PLAY E. TAWAS NEXT SUNDAY

Rain Stops All Games in D. & M. League Last Sunday

Rain was enthroned on all diamonds of the Northeastern Michigan League last Sunday, so the standings are the same as last week. The inability to play Oscoda here last Sunday necessitates a double header with that club on August 17 unless different arrangements are made meanwhile.
Next Sunday our boys play East Tawas at the fair grounds, Tawas City being at home. The last game was won by our boys, the score being 5 to 4 so a game worth looking at is assured the fans. Why not get out in force and cheer the boys to another win. Let's go.
One week from next Sunday Tawas City goes to Standish. It is just the right distance to take the family for a basket dinner. There should be a good gang of rooters with the team that day, when the first game of the season with Standish is played. If you are going and have room for a ball player or two let some one on the team know.
It may be of interest to you to know who Tawas City has on her list. The following: Otto Rahl, Austin Allen, Guy Halligan, Hershell Bratt, Geo. Jackson, Walter Moeller, Martin Musolf, Harry McCrum, Lovell Syze, Duell Pearsall, Jack Johnson, Frank Lanski, Kermit Swartz, Wilfred Swartz, Ed. Libka, Glenn Long, Geo. Myles, John Lixey, Jr., Hugo Boldt and Ernest Steinhust comprise the present list. We are always looking for players and if you want a try-out, say so. The team has been slow in rounding into shape but are coming along fine and will give the best in the league some tough work before long.

SAND LAKE HOTEL OPENS WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday evening, June 25, A. F. Cowan will give a formal opening for his new hotel at Sand Lake. Dinner will be served at 8:00 o'clock. The speakers for the occasion will be T. F. Marston of Bay City, S. A. Gallagher and R. G. Schreck. A program of entertainment will also be given. Dancing in the evening.
The new hotel will be a fine addition to the resort property at Sand Lake. Mr. Cowan has put on an extensive advertising campaign and it should become a popular place with resorts under his management.

TAWAS CITY BAPTIST CHURCH

H. Z. Davis, Pastor
Sunday, 10:00 a. m., the pastor will speak on the subject, "The mind's furnishings."
11:15—Bible school.
7:30—Closing service of the day. Spend that hour with us in honor of God who gave us the day and asks us to keep it holy.
Wednesday, 7:30, at the church—Prayer, and Praise service.
"If you want to know if you are going to be a success or failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is easy and infallible. Are you able to conserve the resources of your life? If not, drop out. You will fail as sure as you live; you may not think so but you will." James J. Hill.

$50.00 REWARD.

Fifty dollars reward will be given for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of person or persons who destroyed the small tree on the court house lawn.

ALUMNI BANQUET HELD LAST SATURDAY EVENING

The Tawas City High School Alumni held their annual banquet at the Masonic temple Saturday evening. The banquet was well attended by former graduates, husbands or wives, graduating class, friends and members of the school board and their wives.
Sixty four were present and everyone enjoyed the fine banquet served by the ladies of the Eastern Star. The roll of each class was read and members responded with a few words and communications from alumni were read by the secretary, Mrs. W. J. Robinson.
The same officers were elected for the ensuing year.
An interesting feature of the evening was a petition adopted by the Alumni Association asking the Board of Education to create a fund for the building and equipping of an assembly hall and gymnasium for the high school.

SUPERVISORS TO MEET MONDAY

The Board of Supervisors of Iosco county will convene at the court house, Monday, June 23, for their annual session. The law provides that the several Boards of Supervisors of the counties of the state shall meet on the fourth Monday of June of each year for the purpose of equalizing the assessment rolls of the municipal tax units of each county. This work requires the footing of each tax roll and the formulation of a schedule for the equalization of each unit. This is one of the big tasks of the Board for the year. Upon the schedule fixed at this session each township and city in Iosco, will pay their state and county tax, but will not effect their local tax amounts.
In addition to the equalization matter, the regular routine work will be disposed of which will take the greater part of the week.

CHOLCHER—NUERMINGER

The marriage of Miss Hattie Cholcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cholcher, and Martin A. Nuerminger, son of Mrs. Peter Nuerminger, was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of Holy Cross church by Rev. L. A. Linn. The attendants were Miss Leona Cholcher and Raymond Nuerminger. On their return from Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Nuerminger will make their home at 307 Benjamin street.—Saginaw News Courier.

GRAVEL WORK ON WILBER ROAD NEARING COMPLETION

Hill & Belknap, contractors and engineers, will just about complete the gravel work on the Wilber road this week. The work on this piece of road has been pushed as rapidly as possible, progressing forward at the rate of one mile per week, which is record breaking time for work of this kind in Iosco county.
Messrs Hill and Belknap have secured one of the largest road contracts ever, awarded by the state of Michigan. It is a stretch of 57 miles of new road to be constructed and graveled in Alger and Schoolcraft counties, Upper Peninsula.
Mr. L. H. Belknap informed Herald representative that in order to construct this great stretch of road they had found it necessary to purchase $80,000 worth of additional road building equipment.

Hale to Celebrate July 4th

The citizens of the enterprising village of Hale are putting on a Fourth of July celebration this year. Plans have been completed to make this celebration a day of pleasure for those who attend.
The program includes baseball games, parade, horse races and athletic events. Substantial prizes are being offered to the winners in the different events. Wm. Rahl is chairman of the athletic committee.
Big dance in the evening.
A. Syze, chairman and O. W. Rahl secretary of Fourth of July committee.
LEOPOLD VISITED IOSCO COUNTY LAST SUMMER
Nathan Leopold, the confessed killer of Robert Franks, spent some time last summer at Oscoda in quest of the rare Kirtland warbler.
He came there June 12 with three other Chicago University students and were camped at Van Etten lake. Leopold was accredited as a reputable ornithologist by the United States Biological Survey, and was permitted to take protected birds for scientific purposes by the Department of Conservation of Michigan.

TWO SENTENCED TO JACKSON

One Convicted of Desertion, Three Divorces Granted and Citizenship Granted to Three

Circuit court convened here this week. There were no jury trials on the docket.
The cases of violation of the liquor law were the most important that came before the June term of court.
In the case of Myron Colby for violation of the liquor law, Colby was convicted. Out under bonds. To appear for sentence.
George Zaharris was convicted of making and selling liquor and was sentenced to from six to twelve months. Nine months recommended.
John Tate, who was convicted of violation of the liquor law at the April session and was under bonds to appear for sentence, misbehaved again while under bond and was sentenced as a result to spend from six to twelve months at Jackson. A minimum term of nine months was recommended.
Allowing a person convicted of crime to go at large, under bond, to appear for sentence, is not paroling him, as many people understand it to mean. When one is paroled he is not put under bond, but is allowed to go at large under the supervision of a parole officer for a definite time. Thus paroling is more expensive than the former method, is less secure, and always, the officer intervenes between the court and the convicted one.
When one is allowed to go under bond to appear for sentence, the hands of the court, figuratively speaking, are upon his shoulders always. At any time thereafter the court may have him brought in for sentence, or may wait until he commits some act unbecoming a good citizen before sentencing him. The relation between the court and the convicted is much closer in the one than in the other case.
In either case a duty rests upon the people generally to report any misbehavior upon the part of the delinquent.
In the case of William Farver vs. Walter Reimer, Amiel Reimer and Charles Reimer, assumpsit, judgement was rendered the plaintiff for $347.21.
L. D. Jennings vs. Grace Jennings decree of divorce granted.
Roy J. McMullen vs. Marie McMillen, decree of divorce. Plaintiff given custody of child.
Helen Collins, by her next friend, Mary Collins vs. Roscoe Collins, decree of divorce given plaintiff.
Three petitions for naturalization were admitted: Leo Stanley Slimko, Karl Eilert Bueschen, and Lewis Gordon Mac Andrew.
PLEASING PIANO RECITAL GIVEN MONDAY EVENING
A very pleasing entertainment took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Prescott, Jr., on Monday evening, June 16th, when the pianoforte pupils of Mrs. Hattie Conant appeared in recital.
The following program was remarkably well rendered.
"Pretty Butterfly," (Fink); "Cradle Song," (E. Waddington) Ila Sims.
"Peasant's Song," (Harker); "Little Fairy," (Streabog), Muriel Harris.
"Dance on the Lawn," (Bohm), Viola Burtzloff.
"Minuet in G," (Beethoven); "Sonatine," (Kuhlau), Frieda Stark.
"Dorothy," (Smith), Pauline Davis.
"Estudiantine," (Waldeufel,) Billie Phelan.
"Martha," (Flotow), Isabelle Davis.
"Dance of the Sprites," (Morrison) Pearl Phelan.
"Gen. Pershing's March," (Vandersloot), Charles Colby.
Duet: "To the Front," (Parker); Duet: "Oh! What Joy," (Wohlfahrt), Pearl Phelan and Billie Phelan.
"Mermaid's Song," (Rolf); "Spring Song," (Mendelsohn), Harriet Ferguson.
Trio: "Sylvan Sprites," Isabelle Davis, Pauline Davis, Mrs. Conant.

NEW SIDETRACK SHOULD EXPEDITE TRANSPORTATION

Livestock exhibitors at the seventy-fifth annual Michigan State Fair, Detroit, August 29 to September 7, are advised of the construction of a new sidetrack, entering at the north end of the fair grounds. This will be completed long before fair time, says G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager, thus facilitating rapid movement of livestock in and out of the grounds. This has been one of the shortcomings of the fair transportation system for years. Mr. Dickinson says, and its correction will be welcome news to those herdsmen who have exhibited at the fair in the past decade.

FIND FORTUNES IN WASTE WATER

Profits From Simple Processes to Remove Metals.

Thousands of pounds worth of gold and silver are saved each year from dirty water which would otherwise pass into the sewers.

Wherever business is conducted on a large scale, and more particularly where articles of commerce are turned out on the mass production system, the control of waste is a vital part of organization. This is especially the case where the raw materials used are precious metals.

In factories producing gold and silver articles, such as jewelry, gold-rimmed eyeglasses and so on, minute portions of the metals become attached to the hands of the workers. Special arrangements are therefore necessary to prevent the loss of these minute particles, which aggregate to large values in the course of a year.

Where gold is concerned, the wash-basin is the trap used. All the workers wash in special basins, the dirty water from which is stored and treated. The gold, being heavier than water, sinks to the bottom, the water above it being drained off periodically. The accumulated sludge is sent to the refiners, who extract the gold and pay for it.

Large sums are also saved in photographic workrooms by rescuing the silver which escapes from plates and films and photographic papers during the process of development.

The hypo in the fixing bath dissolves out the unused silver. When the bath becomes exhausted and dirty, instead of going down the sewer it is run into tubs into which a chemical is thrown. The silver falls to the bottom. The water is then run off and more exhausted hypo is added, the precipitating process being repeated, and so on until the tub is nearly full of sludge.

The refiner extracts the silver from the sludge, returning to the factory sums which are often large enough to cover the rent—London Tit-Bits.

Vegetable Pear

The chayote, a popular vegetable in Mexico and Central America, has been grown for more than a generation under the names "vegetable pear," "Mirliton," "mango squash," etc., in certain sections of the South.

A single vine in a garden or yard will produce more than enough chayotes for an average family. It is an excellent fall and winter table vegetable.

The chayote is related to the cucumber and squash. It weighs from eight ounces to a pound, has a smooth surface, a fiber-free flesh and a delicate, agreeable ornamental vine for training over a porch or outbuilding. It flowers profusely, and for that reason is a good bee plant.

The fleshy underground tubers are used in some places much the same as potatoes in temperate regions. Its foliage makes good food for cattle and poultry.—Detroit News.

King Invents Language

A few years ago Njoya, king of Founban, in the Cameroons, became jealous of the particularly good set of secret languages of neighboring tribes and invented from French, English and German words a code tongue of his own which is reserved for the exclusive use of the "cabinet" and upper administrative officials.

The interesting feature of this state language, which was discovered and studied by a Frenchman, Lieutenant Clapot, is that, instead of meaning their usual equivalent, the European words have entirely different code significations. "La mission" for instance, means "to see," and "franc" means "the king." "Ordnung" means "we," "savant" means "an egg," and "franc" means "a hill," "left" means "which," and "England" means "a head."—Manchester Guardian.

Braggarts Both

A Yankee visitor to a London club was making himself rather unpopular by bragging about the American navy. "The fact is, friends," he said, "Mrs. Britannia no longer rules the waves. Why, if it ever came to war between our country and America our fleet would come out and tow your feet right into New York harbor, and that would be the end of it."

"Perhaps you're right," said one of the listeners quietly, "but it would take a better man than Columbus to discover America afterward."—Boston Transcript.

R-r-r-revenge!

Little Jack had been so persistently naughty that mother just had to give him a good spanking, and all that afterwards a desire for revenge rankled in his little breast.

At length bedtime came and, kneeling down, he said his evening prayer, asking a blessing upon all the members of the family individually—except one. Then rising, he turned to his mother with a triumphant look, saying, as he climbed into bed, "I suppose you noticed you wasn't in it!"—The Christian Guardian.

Belle of the Funeral

One of the best narrators of Irish stories is Lord Carson, who always tells them with the gravest face. One of his best is an Irish "wake" story. A pretty girl was invited to the funeral of a friend. When it was over, she was telling how much she enjoyed it. "Sure, it was grand," she said. "They put me in the second coach with the brother of the corpse, and I was the belle of the funeral."

HEMLOCK

Orland McCardell and Chester Smith motored from Flint Saturday to their respective homes, returning Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Louisa O'Brien and grandsons, Winston and Frank visited Mrs. R. Somerville Friday and Saturday.

Fred Russell and family of Flint were guests of Andrew Smith on Sunday.

Oren Carpenter and Harriett Bruce of Flint were married at the First Evangelical church of Flint, June 7. Oren grew to young manhood on the Hemlock and his many friends extend congratulations.

Esther, Lois and Leslie Somerville spent the week end with their grandmother, Mrs. R. Somerville.

Henry Biggs of Saginaw was the guest of his brother, Lester over the week end.

Dr. Case was called to attend Mrs. Steve Knezew, who is seriously ill. The Ladies Aid quilted at the church on Tuesday.

Work has commenced on the Sand Lake road, under the supervision of Mr. Kerr.

Commissioner Tyrell is repairing the road north of the Greenwood to take care of the Sand Lake traffic.

Guests at the Fraser home during the week end were Mrs. Wm. O'Brien and daughter, Lillian, Andy Hayes and sons, Winston and Frank, and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watts were callers on the Hemlock last week.

Byron Grosbeck, Hazel McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller and son, Allen also Aileen Whitney were guests of Mina B. and Lois Frase, on Sunday.

Lillian Van Patten graduates from the East Tawas high school this week.

MEADOW ROAD

Mrs. Jas. Chambers has returned from Detroit after spending several weeks with relatives and friends.

Austin Allen is driving a new Ford.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

SCALING HEIGHTS

YOU may often be filled with wonder at the apparent ease with which some of your friends, of no pronounced ability, climb steadily and unerringly to the heights.

To your mind they are deficient in mentality and power of endurance, yet, in spite of your doubts, they keep mounting surely day by day, brushing aside difficulties with no observable effort and holding fast to their places.

Opposing forces do not daunt or discourage them. They plan and execute. They refrain from boasting, yet within their hearts there is an ironlike resolution to stay in the fight until they meet victory.

Often they are footsore, exhausted in body and spirit, but never are they in a mood to admit defeat. They know quite as well as you that their talents are limited and their faults many. It is this conscious knowledge of their frailties that makes them persist without pause in their commendable effort.

While you are having jolly times at night among the bright lights, they are seeking in the solitude of their room the precious nuggets of wisdom, digging deep below the surface.

They have become students of biography, following seriously the blazed trails of the noble men and women who only a few years ago passed over the highway to fame and left their signboards at the fatal crossroads, where all later travelers may stop, read and gather new courage.

It must be a shallow sort of human being indeed who cannot see the value of such observation and study.

But whatever it may be with regard to the frivolous and fun-loving, this idea of following step by step the rugged paths of the great, striving to comprehend their emotions and to emulate their examples, is not only profitable to the earnest student but extraordinarily inspiring.

What dullard seeking improvement fails to find encouragement in reading of such men as Washington and Lincoln?

Who does not glow with inspiration when he beholds blind Milton groping his way to the heights sublime?

Those who cry "impossible" are those who need most to familiarize themselves with the trials of the immortals who overcame and won imperishable crowns.

MEN YOU MAY MARRY

Has a man like this proposed to you?

Symptoms: Dark, handsome, very young, very swell. Treats you "fine." Talks of his ventures, how he made so-and-so sit up and take notice, how he made $50,000 without turning a hair, how he bluffed "so-and-so" and made a clean $10,000. How he bought a Rolls-Royce, which, though you know him months, never materializes; the great job he is about to get. Very excitable and temperamental, has an airplane, too, somewhere, which you haven't seen.

ASTRONOMERS FIND ANOTHER UNIVERSE

Add 700,000 Light Years to Greatest Known Distance.

The growth in the known size of the universe which began when Galileo devised his small, low-powered telescope has just received another startling increment at the hands of the astronomers of the Harvard observatory.

This time a new and distinct universe has been found, and its great distance adds a matter of 700,000 light years, or about four quintillions of miles, to the greatest known distance to anything in existence.

Man still continues to diminish in relation to the general plan of things. The new universe is so far away that the rays of light which reach us after traveling through empty space at a rate that would carry them twelve times around the earth in one second have been journeying from the newly discovered universe to the photographic plate of the Mount Wilson telescope ever since the earliest known type of man, the apeman of Java, began evolving from his altogether simian ancestor nearly a million years ago. One cannot grasp its significance, even dimly.

Stars have names, but so far astronomers have had to do without names for universes. "N. G. C. 6822" has been known for many years, but pictures of it made by the 100-inch reflecting telescope at Mount Wilson (Cal.) observatory have now resolved it into a complete universe of suns, like our own stellar universe of suns or "stars." Whether there are also planets or "worlds" cannot be said, because at these immense distances they would not be visible.

In fact, "N. G. C. 6822" itself is wholly invisible to the naked eye. It lies in the constellation known as Sagittarius, the Archer, which is itself too close to the sun at this time of year to be visible.

Visible from the southern hemisphere are the Magellanic clouds, which are now known to be stellar systems wholly separate from our own and from the Milky Way. In apparent magnitude "N. G. C. 6822" is very much smaller than the Magellanic clouds, but the great difference in size is only apparent, for it is vastly farther away. In other respects it is similar.

It is a universe, distinct and isolated in space by distances which, when compared with those between the earth and other objects in our own universe, such, for instance, as the distance to the nearest fixed star (some 200,000 times as far as from the sun to the earth), are even then almost incomparable.

The mind reels. It has been said that nothing so greatly influences to a belief in religion as the study of astronomy.—Outlook.

Watercress a Valuable Food.

Scurfield urges the greater use of watercress, which contains all three vitamins, as a food. Watercress is a cheap, green vegetable which, like lettuce, is eaten unspiced by cooking, but which, unlike lettuce, is available all the year round. Its more extended use may, therefore, be an appreciable help in remedying dietary errors caused by urbanization.—British Medical Journal.

State Fair Will Aid Michigan Art This Year, Says Manager

Eager to foster the work of home talent and to encourage Michigan artists, the Michigan State Fair will revert to its 1922 policy of purchasing prizes in the Art department of the approaching seventy-fifth state exposition at Detroit, August 29 to September 7, according to an announcement a few days ago by G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager.

Over $2,500 in purchase prizes have been set aside for Michigan talent to "shoot" at, Mr. Dickinson says. This policy worked out very well in 1922 but was dropped last year in favor of another plan which did not prove nearly as satisfactory to the fair board from the standpoint of exhibitions by "Michigan's Own."

A committee of outside artists, none of which will be exhibiting, will be named to select the winners. In exhibiting a picture this year, the artist will be called upon to place a price on his work and this will be taken into consideration in determining whose art shall be bought.

The art becomes the property of the fair after its purchase and it is the plan to retain whatever work is purchased until the erection of a suitable art building on the grounds when it will go on display permanently.

Besides the art exhibition which will draw heavier this year than in past seasons, there will be a lecture course consisting of talks three times daily by experts.

When Chicago Was Settled.

The site of Chicago was discovered in 1673, but the first house was not built until 1779, by Jean Baptiste Point de Sable. In 1793 he sold his claim to Le Mal, a French fur trader who in turn sold to John Kinzie, the first white man to make his home there. In 1803 Fort Dearborn was erected on the south bank of the river.

California Cork Trees

It is said that within the past decade cork culture has shown promise of becoming one of the important industries of California. A considerable acreage of Spanish cork oak is now in cultivation at the forest plantation owned by the University of California, and all of the trees are, it is said, thriving and growing vigorously. On the elder trees there is a good growth of young bark, some of it more than an inch in thickness.

Most of the trees are now about seven years old and are from twenty-five to thirty feet in height and from eight to ten inches in diameter at the butts. This culture has been made in ordinary soil. Both the climate and soil seem very favorable to the growth of the Spanish cork oak.

This is the first time that any attempt has been made to grow cork in California and the experiment seems to have been worth making.

A Serious Case

A notoriously absent-minded man was observed walking down the street with one foot continually in the gutter, the other on the pavement. A friend meeting him said: "Good evening. How are you?"

"Well," replied the absent-minded one. "I thought I was very well when I left home, but now I don't know what's the matter with me. I've been limping for the last half hour."

Where Is Florence?

An old colored woman came up to the ticket window at a big railway station and addressed the agent. "I wants a ticket fo' Florence," she said.

The ticket agent spent some minutes turning over railway guides, apparently with no success, and then asked:

"Where is Florence?"

"Settin' over dar on de bench," replied the colored woman.—Everybody's Magazine.

Diseased

A young doctor said to the girl of his choice, "Do you know, dear, I have a heart affection for you?"

"Have you had it long?" she coyly inquired.

"Oh, yes. I feel that I will liver troubled life without you," he fervently responded.

"Then you had better asthma," she flapped softly.

Faithless

Lady—Why, have you no faith in self?

Tramp—No, mum, I ain't. If you have faith in yourself, other folks won't. Don't expect other folks ter have in you what you ain't got yourself.
