CARSON LOVE DIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two Killed, Two Injured When Train Hits Automobile

Carson Love, former Plainfield township resident, was instantly killed last Friday and his wife seriously injured when his car was hit by a Pere Marquette train while they were returning to their home at Midland from Saginaw. With them were Mr. and Mrs. James Callow, of Midland. Mrs. Callow was killed and her husband was injured.

The funeral of Mr. Love was held Sunday afternoon from the Hale Methodist church, Rev. H. C. Watkins pastor of the church, officiating. A very large crowd assembled to pay their last respects to this fine young man, who was so tragically taken.

Carson Fremont Love was born January 5, 1905, at Hale. He lived in the vicinity of Hale all of his life except for about four years, which he lived in Midland. He attended the Hale schools, graduating from the high school in 1924.

On December 19, 1925, he was married to Marion Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Graves, who survives him. He is also survived by a son, Byron, age 11; a daughter, Elaine, age 7; his father, Charles Love; three brothers, Merlin, of San Francisco; Claude, of Mt. Pleasant; and George, of Flint; and a sister, Mrs. Helen McAndrews, of Flint.

Mrs. Jay Graves left for Midland, following the funeral, to help care for her daughter.

Mrs. Tillie McCurdy

Mrs. Tillie McCurdy, a resident of the Keystone District of Isosco county for the past twenty-five years, passed away at her home on Wednesday, February 7, at the age of 81 years. Mrs. McCurdy was born in Lobo, Ontario, October 18, 1859. She came to Michigan when a young girl. She was married in August, 1882 to Daniel McCurdy, who preceded her in death December 11, 1929. She lived in Unionville, Michigan for 23 years, before coming to the vicinity of Whittemore in 1914.

She is survived by three children, Earl McCurdy and Mrs. Maud Weishuhn, of Whittemore; and Mrs. Jennie Spriss, of Saginaw. Also by a sister, Mrs. John Smith, and a brother, William Stonehouse, of Strathroy, Ontario; and two grandchildren, Emma Maud Spriss, and Glen Weishuhn.

The funeral was held from the home on Friday afternoon, February 9, with Rev. H. C. Watkins, pastor of the Whittemore Methodist church, officiating. Interment was made in the Whittemore cemetery.

P-T. A. Notes

A very interesting meeting was held in the high school assembly room February 8. After a short business meeting with the President Miss Worden presiding, Miss Boone, chairman of the program committee, took charge. She made several remarks as to the value and need for a recreational program in our city.

Mr. Wixom, leader of the Boys' Club at Alpena, was introduced. He told of the origin, history and some of the objectives of this club in a very interesting manner. Some of the ideas expressed were:

The best things in life are free. The idea of discipline is respect for the leader.

More stress was put upon attitude of teacher rather than the knowledge they possess. Not amount of work done, but how many are doing it. The satisfaction one gets from getting fun out of hard work. Not what a boy does with a piece of wood, but what the wood did to him.

He reported delinquency had dropped 75% since the club began.

The several organizations and churches of the city sent representatives to this meeting. All expressed themselves in favor of a recreational program.

The President appointed the following committee to make plans for carrying out such a program: Miss Doris Boone, Russell Rollin and Mrs. W. W. Wallace.

An evening of P-T. A. members will be held Monday, February 19, to make plans for a narcotic meeting, to be held some time in March.

Mrs. Giddings and daughter, Ruth, rendered a pleasing piano duet.

The hook of the month will be donated to Mrs. Allen's room as that room had the most parents present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ernest Mueller and Mrs. Nelson Ullman. Decorations were in keeping with the Valentine season.

Dairy Meet Will be Held at Grant Hall

Statistics show that calf losses experienced by dairymen range between 10 and 20 per cent of the annual calf crop. This is a severe loss according to Michigan State College authorities and efforts should be made by dairymen to reduce it.

W. L. Finley, county agent, announces that a discussion of the important principles in successful calf raising will be held at the Grant Township hall Monday afternoon, February 19, beginning at the usual time, 1:30. Dairymen of Isosco county have attended previous schools during recent weeks featuring many important dairy topics and this is the fourth meeting of the series which are being held during the winter months.

Sponsor Lincoln Day Dinner at Standish

A Lincoln Day Dinner sponsored by the Northeastern Michigan Republican organization will be held in the Standish High School gymnasium on Wednesday, February 21, at 6:30 o'clock.

The main speaker will be Harry Kelly, Secretary of State. Other state officers will be present. There will be special music for the occasion.

East Tawas and the Silver Valley winter sports park out in Huron National Forest are ready to entertain several thousand winter sports fans this week end at the third annual East Tawas Winter Sports Carnival. Highlighting the two-day carnival will be the gala coronation ceremonies Saturday evening at the Queen's Ball in the community building in which Jimmie Stevenson of WJR, Detroit, assisted by Charlie Gehringer and Barney McCosky of the Detroit Tigers, will crown Queen Betty Schriber, petite and attractive 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schriber, of East Tawas, to reign over the annual winter carnival. "Fine," said the other guests, "but where are your trousers?"

There are several factors of vital importance in maintaining the high quality of Michigan's telephone service. One is the experienced skill of the Western Electric Company, manufacturing department of the Bell System. Another is the constant research of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. AUTOMOBILE engineers talk a lot about car weight — and with good reason. They know that riding qualities begin with enough road weight to hold you steady on your course—they know that weight is often another measure of size — above all, they know that weight means substance, strength, durability.

So if a little extra money is keeping you out of a Buick, take another look at those dollars. They buy more car to begin with. More size and more substance. They buy some six dozen new 1940 features, including many an "extra."

And you'll get most of them back in longer life and higher trade-in value — not to mention your fun and solid satisfaction!

So it's interesting to note that this trim Buick SPECIAL gives you more weight per dollar than almost any other car you can buy.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—In war, both the Poles and the Russians seem to suffer from incurable romance. The Poles cling to their picturesque cavalry against all the hard-boiled military advice in Europe, and their horses made beautiful targets for machine-gun bullets. The Russians in the latest emergency sent in, not a strategist in modern war, but their most romantic cavalry general, Marshal Simion M. Budenny, and reports of disaster follow swiftly. News stories chalk up another "dismal failure," in the general's latest assault on the Mannerheim line.

In the late summer of 1919, when the cables brought the news that the Bolsheviks were whipped and in flight, and that the White Russian Denikin held all of southern Russia, Budenny galloped through the steppes, recruiting his army of wild horsemen. He was a Cossack, from the Don region, gaudily appareled, and with a huge bow-torch moustache that flared magnificently in the wind. His little bands of free-booters grew into a huge cavalry army. It swept back, not only Denikin, but his ally, Wrangel and stopped the Poles until the French came to their aid.

The general was enshrined in legend. He became the hero of folk tales and songs throughout the land—his wife, too, who rode and fought with him. Lenin later put him in command of all the Russian cavalry. He is a man of extraordinary energy. "Proletarians, to horse!" was his rallying cry, as he became one of the country's main inciters of patriotic enthusiasm. He had all Russia thinking or at any rate feeling that the answer to all its troubles was in getting everybody on horseback.

He was a peasant, without schooling. And there is no available record of his having had any training or experience in mechanized warfare. He was a private in the Russo-Japanese war and a petty officer in the early stages of the World war. His wife, said to have been the best rifle shot in Russia, killed herself accidentally while cleaning a gun, in 1925. He married a famous actress of the Mali theater in Moscow, and their joint histrionics have continued to thrill the Russians. He has maintained a horse-breeding farm and encouraged his countrymen to do the same, evidently on the theory that a good horse and a good proletarian slogan would make any Russian unconquerable.

MANY years ago, this writer shared an apartment with the late Willard Huntington Wright. If the Empire State building were an ivory tower, it would not have been tall enough for Mr. Wright in those days. He was an aesthete, fastidious in dress, multi-lingual, a postgraduate of many European salons, a distinguished art critic and a precisionist of ideas, to whom a primrose by the river's brim was a simple primulacea and nothing more. I began to feel the altitude, and one day dived out of a 90-story window. It was not until several years later that I learned Mr. Wright had done the same and, convalescing, had become S. S. Van Dine, authoring bell-ringing murder-mystery stories to the end of his days.

Prof Doubles as Philosopher and Author of Thrills
Mr. Wright in those days. He was an aesthete, fastidious in dress, multi-lingual, a postgraduate of many European salons, a distinguished art critic and a precisionist of ideas, to whom a primrose by the river's brim was a simple primulacea and nothing more. I began to feel the altitude, and one day dived out of a 90-story window. It was not until several years later that I learned Mr. Wright had done the same and, convalescing, had become S. S. Somewhat similar is Dr. Rudolf Kager's ambidextrous life as a philosopher and writer of detective stories. As he is hired by the New York World's fair—they may need to have a philosopher around by next spring—it is revealed that this Kurt Steel who has been keeping us awake nights with "Judas Incorporated," "Crooked Shadows," and the like, is none other than Dr. Kager, associate professor of philosophy at New York university. At the fair he will work as a philosopher rather than as a detective, pulling together a lot of educational loose ends and ravelings which, it seemed, got into a somewhat untidy state last summer.

His detective stories started as an anodyne for a feeling of loneliness in the groves of Academe—as in the case of Mr. Wright. In 1930, he had prepared his doctor's thesis on "The Growth of F. H. Bradley's Logic" and had climbed where few or none could follow. He was all fagged out, and any two-dollar word made him shut his eyes and duck. A friend suggested that he bang out a murder story—anything that came into his head. "Murder of a Dead Man" was his first extra-curricular workout. The publishers yelled for more.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

German 'Peace Drive' Eclipsed By War Threats in Near East; Politicians Hold U. S. Interest

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Spotlighted on the Washington Scene:

POLITICS:

In the background since congress reconvened, presidential politics stole the show again when the Democratic national committee selected Chicago as its convention site. Republicans, who scheduled their meeting later in the hope that Democrats would set a convention date, were outfoxed. This resulted in minor dissension among G. O. P. leaders, who debated whether to set a date immediately or keep stalling.

Since third-termers dominated the Democratic meeting, observers guessed there would be a strong fight to renominate President Roosevelt in the city where he was first chosen in 1932.

As Chicago became a political focal point, so did Illinois. There were signs that both President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner would be entered in the April 9 preference primary, while in New York the G. O. P. backers of young Tom Dewey challenged Ohio's Sen. Bob Taft and other Republican hopefuls to a contest in the same primary.

UN-AMERICANISM:

Ended was the episode in which Michigan's Rep. Frank Hook charged that Martin ("un-Americanism") Dies was working in cahoots with William Pelley, leader of the anti-Semitic "Silver Shirts." When Pelley surrendered and admitted that letters used as evidence were forged, Hook apologized on the house floor. If this had been a campaign to smear irrepressible

Martin Dies, it had only served to strengthen him and the cause of his "ism" committee. Next day FBI rounded up 12 persons charged with recruiting Americans for service with the Communist forces in Spain.

CONGRESS:

The house continued lopping millions from President Roosevelt's budget, and the senate continued restoring them. The senate voted down a $1,000,000 cut in Civil Aeronautics authority funds, bringing the independent offices bill back to $1,139,693,528. But it was still 55 millions under budget estimate, providing a good start on the 460 million congress hopes to save by way of avoiding new defense taxes. Meanwhile the house slashed away at the state-justice-commerce department appropriations bill.

LABOR:

John Lewis' C. I. O., which has been striking at the New Deal lately, turned a partial about-face by defending the national labor relations act against A. F. of L.-inspired changes. Before the house NLRB committee, C. I. O.'s Philip Murray read a statement in which Lewis charged "reactionary and anti-labor" corporations are dictating A. F. of L.'s proposed amendments. At Miami, A. F. of L.'s executive board was also getting hostile toward the New Deal, urging encouragement of private enterprise and charging the administration with trying to place labor "under its thumb." The entire labor-government picture was pretty complicated.

ACCUSER HOOK
He apologized.

RUSSIA
NEW TROUBLE SPOT
But will the allies attack first?

the Black Sea Turkey concentrated troops on the Russian frontier, Iran and Afghanistan doing likewise. One explanation was that Russia planned a drive into this British sphere-of-influence (see map). Another explanation was that the allies planned a deliberate attack on Russian oil wells in the Caucasus region, thereby drawing Soviet troops from the beleaguered Finnish front and cutting off Nazi petroleum sources. Observers asked themselves whether this was the reason French authorities had raided the Russian commercial office in Paris, deliberately inviting Soviet reprisals. Also, was it the reason Turkey, a British-French ally, unceremoniously seized the German-owned ship yard in the Bosphorus?

The Wars

In the West. France reported the quietest period since the war began almost six months ago, and Nazi raids on North sea shipping were slackened perceptibly.

In the North. Finnish troops repulsed one Soviet attack after another, most activity being confined to the area around Lake Ladoga. Finnish military observers estimated that reckless use of manpower had cost the Reds 20,000 dead and wounded in a single week.

Nevertheless, increasing rhythm of Soviet attacks was wearing the Finns down, a situation that disturbed the allies increasingly. Following a meeting of the British-French war council, it was announced concrete aid would be rushed at once. Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons as much, while France kept relaying Italian warplanes which Germany refused to let cross the Reich.

How Italy is cooperating with the Finns was revealed in Rome by Finnish Minister Eero Jaernefelt, who reported 5,000 Italian volunteers have been turned down because no visas were available. But hundreds have been granted, too.

WOMEN in the news . . .

At Paris, the duchess of Windsor was credited with inventing a new knitted "trench mitten" with zipper attachment to free a soldier's trigger finger.

In the frozen Klondike campaigned Mrs. Norman Black, one of Canada's two women parliament members, seeking votes in the forthcoming special election.

At Baltimore, Mrs. Robert A. Taft announced she would hit the campaign stump trail for her senator husband, who hopes to win the G. O. P. presidential nomination.

At New York, Merry Fahrney, patent medicine heiress, shed her fourth husband.

THE DUCHESS

NEUTRALITY: Aid to Finland

Early this month a Gallup poll showed the majority of U. S. citizens (58 per cent) favor a non-military loan to Finland. Same day as the survey was released, the senate began consideration of a bill to double the Export-Import bank's capital, permitting an additional $20,000,000 non-military loan to the Finns (they already have $10,000,000).

The same Gallup poll showed 61 per cent of the nation opposes a loan to Finland for purchasing war supplies. Day after the survey was published, Michigan's Prentiss Brown proposed in the senate that all of Finland's $5,891,000 war debt payment should be made available for munitions purchases. There was a good chance the Brown measure might pass.

The senate did adopt 65 to 3 a resolution asking the securities and exchange commission to expedite registration of any government bonds which Finland may try to sell private U. S. investors. Prompting factor was Secretary of State Cordell Hull's revelation that Russia had violated two pledges of its recognition agreement with the U. S.: (1) Permitting Communist interference with U. S. affairs; (2) failing to safeguard U. S. citizens' rights in Russia. Still a congressional effort to break relations with the Soviet failed.

Meanwhile the state department was rubbing noses with Britain's smooth-working Ambassador Lord Lothian, recipient of many a fiery protest in recent weeks. In exchange for better treatment of U. S. ships at British contraband ports, the two governments decided to keep future quarrels quiet. One reason: Recent strong U. S. notes to London have stirred up too much American opinion against Britain, to Adolf Hitler's benefit.

JAPAN: One Way Out

As Tokyo's war in China entered its thirty-first month, northern forces reported they had entered distant Ningxia province for the first time. In the south, armies were locked in bitter battle near Wingsun, Kwangsi province. Two more discouraging signs for Japan were (1) a naval spokesman's warning that Chinese planes may soon begin raiding Japan, and (2) the report that 300 Jap troops were killed when Chinese artillery sank a transport on the Yangtze river.

Mostly, however, Tokyo's troubles were with the western powers. Immediate source of trouble was a combined U. S.-French protest against Jap bombings of the Kuming-Hanoi railway in southwestern China. Both protests were rejected, and the Japanese parliament found itself seriously considering two drastic steps to avoid future protests. First, it was suggested Japan should junk the nine-power treaty guaranteeing Chinese territorial integrity. Second, Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita admitted Japan is asking U. S. citizens to leave China, probably as a threat to make the U. S. repew its expired trade treaty.

AGRICULTURE: Cotton for Stamps

Having successfully disposed of surplus foods through the stamp plan, Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace announced this system will be adopted to help solve his No. 1 farm problem, cotton. Exports having decreased since Britain stopped taking U. S. surpluses under the barter arrangement, cotton will be offered under the stamp plan experimentally within a few weeks. Plan: Relief clients purchasing $1 worth of cotton goods at retail stores will be given $1 worth of cotton stamps free.

Other farm news:
The weather bureau announced frost damage to truck crops in southern states from January's unexpected cold snap had been overestimated, although losses were heavy all the way from Florida to Texas.
U. S. farmers watched with interest and mixed emotions as the house ways and means committee approved a bill renewing the administration's authority to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements. Officially the American farm bureau approved; National Grange dissented.

Finn Tactics Adopted by U. S.; Troops Study Winter Warfare

Long before the Russian-Finnish war brought winter fighting into prominence, the United States army began training picked troops to ski, keep warm in sub-zero weather and adjust themselves to other problems of winter warfare. These pictures were taken during maneuvers near Fort Brady at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., in primitive countryside on the upper peninsula. Photo at right shows soldiers on skis being pulled by an army truck for fast transportation through the snow. Each soldier has his own skis and full winter pack. This winter, for the first time, troops have made extensive use of white "sheets" for camouflaging.

ABOVE: Soldiers climb from their trench from an attack. Notice that rifleman are being supported by machine-gun fire from fixed emplacements.

ABOVE: Target practice in a driving snowstorm, while troops advance in open formation. RIGHT: Tree limbs and ropes support pup tents, and pine boughs form mattresses on top of the snow.

Dutch Soldiers Test Value of Icy 'Blitzkrieg' Barrier

Because of the prolonged cold spell in The Netherlands, it was feared that the great area which was flooded as an obstacle to possible invasion, was sufficiently frozen to permit passage of mechanized units. Pictured here are the results of a test made by the Dutch army. The amphibian tank, attempting to negotiate a crossing over the flooded area, crashed through the ice and was forced to "swim" for safety.

Gall Bladder Is Most Frequent Illness Cause

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON
IF YOU were asked what is the most common illness, you might answer that heart disease was the most common as it stands first as a cause of death. As a matter of fact, distress in stomach and intestine is the most common complaint and, in the majority of cases, the symptoms are due to disturbances in the gall bladder.

TODAY'S HEALTH COLUMN

"It is a fact that the majority of patients in any general medical clinic present as their chief complaint stomach and intestinal symptoms. In recent years it has been recognized, more and more, that in a considerable proportion of these patients the underlying cause of their symptoms is to be found about the gall bladder. Extensive study of bodies after death has shown that inflammation of the gall bladder is present in 60 of every 100, and of these 60 about one in every five has gall stones."

Of those with gall stones the majority do not have attacks of gall stone colic and so do not know or suspect that they have gall stones.

Although inflammation of the gall bladder and gall stones are so common, there is at present no means known of preventing the formation of stones in the gall bladder. That infection starts trouble in the gall bladder which, in turn, causes the gall bladder to form stones, is generally believed.

Should Remove Infection.
It is for this reason that any infection present—teeth, tonsils, intestine—should be removed. A further help in these cases is the proper diet—cutting down particularly on all salted, spiced, and preserved meats, fried and greasy foods, spices and condiments, rich pastries, very hot or iced beverages.

Light bending exercises, keeping knees straight, stimulate the flow of bile in the liver itself and helps to empty the gall bladder. Frequent emptying of the gall bladder prevents sluggishness and the formation of stones.

While many cases do not require operation, the operation gives great relief from symptoms even in elderly patients. It is the length of time the patient has had the condition rather than his age that is most important in estimating the results likely to be obtained by operation.

Pneumonia—How to Fight It

WHEN a child or adult has been lost in the woods during cold or damp weather it is not starvation that is most feared by the family, but exposure. Why is exposure so often a forerunner of pneumonia?

The forces within us which protect us from pneumonia need heat in order to fight off pneumonia organisms, so cold and dampness make the body less able to prevent this infection.

If during cold or damp weather or during periods of hard mental and physical work you (or yours) are struck down suddenly with a chill, head cold and a slight cough, it would be well to think about pneumonia, not because you are likely developing an attack of pneumonia, but because chill, cough and slight rise in temperature should put you to bed anyway and thus you are doing the best possible thing to prevent an attack of pneumonia or to fight it successfully, should it prove to be pneumonia.

Sudden Chill Symptom.
The common symptoms of pneumonia are this sudden chill up and down the back or over entire body, rise in temperature, pain or tightness in the chest, cough which brings up first a clear mucus, then red and finally rusty mucus or sputum.

"Once infection starts in, despite the application of heat and rest in bed, the organisms greatly multiply, the lungs become congested, and fever and prostration follow. The doctor immediately sends a sample of the patient's sputum to a laboratory where the type of pneumonia becomes known, and, knowing the type, he administers the serum which counteracts that particular type of pneumonia. The patient's temperature drops and becomes normal within 36 hours, and with a proper supply of oxygen, nursing and a week's rest, the cure is effected."

The lesson regarding pneumonia is that getting to bed early to save the strength of the heart and having the physician called promptly so that the kind of pneumonia can be discovered early and thus right serum given, is the best protection against a fatal outcome.

Sulfapyridine, the new drug, has been shown to be most effective in preventing the development of pneumonia organisms.

SOUP GIVES THE FIRST IMPRESSION
See Recipes Below.

Satisfying Soups

Soup, like the front door, gives a first impression, good or bad, that is difficult to overcome, whatever follows.

It's the cook's fault if this first course at dinner isn't good, for a great many wholesome ingredients can be made into delicious soups if they are knowingly handled.

Beginning with good ingredients and finishing off with skillful seasoning, there's no reason why you can't produce a soup that is tempting, delicious and wholly satisfying.

Soup is more than just a means of using up left-overs and remnants of meat and vegetables, but left-overs may be the starting point for a cream soup that's a masterpiece; season it with discrimination, thicken it smoothly, serve it hot and nicely garnished, and you have evolved the perfect beginning for a dinner, or a satisfying mainstay dish for lunch.

Finely chopped parsley, paprika and croutons are familiar garnishes for soups; newer, and just as attractive are these: a few grains of popped corn; minced chives; toasted and lightly buttered puffed cereals; a spoonful of unsweetened whipped cream, salted and sprinkled with minced parsley, chives, or finely chopped salted peanuts; very fine strips of thin, well browned pancakes; thin slices of frankfurters.

Quick cooking tapioca is a new thickener for soups; it's quick and easy to use, and it adds unusual texture and taste as well.

Corn Soup. (Serves 4)

- 1½ cups canned corn
- 1 cup meat broth, or 1 cup water and 2 bouillon cubes
- 2½ cups rich milk
- 1½ tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon sugar
- ½ teaspoon onion, minced
- 1½ tablespoons butter

Cook corn in broth 10 minutes; force through sieve. Combine with milk, quick-cooking tapioca, salt, sugar, and onion in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 10 to 12 minutes, stirring frequently. Add butter. Garnish with popcorn if desired.

Vegetable Soup

- 1 lb. soup meat, cut in small pieces
- ¾ lb. veal bones
- 2 quarts cold water
- ¼ cup sliced onion
- 3 cloves garlic
- ¼ cup sliced carrots
- ½ cup potato cubes
- ½ cup shredded cabbage
- 1 stalk celery (cut in pieces)
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 sprig parsley
- 2 tablespoons celery leaves (chopped)

Place meat, water and vegetables in saucepan. Cover and simmer slowly for two or three hours. Remove from flame and put through sieve.

Cream of Tomato Soup.

- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 2 slices onion
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk

Heat tomatoes with onion, soda, sugar, salt and pepper. Rub through sieve; reheat. Place butter in top of double boiler and melt. Add flour and mix thoroughly. Add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Pour tomato mixture slowly into white sauce. Mix thoroughly and serve at once.

Fish Chowder.

- 4 pounds white fish
- 2 cups cold water
- 1 cup salt pork (diced)
- 1 onion (sliced)
- 4 cups potatoes (cut in ¼ inch cubes)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups canned tomatoes
- 3 tablespoons butter
- ½ cup coarse cracker crumbs

Clean fish. Remove head, tail and bones, cover with cold water and cook slowly for approximately 20 minutes. Drain and reserve stock. Place salt pork in skillet, add sliced onion and saute until onions are brown. Add to fish stock. Add potatoes and cook until almost tender. Skin and cut flesh of fish in 2-inch pieces, add to mixture and cook until tender. Then add seasonings, tomatoes and butter and heat thoroughly. Add cracker crumbs and serve immediately.

Onion Soup au Gratin.

Wash, peel, and slice thinly 5 medium-sized onions. Brown in ¼ cup of butter in a heavy frying pan. Cover and cook slowly until tender, but not brown—about 10 minutes—adding more butter if necessary.

Add 1 quart beef broth, brown soup stock, or bouillon, and heat through thoroughly.

Place slices of crisp dry toast in petite marmite—or small earthenware pots. Cover generously with grated Parmesan cheese, grated Swiss or grated American cheese. Pour hot soup over all, place under broiler flame just a moment to melt and brown cheese, and serve immediately.

Parsley Dumplings.

- 2 cups bread flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup lard
- 2 tablespoons parsley (chopped)
- ¾ cup milk (approximately)

Sift together dry ingredients, cut in fat and add chopped parsley. Add milk and mix gently with a fork. Drop by spoonfuls into boiling stew. Cover and continue to steam for 15 minutes without lifting the cover.

Peanut Butter Soup.

- 1 quart sweet milk
- 3 tablespoons peanut butter
- 4 thin slices onion
- Salt and pepper to taste

Add small quantity milk to the peanut butter and mix thoroughly. Heat remainder of milk, and stir in the peanut butter mixture. Add onion—and season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve with toasted croutons.

Women in Majority

In most countries the female population exceeds the male. For every 1,000 males there are 1,088 females in England, 1,071 in France, 1,058 in Germany, 1,103 in Russia, 1,097 in Portugal, and as many as 1,139 in Estonia. Only a few countries have a larger male population than female. They include the United States, with 976 women for every 1,000 men.

And in Cuba the women are comparatively scarce, with only 888 for every 1,000 men.

School Notes

HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Klum, K. C., talked to the guidance class Tuesday morning concerning the profession of nursing. Miss Krumm discussed the origin of this profession, the growth and changes, the necessary preparation, and the possibilities after one has prepared. A couple of the young ladies in the class are considering a nursing school after graduation.

On February 20 and 21 the Seniors and Juniors will give their orations and on February 22 and 23 the Sophomores will give their declamations. At these contests four winning orators and four winning declaimers will be chosen by two town judges. These winning declaimers and orators will give their speeches at the local contest which will be held here.

Annual Pancake Supper
 On Friday, February 9, the Senior class gave their Annual Pancake Supper. It was enjoyed by all who attended. The theme was carried out in Valentine Day style, with the table decorated with red and white paper, with large red hearts in the center. On each end of the tables were red candles and a vase of red carnations served as a centerpiece. Instead of serving mints, there was a dish of candy hearts, with engraved sayings which kept the people contented while they were waiting for pancakes. After the pancakes and sausage were consumed, there was a dessert of gingerbread and whipped cream, topped with red cinnamon hearts, served with coffee.

The class wishes to use this opportunity to thank Mr. Buch and Mrs. Campbell for cooperating and helping the Senior class get the materials for the supper. We also wish to thank the trustees of the Baptist church, the mothers, and Mrs. Giddings for their fine cooperation, and wish to add that their assistance helped make the supper a success.

SEVENTH and EIGHTH GRADES

Donald Long, Eva Smith and Dorothy Krumm visited our room last week.

Marion Bing was the only one who received an A in the seventh grade history test Friday.

We paused a few minutes in our regular school work Monday afternoon to commemorate the birth of Abraham Lincoln. Harry Rollin, Linda Lou Libka and Kathryn Westcott read poems. Mrs. Allen read us a selection taken from Carl Sandburg's great works "How He Belongs to the Ages." This episode dealt with the last tragic day in Lincoln's life.

This week for current events we discussed the proposed St. Lawrence Water Way, the plan and the arguments for and against such a water way. We found that Chicago didn't favor such a plan as she was more interested in a Mississippi river project, and New York feared much of her trade would be taken away. Just what we think was not quite decided.

We had a spell-down Monday afternoon, but because of lack of time we did not finish. Marion Bing and Linda Lou Libka were captains. Those still up on Marion's side were: Pearl Beubin and Ardith Lake. Those on Linda Lou's were: Willard Musolf, Evelyn Colby, Hugo Wegner and Agnes Toms. We will finish Friday, so watch the paper to see who the winner is.

FIFTH and SIXTH GRADES

Darwin Groff returned to school after being absent for a week due to illness.

The fifth grade class entertained the sixth grade class at a Valentines day Wednesday afternoon.

Rhea Ulman, Audrey Oden and Betty LaReau decorated the valentine box. We think they did a fine job.

THIRD and FOURTH GRADES

The fourth grade completed its Netherlands unit with a test. High scores went to Donald Britting, Donald Gingerich and Paul Rutter.

Nearly every one saw "Gulliver's travels." We will always remember Abby, but wish some of the pupils all stop imitating him soon.

PRIMARY

We can hardly wait until Valentine Day. Lyle Groff brought us a valentine box and the second grade decorated it.

Today we made valentines for our mothers and fathers.

Mr. Giddings brought us some workbooks for the first grade who are using their new books now.
