual forest reserve. The commission may also require the commissioner of the state land office to work in conjunction with the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state lands suitable for agricultural purposes to settlers, either by homestead entry or otherwise.

The state is to own all mineral, coal, oil and gas rights when any sales are made by and under the commission, and the power is given the commission to make contracts with private individuals or with corporations for taking ore, coal, gas or oil from such lands upon a royalty basis. The commission is also given power to provide that all deeds issued for lands along water courses or streams shall contain a clause reserving the rights of ingress and egress over and across said lands.

That Forestry Controversy.

Washington, June 15.—Last winter the Forest Service estimated Michigan's present losses from forest fires in 1908 as over $28,000,000, with a loss from the destruction of non-merchantable young growth put at $16,000,000 more. The accuracy of this estimate has been questioned by the state game, fish, and forest warden, who has lately published an estimate of his own, putting the total loss at about $2,570,000.

The state warden gives as the basis of his estimate "the supervisors in organized townships, the fire wardens in surveyed townships, and the timber owners throughout northern Michigan." He tabulates the losses by counties, and challenges the forest service to do the same. He speaks of the two members of the forest service who gathered the facts for the government as "evidently imported into Michigan for a purpose," and says that they remained four or five weeks, stopped at the good hotels, went back to Washington, and from there told the people of Michigan that the forest fire losses amounted to something over $44,000,000.

The primary source of information used by the forest service for its estimate of damage to standing timber was the records of lumber companies and timber owners and the records, maps, and estimates made for owners by their own timber cruisers. These data were supplemented by personal investigations by the two members of the forest service which carried them into thirty-six counties of the state. The man in charge of the work was a man originally from Michigan, trained at the University of Michigan, and familiar with forest conditions in the state through previous studies. His assistant was an experienced lumberman of long training in the woods of northern Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The forest service is in a position to judge with some accuracy as to the value of the state warden's figures from actual contact with many of the officers who made them, and knowledge of how the reports were prepared. In some cases the assistance of one of the members of the service was asked and received in making them out. A large number of reports were secured from fire wardens by the forest service, but less than ten per cent were found to be reliable. The township fire wardens were as a rule neither lumbermen nor timber cruisers, yet as far as could be ascertained they relied principally upon their own estimates of the damage done.

In the northern peninsula the timber is owned mainly by large holders, who for business reasons do not care to make public the figures of their own losses. On this account the information received by the forest service was confidential. In many cases the owners informed the members of the forest service to whom they opened their records that they would not give the same information to the state authorities.

The forest service has reliable estimates of the losses by counties, but it could not make these public in full without breaking faith with some of those from whom information was received since large parts of single counties are embraced in the holdings of individual concerns.

A test, however, of the relative accuracy of the two estimates can readily be made by considering the forest service estimate of the loss in a single item. The amount of saw-log timber which will be a total loss was put by the forest service at about 2,000,000,000 feet, with a value of $12,000,000. The actual records of owners and their agents, which were examined by the forest service, reported losses of more than three-fourths of this amount, with much of the burned-over timberland of the state not included. In other words, the forest service has authentic information of excellent reliability showing that in the one item of merchantable timber which will be a total loss, specific owners are out over $9,000,000 as a result of the fires. The state warden's figures for the losses from all sources are less than one-third of what the actual records of an incomplete list of owners show for saw-log timber which will never get to market at all, besides the heavy further losses from damaged merchantable timber, increased cost of logging, damage to growth not yet merchantable, destruction of other forms of property, and expenditures for fighting fires.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheno, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For lung trouble, bronchitis, coughs and colds, asthma, croup and whooping cough its supreme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. S. Darling and Jas. E. Dillon.

The Study of Trees.

Teachers throughout the country have been invited by the United States forester to co-operate with the forest service in an effort to obtain more definite knowledge of the characteristics of the most important forest trees of the United States. To do this it will be necessary to obtain a large number of volunteer observers who will collect material on the time of leafing, blossoming and fruiting of the various kinds of forest trees. In his letter inviting the co-operation of the teachers, Forester Pinchot says:

"Knowledge of this kind is greatly needed and will be of value from the standpoint both of education and of practical forestry. For educational purposes the results obtained for each species, averaged and presented graphically by means of colored charts, will be available to all who are interested in the subject, and particularly to schools. They will form virtual tree 'calendars,' and will be valuable aids to nature study. Children can readily be interested in the actual work of obtaining records. This should form an attractive outdoor feature of the school work that should serve to develop the faculty of accurate observation, and at the same time to promote an interest in forestry which may lead to a better appreciation of its aims and methods. It may also prove to be a profitable addition to botany courses for older students."

M. C. Train Hits A Handcar.

One man was instantly killed and another so badly injured that he may not survive, when a fast train on the Michigan Central railroad struck a handcar near West Branch with which the men had been working early Sunday morning. Richard Leopold was run over and literally cut to pieces. John Zorn sustained compound fractures of one leg and an arm and severe injury to the head, his injuries being of such a serious character that his recovery is regarded as doubtful. Phoenix Depole, the section foreman, and Stephen Wolfram escaped injury.

The four men had just rounded a curve on their handcar, when they saw the train approaching from the opposite direction. They thought they would have time to reach a certain point, but misjudged the speed of the train and were struck while attempting to lift the handcar off the track.

What would you take?

Suppose you were required to live for a certain length of time on only one article of food. Which would you choose?

There is one food that stands without a rival for such a test. Quaker Oats is that one. It furnishes more strength with least wear and tear on the digestive organs than any other food. You'll feel well and strong at the end of the time. Try it. Don't stop eating other things, but eat more Quaker Oats and you'll notice the gain in strength.

The regular size package of Quaker Oats sells at 10c, the large family size packages cost 25c, and the family size package containing a piece of beautiful china for the table costs 30c. All grocers sell these.

Eat Quaker Oats daily for breakfast, it strengthens you for the day's work.

Trouble Makers Ousted.

When a sufferer from stomach trouble takes Dr. King's New Life Pills he's mighty glad to see his dyspepsia and indigestion fly, but he's tickled over his new, fine appetite, strong nerves healthy vigor, all because stomach, liver and kidneys now work right. 25c at G. S. Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's.

Oddity of Dreams.

"Nobody ever feels pain in a dream," said a psychologist. "Rage, terror, joy, grief—these emotions stab us as poignantly in dream as in reality. But physical pain, no. I have interrogated 2,000 persons, and none of them ever suffered dream pains. Yet they have dreamed of dreadful motor accidents, tortures, death. One young girl, in deed, dreamed time and again of being eaten alive by cannibals; yet even in that horrible nightmare she felt no pain."

Women Who Are Envid.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at G. S. Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's.

Stop That Cold
To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means prevention of pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure over a cold, but you can't get it taken early—at the stove stage—the cold has head of these early colds. That's the surest letter. That's why they call it "Preventics."
Preventics little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, you need all over a bit of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Hence, probably the best Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 1c boxes for the pocket, also in 2c boxes of five 1c boxes. Insist on your druggist giving you

Preventics

MANY TOPICS

Gathered From Our Exchanges

And now the city inhabitants say that we had frosts all through June in the year 1859. It is hope that the records of the city-miners will remain unbroken.

A telephone manager wants patrons to quit using the word "Hello," which he says is useless and a waste of time. The waste could be reduced 50 per cent in many cases by omitting the final "O."

Many a young man so thoroughly exhausts all topics of conversation with his best girl before the wedding ceremony that after the honeymoon has passed he has to spend all his unemployed hours with the leaters about town.

Gladys Vanderbilt, who married the nobleman whose name sounds like a sneeze, says that foreign husbands are just the thing. It appears that Gladys must have been luckier than most of her American sisters in buying foreign titles.

Within a few days a boy was seriously injured while playing mumble-the-peg and a youthful man of 82 had a fall that cracked most of his anatomy while playing ring-around-a-rosy. Better stick to football and the Marquis of Queensbury plays.

An aged maiden lady who is now past 100 years of age lives in New York City, and does not attribute her longevity to eating onions as some others have done, but to the fact that she never married, and advises all others who wish to live long to follow the recipe.

Oh, Mr. Weather Man, we want some hot weather from the tape marked go in the shade; we want it for the crops, we want it for our summer resort business, we want it for the sake of the base ball games, but, most of all, we want it for the effect we believe it would have on the lawmakers at Washington.

An exchange remarks that there are men who will not cast their bread upon the waters unless assured beforehand that it will come back again in a few days a full-grown sandwich, all trimmed with ham, butter and mustard rolled up in a warrant deed for one-half the earth and a mortgage on the other half.

The number of pupils enrolled in the public schools of the United States in 1907 was 16,820,000, and the average daily attendance 11,818,000; while the students in colleges, universities and schools of technology, who numbered 38,000 in 1880, 56,000 in 1890, and 98,000 in 1900, aggregated 130,000 in 1907.

Let no young man of industry and perfect honesty despair because his profession or calling is crowded. Let him always remember that there is room enough at the top, and that the question whether he is ever to reach the top, or rise above the crowd at the base of the pyramid, will be decided by the way in which he improves the first ten years in securing to himself a thorough knowledge of his profession, and a sound moral and intellectual culture.

The number of letters and post cards sent through the postal system of the United States is given as 6,466 millions in 1907, as against 3,263 millions handled by the postal service of the German empire, 3,359 millions by the postal service of the united kingdom, 1,119 millions in France and 1,067 millions in Austria-Hungary. The telephone messages sent in the United States numbered 9,000,000 in 1870, 29,000,000 in 1880, 65,000,000 in 1890, 80,000,000 in 1900, and 98,000,000 in 1907.

The city of Colorado Springs has adopted the commission form of government under a charter which abolishes the ward system, eliminates party politics, provides the recall, initiative and referendum and places ample restrictions around the granting of franchises. The charter is probably the most liberal adopted by any American municipality, because of the fact that the Colorado legislature gives a free rein in making their charters. Colorado Springs is the first Colorado city to adopt the commission plan of government, although Pueblo and several other cities are now taking steps to that end.

Boston's school authorities have under consideration a plan, proposed by Dr. Richard C. Cabot, designed to prevent tuberculosis and diphtheria spreading among school children. Dr. Cabot's plan, as outlined to the committee, is for one hundred bacteriologists, who he feels confident will work without payment, to take cultures of the children a week or more before the school term opens. These will be tested, and a day or so before the school term begins the children who are infected with a disease will be isolated before they have an opportunity to carry the disease into the school rooms.

Any lady reader of this paper will receive on request, a clever "No-Drip" Coffee Strainer Coupon privilege, from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. It is silver-plated, very pretty, and positively prevents all dripping of tea or coffee. The Doctor sends it, with his new free book on "Health Coffee" simply to introduce this clever substitute for real coffee. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is gaining its great popularity because of: first, its exquisite taste and flavor; second, its absolute healthfulness; third, its economy—14lb 25c; fourth, its convenience. No tedious 20 to 30 minutes boiling. "Made in a minute" says Dr. Shoop, try it at your grocer's, for a pleasant surprise. James Hamilton.

Next week, and then the long vacation.

Report cards and promotion cards will be given out next Friday, morning.

Last Friday J. M. Walker gave the Normal Class and the American history class a most valuable and entertaining talk on "Getty-burg." It was enjoyed by the pupils.

ATHLETIC NOTES.

Well, we didn't expect to, but we did. AuSable came down last Saturday with a grin spread all over their faces and made our team shake in their boots while they told of what they were going to do to us. We went up to the grounds determined to do or die and events proved that we—did.

The whole story is told in the first two innings. We batted around and started over again. Two base hits by A. Mark, Swartz, and Maller, base hits by J. Mark, E. Maller, Brabant, Garber and A. Mark again, and a base on balls netted seven runs in the first inning. Two of the men getting out in this inning were put out on bases after having made hits. In the second inning a hit by Moore, two errors, and two bases on balls netted five more. This aroused the dander of Captain McLaughlin and he went into the box from catching, putting Flynn behind the plate. After that scores didn't come so easy, we getting seven hits but only two runs.

Meanwhile AuSable crawled up from behind and got within one point of getting the score tied but they couldn't get that one point, although the result was doubtful up to the third man out in the ninth inning.

E. Maller caught a long foul fly in left for the last man out in the game that was worth seeing. Probably the best play of the day was made by Joe Brabant who made a long running catch of McLaughlin's fly in short center. He had to jump into the air getting it with one hand.

There was much discussion at times over decisions and the scoreboard, but the umpires gave fair satisfaction. Sheriff Hadwin with two deputies was on the grounds and the crowd was kept back as it never has been before.

AuSable now has Tawas City to contend with for the county championship. Score by innings.

Begin now to plan on going with us to Oscoda on Saturday, the 26th of June. A train will leave the Tawas City depot at 2 o'clock p. m. Round trip fare 45 cents. We want you all.

We do not play tomorrow but will serve ice cream and cake in the building next to Prescott's store from 2 until 10 p. m. Our expenses are heavy this year so come and help us out. Only 10 cents.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

Golf and the Amateur.

The abolition of the amateur definition would not alter anything that is of any value to golf. It need not even mean the abolition of the amateur championship if clubs simply excluded from their membership those who were or had been professional players, and it would certainly clear the game of many injustices, abuses and misconceptions to which the definition gives rise.—Chambers' Journal.

Took It Personally.

An author engaged a young lady typewriter to take down his new novel from dictation. At the passage: "Oh! my adorable angel, accept the confession from my lips that I cannot exist without you! Make me happy; come and share my lot and be mine until death do us part!"—his fair secretary paused and ingenuously inquired: "Is that to go down with the rest?"

Satisfactory Ending.

"How was your speech received at the club?" asked one of Chumley's friends as they walked along the Broadway at Hamersmith. "Why, they congratulated me very heartily. In fact, one of the members came to me and told me that when I sat down he had said to himself it was the best thing I had ever done."—Tit-Bits.

Breaking the News Gently.

A good example of the extremely courteous in public correspondence was the notice sent to Charles James Fox that he was no longer a member of the government of George the Third. It read thus: "His gracious majesty has been pleased to issue a new commission, in which your name does not appear."
