HIGH SCHOOL

Much enthusiasm has been created through the rapid mathematics contests in the high school. Last Friday our winners met those of the seventh and eighth grade rooms and Walter Kasischke, a junior, proved too much for them all. However, when they met our freshmen and sophomore champions, George Roach of the seventh grade carried off the honors.

The English ten class has discovered in their midst a few who are inclined toward a poetic career. The reverse of Alfred Noye's "The Tramp Disfigured" inspired Louis Braddock to produce several. Here is one of them:

You have heard of the slow, crafty tortoise
Who challenged a hare to a race;
The hare started off like a shot from a gun,
The tortoise with slow plodding pace.

Now the hare lay down by the roadside to rest,
For he thought he could take first place,
While the tortoise kept on and won the goal
With the same slow, plodding pace.

So it is in this race called Life,
My friend,
When the swift in self-confidence rest
It's the ones who can plod perseveringly on
Who will prove at the last to be best.

We are very much pleased with the new radiators installed by Fred Leudtke last week end in the halls and rear class room.

There were several guests Friday afternoon at the following Washington's birthday program:

I. Group singing.
II. Reading, "Like Washington," by Junior Mark.
III. Declaration, "Abraham Lincoln," by Theodore Look.
IV. Song, "Old Glory," by eighth grade.
V. Declaration, "The Flag of the Union Forever," by Edna Daley.
VI. Piano, duet, Louise and Hattie Look.
VII. Song, "Dear Old Flag," by third and fourth grades.
VIII. Talk, "Patriotism," Rev. Geo. Smith.
IX. Group singing.

Seventh and Eighth Grades

Last Friday we went up stairs for a contest with the high school in our speed and accuracy problems. We won against the freshmen and sophomores, but not against the juniors and seniors. George Roach, who is in the seventh grade, won most of them, but Evelyn Roullier and Elvera Kasischke were not far behind.

We were up stairs again on Washington's birthday and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

We are interested at present in the eighth grade studying mold under the microscope.

In the seventh grade with the use of a microscope we are comparing the skin with the bark of a tree.

Fifth and Sixth Grades

Just two more weeks in the month. Our attendance has been fairly good. (Continued on last page)

JUST A WORD

Since the last issue of the Herald, I have been let in on a big secret and I promised not to tell, but I am going to give you just a tiny bit of advance information, so here it is. What ever you do be on your guard against "Lightning" which I am told will strike this town pretty soon, and you know the old saying that "Lightning" never strikes the same place twice, because that place is not there the second time. I might tell you some more about this next week but right now I must be as quiet as a mouse.

Did you come to our first MERCHANTS NIGHT last Wednesday? O my, O my, what a crowd. Itell you these Tawasers certainly know a good show and a good bargain when they see one. I secured a "Johnny Hines" picture for them and believe me they just about blew up the house with laughter, but you haven't seen anything yet because next Wednesday I have a wonderful picture, it's called "Madam Behave". You have all seen "Charley's Aunt," and you know how funny it was, now see this one, which is nicknamed, "A Cousin to Charley's Aunt." We will furnish a free funeral to any one dying from laughter, so before you come you better look over the old will and mortgage.

Friday night we will have our second "Bargain Night" and you better not miss out on this one. You know the guy that played the hero in "The Iron Horse" well, he is with us again in a picture called "The Fighting Heart," and they tell me its a wow. What ever that means.

Well I must cut this on off now, because I have to put lightning rods on th theatre, so that when LIGHTNING comes it won't blow the place to smithereens. So long. Manager, State Theatre.

A good number was present, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Young men and young women, here is a fine class for you, with the very best of teachers. Get into one of these classes.

On Tuesday, March 23, in the Methodist church of this city. The largest and one of the very best suppers ever held in Tawas City was wonderfully put over. It, taking the form of a whole city birthday party. Twelve tables were set, and beautifully decorated, representing every month in the year. Over two hundred took supper and it certainly was a splendid success, and the effort which was put forth by the ladies of the church, will clear well over ninety dollars. We desire to thank one and all our friends who so readily and willingly helped us in putting it over and it did "go over the top."

On Friday night, the 26th, Mrs. Osborne's class of girls and Mrs. Horton's class of boys will meet at the home of the latter. Lunch will be served and afterwards the evening will be spent in enjoying themselves with games of various kinds. ## HALE F. & A. M. HOLDS FELLOWSHIP MEETING

An old fashioned get-together meeting was held in the F. & A. M. hall, Monday evening, February 22nd. It was surprising to see so many present that did not even know his neighbor. After introducing everyone to his neighbor, Chairman R. D. Brown called the meeting to order and with a few brief remarks, called Otto Rahl, W. M., to the floor, who gave a fine talk on the life of Washington, stressing his life as a Mason.

Rev. David Shugg of Whittemore was then introduced, who gave one of the finest addresses ever delivered in our city. Never has the writer, who was present, heard as many praises as was given him.

They then repaired to the dining room, where the stewards served a supper to those present, numbering 67, in such a manner and in such quantities that all were more than full, not mournful, for they listened to a lot of wit and humor from Fred C. Holbeck.

Mr. Stanton of Long Lake was then introduced, and he gave a history of the raising of black foxes. His talk was both instructive and interesting. Games were then entered into and at three a. m. the lights went out with some still playing.

It is hoped that we can have more of these fellowship meetings along the same order and promoted by the same bunch. ***

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT 23rd CIRCUIT OF MICHIGAN

There has not been one re-trial of a contested case since the present judge took office nearly eleven years ago.

During that time there has not been one appeal to the supreme court in a criminal case.

During that time there have been but 28 appeals to the supreme court in civil cases.

The judgments appealed from were affirmed in all but six cases. The judgments in these six cases were modified or reversed.

In other words, the supreme court placed its O. K. on about 80 per cent of the judgments appealed from—the highest record in the state of Michigan. The next highest record is about 60 per cent affirmed.

Largely because of the skill exercised in thus deciding cases, the yearly cost to Oscoda county for its circuit court has been only about $150 per year; and Alcona and Iosco, the other two counties of the circuit, about $1000 per year each—saying nothing about the saving to the litigants.

John K. Stark,
County Clerk Oscoda Co.

WARNING

There has just been a fawn deer chased onto the ice on Tawas bay and killed by dogs.

We are asking anyone that have dogs they think anything of, to keep them out of the woods. We would like to have them co-operate with us.

Conservation Officer.

FREE GIFTS TO "WHITE CAR" VISITORS

The Fire Prevention and Land Clearing train will be at Tawas City Saturday morning, March 6th. In the afternoon it will be at East Tawas. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to be present and hear the lectures and inspect the exhibits. Free gifts will be given to the adults and pins and bookmarks to the children. The exhibits and lectures will be of special interest to the farmers.

A banquet will be given by the Katanin club Friday evening at the Hotel Iosco, with the following speakers:

Marcus Schaff, state forester, Herman Lunden, commissioner of conservation, Larry Livingstone, from the Michigan State college, Fred C. Holbeck, R. G. Schreck, Edgar a Cochrun, secretary of the Conservation department, T. F. Marston and Joe Derody of the N. E. M. Development Bureau and others.

Incidentally, according to reports, one of the very biggest surprises is in store for us. At that time the Forest Fire Prevention and Land Clearing train will be parked on the side track at the D. & M. Ry. and we will have a chance to see a carload of exhibits which will be astonishing as they are interesting and instructive. The "big white car" is fitted from floor to roof with models, charts, pictures, equipment, etc., all relating to the battle which northern Michigan is waging against its mortal enemy—forest fires, according to Mr. L. F. Livingstone of the Michigan State college. Mr. Livingstone represents the college on this train and is in charge of all exhibits. He said, "We will guarantee every one who boards this train a genuine surprise. Forest fires will look mighty real to everyone and the seriousness of this menace will be indelibly impressed. We believe that the message is presented in such a way that this train will plan a real part in the reduction of forest fire losses next season."

Next to the exhibits in the "big white car," the speeches in the lecture car should prove interesting. Among the speakers will be Edgar Cochrun, secretary of the State Conservation Commission; L. F. Livingstone and N. A. Nessler of the Michigan State college; R. G. Schreck of the U. S. Forestry reserv. The various phases of reforestation, land clearing and fire fighting will be discussed by these speakers in a manner that will be appreciated by everyone. Every minute of the morning and afternoon of Saturday, March 6th, at Tawas City and East Tawas.

Everything is free and everyone is welcome.

HOW MICHIGAN LOOKS TO A JAY-HAWKER

By Walter R. Wulschlegler
Frankfort, Kansas

This winter I was accorded the greatest pleasure I have ever had, in my visit to that distant state of Michigan.

Now, that I have returned to my home in sunny Kansas, I often think back in happy reflection on those interesting days I spent while I was there. In the trip I have satisfied an intense desire to go up into that northern country where massive pines and many other beautiful trees of the evergreen family grew in their wild state. What a treat for a young fellow who never saw a pine tree that wasn't shipped in from a nursery or some northern state. Just imagine a fellow's joy to see a beautiful lake surrounded by beautiful trees. The largest lake I ever saw in this state was a duck pond, and it wasn't more than acre in size. Of course out here in Kansas we have lots of timber, too, and creeks and rivers in large numbers, but I've never seen anything quite as beautiful as a certain spot up in Michigan.

I was greatly elated over the farming system practiced by the farmers of that locality. In view of that fine system of agriculture, I can see nothing but a bright and progressive future for agriculture in Michigan. It is a system that before many years must be applied to a large extent here in the middle western states. When we compare Michigan and what she has had to contend with in developing that stump covered country into fine fertile, tillable farms, with the difficulties that hindered the development of Kansas as an agricultural state, we seem to acquire a high respect for those sturdy and rugged

Supremacy Maintained through Features which Established Ford Leadership

Left-Hand Drive—Originally introduced by Henry Ford on the Model T car in 1908 and since adopted for most American-made cars.

Three Point Motor Suspension—First used by Henry Ford in 1903, and a feature of the Model T power plant for eighteen years.

Dual Ignition System—Dual ignition is provided for Ford cars, (1) the Ford magneto and (2) the generator and storage battery. This has been a great factor in establishing the Ford reputation for reliability.

Planetary Transmission—Costs more to build than the conventional sliding gear type but gives better light car control.

Multiple Disc-in-oil Clutch—The multiple disc clutch is generally conceded to be the best and smoothest type for any car. The Ford clutch runs in oil.

Thermo-Syphon Cooling System—Extremely simple—always efficient. No water pump to require packing. Circulation of water is governed entirely by engine temperature.

Simple, Dependable Lubrication—Exceedingly simple, combining the splash principle with gravity flow. No pump required.

Torque Tube Drive—Henry Ford originated the Torque Tube in 1908—a driving principle now embodied in many of the highest priced cars.

pioneers who have made and are making Northeast Michigan what it is. The Kansas pioneer, to begin farming his homestead, had but to haul out his prairie plow and hitch his best team of oxen to it and the limit of his field was only what he could plow from thaw to freezing. He was not hindered by pine stumps three to four feet in diameter.

The eastern part of Kansas is very rough and rolling and is covered with wooded hills and streams. In these valleys lies the best farm land under Kansas skies. The country between these valleys is very rough and much of this is very thin, light soil that blows and washes away very easily. This soil, which has been continually growing corn and wheat, is getting more depleted every year and something must be done to improve its condition. That is why I admired the system of farming that is being practiced in Michigan. The western part of Kansas is very level and the soil is sandy. Here is where Kansas grows her big wheat crops. The rainfall is very small.

It seems that I cannot tell of my admiration for Michigan without giving Kansas a boost, so you people who read this must forgive me if I appear to boastful of my own state.

My trip to Michigan was certainly worth a lot to me. Michigan is a wonderful state, and one cannot make her a visit without wanting to go again sometime. The climate especially appealed to me, and I am reminded of the verse:

"From sea to sea my country lies,
 Beneath the splendor of her skies."
