Games Next Sunday
Standish at Tawas City
East Tawas at Omer
Pinconning at Alabaster.

Lack of a regular catcher was the chief reason for handing Pinconning a ball game last Sunday. Both teams hit the pill hard but errors and erratic base running by our boys spelled the extra runs for Pinny.

Allen will be back Sunday to catch and we will try to get Standish out of the "none lost" column.

Absence from the city of our sport correspondent necessitates the shortening of our account of the game.

RAILROAD HEARING HELD ON TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

The hearing on the application of the Detroit & Mackinac Railroad company for authority to abandon its Lincoln branch was held before the Interstate Commerce commission and Public Utilities commission at the court house, Tawas City, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Henry & Henry were attorneys for the railroad company and Herman Dehnke was attorney for the protestants in Alpena county.

This hearing has had a widespread interest in this community from the fact that it emphasizes a condition which the whole railroad faces, and that is the competition with automobiles and trucks in freight and passenger traffic. As the community's prosperity depends to a great extent upon that of the railroad company, the people here are vitally interested in the welfare of the railroad.

In applying for authority to abandon the Lincoln branch the railroad company claimed that the business on this branch would not pay the expense of upkeep. It also claimed that the community could be served as well from the main line as the branch parallels it.

Many of the interested people of Alpena county were present during the two days hearing.

A decision in the matter will be rendered within the next ten days.

"TILLIE", 107 YEARS OLD BUT CAN SAY "PAPA"

Animal training is a serious business and the people in it rarely smile let alone laugh, but "Tillie", one of the Robinson Military Elephants at the state fair, Detroit, August 29 to September 7, has the reputation of having made her own trainers sick with laughter.

"Tillie" is 107 years old and can only say one word and that one word is "papa". She stands back on her hind feet, rears four tons of flesh and when she calls for her "papa", who is three or four hundred years old and running around the wilds of Africa, even the trainers laugh.

There are four giant animals in the Robinson act and their combined weight is twenty tons. They were training in London when the war broke out, and there were started in a military act. In their act shells are exploded in their midst, they make barriers for the fighters, carry off the wounded and then play the part of Red Cross nurses.

Before the insurance companies would issue policies on the elephants they had a celebrated veterinary spend an entire day examining the big beasts. "Tillie" said "papa" to the veterinary and he passed her.

City visitors at the State Fair, Detroit, August 29 to September 7, are going to see several Michigan grown products traced from the farm directly to their tables in the cities and to learn the factors that enter into furnishing them with quality grain products and vegetables.

To Make Hammers Last

If you have a hammer the head of which keeps flying off, sandpaper the handle, replace the head, drive in wedges in the usual "H" form, and then boil the hammer slowly in linseed oil for about three hours. Treated in this way a hammer should last a lifetime without trouble of any sort, says Popular Science Monthly.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Every voter has an important duty to perform Tuesday, September 9th, at the primary election.

Iosco County is a large corporation in which you are vitally interested as one of the stockholders and directors. As such the privilege and responsibility will be yours of choosing by ballot the man you consider to be best fitted to manage the office of County Clerk.

This important office is one which calls for constant attention and application. It is comparable to that of a bank cashier, frequent changes are not conducive to highest efficiency.

The new Uniform Accounting System and other new plans have been inaugurated, which calls for the services of a man for county clerk who is familiar with the affairs of the office.

And if the affairs of this office have been honestly and successfully conducted and every patron treated with courtesy and fairness by your present county clerk, as I believe I may modestly claim to have been the case, it would seem highly unwise to make any change in the management of the office at this time.

In soliciting your influence and support in behalf of my reelection to the office of county clerk, it is with the strong assurance that your confidence will not be misplaced; and that if I am continued in this office the affairs of the same will be conducted with the utmost efficiency and economy.

Thanking you for former favors, and hoping for your favorable consideration at the primary election on Tuesday, September 9th, I am with all good wishes.

Respectfully yours, Frank E. Dease.

ANNOUNCEMENT

As previously announced, I am a candidate for representative for the state legislature from the Iosco District. Owing to the pressure of farm work in the next few weeks my campaign may be somewhat limited.

I have resided for nearly 38 years in Mason township, Arenac county. Have been a member of the board of supervisors for seven years. Twice elected township clerk and have held several appointive offices in the county, besides school and other public offices. I feel that I am qualified for the office to which I aspire and ask your support at the primaries September 9th on my private or public record.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for the office of county drain commissioner at the primaries September 9. Your support will be appreciated.

Who Calls the Frogs?

Frogs and toads in winter are deeply buried in the mud or beneath some stump, log or stone. Nature awakens them at the proper time, however, says Nature Magazine. How it is that they know when it is time for them to come forth is one of the mysteries of nature that has never been satisfactorily solved. Nevertheless, they are never late.

If a man loses his cattle or other property he pours a little brown sugar into a piece of colored cloth, ties it up, and carries one such parcel to each of his friends and acquaintances. Ben Franklin Enjoyed Good Things of Life

Benjamin Franklin was one of those rare men who lived so happily and so abundantly that the reader of his life finds himself wishing he might have been a contemporary.

He was regarded as one of the wisest members of the First congress, yet he seldom spoke and he spent a great part of his time fast asleep in his chair.

He drank too much, he ate too much; instead of exercising, he played chess. He suffered the piercing pains of gout. He confessed all his faults with delightful humor and frankness.

At sixteen he wrote an article for his brother's newspaper, describing the night life of Boston, and at seventy he was still indulging in pleasant romances with young and beautiful French women. He missed nothing.

As he added years to his age and dollars to his income, he violated many of Poor Richard's precepts.

His common sense led him to take hot baths twice a week, when the general custom was to bathe not oftener than two or three times a year. He believed in fresh air, and even night air, while the doctors were still using leeches as a cure-all.

He enjoyed life to the utmost. He was the master of his circumstances from the age of sixteen, when he ran away from home, to the ripe age of eighty-four, when he passed on, with all his affairs in order. He left an estate of a quarter million dollars for his heirs.—William Feather Magazine.

Science Poor Second in Light Production

What is the most efficient light in the world?

Some people might vote at once for the "last word" of science in artificial illumination, but they would be wrong. The most efficient light known to us was known in the days of pine torches and rush-lights. It is that with which nature has endowed the glow-worm and the firefly.

Science has so far failed to solve the problem of the production of light without heat—a problem which seems to have given Dame Nature no difficulty. In all artificial light production an enormous amount of energy is lost in the form of heat rays and chemical rays.

Thus a four-watt carbon glow lamp has a luminous efficiency of less than a half per cent, and the most perfect artificial illuminant has an efficiency of only 4 per cent.

Science here compares badly with nature, for the luminous efficiency of the firefly is no less than 99.5 per cent, while the glow-worm's light is 90 times more efficient than a tungsten lamp.

Silly Belief Many Hold

The man who expects only accomplishments fools himself into the belief that he cannot make mistakes. Most certainly he does not fool anybody else, and will never do so. Human it is to err, and men should be glad they do not always do so.—Grit.

U. S. FOREST SERVICE PLACES MINIATURE FOREST IN LOBBY OF HOLLAND HOTEL

One of the most unique pieces of advertising ever staged in this section of northeastern Michigan is now on exhibit in the lobby of the Holland hotel at East Tawas. The exhibit was placed there by supervisor E. G. Schreck and represents an exact scene from the Tawas district of the Michigan National Forest in Iosco county. The exhibit is 12x12 feet in size, and everything pertaining to it has been constructed on an accurate scale so that everything connected with it corresponds correctly as to size and fits exactly to the scene. The contours for the land have been made from sawdust over which has been laid sphagnum moss which makes a very natural and attractive forest floor. Small pine trees were then placed to give the scene the appearance of a dense forest. Sand plains roads upon which miniature automobiles appear bring out the naturalness of the exhibit. Small direction signs, miniatures of those which appear at all cross roads on the forest. Small log cabins appear on Indian and Island lakes, the waters of which are represented by two mirrors so admirably places as to resemble exactly the two lakes near the forest. Two miniature lookout towers each manned by miniature rangers and connected by telephone were placed on small hills showing the manner in which the forest service are protecting the Michigan National Forest. Silver Creek and Rollways ranger stations appear in the scene, exactly as they appear on the forest. Miniature canoes and camps located on the small lakes show the recreational possibilities of the forest. Two large signs are placed over the exhibit telling very briefly what the United States Forest Service is doing on Michigan's idle acres. Plantations of trees were made in the exhibit to bring out this most important work that is now being done on such a large scale by the forest service and special appeal was made to visitors to be careful with fire when visiting the forest.

The exhibit was placed in the Hotel Holland on August 9 and will remain there until the end of August, thus allowing the great multitude of tourists that are passing through the city to get a first hand knowledge of the work the Federal Government is doing in Michigan.

Walnut Not "English"

The nut known as the English walnut is the fruit of the Persian or Circassian walnut tree. The name "English walnut" is applied to it in the United States. While the tree is a native of Persia and the Himalayas, it is cultivated in many countries, particularly in southern Europe and in California.

Famous Elephant

Jumbo, the African elephant, was 11 feet 6 inches in height and for twenty-five years was on exhibition at the royal zoological gardens in London before he was bought by P. T. Barnum, the American circus proprietor, for $10,000.
