Poor Butterfly

The class at school was having a test in observation, which consisted in taking a brief look at a table full of varied objects, and then writing down as many as they could remember. The lazy boy of the class could remember only one, which chanced to be a butterfly made of a clothespin and crepe paper, and this is what he wrote: "Tishy paper on a stick."

The Hammond torpedo, which is controlled by radio after it hits the water, being fired during recent navy tests of the new death missile off Newport, R. I. The torpedoes cost $12,000 each and have a range of six miles.

Turbo-Electric Liner Is Launched

The new turbo-electric liner S. S. Santa Clara as it was brought back to dock at Camden, N. J., after sliding down the ways at launching. The new boat will be placed in the regular service to Peru and Chile via the Panama canal.

An architect's drawing of the Liberty bridge, proposed to span the Narrows at the entrance of New York harbor and connect Brooklyn with Staten Island. It will have towers 500 feet in height, exceeding that of the Woolworth building. # The Race for Freak Championships

Husband-Calling Contest
By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Rolling Pin Throwing Contest

WILL the decade of 1920-30 be written down by the historians of the future as the "marathon era" in American history? It may very well be, if some one ever takes the trouble to count up all the endurance contests and races for freak championships which have taken place during the last ten years and which, if a visitor from Mars were to judge by the interest shown and the amount of newspaper space devoted to them, he might regard as typically American, if not actually deserving to be listed among our major activities.

Perhaps the "marathon era" should include the years from 1910 to 1920 also, for it was in 1910 that Sallie Rope, a negro of Kansas City, Mo., decided to set a new gastronomic record. So she stowed away some 1,551 items of hardware, including 453 nails, 42 screws, 9 bolts, 5 spoons, 5 thimbles, 63 buttons, 105 safety pins, 115 hairpins, 136 common pins, 52 carpet tacks, 57 needles, 85 pebbles, a four-foot string of beads and a nail file. Of course, it killed her, but she had proved that the "so-called human race" could compete successfully with ostriches and goats for variety in its menu when it chose.

It was not until after 1920, however, that the "marathoners" struck their stride. On November 23, 1923, John Hinsin of New York City won over Yal Menges in a "hot dog" contest by consuming 53. On November 24 of that year Dan Henderson of Jonesboro, Ga., completed 69 hours of steady chewing on a quid of tobacco. On December 6, 1925, C. S. Carter of Groton, S. D., ate 51 flapjacks, but lost the "championship" the next day to W. P. G. Meyers, who ate 43 but his flapjacks measured two inches more in diameter.

Commendable as were these enterprises, it remained for Miss Alma Cummings, a dance instructor in New York City, to start an endurance contest which was destined to become the latest craze and to sweep the country. Some time in 1923 she noticed an item in the papers about a Frenchman dancing continuously for 17 hours. She decided that Americans could do better than that and to prove it she danced for 27 hours. And that started it! Within a week she had to dance for 50 hours to hold her title and three days later her record was broken.

1. A sweeping contest, held in Los Angeles, Calif., to determine who should be crowned "Queen of Sweepers."

2. A fourteen-year-old entry in a Maryland flag pole sitting contest.

en. Other dancers in other cities took up the fad and "On with the dance!" became the watchword of the hour. From 50 hours the record went to 69, then to 73, then to 80, 90 and 100. Out in California Viola Pompey and Horace Dunn started at Los Angeles and danced eight miles down the highway to Ocean Park. They kept up their dancing for 140 hours.

And then, of course, there's flag pole sitting. A good way to rest up after a dance marathon is to climb up on a flag pole and just sit. And flag pole sitting was a close second to dancing in endurance popularity. In 1927 "Shipwreck" Kelly, a sailor, went aloft on a 40 foot pole in Newark, N. J., and stayed there for 12 days. Not to be outdone by this exhibition of civic supremacy, other cities staged similar contests and many of the burghers of those municipalities got permanent cricks in their necks from permanent flag pole sitters.

If 1929 is never famous for anything else, it will be famous for some new and unusual "championships." Consider, for instance, Bill Williams of Hondo, Texas, who rolled a peanut with his nose over the 22 mile route to the summit of Pikes Peak. It took him 30 days to do it and he got $500, plus a large amount of newspaper publicity. Inspired by his example L. R. Rose of Rule, Texas, started from Galveston to knock a croquet ball all the way to New York and H. P. Williams started rolling a little iron hoop for the same destination.

The so-called weaker sex is not far behind the other in their bids for fame. Last summer any number of cities held rolling pin throwing contests and husband calling contests in which housewives showed both their strength of arm and voice. And Champagne, Ill., is the home of Mrs. H. B. Schmidt who claims the world's champinship for rocking, she having spent 401 hours in a rocking chair swaying back and forth.

Yes, everybody's doing it, including the children. Last summer, the previously mentioned "Shipwreck" Kelly gave a 23-day exhibition in Baltimore. The result was a pole sitting epidemic among the children of that city. Avon W. Foreman started it by staying on top a 17 foot pole for 10 days, 10 hours, 10 minutes and 10 seconds. When he descended he was praised by the mayor of Baltimore for "the old pioneer spirit" and acclaimed "world's champion fifteen-year-old flagpole sitter." His record was broken by twelve-year-old Willie Wentworth, however, who stayed up nearly a month, breaking even "Shipwreck's" record.

By starting young perhaps some one will break the record which has stood for 1,478 years. It was made by Simoon Stylites, the Syrian shepherd boy who became a monk and who, to prove his devotion to Christianity in the days when martyrdom was popular, mounted to the top of a nine foot column, chained himself there and occupied his time in prayer. He stayed there 30 years?

Yes, the children are showing themselves worthy sons and daughters of their fathers in this matter of thinking up new feats in which to vie for the "championship." But they will have to be original indeed to match the merchants of Belle Plaine, Iowa, who thought that a contest to decide who had the most flea-bitten dog in four counties would be a good attraction for their annual fall festival. They offered a prize of $100 and it was won by James Parks of Belle Plaine. The judges counted 113 fleas on his dog.

(Author's Note: The list of "championships" in this article does not pretend to be a complete one and some of the "records" in some events may have been broken since the article was written. But does it matter?)

AIR MAIL PROBLEM IS GROUND DELAYS

Slow Delivery Is Cause of Most of Complaints.

Washington.—The majority of complaints concerning slow delivery of air mail concern delays which occur on the ground, it is admitted by officials of the Post-Office department. The department has launched a new effort to increase the speed of ground handling so that the main value of transporting mail through the air may not be lost through this handicap.

The problem of increasing ground speeds is difficult, according to Earl Wadsworth, superintendent of air mail service. The most that the department can do, says Mr. Wadsworth, is to utilize to the fullest extent the existing means of transportation. Each city and the mail airport terminal presents different difficulties.

Police Speed Deliveries.
Months of experimenting have been required to determine what is the best method of bringing New York's air mail from the eastern terminal at the Newark airport into the general post office at Eighth avenue and Twenty-third street.

In most cities the municipal government aids delivery by giving trucks which are delivering the air mail the right of way and allowing them to disregard the speed limits. In other cities these trucks are accorded the same attention in traffic which fire apparatus receives. Police are notified of the coming of the trucks and see that no traffic obstructions bar the way.

Amphibians Used in Chicago.
A special experiment was tried in Chicago in an effort to speed the delivery of mail arriving on the trans-continental mail planes. Amphibian plane service was authorized there to deliver the mail to the city, the amphibians taking off from the air mail field and flying to the lake front, where the mails could be delivered to trucks which then had only a short haul to downtown post office stations. This service must be suspended in the winter as the amphibians cannot operate because of the ice in the lake.

Tests have been authorized of air mail catching devices but the feasibility of placing them on the top of post office buildings is not yet determined because of the fact that regulations provide that airplanes must not fly lower than 500 feet when passing over cities.

It is possible that regulations might be changed to allow the mail planes to use such devices, but even then it is problematical what the performance of the planes would be down in the canyons formed by tall office buildings. The possibility of the use of pneumatic tubes for the transport of air mail from the airports to the post offices also is under consideration. The expense of installing tubes over such long distances is one of the limiting factors in such a plan, according to Mr. Wadsworth.

AIR TOUR WINNER

J. H. Livingston of Aurora, Ill., piloting a Waco biplane, was winner of first place in the 5,000-mile national reliability air tour which ended at Detroit.

Muskogee to Replace The "Hat-Box" Airport

Muskogee, Okla. — Hat-box field, whose register includes signatures of nearly every aviator of prominence, is to bow to progress after ten years as Oklahoma's pioneer private airport.

A municipal field is to replace the "hat-box," whose present steel hangar was erected by the army, following demands for a handy refueling point between Texas fields and northern cities.

Little commotion was caused in aerial circles when Joe Witt, an army aviator, leased a plot of ground here and built a one-plane wooden hangar shortly after the war. Nevertheless, it proved a convenient stop for army airmen.

When Witt's ramshackle equipment was destroyed by fire the army was asked to rehabilitate it. That was done, and a lieutenant was placed in command.

One day a squad of nearly 50 army ships stopped, en route to maneuvers in the North. Cramped in the small field and struck by black and white vertical stripes on the hangar, the army flyers remarked, "Why, it's just a hat-box!" Thus the field was christened.

Muskogee is most hospitable to aviators. Invariably they are given "keys to the city" when they stop here. That concession includes admission to all theaters and golf courses and special hotel rates.

Women Desert Tours for Airplane Trips

Brussels.—Flying, especially among American women visiting Europe, is on the increase, according to a railroad and steamboat agent of this city.

"It is getting quite annoying," he said. "We start out with a 'group' of twenty or thirty women. As we proceed it dwindles. We wonder where it has gone to. Little by little we discover that individuals, one after another, forsake the good, well-tried methods of traveling by flying. The fashion is catching on and is very awkward for us, as it upsets all our calculations and organization for taking people by sea and land."

DROPPING GUNS AND CREWS IN CHUTES

Army's Demonstration in Texas Is Successful.

Washington.—According to a report received by the chief of the air corps, the technique of landing machine guns and their crews from airplanes is being constantly improved. During a recent demonstration at the Air Corps Primary Flying school at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas, two machine guns were dropped in parachutes and put into action by two crews of three men each, who descended from an airplane to the ground via the parachute route. Assembly of the machine guns and preparing them for firing was only a matter of a few minutes.

This demonstration featured a machine gun parachute bag, recently developed by Sergeant Erwin H. Nichols, head of the parachute department of Brooks field. The parachute supporting the bag opens automatically upon being thrown from the airplane and floats to earth. The bag containing the gun, ammunition and a gallon of water for use in cooling, opens quickly by means of a rip cord similar to that on the parachute.

The parachute jumps were made by Sergeant Dewey Horton, Corporals Travis Garner and Robert E. New and Privates R. W. Stevens, Eddie Benzency and Lorraine Tolle. Sergeant Horton had a thrilling escape when his parachute landed on the roof of the big dirigible hangar at Brooks field. The roof of this structure has a 30-degree slope and is well over 100 feet from the ground. Despite his precarious position, Sergeant Horton was able to spill the air from his parachute and climb to an entrance on the peak of the building, none the worse for his experience.

Cooling of Engine Problem of Builders

Detroit.—"Air-cooled versus water-cooled" remains the outstanding controversy among aircraft engine builders. Recent performances and experiments have done little to resolve a definite answer to the question. Rather, they have merely intensified the discussion.

It seems inevitable that eventually aircraft designing must be standardized around either the engine which is cooled by water or by air. All of the spectacular ocean flights and, in fact, all aviation feats which contributed to the awakening of public interest in aviation, which began in 1927, were made with air-cooled motors.

The argument was advanced that this performance justified specialization in the radial air-cooled type of motor to the exclusion of other designs. It was asserted that it was wasted effort to carry water into the air to reduce engine heat when the air flowing around the plane in flight would serve that purpose.

But when aircraft builders began seeking greater speeds, the radial type with its enormous frontal resistance, lost some favor, and designers began discussing the possibilities of water-cooled types. A method of chemical cooling brought forward and tried by the United States army, has met with favorable results in preliminary tests.

California Publishers Seek Crash Details

San Francisco.—What is believed to be the first instance in the United States of a newspaper publishers' association adopting a resolution to protect the aviation industry resulted during a meeting of the California Newspaper Publishers' association. Justus F. Craemer, president of the association, announced the adoption of the following resolution:

"Whereas California is the most air-minded state in the Union, and, whereas California bids well to retain its leadership in an infant industry, and,

"Whereas commercial aviation will become soon an important factor in the advertising world, and,

"Whereas most airplane accidents result in unlicensed obsolete planes, or when the pilot is inexperienced, and,

VARIETY THE SPICE OF HATS; MATERIALS FOR SCHOOL DRESSES

FAREWELL and good-by but not "auf wiedersehen" to the all-hats-look-alike period! Passed into history is that era of unimaginative hats—hats the monotony and sameness of which tried woman's patience, not to mention good looks, almost to the point of despair.

Changes now the scene. The pendulum swings from the uneventful to the eventful in the millinery realm. The versatility, the originality, the tuned-to-individuality and to-costume and to-occasion of the new hats bespeak the woolens is going strong. The daintiest, quaintest chail's ever are on the list, also very sheer and very lovely all wool georgettes. A multiplicity of featherweight tweeds, too! And then there are all sorts of wool crepes, also exquisitely fine jersey cloth is widely in use. Lightweight broadcloths, too, if you please and perfectly charming novelty wool weaves by the score, some with interwoven or printed borders.

Contrasting pipings and bandings come to the fore as most important trimming details. The effectiveness of contrasting materials in this way is set forth by the school frock in lower picture. This one-piece model is fashioned of ritana cloth, a lightweight wool material in a reddish rust tone, the pipings and bandings being in bright red. Suntan beige kid shoes are worn with this costume for, according to fashion's plans, shoes must blend into the color scheme.

A notable feature in the styling of this comely frock is its low-placed circular flare, achieving as it does the fashionable widened hemline. This adoption of the flare is very general throughout junior styling, thus emphasizing the fact that modes for youth take their cue from adult style trends.

One is reminded of the tendency of youth's fashions to follow in the wake of those of their elders, in that quite a few frocks for growing girls are now cut along princess lines. Either the fitted princess top is widened at the hemline with an attached flare, plaited, circular or shirred, or as is frequently the case, the dress is cut a la princess, its flare accented with, development of—suppose we call it a millinery complex, since "complex" is a favorite word with this generation.

Not only is the modern modiste inspired to style the hat to individuality, but another element enters in—that of relating the hat to the costume. And still another—that of tuning the hat to the occasion. So there you have it, a whole wardrobe of hats necessary to cater to the demands of fashion.

This millinery complex involves a number of things, outstanding among which are color, contour and the material of which the hat is made.

As to color, in view of the fact that all fashion revolves around the ensemble theme, it becomes necessary that the hat match something, either the dress, the suit-ensemble, or the coat.

Regarding contour, brims "fearfully and wonderfully" manipulated compete with novelty draped turbans, and yet the half has not yet been told as to the varying silhouettes which add zest to the modern chapaneu.

Concerning materials, soft plant broadcloth is one of the newest mediums and the clever use of fur trimming considers the subject from another angle. Then there are lustrous imported soles, gleaming metal cloths, laces, glistening satins, colorful or black sheer velvets, and last but not least the ubiquitous felt.

perhaps, godets the hemline finished, very likely, with deep scallops.

Very practical and ultra modish is the princess dress made of wool crepe in either navy, bottle green, wine or brown. Usually a handsome lingerie collar and cuff set adds the finishing touch. Kid shoes in an exact color match achieve the "last word" in chic.

The Poor Indian

Down in the neighborhood of Pocatello, Idaho, the Fort Hall Indians are showing how primitive and pagan our aborigines can be even after the United States government has done its best to civilize and educate them. They are holding a three-day sun dance. With only short rest periods, and with nothing much to eat and drink, these benighted savages are posturing and gyrating for the glory of their tribe.

All this takes place in the sagebrush, and the Indians, we blush to say, wear hardly any clothes.

Now, let us moralize a bit. If these poor Indians were civilized whites in a large American city, what would they do? Probably they would be very up to date and enter a marathon dancing contest in a hall. They would dance continuously with only brief rest periods and with nothing much to eat or drink. Only, of course, being civilized, they would not stop at the end of three days. They would try to make it three weeks and thereby set a record and get a week's engagement in a cheap vaudeville house. While doing this, for a cut of the gate receipts, they would, we blush to say, wear hardly any clothes.

No wonder they keep Indians on reservations. They are really pagans at heart.—Spokane (Wash.) Spokesman-Review.

October 14, 1929
Mr. Frank E. Dease, County Clerk,
Tawas City, Mich.

Under the rules governing the bovine tuberculosis eradication work it is necessary to re-treat infected herds until such herds are demonstrated to be free from tuberculosis. There are some infected herds in Isosco county which should be re-treated, but so far as our records indicate, no provision has been made for such work.

The task can best be performed by a county live stock agent working on a per diem basis. Dr. F. E. Kunze is the only person eligible for this position and we are presenting his name for the consideration of the Board of Supervisors at the October session. Authority for this appointment can be found in Act 181 of Public Acts of 1919, as amended by Act 36 of the Public Acts of 1925.

Yours very truly,
B. J. Killham, State Veterinarian
Moved by Searle, supported by Loffman, that the chair appoint a committee of two to confer with Dr. F. E. Kunze in regard to this matter. Motion prevailed and chair appointed Supervisors Searle and Christenson.

Committees ordered to respective duties, balance of board to be at ease. Called to order at 11:30 a. m.

A representative of Michigan Tuberculosis Association, Lansing, Mich., asked the board for an appropriation of $300.00 for 1930 free chest clinic to be held in Isosco county. There was no action on this request taken by the board at this time.

Moved by Searle, supported by Schriber, that we take a recess until 1:30 p. m. Motion prevailed.

Tawas City, Mich., Oct. 14, 1929
Mr. Chairman and Honorable Board of Supervisors:

Your committee on Drains and Ditches beg to submit the following report:

We met on the 7th day of October at the head of the Elm Creek Drain commencing at the county line of said drain, is dug 20 feet wide and from 4 to 5 feet deep to the point where the Gregory Drain enters into the Elm Creek Drain. Then said drain, from said point, averages 12 to 14 feet in width and increases in depth up to 8 feet at the head of said drain. We found the work has been performed in a workman-like manner. Also nine wooden bridges have been constructed north of county line and the leveling of the district was made way at the time when we were looking over said Drain.

Signed,
Henry Anschuetz,
John Searle,
C. E. Tanner, Committee.

Of warrants paid for construction ..... 6387.36
Of warrants paid for stock gravel ..... 22.78
Of warrants paid for maintenance, county road ..... 150.75
Equipment ..... 578.11

Total ..... $7139.00

Leaving a balance in our fund at the present of $14,158.08, with the following bills to pay: On equipment, $3900.00, and all roads under construction to pay their labor and materials as they fall due. Freight on gravel bill not presented.

We have now a fine new outfit of equipment. Our trucks, tractor, graders and cars are all new or in first class condition. We have this fall two snow plows, one bought this fall. We also have a new lot of snow fence so much needed on many of our county roads.

We would make mention of the townships that so willingly came and joined us in grading so we could gravel their roads and thus have their roads completed.

We will have an increase in the mileage of county roads to maintain. We are at the present time maintaining 22 roads and this year we were obliged to re-surface assessment District No. 2 and Indian Lake at a cost of 100 cars of gravel delivered to be in readiness for early spring repairing.

The yearly increase in traffic causes an increase in the expense of maintaining our county roads each year.

Finance allowing, we would recommend as our 1930 budget: Improving 1/2 mile on Rodman road in Wilber; 1 mile of Londo road in Plainfield township; 1/2 of a mile on South Branch in Plainfield; pay 1/2 of the cost of construction of South Branch bridge; build state road bridge on East Branch, of Au Gres between Melvor and National City; pay 1/4 of cost of state road bridge on Osceola township to pay 1/4 and state to pay 1/4 of the construction of this bridge (a large portion of the fabricated steel has been delivered for this bridge); to improve 3/4 mile of road in Grant township, also 3 1/2 miles of Mills Station road in Burleigh and Reno townships (this road is now under construction); to improve 1 1/2 miles on old state road in Reno township, also 1 mile on Taft road, and grade and gravel 1 mile of lake drive from the sugar factory crossing eastwardly through the park. This project is in East Tawas and Baldwin township and will be a cut-off between U. S. 23 and the proposed Shore Road M-29.

We would improve 1 1/2 miles on Townline between Alabaster and Tawas township and also another 1/2 mile on the Britt road.

Now to do this and meet all requirements mentioned above we will need an appropriation of 2 1/2 mills on a dollar of the assessed valuation of Isosco county for 1928.

This we respectfully ask of your honorable body.

Very respectfully submitted,
W. J. Grant, Chairman,
Harry VanPatten,
J. G. Dimmick,
Frank E. Dease, Clerk.

Tawas City, Mich., Oct. 10, 1929
Gentlemen:

Your committee on County Roads and Bridges beg leave to report as follows:

We have driven over the Isosco county roads and find the same in good condition. We have gone over the road from Hale to Long Lake, from Long Lake to county line, the unfinished road to South Branch, the road into Kokosing resort, also two bridges, and find all in first class condition. We went over 1 1/2 miles east of Hale, known as Escondido road and found the road in good condition. On the bridge across Smith Creek the cement work is crumbling away at high water mark. We recommend the attention of county engineer. Londo Lake road is graded and they are putting on the gravel. No. 3 in good condition from Hale to U. S. 23. Sand Lake road in good condition. We found bridge across Sand Lake out of need of repair, the cement cutting out at the bottom. Meadow road District No. 2 in good condition, also bridge Alabaster, Thompson Trail, Wilber, Hemlock, Indian Lake roads in good condition. Sherman road and bridges in good condition. New fill at line between Sherman and Grant in good shape. At this place it was necessary to clear out creek of brush and logs for several rods to make proper drainage. Britt road, 1 1/2 miles new this year, not quite finished—a splendid grade. Keystone road, built this year, 1 1/4 miles, in splendid condition—a credit to any county. No. 55 from Whittemore to county line in good shape. Wilson Creek road grading is done and they are now putting on the gravel. 1 1/4 miles. The road from McDonald corner running north to old Hemlock is a dirt road. District No. 1 from Whittemore to Melvor in good condition. The bridge across East Branch river in bad condition, the north wing on the east end of the bridge being separated from main abutment. Temporary repairs have been made. Schneider road, a continuation of the plant road running south to Schneider corner new this year. Rodman road, 1/2 mile, built this year, in good shape. The old state road from Bentley's corner to Joseph Harshel's in good condition.

We, as a committee, are highly in favor of the plan of the township putting up the road grade under the supervision of the county road engineer, and the county putting on the gravel. We believe a plan of this kind encourages townships to spend their highway money toward better roads.

E. W. Latham, Chairman
Roy L. Curtis, Committee.

Moved by Latham, supported by Curtis, that the report of Committee on Roads and Bridges be accepted. Motion prevailed.

Moved by Schroeder, supported by Anschuetz, that we make the election of poor commissioner a special order of business at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. Motion prevailed.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors:
Gentlemen:

As the accounting system of Isosco county is audited each year by the state auditors, your committee on Finance and Apportionment has examined the report of the county treasurer and your committee recommends that the report of county treasurer be received and adopted as submitted until such time as the state auditors see fit to make their annual audit.

Respectfully submitted,

Mining
and
The Telephone

A bell clangs, gates crash shut, and the "skip" sinks rapidly into the earth! Tightly packed with stalwart miners, the car drops down the shaft, the hat lamps fade and the bantering voices recede into the darkness. Down, down, down, a mile or more they go, to blast and pick for copper-bearing rock.

Linking these subterranean workers and their companions on the surface is a telephone system, keeping the miners in constant communication with "the top". On each underground "level", a telephone enables the "shift bosses" to receive directions from the superintendent above, or to report particular developments.

As a safety device, the telephone is indispensable.

The far-reaching telephone wireways are partners of mining, not only underground but in the surface plant, in the offices, and between all points in the nation. The copper, iron, salt, oil, and other mining industries of our state utilize the telephone to sell their products, to buy materials and to direct shipping.

Michigan is proud of her mining industry, proud of her position in the production of these minerals. The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is proud to be a partner of this industry and to do its part in aiding its development.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety".

The other day I dropped in at a store with him while he bought a new hat.

Pure Luck

Sometimes I have a suspicion that our great financial geniuses are not so smart, after all. It is a great comfort to think that millionaires are not wizards, but simply lucky. Such a relief permits me to think that I, too, may some day make a killing in Wall street.

One of the most satisfying anecdotes concerns a financial genius who telephoned his broker to buy 2,000 shares of something or other. The order was executed immediately. Ten minutes later the financial genius again telephoned his broker, and he was, to say the least, distracted.

"I've made a ghastly mistake," he quavered. "Something or Other is not the stock I intended to buy. I don't care where it is now. Sell it at the market."

This order, too, was executed on the spot. Twenty minutes after the brokerage firm had started buying Something or Other for its customers, all of that stock had again been sold.

The net profit was $12,000. This particular stock had long remained quiet, and when all the stock gamblers saw an order for 2,000 shares placed, they figured that something was about to happen. So many of them put in additional orders, and the stock went up.

Sure Fire

In the old days of vaudeville, a lagging act was spurred on by the cry: "Go into your dance!" It meant that a comedian's lines weren't getting over very well, and a dance was a sure-fire way of getting out of difficulty. Nowadays, when whole choruses do more difficult steps than the highly paid specialty dancers of former days, some other life-saver must be found.

As a matter of fact, two life-savers have been found. One is for the performer to interrupt whatever he is doing, fall on one knee and yowl "Sonny Boy-y-y!" It never fails to bring down the house.

The other method is to speak Yiddish. Somehow, New York vaudeville audiences rock with laughter at hearing that ancient and honorable tongue, and it is employed every week at the Palace.

The other day Lou Holtz flung out a phrase or two. Nearly everybody laughed. Then, so that the others might laugh too, he stepped to the edge of the orchestra pit and said:

"For the benefit of the four or five people from out of town, I will explain what I said. I said 'I'll take the same.' You paid your money to get in here, and you're entitled to know all that's going on."

Missouri "Houn' Dogs" Increasing in Value

Springfield, Mo.—The houn' dog is not a thing of the past.

The major portion of coon and fox hounds in the United States are furnished by this section of the country. Each year, prior to the opening of the hunting season, buyers from all over the country come into the Ozarks to purchase hundreds of dogs.

And the value of the "old houn' dawg" has increased until a first-class one is now worth $100.

Searchlight Turned on Child

Washington.—A nation-wide inquiry into the physical and social environment of the American child is moving forward. Permanent headquarters for a secretariat have been opened in the Interior department and 24 prominent educators, physicians, and sociologists have agreed to direct various phases of the investigation, which was sponsored by President Hoover.

Organization of the working force to place the American child under a microscope, determine his ills, and recommend means of curing them have been completed. The group of public men chosen to make the survey immediately will begin collecting data. Fully 18 months, they predict, will be spent.

With the study completed, a general conference of the committeemen will be called in Washington to consider conditions as they have found them and decide what may be done to improve them.

The investigation, announced by President Hoover at a White House conference some months ago, was made possible by a gift of $500,000 by some of the President's friends. He declined to name them.

A complete picture of the American child and his environment will be painted by the investigators, who will turn the spotlight of science into the home and school in their search for facts. Public health organization, medical service for children, the family and parent education, vocational guidance, parental and maternal care —these are some of the subjects which have been assigned to the study committee.

The handicapped child, including both the physically and mentally abnormal, will be the subject of a particularly diligent study. Four committees will work in this field. One will survey state and local organizations for the handicapped, another the physically and mentally handicapped child, yet another the child who is socially hampered by dependency, and finally, another will seek data on delinquent children.

A committee of 25 persons, including Secretaries of Interior Wilbur and of Labor Davis, was designated by Mr. Hoover to supervise the investigation.

Uncover Old Roman Wall

Berlin.—The foundation of a wall, consisting almost wholly of sculptured stones of the Imperial Roman period, is the astonishing spoil of the spades of German archeologists working in the neighborhood of the town of Alzey in the Rhine country. Seeking for traces of a medieval church, they came upon the remains of a much older building, about sixteen yards square, which dates back to the days when the legions still occupied the parts of Germany that bordered upon Gaul.

The construction of the foundation was of a most unusual type of masonry. The stones consisted largely of sculptured fragments of ancient pagan shrines and temples, including among others, nine altars, twenty-five pieces of pillars, four stones with inscriptions, six broken statues and reliefs, and six blocks with images of gods on all four sides. The structure suggests that it was the work of builders who not only disbelieved in the old gods but were actually hostile to them and wished to show their contempt for them; therefore possibly of early Christian date.

An examination of the sculptures and inscriptions shows that here, as elsewhere in southern Germany, the pre-Christian populace of mixed Germans, Romans and Gauls identified local gods with deities of the Roman pantheon. Apollo was linked with Grannus, a Celtic divinity, and the Roman Vulcan with the Celtic Cerunos.

Jupiter is shown with a nine-spoked wheel, and the wheel is not a Roman emblem, but a German, being a figure of the sun.

Dog Saves Cat's Life but Earns No Gratitude

Malone, N. Y.—Dogs are not commonly known to befriend cats, yet one instance of such anomaly was witnessed here.

The cat had been missing three days. Its mistress hunted vainly for her, notwithstanding felines are supposed to return of their own will. Finally a state trooper, apprised of the lost pet, observed a dog standing on a rock ledge barking vociferously at an island in Salmon river. Search of the island brought forth the cat, a bit haggard at having been marooned three days, but still able to "spit" at the dog which had unwittingly saved her life.

MAKING PEOPLE HAPPY

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Peder Victorious, in O. E. Itvaag's novel of that name, is puzzling his little head, as many of us older people have often done, over the purpose of living.

I am sure that in our more serious moments the question has often occurred to us of why we are here and what life is all about. There were many mysteries to Peder; emotions stirred within him, strange longings took possession of him, revolt from things as they are disturbed his soul. Making people happy—that was the best thing in the world that anyone could do, he finally concluded. He had found a reason for living and never again did the road seem so rough or so uncertain. He knew now what it was all about.

It is rather a selfish world in which we live, and far be it from me to claim that selfishness is always to be condemned. Self-seeking has resulted often in great accomplishment, great inventions, great progress and reforms. But selfishness seldom brings happiness either to the self-seeker or to his associates.

There is a great satisfaction in making other people happy. The happiest people I have ever known are those who have made sacrifices for other people; who have given up what they themselves most wanted in order that they might contribute to the comfort and happiness of others.

Peder Victorious was not so far wrong after all. One has not lived in vain, if he devotes himself to making people happy.

Faustin Wirkus, an American lieutenant, was crowned king of the island of Gonave, a little unmapped island off Haiti, so W. B. Seabrook tells us in his Magic Island. There were a number of reasons, perhaps, which led to this exaltation of an inexperienced and rather ordinary citizen, but the chief reason as I read the story was that, despite as he was in fact, and god as the natives sometimes thought him, it was largely because he did his best to make his simple subjects happy that made him really King of Gonave. He rebuilt the base of Jules Narcisse's engine almost with his own hands; he brought in blooded hogs as a substitute for the scrawny stunted razor-backs with which the island was infested; he brought in a new variety of melons; he sent an old peasant woman across the mountains quiet against her will to submit to an operation for cataract and brought her back seeing and thinking Wirkus god himself. No wonder they made him King, for he spent his time in making his subjects happy.

The story is told by Sir James Barrie that when the boy's mother was ill because of the death of another son, the doctor said to James, "Try to make your mother laugh; it will do her more good than medicine."

He did his best, and when the doctor came back the next day, the boy had a long string of black marks to show how many times he had been successful in making his mother laugh, and all these years since this man, most beloved among play writers and story tellers, has been doing his best to make people happy.

Wins Wife as First Prize!

If you don't think your whole life can be changed by chance, read this. It is the story of a young man who was pretty well down and out, but he figured he might win a prize if he took some advice.

"As far back as I can remember I had been a weakling," says Mr. Calvin L. Floyd of Orlando, Florida. "A headache, it seemed, was to be my life companion. I was always dizzy in the mornings. Nothing I ate seemed good for me. Then I attended a health lecture in a sanatorium and the physician talked on 'faulty elimination.' That was certainly my trouble. One of the patients asked him about Nujol. He recommended it highly. I decided to try one bottle to see if there was anything in what he said about natural lubrication for the human body.

"Long before I had finished the first bottle my 'companion-headache' was gone. No more tired out feeling. I get a real kick out of life now. By the way, I almost forgot to tell you I found a new life companion, too!"

Perfectly simple, wasn't it? Mr. Floyd just learned the normal natural way to get rid of bodily poisons (we all have them) and nature did the rest. Why shouldn't you be well?

Nujol is not a medicine. It contains no drugs. It is effective, so you will be "regular as clock-work." You can buy it at all good drug stores in sealed packages for less than the price of a couple of good cigars.

Begin today. Millions have found that Nujol makes all the difference in the world. Nujol will make you feel fine and you can prove it.

Many a life changed by a message like this one.

Children CRY for it

It may be the little stomach; it may be the bowels are sluggish. No matter what coats a child's tongue, its a safe and sensible precaution to give a few drops of Castoria. This gentle regulation of the little system soon sets things to rights. A pure vegetable preparation that can't harm a wee infant, but brings quick comfort—even when it is colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance.

And don't forsake Castoria as the child grows older. If you want to raise boys and girls with strong systems that will ward off constipation, stick to good old Castoria; and give nothing stronger when there's any irregularity except on the advice of a doctor. Castoria is sold in every drugstore, and the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Needless Pain!

People are often too patient with pain. Suffering when there is no need to suffer. Shopping with a head that throbs. Working though they ache all over.

And Bayer Aspirin would bring immediate relief!

The best time to take Bayer Aspirin is the moment you first feel the pain. Why postpone relief until the pain has reached its height? Why hesitate to take anything so harmless?

Read the proven directions for checking colds, easing a sore throat; relieving headaches and the pains of neuralgia, neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

You can always count on its quick comfort. But if pain is of frequent recurrence see a doctor as to its cause.

"I trust the lady is uninjured?" he asked, with a suspicious glance at Fellowes' companions.

"You overlook a period of captivity in the hands of her country's enemies," remarked Fellowes.

"You're right," Fellowes answered. "I want you to search her, Mrs. Rhodes.

"I'm not entirely positive as to the legality of these measures, Lion," he remarked confidentially.

"How matters it what we believe—or others? There'll be talk, and people will say Inglepin and his daughter are disloyal."

"I dunno about what other folks'll believe, but I can tell ye right now, Nimrod Sopher, Miss ain't happy over what she's done—or ain't done.

"Your confidence does you honor, sir," she acknowledged gratefully.

Passing out the parlor door he heard Cara Inglepin catch her breath, and understood she was shocked anew at the spectacle of his scarred back.

Fellowes awakened slowly, conscious of an unaccustomed sense of luxury.

"Come right in, Nimrod. It be ain't up yet, it's time he was rized. A man can't n'pre'n sleep the clock 'round in comfort."

"We have plenty of evidence. What we require is a method of exploiting it. I think Joshua Inglepin is the man for my purpose."

Thanksgiving
Thanksgiving is a good old time,
When we eat sauce and pumpkin pies,
And then we'll take a good long ride
Away out to Grandma's to see little Si.

Then we'll all go out and slide
Into the hay all in the loft,
And we'll go and see the horses too,
And all the cows that say "Moo, Moo."

And when it's time to go to bed
We'll sleep in one like the old homestead,
And in the morning when all is bright,
We'll all go home, all rosy and bright.

The sixth grade is making health posters for hygiene.

The fifth grade is studying Switzerland and Italy in geography.
