An exchange remarks that it is peculiarly appropriate that the kindly features of Abraham Lincoln should adorn the new copper cent. It was he who said that "God must love the common people because he made so many of them." The penny is the coin of the masses and if Lincoln himself had been selecting the one which his face should be on he would undoubtedly have chosen this.

Supervisor Leander Gardner, of Plainfield township, showed us a document this week which is certainly a rare heirloom. It is the marriage certificate of his grandparents, Reuben Swain and Lydia Coffin, and is dated at Nantucket, Mass., on the fourth day of the first month, in the year of Our Lord, eighteen hundred and ten. The ceremony was performed according to rites of the Quaker church, and the certificate is entirely written, a quill having been used, and is signed by the contracting parties and some twenty witnesses.

A visit to the Gates Fruit Farm, in Baldwin, at this season when the pile of beautiful fruit are being harvested is certainly a sight that is good for the eyes. This year fully 2000 bushels of fruit will be harvested. Elgin Gates, who has come into possession of the farm since the death of his father, the late Dr. T. O. Gates, has made many improvements in the place during the past season, and has under contemplation much more work which will add to the beauty and value of what is without doubt the most valuable 20 acres of land in this section of the state.

The editor of an exchange says: I often sit at my desk, sometimes weary with constant routine and wonder if subscribers really realize that the newspaper is published for their benefit. Do they realize that every item of news is published for them? Do they know that they are constantly in the mind of the publisher, and their tastes, their desires, their inclinations are catered to every week? Do they know that the publisher is ever desirous of pleasing them? Subscribers to a paper is the best asset it has and it is ever its aim to keep them. Think these things over and then come in and have your name inscribed on the list. The newspaper needs you and you need the newspaper.

Horseness in a child subject to eroup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the eroup cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by Red Cross Pharmacy.

You are "supposing" a good deal about what things should cost. Read the advertisements and know.

Columbus Day was most appropriately celebrated Tuesday evening by a most enjoyable banquet at the Hotel Holland, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. The Supervisors.

The board of supervisors have been in session this week in their regular annual meeting, and much work of importance has been transacted.

The following officers were elected yesterday afternoon: Superintendent of the poor, Thomas Davison, of this city, to succeed himself; county school examiner, Miss Mina Hamilton, of East Tawas, to succeed herself; county school examiner to fill vacancy caused by the removal of B. C. Clancy from county, George Jackson, of Whittemore.

The board will probably complete its labors by Saturday.

We doubt if there is another profession in the world which makes such exacting demands for so many and such varied qualities of mind and heart as that of teaching school.

The birth place of John Howard, the father of Howard University, now belongs to the American public. This old house is near the home of Marie Corelli in Stratford-on-Avon. Though the efforts of Miss Corelli the old house was bought and "resolved" by Edward Morris of Chicago and by him presented to Ambassador Reid as a gift to the American people.

WHAT IT TAKES TO MAKE A TEACHER.

Those who imagine that teaching school is the simplest thing in the world will find much profitable instruction in the following extract from a letter received by Superintendent Ella Flagg Young on the occasion of her election:

Wishing you all sorts of patience, philosophy, humor, indifference, good luck, steadiness, health, persistence, clearheadedness, sympathy, diplomacy, persiveness, positiveness, gentleness, open-mindedness, force, enthusiasm, pointedness, clairvoyance, independence, friendliness and charm, which most happily combined and intelligently used for public service, will be for you a wonderful equipment, I remain, yours, etc.

Superintendent Young read this extract, with its list of twenty-two select qualities required for a first-class school superintendent, before a meeting of the Head Assistants' association at which she was a guest. She had modestly altered the last two lines in the original letter to make them say "which will be for you a wonderful equipment," as above printed, instead of "which have your wonderful equipment." But that is beside the point.

The point is that this quoted paragraph gives a list of qualifications needed not only in a school superintendent but also to a large extent in the teachers under the direction of that superintendent.

Estray Notice.

There came into my enclosure about October 1, 1909, three sheep, one old one and two lambs. The owner can have same by proving property and paying charges.

"Living Within One's Means."

The greatly increased cost of the plainest living is working a great hardship on the families of moderate incomes. Many families have an income of but ten to twelve dollars a week, and these parents make great sacrifices in order to give their children common, living comforts. They are willing to live poorly and dress plainly to keep together; but what if the income is ten dollars, and the expense twelve? You will say, "Curtailed expenses;" but you can not curtail the cost of a five cent loaf of bread when you can get it for no less, and with meat at almost prohibitive prices, the family of moderate means gets very little of it. Vegetables are almost as dear as meat, and fruit of any respectable quality is out of reach of small wages. Rents are exorbitant, the cheapest clean, healthy locations are taken so fast that nothing is left, and the poorest shelters in the city command six to seven dollars a month—mere sheds, most of them. The working people have squeezed their few dollars until they can squeeze no more. The question of clothing and incidental necessities seem utterly beyond solution. The increased cost of living, and the absolute inability of parents to meet their obligations to their children are conditions that break up homes, separate parents from children, and play a larger part than anything else in the so-called race suicide problem. It is not only the shiftless class that suffers; now, when it is claimed to be a period of great prosperity, we see many honest tailors ready to give up the struggle, while homes are narrowing down to a room or rooms in tenement houses, small, uncomfortable flats, and mere sheds for shelter because of the impossibility to make income and expenses balance.

The Lawyer and the Dollar.

Good citizens all over the country will applaud the stand taken by Samuel Untermyer, a leading New York attorney, who, when asked to accept the assignment of the court to defend an Italian woman accused of murder, J. R. Untermyer, who is a corporation lawyer of national reputation, said that he should certainly accept the assignment as he could conceive no higher professional duty and added, and his words do him great credit:

"As soon as we realize that the defense of life, liberty and reputation are more important to the community than the mere championship of money interests there will be a change for the better. In every civilized country except our own the leaders of the bar are proud to be selected to defend life, liberty and reputation, while, strange to say, it has grown to be almost a reproach in this city to find a man engaged in the practice of criminal law. I am satisfied every lawyer who is called upon now to defend life will do his share for there is nowhere a finer public spirit than at our bar."

Michigan's Coal Supply.

To be told by the government geological survey that Michigan has in its area something like 12,000,000, 000 tons of coal, and that this far only 15,000,000 tons have been mined, ought to rally any alarm that might be felt that our heating material is approaching the exhaustion point. While the state's coal veins are numerous they are not large. Consequently mining operations are more expensive than in many other states, where the veins assume immense proportions, but for local use coal operators here can successfully compete with coal burdened with the expense of long hauls, and can and do pay better wages than the miners of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana receive. Michigan is the sixteenth state in the union in matter of coal production, but only the twenty-fifth in the value of the output.—Detroit News.

Notice To The Public.

The Michigan railroads having lines into Chicago have announced that they will not run their usual fall excursion into Chicago and such being the case D. & M. Ry. will not be able to run its annual fall excursion to that point.

Spray Trees Now.

An official bulletin from Washington says that apple orchards in Michigan are threatened with the San Jose scale. What this bulletin mentions as a probability is already being realized. Many Michigan orchards are beyond saving as a result of the ravages of the scale, and the whole industry is threatened with extermination in this state unless prompt measures are taken to save the trees.

One of the best exterminators of this pest is what is known as the lime and sulphur mixture. It is made by mixing 20 pounds of unslacked lime, 15 pounds of flour of sulphur and 10 pounds of salt with 50 gallons of water. If the lime is specially good, take only 15 pounds, and if partially slacked, use 30.

This mixture is very powerful and should only be applied when the trees are dormant. Spray the trees thoroughly. Fall is here and the trees will soon be dormant. A thorough spraying this fall and another in the spring of every fruit tree in the state would tend to put a decided check on the ravages of the San Jose scale and a repetition each winter would in time result in its destruction in the state.

Says Indians are Increasing.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The popular idea that the American Indians are decreasing in number is dissipated by official figures showing that today are more than 300,000 red men in the United States.

The increase in population of about 40,000 during the last two decades is attributed to the government's constant effort to uplift the Indian to the level of contemporary civilization. Three and one-quarter million dollars is being expended by the United States annually for the education for more than 30,000 Indian boys and girls.

Thousands of Indians have become competent to conduct their own affairs free from governmental control, and before his retirement from office, former Indian Commissioner Leupp asserted that the Indians at no far distant date would reach such a standard of civilization that it would be deemed wise to abolish the Indian office.

Silver Dollars Unpopular.

The silver dollar is gradually going out of circulation. Today there are about 71,000,000 of them in circulation, which is the smallest number in recent years. Three years ago there were about 82,000,000 passing through the various channels of trade. The reason for the unpopularity of the silver dollar, it is said at the treasury department, is that the government for the last two years has declined to pay the express charges on shipments of them to the treasury for exchange for notes of similar value.

There were more than 80,000,000 in circulation when congress refused to appropriate money for paying express charges. Immediately the movement of silver dollars decreased 75 per cent, according to statistics kept at the treasury. On account of their size and weight they have already been discarded in the merchantile centers of the north and east, but they still retain favor in the west and southwest and in parts of the south.

Crops of Michigan.

According to the state crop report issued last week the total number of bushels of wheat grown in Michigan is estimated at 12,000,000. The average yield was 19 bushels per acre and was of good quality. It is estimated that 96 per cent as much wheat has been sown this year as there was on an average for the last five years.

The estimated total yield of rye is fixed at 5,000,000 bushels; oats, 41, 600,000; corn, 52,000,000; beans, 6, 000,000 bushels, and sugar beets, 800, 000,000 tons.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must falter. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

FIRST DAYS OF OIL

DISCOVERER WAS LAUGHED AT AS CRAZY.

Had Hard Work to Make People See the Value of the New Illuminant Only About Fifty Years Ago.

Fifty years ago Col. Edwin L. Drake discovered oil on the banks of Oil creek at Titusville, Pa. To-day a host of people, many of them enriched beyond the dreams of Croesus by his find, have gathered at Titusville and a celebration of the event will be crowned by a banquet, at which marvelous wealth will be represented, the New York Mail says. The story of the finding of coal oil, which marked a new era in human affairs and made possible recent marvels in automobile and aeroplane propulsion, reads like a tale of Aladdin. Lumbermen of northwestern Pennsylvania had long known of the heavy, black, oily substance sweeping from the rocks in many localities. The "springs" were sought by Indians as cures ages before the coming of the white man, and the trappers and lumber jacks found it had wonderful healing qualities when bound on a wound. Millmen scooped it up to lubricate their machinery, also.

Col. Drake was a poorly paid employe of the New Haven road at headquarters. A sample of oil reached him through Prof. Silliman of Yale, who suggested that Drake inspect the place whence the new substance came. He went to Oil creek, backed by several men, and after walking about the hills studying the rocks and the oil which slowly percolated into shallow pits he conceived a plan to drill and find deposits of oil.

Drake could not hire well drillers. He could not find machinery. He had to invent it, and thus devised the only method ever used successfully, the familiar rocker beam and pipe casing in which the sucker rods work. "Crazy Drake" was the laughing stock of the region. But persistence brought reward when oil was found and Drake knew it could be pumped in paying quantities.

It came too fast, in fact, for there were no tanks. Tight cooperation being necessary, Mrs. Drake traveled all over buying whisky barrels. Then an iron tank was built, but there was no market for the oil. No one wanted it. Of this period Mrs. Drake, who is still living in Philadelphia, says:

"At last Col. Drake persuaded the owner of a store in Titusville to place a row of lamps filled with the oil on his counter. The first night they were lighted the whole town came on the run, thinking the store was on fire, so bright a light did they give. You know in those days the sperm oil burned in lamps and wax and tallow candles gave a very poor light. And this discovery of a new lighting material was as much a step forward as electricity was. We lighted our house with a few lamps and again the people thought the house was on fire. After some months a slight sale began. Each household wanted at least one lamp. Petroleum sold then for one dollar a gallon."

The news spread and the world knows the rest. In a short time refining experiments brought in a salable product, "coal oil" it was called, or kerosene.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, but they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach, he alone brought that simple and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative over that original and highly successful remedy that has lasted for generations.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, flatulence, and all other ailments, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Tablets or liquid—and see for yourself that it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

Will Build an Experimental Dam.

E. F. Loud, of AuSable, was in the city Sunday. After persistent effort he has secured consent to take over the Eastern Michigan Power company to build an experimental dam on the AuSable river. It is estimated that this dam will develop 2,500 electric horsepower.

Investigation along the AuSable river has shown that by building some 14 dams a maximum of 20,000 horsepower might be developed, but the estimated outlay is so large that capital could not be secured for such a gigantic undertaking.

Mr. Loud is largely interested in companies which own land along the river, and he induced the owners of Saginaw and Bay City traction utilities to make an inspection trip.

The party, headed by Mr. Loud, included Anton G. Hostenpyl, G. E. Hardy, W. S. Reed and W. M. Eaton, of New York; C. M. and E. W. Clark, of Philadelphia; W. A. Foote and W. G. Fargo, of Jackson. Mr. Foote is considered the best authority on water power in Michigan, having done much pioneer work in that line, and Mr. Fargo is an engineer experienced in dam building.

After a close investigation those interested agreed to stand responsible for the erection of one dam and let future development take care of itself. The eastern capitalists argued that as the power had to be carried long distances and sold in small quantities, the proposition is an experimental one which would tie up their money for a long period.

The details for the dam are now being worked out by Engineer Fargo and his assistants. It will be built on one of four sites in Iosco county, the one to be selected depending on the final data secured by the engineers. Exclusive of the land, the dam will cost about $300,000. It will take about 15 months to build. A service line 78 miles long must be built to carry the current to Bay City. As the site of the dam will be miles from any city or village, it will be necessary to build a wagon road or a stub line from the railroad. It is planned to begin work as soon as possible, though the actual construction cannot be started until early in the spring.

In a general way the dam will be built of mud with a concrete core.

There has been talk of a dam for several years and now that one is to be an actual fact, it promises to be the opening wedge in the development of that section of the state which has been so long neglected—Bay City Times.

Adds 6 Diseases to Danger List.

Lansing, Oct. 10.—Owing to the opposition of some members of the medical profession in making reports in contagious diseases to the health officers a law was enacted at the last session of the legislature authorizing the state board of health to designate those diseases which are communicable and dangerous to the public health, and which must be reported by the physician to the local health officer to the state board of health. In compliance with this law the board, at its quarterly session Saturday, declared the following diseases to be dangerous communicable diseases which must be reported by the health officers to the state board: Pneumonia, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, meningitis, diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, measles and smallpox.

The board also passed rules and regulations giving the preventive measures which must be taken for each of the above diseases, and also relating to the abatement of nuisances, to unsanitary conditions of school buildings and their surroundings, to jail and to private corporation water and sewage disposal systems.

It was also decided that tetanus, erysipelas, leprosy and cancer shall be reported for statistical purposes, and that no person with open tuberculosis should be employed as a teacher in any of the schools of the state.

A resolution was adopted instructing Secretary Shimway to issue a notice to public carriers and schools, forbidding the use of the common drinking cup, and Dr. Shimway's plan for a conference with the railroad officials for a more stringent enforcement of sanitary measures was approved.

"How About a Guarantee With This Suit?"

Just try that question on the salesman the next time you are looking at a new suit.

Ask him if it is strictly all-wool, if the coat front will keep from breaking, if the suit will wear and will absolutely hold and keep its shape and style.

Then ask him for a Guarantee—a Guarantee on paper and signed. If you don't get it, come to us and look at

Clothcraft All-Wool Clothes

Each Clothcraft suit or overcoat carries a Signed Guarantee—a Guarantee that means business and protects you against disappointment.

Each suit is guaranteed to last long and to look well as long as it lasts.

How much good is a suit to you if, after it's a couple of months old, it loses its style and looks "seedy" and "baggy"?

That's what any part-cotton suit will do. But no Clothcraft suit will do that.

And these all-wool Clothcraft Clothes sell at the same prices as part-cotton clothes—$10 to $25.

What Would the Church Say?

If a preacher's wife, in the privacy of her own family, took the chicken breast and gave her husband the back would she be turned out of the church if it became known?—Acheson Globe.

HOLD ALL ANIMALS SACRED

Natives of Dutch East Indies Have Scruples Against Killing Any of Brute Creation.

"The natives of the island of Ball in the Dutch East Indies have peculiar superstitions about animals," says a writer in the Wide World Magazine. "Dogs, for instance, are never destroyed, and, much to the annoyance of the European residents, the pariahs are allowed to increase to an unlimited extent. According to Balinese ideas, dogs are the reincarnation of those of their poorer brethren who were buried after death instead of being cremated, which is the more luxurious method of getting rid of the dead. To kill a dog, therefore, is as great a sin as killing a poor fellow creature. With regard to the tiger, the natives believe that that animal is also the reincarnation of another caste of the community, and nothing will induce them to shoot it.

"They tell, with great impressiveness, the story of an old Balinese man who once came face to face with a tiger in the jungle. Gazing at the monster fixedly he addressed it as follows: 'What have I done to thee that thou lookest so ferociously at me? Have I ever done thee any harm; and art thou not my brother clad in the skin of a tiger? I pray thee go thy way in peace, and leave me alone.' Whereupon it is said, the tiger turned tail and walked away majestically into the depths of the jungle."

Joke on the Baby.

A Mr. and Mrs. Bean have named their recently-arrived daughter "Lima." The sense of humor possessed by some people is fearfully and wonderfully evidenced.—Washington Herald.

Her Remarkable Escape.

A young woman was recently caught in a cave-in in a railway tunnel near St. Gall, Switzerland, and after remaining without food for ten days was finally rescued. She suffered agonies of cold and hunger during this period, but managed to sustain life by sucking moisture from her clothing, on which water occasionally trickled. She continued calling for help until she finally was heard and rescued.

Quality—That's What Counts
In this enlightened day and age everyone wants to buy right and in a safe line where to find a quality dealer. It's that show-up attitude of the buying public that has compelled progressive manufacturers in all lines to improve the quality of their product. "Dit cheap" clothes no longer have a place in the tailoring world. This is a quality age. Kock bottom prices, up-to-date fashions, attractive woollen patterns, are three essentials, but most important of all is Quality in materials and Quality in workmanship. If the garment is lacking in either of these respects, it is dear at any price and most everyone knows it. Order your Fall Suit or Overcoat while the line is complete. 400 late patterns to select from. You'll get 100 cents in Quality for every dollar you spend.
