

COL. LINDBERGH WILL BE AT OSCODA FIELD

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is expected to spend a week at Camp Skeel near Oscoda. He will arrive Saturday or Sunday. This announcement was made by Major Thomas C. Lanphier, commander at Selfridge field.

Lindbergh will take part in all the pursuit maneuvers there, according to present plans, and will be supplied with a regulation Curtiss P-1 plane equipped with two machine guns, one of 30-caliber and another of 50-caliber.

Camp life for him will be principally taken up with target practice at both ground targets and "sleeve" targets towed through the air by another plane. The location of the camp also provides hunting and fishing in abundance.

The pursuit group camp near Oscoda, named Camp Skeel in memory of Captain Bert Skeel, is three miles north of Oscoda on the shores of Lakes Van Etan and Huron. Twenty officers and 60 enlisted men are already encamped and are engaged in aerial gunnery maneuvers, the feature of this year's camp.

"ANNIE LAURIE" A HUGE AND COMPELLING DRAMA

Lillian Gish—ethereal and beautiful—in the stern setting of the wars of Highland clans—in the majestic splendours of ancient Scottish castles—in settings that blend the legend and romance of Scotland with the grim details of its turbulent history—this is the Lillian Gish of "Annie Laurie," latest vehicle of the famous star, playing at the State Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

It is a gigantic story of human souls; a romance of love as great as the huge settings in which the story is told; it is an historic drama that eclipses anything of the kind seen in years—all the more wonderful because it deals with a people never before seen on the screen.

The ancient Scots and their customs—their implacable clan warfare, and their delicate sentimentality—underlying the ever-present lust for battle—these are reproduced with startling fidelity in the big Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer spectacle.

Famous old castles, including historic Maxwellton, were reproduced. Hordes of kilted warriors struggle gallantly caparisoned couriers in the king's antechamber plot untold villainy—and through it runs the glorious story of the love of Annie Laurie and Ian MacDonald—a love that changed the course of history centuries ago, and unified the Scottish nation.

SCHOOL NOTES

High School

Our baseball team suffered its first defeat of the season by a score of 10 to 7, St. Joe's nine being the winner. Faulty fielding on the part of our infielders was the cause of our downfall. All of St. Joe's runs were collected during the first three innings. Howard Swartz started on the firing line for our team but was relieved at the end of the third inning to play in the infield, our weak spot. Ferris Brown took Howard's place and did not give St. Joe a single run during the three innings he pitched. He was backed by excellent fielding.

We have organized a football team and expect to play teams representing the surrounding schools. We hope to continue with football till Thanksgiving Day.

Bessie Metcalf is back in school after a week of absence due to a sprained ankle.

A mistake was made last week in the names of the officers of the Glee Club. They are: President, Dorothy Bigelow; vice-president, Isabelle King; secretary and treasurer, Onalea Main.

Tuesday noon the girls had a business meeting and the following committees were chosen: Program: Jean Metcalf, chairman, Alvera Goedecke, Theodor, Look; By-Laws, Beulah Hills, chairman, Clara Zollweg, and Muriel Harris.

It was decided that the club should hold its first meeting Monday evening at the home of Dorothy Bigelow. A volunteer committee, Isabelle King, Clara Zollweg, Dorothy Bigelow, Violet Brown, Myrna Sommerfeld and Theodor Look will furnish the refreshments.

Saturday evening, October 29, there will be a high school masquerade party at the Masonic Hall from eight to eleven o'clock.

Basil Quick and Albert Davison were visitors in the high school Monday forenoon.

APPOINTS WM. LOOK

OAKLAND DEALER

The Oakland Motor Car Company, division of General Motors, announces the appointment of Wm. Look, of East Tawas, as Oakland-Pontiac dealer here for the Oakland All-American Six and its companion car, the Pontiac Six. The dealer invites the public to visit his showroom and inspect the various models comprising the two lines.

Because of the public's instantaneous response to the new Oakland All-American Six, at the latter's recent introduction, special interest attaches to this car. It is new in every respect, designed by Oakland engineers to conform to American standards of style, comfort and speed. Low, rakish lines, greater length new Duco colors, and remarkably improved performance characterize the entire Oakland All-American line. Despite the numerous improvements, these cars are offered at new low prices.

The changes in the Oakland Six are fundamental. Oakland engineers began with the frame itself, providing an ingenious design which attains low lines without loss of headroom or road clearance. The wheelbase is 117 inches, making the total overall length between bumpers, 175 inches. The road clearance is 8 5/8 inches and the overall height 70 inches. High and narrow radiator, sweeping full crown fenders, lower running boards and stylish new wheels with larger tires, contribute to the Oakland All-American Six's beauty. The Fisher bodies likewise are improved, with new harmonizing hardware and luxurious cushions.

The power plant is entirely new. The famous Oakland harmonic balancer, rubber insulated drive and other outstanding Oakland engineering advances all are retained and improved. The new engine has a piston displacement of 212 cubic inches and develops 60 brake horsepower at 2,800 revolutions per minute. Its head is the non-detoning type, so designed that fuel is thoroughly mixed and broken before the explosion, insuring uniform combustion.

The crankcase of the Oakland All-American Six is especially sturdy reinforcements of the "bridge truss" type lending it more than sufficient rigidity to withstand every strain. Crankshaft bearings are of the interchangeable bronze backed type which Oakland introduced originally and all are extra large. Provision is made for full force feed oiling of the main bearings and supplemental splash lubrication of the thrust side of cylinder walls.

An entirely new oiling system, of Oakland's own design, insures a thoroughness of lubrication which is probably unrivalled anywhere. The oil pump is of a new design, self priming, and capable of circulating a tremendous volume of oil at ordinary running speeds. To insure instantaneous operation of the lubrication system in cold weather, an "oil warmer" of greater diameter than the usual oil-feed pipe is provided inside the crankcase.

FARMERS URGE COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION

A community co-operative board consisting of representatives from the mercantile, professional and other interests of the business centers of Iosco County and from the farmers' own organizations was urged last Tuesday by the farmers at the annual meeting of the Farmers Co-operative Elevator Association at Grant Hall.

In the discussion of the projected plan the sentiment was expressed that the farmers, merchants and professional men of Iosco County are all in the same boat, and on the east side of the fence. It was argued that the East has been continuously profiting at the expense of the agricultural communities of the United States and that the industrial and manufacturing interests of the East had been able to profit solely through their co-operation among themselves; that if the spirit of co-operation has thus been profitable to them during the last fifty or a hundred years, so that they are enabled through their co-operating as partnerships, mergers, trusts and trust-combines, to profit at the expense of the unorganized agricultural communities; then it would seem logical that those same unorganized agricultural communities should best be able to protect themselves through their own co-operation. And it was suggested that the solution of these problems, the bringing back of better times to Iosco County is a matter that should interest everybody living in the county, business men as well as farmers; and that to properly study our local problems such an organization should consist of representation from all of the various economic groups in the county—that no one group thinking from one point of view would be so able to analyze and successfully cope with the economic situation facing the county so well as if they were studied by a committee representing differing points of view which would then be in a position to react upon one another and so correct the natural distortions in viewpoint that would characterize any single group representing only one point of view.

Steps were taken toward the formation of such a committee, consisting of not more than five or seven men, few enough so that they would not be unwieldy, and yet sufficient in number to represent the various points of view to be found in our county—mercantile, professional, agricultural, etc. It is to be expected later on that the business interests will be asked to co-operate with the farmers in selecting someone in whom they will have confidence for the study of our economic situation, with the end in view of bringing it to our county a better condition of business. As one farmer expressed it, "The farmers and business men of Iosco County can hang together, or hang separately, just as they please, but it will be one or the other."

In the course of the regular business of the Elevator Association the new directors were elected. Nelson Johnson, R. A. Bentley and Frank Merchant, out-going directors, were re-elected into office for the next three years.

THE POWER OF CREDIT

The mightiest engine ever built, rushing onward at top speed, is but an infant in strength when compared to the power of CREDIT.

CREDIT Can build great cities or it can destroy them. Credit can make or break a world power nation.

Yet with all its great power, Credit is one of our most fragile institutions. Rightly guarded and fostered it can carry us onward and upward to untold heights of success.

Each one of us is entirely responsible for his own credit. The man who pays his bills promptly, be he banker or day laborer, is doing his share toward guarding his credit. He is building for the future upon a solid foundation. None can tell when good credit may mean the difference between success or failure in his future life.

APPOINTS WM. LOOK OAKLAND DEALER

Mechanically and in structural design the attention to quality construction is apparent. The engine is of the six-cylinder L-head type with automatic spark control and a host of advanced features which are noteworthy in a car of such low price. It is a moderate speed type which is best suited for long life and endurance, with 4 1-4 inch bore and 3 3-4 inch stroke.

The chassis has a 110 inch wheel base and a total spring length of 90 inches—just 82 per cent of the wheel base. These, with other mechanical features, such as a low center of gravity, method of spring suspension and semi-reversible steering mechanism, make for the maximum in roadability and ease of operation.

Semi-steel pistons, with two plain rings and one ventilated oil control ring, large intake valves and number one heat resisting chromium silicon steel exhaust valves, heat treated valve springs, and extra long removable valve stem guides are among the unusual engineering features which promise a long trouble-free operation under all conditions. Crankcase ventilation and the triple protection of oil filter, gasoline strainer and oil cleaner are three additional improvements.

Oakland has substituted a positive-circuit fuel system for the vacuum tank system of fuel supply, thereby insuring adequate gasoline feed even on the longest and steepest grades. Special provision is made for pre-heating the fuel before its arrival in the cylinders and for cooling exhaust gases off without unduly heating the floor boards of the car.

A cooling system of proved efficiency is part of the Oakland All-American Six. The new water pump is so designed that it can never develop leaks through end play. It circulates 720 gallons of water an hour at 25 miles an hour. Thermostatic water control, and newly-designed water passages in the head, are among the special refinements.

Operating ease has received particular attention in designing the new Oakland. The instruments on the dash, including gasoline gauge on all models, are clustered in a beautiful silver trimmed panel. There is a new 17 inch walnut steering wheel and new and narrowed windshield side pillars, increasing the area of vision. The transmission lock, of approved type, is now 2 3-16 inches above the floor boards, more accessible than before.

Seven body types are offered in the Oakland All American Six: the Two Door Sedan, Four Door Sedan, Landau Sedan, Landau Coupe, Sport Phaeton, Sport Roadster and Four Passenger Cabriolet.

The Pontiac Six, which received the most sensational welcome in history, when it was introduced in January 1926, is now offered at new low prices, made possible by the efficient manufacturing methods which obtain in the new $12,000,000 plant of the Pontiac division. The Pontiac is of the same high standard of manufacture as Oakland throughout, with a power plant remarkable for its sturdiness, power and economy.

The Pontiac Six is a car of characteristic General Motors quality. The beautiful Fisher-built bodies with rich fittings and the lustrous Duco finish in two tone colors, belie the fact that the Pontiac is one of the lowest priced six-cylinder cars on the market.

The Fisher-built bodies are low-swinging and roomy with a distinctive treatment of double body beading. The radiator is nickel plated with a unique double medallion name plate in front and a bronze faced Indian head radiator cap, suggestive of the name of the car.

Engine lubrication on the Pontiac Six is force feed, operated by a pump located under the level of the oil so that it is self priming. Oil passages are continuous from one end of the crankshaft to the other, thus insuring equal pressure to all main bearings. Piston pins, cylinder walls, valve stems and lifters and camshaft bearings are lubricated by the oil spray thrown off from the crankshaft.

These cars are being offered at a price ranging from $745 to $1265 f. o. b. factory which appeals to every desire of the motoring public of cars in this price class.

The Oakland-Pontiac dealer looks forward to a constantly increasing business, and offering two complete lines of six cylinder cars backed by the tremendous resources of the General Motors Corporation, is confident that these products will meet with immediate acceptance and gain an outstanding position in this locality, such as is now enjoyed generally throughout the entire country.
