Newspaper men, as a rule, have but two things to sell—space and subscription—and it would be just as consistent to ask your grocer for a dozen oranges "just to fill up" as to ask the editor for a dozen lines in his paper just to boost your business in helping to "fill up" space. Try getting a free dinner at the hotel just to make a show of business for the house.

William LaFave, of East Tawas, returned last Sunday from a four weeks visit with relatives in Tuscola county. This was his first visit to that locality in thirty years and he says he certainly had a fine time. He found 61 relatives there and four weeks hardly gave him sufficient time to see them all. He will join Mrs. LaFave at Bay City Sunday and take in the "home coming week."
There have been reports to the effect that owing to the late cold and wet spring, Michigan's small fruit crop would be short but advices from numerous points were subject to revision. Reports from fifty points in the state indicate there will be good crops of all kinds of small fruits. Peaches, plums, berries, cherries, melons, grapes, and in many localities apples, promise big yields. Some of the fruit will be a little late.
The work of educating the dear people to the belief that the Aldrich tariff bill is to be just what they want and was drafted in their especial interests has been commenced by the republican national committee or the trusts. The American Press Association is sending out to the newspapers letters offering them free of charge a series of articles in plate form on "what effect the tariff will have on Michigan industries." The papers are urged to make these articles special features and they are not to cost them a cent. Wonder who pays the freight? Yet there is no doubt that these articles will have the desired effect and that it will be but a short time until the poor dupes who will have to pay tribute to the trusts and combines through the workings of the most infamous tariff bill ever framed by an American congress will be fighting their heads off in its defense and the men who pay the expense of these "educational" articles will be laughing in their sleeves.

Some Sheep.
Tuesday afternoon there arrived at the Prescott farm, near Prescott station 23 double deck stock cars loaded with 7,800 sheep for the Prescott, Bradley & Co. ranch at Styles lake. The sheep were shipped from Artesian, New Mexico, Saturday, June 19, and came the entire distance by special train making three stops for feed and rest. They were in charge of C. C. Gage and Charles T. Prescott and George Corey met them at Amirilla, Texas.
The sheep made the trip in excellent condition, the loss being only about 40 out of the entire bunch. They are mostly breeding ewes and lambs, and while rather thin from the lack of feed in New Mexico, where they have experienced a drouth of several months duration, they are a fine lot of sheep.

Revising The Tariff "Downward."

Within the last 10 days Senator Aldrich has given the country a shining illustration of how the tariff is being "revised downward." During that time five important schedules have been acted upon and in each instance the duty has been increased over that fixed by the house. The tariff on print paper, which the special investigating committee appointed last winter recommended after a thorough consideration of the question should come in free, was restored to the protected list after the duty had been removed by the house. Next the hide schedule was taken up. The house, upon overwhelming testimony to the effect that the tariff on this product was no longer needed and could only operate to the detriment of American shoe manufacturers and wearers of shoes and to the enrichment of only the beef trust, placed hides on the free list. This did not satisfy Aldrich at all. Pretending to espouse the cause of the cattle growers, but in reality pandering to the demands of the packers, the senate dictator restored the full Dingley rate of 15 per cent. Of course the senate submitted to the edict. The lumber schedule was then "revised" by Senator Aldrich. The house had cut the Dingley rate in two, establishing a duty of $1 a thousand. This was done after a widespread demand upon the consuming public as well as upon some of the heaviest lumbering states that the tariff be taken off altogether. There was every reason to believe that the interests which opposed free lumber considered the split a good bargain and were quite well satisfied with the $1 rate. They thought they were lucky to escape free lumber. But now comes Aldrich to say the $1 rate is too low. He orders it boosted up to $1.50 and the senate tamely submits. What earthly reason can be given for this change we are at a loss to understand. It leaves a net decrease in the tariff of 25 per cent, so slight a reduction that it will apparently benefit nobody. Finally the senate, under the masterful intelligence of Aldrich, has just disposed of the shoe and sole leather schedules. The house fixed a duty of 15 per cent. ad valorem on shoes. The senate adopts an amendment raising it to 20 per cent. The house fixed a duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem on sole leather. The senate adopts an amendment increasing it to 15 per cent.

How far is Senator Aldrich going with this farce which is affording such remunerative entertainment to the special interests? The people voted for revision of the tariff downwards after four years of conviction on the subject. McKinley nearly eight years ago warned his party of its duty. Taft was elected on a revision downward platform. The house bill was considered by many well informed persons as a victory for the interests as containing only a relatively low percentage of reduction. Aldrich, however, is raising it all along the line, restoring the full Dingley rates in many instances and practically cutting out the free list altogether. It is useless, of course to heap imprecations upon Aldrich. Everybody knows what he stands for, but the subserviency of the senate—it is disgusting.—Saginaw News.

You Could, If You Would, But You Won't.

It would be a waste of words to discuss the obvious fact that the cost of living is higher than in many years, and particularly the price of food. The evidence has been forced upon every buyer who goes to market, and upon every patron of hotels and boarding houses.

The fundamental explanation is given that it is merely a relative increase. The fundamental cause, is the remarkable production of gold during recent years, the effect being to cheapen the dollar. This means that the same effort that formerly earned a dollar, and that in consequence of this altered condition a dollar will buy less than it did when the dollar was harder to earn. The economists tell us, and they are approximately, if not exactly, right, that individual service measured against a purchasable commodity to be had in exchange occupies the same relations as before; that a day's work will buy as much in food, clothing, rent or any other human need as it would buy 10 or 15 years ago, but the dollar has depreciated in value as measured against all service. Gold being an artificial standard of value, is subject to fluctuation, but a day's service is more stable.

Prices are self-regulating, but the regulation is not instantaneously perfect. Certain things are relatively cheap and others are relatively dear, if we reckon price by actual or intrinsic value, as all staple foods should be reckoned. Out of the research of recent years, which has shown very accurately the relative food values and also the average physical requirement for various kinds of labor and for maintaining the body in health, will come large benefits to the human race. It will be well for every man to learn his requirement and to limit his eating accordingly, for as soon as this becomes the general practice the cost of living will fall, doctors' bills will be less frequent and individual ability will be increased. Too many individuals overtax their vital energies by oversteering their stomachs. This not only tends toward the production of superfluous fat, but of organic diseases. The bulk of liver and kidney diseases are the result of injudicious eating and drinking. It is possible that the same cause figures largely in the provocation of cancer and heart diseases. The revolt of overtaxed digestive organs sets up a condition that invites tuberculosis, nervous prostration and other maladies that have become serious problems.

It is now within the power of every man to learn what he should eat, how he should eat it and what quantity will best serve his needs. The dietetic schools have the daily formula figured out with much greater nicety than the mechanical experts have computed the relative value of fuels. Results of a generation of careful experiment and actual demonstration are free for the use of humanity at large. If each individual or each head of a family, will make use of these discoveries by applying them to the daily regimen of household, a great saving in food will be accomplished, and health, happiness and individual ability will be improved. Oriental nations have learned how to subsist cheaply, through millions starving to death as a result of alternate seasons of plenty and of famine, while Occidentals have harmed themselves by over-indulgence. Those who will accept the benefits of science can cut down the cost of living and improve their general condition, and those who refuse or neglect to do so must expect to suffer all the consequences. But they won't—until they are compelled to.—Sunday News Tribune.

Primary Politicians Limited.

Lansing, June 31.—The new primary election law, passed at the last session of the legislature, restricts candidates to a reasonable amount of advertising. The bill was drafted by the late Representative S. J. Colby, of Detroit.

A candidate cannot circulate any printed matter or advert sement about himself larger than two and one-fourth inches in width and four inches in length, excepting postal cards and letters. No lithographs or such printing containing a likeness of the candidate larger than one and one-half inches in width by two inches in height may be circulated, excepting in newspapers of bona fide publication and circulation three months prior to the date of the advertisement, where a cut of the same size may be run, provided that more than 10 per cent of the accompanying printed matter is in larger type than regularly used by the newspaper in its editorial column, excepting there from the name of the candidate and the office for which he aspires. No rate shall be charged higher than the regular highest rate on the newspaper's card. No advertisement shall be printed in any publication except a newspaper. The candidate may not post or cause to be posted within the territory within which he is a candidate any campaign card, banner, handbill, poster, lithograph, half-tone engraving, photograph or any advertising matter.

It is also unlawful for a candidate to treat to any intoxicating beverage after he has announced himself or filed his petition, or to allow any of his friends to set them up on him or in his interests.

The direct primary system is made mandatory upon all parties as far as the nomination of governor, lieutenant governor and United States senator are concerned. Primary day is the first Tuesday after the first Monday in April.

The primary law must be submitted to voters throughout the state generally in April next or at any time subsequent, on a petition of 20 per cent of the qualified voters, of the question of the nomination, of party candidates for city offices in cities of less than 70,000 population. An election shall be held the first Monday in April to determine whether the system shall apply in the nomination of circuit judges and all county officers.

The law is mandatory upon all parties in these provisions:

- Nomination of governor, lieutenant governor and United States senator.
- Nomination of congressman.
- Nomination of senators and representatives to the state legislature.
- Delegates to the county conventions.

The Home Paper.

The local Newspaper should be found in every home. No child will grow up ignorant who can be taught to appreciate the home paper. It is the stepping stone of intelligence in all of those matters not to be learned in books. Give your children a foreign paper which contains not one word about any person place or thing which they ever saw, or perhaps ever heard of, and how can you expect them to be interested? But let them have the home paper and read of persons whom they meet, and places with which they are familiar, and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every arrival of the local paper. Thus a habit of reading is formed, and those children will read the papers all their lives and become intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors and strong in their knowledge of the world as it is to-day.—Summerfield (O.) News.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—only—Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now, this late thought—Congress says "Put on the label, if others are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter, if you are a mother, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks on the label. You can always get it on the safe side by demanding.

July is the month of human progress. As there can be no progress unless everybody is hot and mad, so it is to July that we must look for getting anywhere at all. "Heaven for climate, but hell for company," said the prophet. June forever, but July for growth, says your Uncle Ganderbone.

The ancients esteemed July above all the other months. To Rome it gave imperial Caesar, the mightiest man who ever lived. Marc Antony, who changed the name of the month from Quintilis to July, said that if Caesar had opened his eyes anywhere else on the calendar he probably would have been a mollycoddle and Rome would have had woman suffrage. The Celts, who have made fewer mistakes than any other race, made July the beginning of the year, and John Hancock, who was first to sign the Declaration of Independence, said that credit for the stampede to that historic revolt did not belong to him, but to the weather.

The lowly worm
Will take a brace
And slap the robin
In the face;
The liquor man
Will utter cries
And kipper half
A dozen dries;
The hot consumer,
What with thrusts
And blows, will kill
Himself some trusts,
And the swimming pupil,
Burned and red,
Will chase his dad
Around the shed.

To all of which nobody much can make the least objection. We never shall get anywhere except in that direction. We never shall do anything to Aldrich and his tariff until the meek insurgents rise and take somebody's hair off. We never shall reform a thing until we have a ruction in which we get our dander up and compass some destruction. And while most everything is out with a chip upon its shoulder, we wish that money would somehow become a little bolder. We'd like to have a dollar bill jump out upon and fright us, or a hundred dollars, we will say, come close enough to bite us. It's been a good while now, too long, the common people find it, since money did not run on sight, with its tail jammed down behind it.

However, and be as it may,
The tadpole in the bog
Will thank whatever gods may be
For making him a frog.
The bobolink will dwell upon
Such bliss as we are in,
And the sun will sail the summer skies
With the perspiration in his eyes
And dripping from his chin.

Upon the Fourth, as patriots and patriots' descendants, the usual burnt offerings are due to independence; and having shot each other up to our own satisfaction, and shown the foreigners at hand just how we look in action, we'll pile the victims in a heap, unfurl a flag above it, and ask Japan and all the rest if they want any of it.

The chances that they will be scarcely worth elaboration. If we could shoot like that in only decent celebration of what some friends of liberty long laid upon the shelf, once did for us, what would we do for liberty itself?

This will be about the last year that the Fourth of July will be observed to any great extent. Fireworks are already forbidden in many cities, and within another year the movement will probably have spread wherever parents desire to preserve their children. There is, in fact, a much better day in the month which can be observed without injury to anyone and to much better purpose. This is St. Swithin's Day, which comes on the 15th. The object of St. Swithin's Day is a concerted prayer for rain, and if the prayer is answered it is supposed to rain daily for the next 40 days. Wherever St. Swithin's has been observed in this country, it has already become a formidable rival of the Fourth. Indeed, it is said that they do not compare for enthusiasm, which is not surprising for as a rule what we really need in this country in July is rain, and not liberty at all.

After the 22d the month will be under the influence of Leo the Lion, the fifth sign of the zodiac, and a day or so later it will also come under the influence of Sirius the Dog, which begins rising with the sun and ushers in the dog days. While Leo the Lion, Sirius the Dog and Teddy the Bear are setting it among themselves, Congress and pretty nearly everything else will adjourn to its hole and occupy itself with prayer and an occasional peek out.

And then or thereabout the month of August will be due, and the wicked get a warming taste of where they're going to.

Newspaper Farmers' Friend.

In an audience composed mostly of the members of the Farmers' union recently, one of the speakers expressed the mutual friendship between the farm and newspaper in the following:
"As a rule the farmer has no friend friend than the country press. The home paper is distinctly the farmer's own paper, supported directly and indirectly by farmers who compose the backbone of the subscription list of the printer, and largely for what the enterprising merchant advertises. Now, brother, let us see that our subscription is paid a year in advance; we can do it."
The man or the paper that fights my battles shall have my support. Another thing, the merchants advertising are the ones who make it possible for us to get a good local paper. The man or local firm who is too penurious to advertise and help support the local press has no right to the farmer's patronage. I promised, hereafter, to go to Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown, of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure sore lungs, colds, obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, its the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by A. S. Larabee and Jas. E. Dillon, Trial bottle free.

Sees Mother Grow Young.

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick of Danforth, Me. "Although past 70 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could neither eat, drink nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health." They invigorate all vital organs, cure liver and kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50c at A. S. Larabee's and Jas. E. Dillon's drug stores.
