Formal dedication of our new $25,000.00 school gymnasium and auditorium is being held here tonight with appropriate ceremonies. Workmen have been giving final touches to the interior and the building is now ready for inspection by the citizens of the district.

Invocation by Rev. Frank Metcalf of the Tawas City Baptist church opens the dedication exercises. Addresses by C. L. McLean, president of the board of education; G. W. Francis of the Francis Engineering Co., who designed the building and had charge of construction; Carl Babcock, president of the Tawas City Chamber of Commerce; A. E. Giddings, superintendent of the Tawas City public schools, and Dorothy Blust, representing the school children.

The musical portion of the program consists of selections by the Tawas City school band, a solo by Mrs. Nyda Campbell Leslie, and several songs by the Tawas City School Glee Club. Dancing to music by Ken Howitson's orchestra will complete the evening's program.

For many years we have desired a community building. At every opportunity during those years we have talked about an auditorium, held public meetings to discuss it, and studied how we could finance and build it. A number of years ago, we voted a bond issue and raised a considerable amount of money by popular subscription, but our auditorium did not materialize. Two years ago the possibility of building an auditorium seemed very remote, but tonight we celebrate its completion, and it is a fine structure indeed. Finer than anything that we ever dreamed we would possess as a community building.

The new auditorium was built by the board of education at a cost of $25,000.00. The school district furnished $18,000 and WPA $7,000. It was constructed under the supervision of the Francis Engineering Co., with N. E. Warriner, resident engineer, and W. A. Schwable, WPA construction superintendent. Members of the board of education are C. L. McLean, president; A. A. Bigelow, secretary; Edward Burtzloff, treasurer; George Myles and John A. Mark, Jr., trustees.

In addition to furnishing facilities for basketball games, athletics, dramatics and other school functions, the new gymnasium will provide a community center for the city. The bleachers and main floor have a seating capacity of 750 persons.

Plans Nearly Ready For Street Widening

"Plans are nearly finished for rebuilding and widening the narrow section of the highway in Tawas City," states State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagner in a communication to Mayor John Coyle which was read to a meeting of the common council Monday evening.

"I have looked over the general plans of the proposed improvement," said Commissioner Van Wagner, "and I believe you will be impressed with the design that has been worked out for that portion of the highway. If you agree on details as they will be explained by our engineers, we will need a resolution from the council authorizing this department to proceed with the work as funds are now available."

He said "We hope the work can be finished this year. We would also like to extend the work to East Tawas at the same time."

At Monday evening's meeting the council authorized that bids be accepted for repainting the water storage tank. George Myles, superintendent of public works, was instructed to place fire fighting equipment on the new light truck recently purchased. The equipment available will be from the old Ford chemical truck.

Tawas City Boy Rescued by Pal

Quick calm thinking on the part of Harold Burtzloff and his two companions, Charles Luce and Ozzie Church, saved Harold's life when he broke through a patch of thin ice on Tawas Bay into about 20 feet of water at six o'clock last Friday afternoon.

The three boys had gone out about one-half mile from shore when Harold, who was ahead, skated onto thin ice and broke through. He struggled through the breaking thin ice, toward Charles who reached out with his hockey stick and pulled him to thicker ice, Charles then grasped Harold's neck and pulled him to safety. Rescuers who had been summoned by Ozzie met the two boys returning to shore. It was found that Harold had swallowed a considerable quantity of water but he suffered no ill effects from the experience.

Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burtzloff, and Charles' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Luce.

Laidlawville

Mr. and Mrs. Rand Larabee and children and Mrs. Edw. Goodwillie and son, Dick, returned Monday to their homes in Detroit, after spending the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Klinger. Mrs. Goodwillie is the sister of Mrs. Klinger.

Ivan Alexander, who is employed in Detroit, is spending this week with his family.

Mrs. Frank Blust has returned home after a week's visit with her parents at Durand.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Blust.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McLean and family, of Saginaw, were week end visitors at the Laidlaw home.

Carl Schmalz returned Tuesday from a three weeks' visit in Detroit.

The Laidlawville school pupils enjoyed a Valentine coasting party last week. A splendid lunch was served after the coasting.

Michael Blust returned Monday to Samaritan hospital for further treatment.

Little Virginia Klinger had the misfortune last week to run a sewing machine needle in her finger and breaking it off in the bone causing great pain. It is still a question if the finger can be saved. Her many friends are hoping for the best for her.

Silver Valley seems to be the main attraction of most of our young folks.

Incendiary Fire

In a fire, thought to be of incendiary origin, a new chickenhouse containing 90 hens and an electric light plant, belonging to Bert Harris, of Wilber, were destroyed early Sunday morning. Mr. Harris called Sheriff John Moran and in the investigation tracks of a man going away from the scene were followed until they were lost on bare ground.

Mr. Harris said that he knew of no enemies and could not imagine anyone who would perpetrate such an act against him. The loss amounted to several hundred dollars.

WHITTEMORE WOULD HAVE UNIT SCHOOL

Proposal Discussed by Dorr Stack Last Wednesday

Dorr Stack of the State Department of Public Instruction addressed all the school officers of Burleigh township Wednesday evening, February 7, at the Whittemore high school.

The general discussion theme of the evening centered about the discussion of the formation of a township unit school in Burleigh township. Mr. Stack gave a very fair discussion pointing out both the advantages and disadvantages of such a plan. He showed that it would raise some taxes in the township while in other cases the rates would be lower. He explained that it would mean the dissolving of individual schools and the forming of one large district under the direction of a single board of education.

Among the advantages discussed were the following:

1. A larger unit would mean a larger amount of state aid per child from the state.

2. A township unit would mean state supported transportation within the district.

3. A township unit would put Whittemore high school in a position to become a rural agricultural high school.

4. A township unit would spread the burden of supporting a high school over the whole area instead of over a small part of it.

Mr. Stack pointed out in concluding that the Burleigh program is one in ten out of 165 similar ones in the state that have been approved this year.

PROMINENT EAST TAWAS WOMAN DEAD

Mrs. Sarah Kelly Searle Succumbs to Long Illness

Mrs. Sarah Kelly Searle, prominent East Tawas business woman, died early last Friday afternoon at the home of her brother, Burley Wilson, of this city. Mrs. Searle had been in poor health for several months. Since her illness she had been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

Sarah Wilson was born February 27, 1870, at Walsingham Center, Ontario. The family came to Michigan in 1879 settling at Peck, Sanilac county, later going to Melvin. In 1892 she was united in marriage to Frank Julian, a pharmacist in the Gates Drug store at East Tawas. Following the death of Dr. Gates, Mr. Julian became the owner of the drug store which he operated in the Opera House block. After Mr. Julian's death she continued the business until about five months ago when she closed the store on account of ill health.

Familiarly known as "Aunt Sarah" to everyone, her store was popular, especially with the young people of the two cities, and for many years this drug store was one of the leading business places in East Tawas. Through her long business career in this community and her friendly nature the deceased had made many friends who were grieved at her death. She is survived by one brother, Burley Wilson.

Funeral services were held at one o'clock Monday afternoon from the Burley Wilson home and at two o'clock from the Methodist church. Rev. Frank Metcalf officiated. Interment was in the East Tawas cemetery. The pall bearers were: Hugo Keiser, A. W. Colby, Nathan Barkman, A. B. Christenson, Edward Pierson and John Schriber.

Nunn-Drenberg

Valgean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nunn, and Herman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Drenberg, were united in marriage Saturday evening, February 17, at eight o'clock, at home of the brides' parents.

The house was decorated with cedar boughs and pink roses which formed an arch under which the bride and groom spoke their vows. Rev. Wm. Byler officiated.

The bride was attractive in a gown of clover blossom pink crepe and wore a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Alba Drenberg, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore an aqua blue dress. Her corsage was also of gardenias. Morley Nunn, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

A reception for 50 relatives and friends was held following the ceremony. The tables were decorated in the brides colors of pink and white. The bridal table was centered by a bowl of white tulips, ferns, pink carnations and baby breath and tall pink candles. Placed in front of the bride and groom was the beautiful wedding cake, the top of which was decorated with a miniature bride and groom.

The newlyweds received many beautiful gifts which were opened just previous to the supper. Later a wedding dance was held at the Pearl Beach hotel on Sage Lake.

The bride is a graduate of the Whittemore high school. The groom is employed in Detroit.

The happy couple left Sunday afternoon for Highland Park, where they will be at home to their friends at 142 Glendale avenue. Many congratulations are extended to the young couple.

Out of town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Chester Chapin and son, Edwin, Miss Betty Gyrwicko, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sundwick, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chapin and son, Flouel, Miss Sarah May Heron, of Pigeon, Henry Luitze, of New Haven; George Slago, of Saginaw; Wm. HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

To keep piano keys from turning yellow, expose them to light daily.

Sew several thicknesses of old Turkish towel together for hot dish or pot holders.

Carving lamb roasts is much easier if they have been boned and tied before cooking.

Tarnished egg spoons can be quickly cleaned by washing with a rag dipped in salt.

French fried potatoes will be more crisp if allowed to stand in cold water for half an hour before frying.

Felt hats can be cleaned by rubbing with a not too fresh or too stale piece of bread.

To clean a clock, saturate a piece of absorbent cotton about as large as a hen's egg with kerosene oil and place it in the bottom. Close the door and let the cotton remain for three or four days. Then take it out and swing the pendulum. Unless something is broken, the clock will go all right, as the fumes from the oil cleans the works.

TALBOT MUNDY—WNU SERVICE

Lynn stared: "Do you think I could persuade Rundhia to try to prove Captain Norwood's innocence?"

"But Lynn dear, if Captain Norwood has been guilty of taking a bribe—"

Lynn interrupted: "I don't believe Captain Norwood is guilty."

"But what do you know about him?"

"Maharaneer dear, what do you know about me? How do you know I'm not a criminal?"

"Maharaneer dear, even if Captain Norwood could be guilty of an ungentlemanly, mean thing like taking a bribe, it was I who betrayed him and I want him to know it. If he isn't guilty—"

The door opened suddenly. Rundhia entered, followed by an attendant in the Maharajah's livery.

"Yes," said the Maharaneer, "that man can be trusted. Lynn dear, I will give him both your letters. He will find Captain Norwood, even if he has to hunt all over Kadur."

She gave the man emphatic orders in his own language, told him to go at once, watched him along the corridor and led Lynn through the brass gate to the women's quarters.

Rundhia waited, standing. When he heard the messenger's footfall returning along the corridor, he opened the door, admitted him, closed the door, held out his hand, received both letters, glanced at them and returned to the messenger the one that was addressed to Mrs. Harding.

"Deliver that one. After that, keep out of sight for an hour. Then return and say that you have delivered the other letter to Captain Norwood. Go."

Rundhia opened the letter that was addressed to Norwood. He smiled. There was no heading: "Your unkindness about what you saw this morning does not make me wish to hurt you in return. There is something I wish to tell you. It is important. I hate myself for something that I said unintentionally, under great strain. I can explain it. Won't you see me?"

"Lynn."

If we can blame his death on the priests, that could be made to hold water. The priests bribed him. By this time, they probably know that the news of the bribe is out. It would be natural for them to murder Norwood, to stop his mouth."

"Well, why not let them? Why not leave it to them?" the Bengali retorted.

"Because they won't do it, you fool! Did you ever know a priest to do a thing at the right time to suit someone else? It will have to be done for them. Now here's the idea: they keep a hospice where mendicants may live as long as they please, for no payment. There are three men in that hospice, who would kill their mothers and anyone else for an ounce of opium. For two ounces, they would murder ten children apiece. You know my man Gulbaz?"

"Too well. Some day that bad-mash will turn on you."

Rundhia smiled: "Long before that, dear doctor, he shall swallow one of your prescriptions! Summon Gulbaz. Give him money. I will mean to do it. If I could cut out my tongue! But I said it. I can't unsay it."

"Lynn darling, did you promise Captain Norwood not to speak about those diamonds?"

"No. He didn't ask me to promise. He took it for granted that I wouldn't mention what any idiot could guess he hadn't wanted me to see. Captain Norwood saw me kissing Rundhia. I know he did."

"Did he say so?"

"Of course he didn't. And of course he won't mention it, ever, to anyone else. The man is a gentleman. I don't want him to despise me, yet it wouldn't bother me if Rundhia did."

"Perhaps you don't yet understand Rundhia."

"Oh, yes I do. Rundhia is a beautiful savage."

"Darling, did you ask him not to tell?"

"I made it quite clear I was sorry I had told him."

"Well, you must remember that you told him something that concerns the State of Kadur. You uncovered to him the existence of a bribe that might have changed the destiny of Kadur by legalizing the priests' possession of the diamond mine. I haven't told you much about the diamond mine. It is supposed to be a secret. Do you call it a betrayal that I have mentioned it to you?"

"Don't worry. I won't tell!" Lynn answered. "I never want to hear diamonds mentioned again. How long will it take that messenger to reach Captain Norwood?"

"That depends on where Captain Norwood is. The messenger will have to look for him. He has gone on horseback. I ordered him not to spare the horse. It might take him half an hour—an hour."

"I can't wait for an answer! I wish I had gone in search of him, myself. I haven't any pride left. His career will be ruined, won't it?"

"But darling, he deserves to be ruined if he accepts bribes. And if he is innocent he can prove it."

"Do you believe that? I can easily doubt it," Lynn answered. "I have never once been able to prove my innocence, against Aunt's accusations. Not one single one! Not one time—ever. To this minute, she believes everything she has ever said against me." Then, suddenly: "What is Rundhia doing?"

"I don't know."

"Does he like to be despised?"

"Lynn dear, if you should despise him, I don't know what might happen. Rundhia loves you."

"Does he? You think so? Tell him I despise him! And I will, until he proves to me that he has done his absolute, utmost best to undo the cowardly wrong he has done to Captain Norwood."

"Lynn—"

"Maharaneer dear, won't you please tell him? I mean it. He might believe you."

The Maharaneer sighed. She left Lynn and walked out of the room to find Rundhia.

Lynn was seated in the armchair by the window, staring at an illustrated magazine, when the Maharaneer came back.

"Darling, Rundhia has promised."

"What did he promise to do? What can he do?"

"I mean that Captain Norwood can be cleared of the charge of bribery," the Maharaneer answered. "However, Rundhia made a condition."

"Maharaneer dear! Tell me. Don't prepare me for it. I can take it without our pretending it's something else."

"Very well," said the Maharaneer. "Let us be quite frank with each other. Rundhia loves you."

"So says Rundhia."

"And I love you."

"No, he didn't ask me to promise."

give you three hundred rupees, and you may keep the change. Tell Gulbaz he is to hire those three men to assassinate Norwood tonight. I don't care how they do it, and I hope they get caught. They have been living for months in the temple hospice. Everyone will believe they are in the pay of the priests. Do you understand?"

"I understand you. I won't do it. I have done what I have done, because you knew of former indiscretions, for which you could have betrayed me to the law. And I will do what I will do, because I need the money. There it ends. I wish you wouldn't keep me waiting. I am becoming nervous. I have drugged his medicine until he needs it five times daily. Now he is demanding one at bedtime. Why wait?"

"Are you sure of the poison?"

"Quite sure. It is the same that I gave you to test on the monkey that you packed in ice and sent to Delhi to be autopsied. It is a vegetable poison. It escapes analysis by all known methods. It is one of five poisons that baffle analysis, once it has become absorbed by the blood. They will find in your uncle's stomach, if they look, some traces of marijuana, which it can be proved that he himself bought, and which I added to his tonic at his own written request. I advise you to act quickly."

Rundhia nodded: "If you will attend to the killing of Norwood, I will let you do the other job tonight. But I want Norwood out of the way."

There was a chill at Lynn's heart. As she walked beside the Maharaneer into the room, that was called the boudoir but retained the sumptuous, old-fashioned splendors of a royal harem, she felt more self-critical than ever before in her life. Not even Aunt Harding's crudest accusations had made her feel as guilty, and as impotent to undo wrong.

"Lynn darling, why are you silent? I can almost always count on you for chatter when I feel despondent."

"Maharaneer, did you ever betray anyone?"

"Let us sit here by the window," said the Maharaneer. "Tell me how it feels. Perhaps I can help you to feel differently. You have helped me in so many ways. There is a law of compensation. Perhaps comes now my opportunity to do for you what you have done for me."

"I hate myself," Lynn answered. "You can't change that. I don't want it changed. If I didn't hate myself for what I've done, I shouldn't be fit to live. The dreadful part is, that I can't undo what I did. Oh, my God—" she put her head between her hands "—I didn't

"I can believe that," Lynn answered. "Why else should you be so kind? I haven't influence or money."

"You have personality," the Maharaneer answered. "You have imagination and spirit. You can redeem Rundhia. So that when the day comes that he shall be Maharajah of Kadur, he will be a great man. Rundhia will do anything for you—anything. Your influence will persuade him to do good things, of that I am sure. Even now, having known you only one day, for your sake he is willing to save Captain Norwood. But he makes conditions."

"Can't he tell them to me?"

"He has gone in search of that creature Gulbaz. Rundhia has taken it for granted that he will accept the conditions, since he has accepted, as a command your wish that he should help Captain Norwood."

Lynn almost lost her temper. She retorted: "I was treacherous. So was Rundhia. I don't believe Captain Norwood has been! I won't believe it until they prove it."

The Maharaneer returned to her subject: "Rundhia insists that you mustn't tell Captain Norwood whose influence it was that saved him. He demands—and I think that is fair, isn't it?—Rundhia can't afford to be compromised—he demands that if Captain Norwood should characteristically force his way into your presence, you will not answer Norwood's questions."

"But I have asked Captain Norwood to come and see me."

The Maharaneer's sympathy looked genuine. Lynn didn't doubt it:

"Lynn dear, Rundhia thinks that Captain Norwood probably believes you told about the diamonds because you knew that Captain Norwood was embarrassed by your having seen them, and you wished to punish him for remarks he had made in the garden, last night. Rundhia thinks that perhaps Captain Norwood won't answer your letter."

Lynn was silent for a long time, thinking. The Maharaneer watched her, reading, on Lynn's face, the course of the struggle between pride, humiliation, anger—and some other, western emotion that not even Lynn could have put into words. It was too simple. Too elementary. It escaped analysis. At last Lynn spoke:

"I promise. I won't tell Captain Norwood that Rundhia is helping him. But will Rundhia do it?"

"For you he will do anything," the Maharaneer answered.

CHAPTER XIV

Norwood sat in his tent and checked Stoddart's survey figures, found a couple of mistakes, corrected them, admonished Stoddart and gave the sergeant instructions for the following day. Nervously he walked the distance between the horse line and his tent.

After the third of his paces to and fro, he sat at the table in his tent and wrote a letter to Lynn Harding, tore it up, and made several more attempts. He tore up the last one, gathered all the scraps of paper into one heap, carried them to a cook-fire and burned the lot.

He returned to his tent, scraped out a pipe, wrote another letter to Lynn Harding and tore up that one. It was getting on toward dark. The Kadur River was a splurge of crimson. He heard the hoof-beats of O'Leary's horse at about the hour when he had first seen Lynn Harding in the Maharaneer's carriage. Norwood's servant came and lighted the lamp in the tent.

Bicycling Rapidly Becoming Popular French Pastime

So popular has bicycling become in France that the French railways make up entire trains of bicycle cars, the same as mail trains, to handle the more than 7,500,000 bicycles now running rampant over the hills and dales, towns and countryside of that nation, where one out of every six of the population owns a bicycle and stays on it most of the time from the cradle to the grave.

Increased production of low-priced cars, the vast network of motor buses, reduced rates on railways, have all failed to lure the French, men, women and children, from their favorite sport, bicycling. And, where they go, near or far, with them goes their bicycle, until, literally, they crowded the passengers right off the trains during week-ends and vacation seasons.

Bicycle vacationists go directly by train to the center of the distant region chosen for the tour and their bicycles will follow by special train within 24 hours. Or, by shipping one day ahead, will be awaiting the owner. After the holiday is over, the bicycle can be sent back the same way.

In Paris the visitor cannot help but be amazed at the thousands of bicyclists who weave their blissful way through traffic, single or tandem, in groups of 10 or 20, apparently with no thought of all the motor traffic around them. In the Seine department in the Paris area alone, there are more than 400,000 bicycle owners, but the north of France has even more, 430,000. The revenue from the bicycle owners in France is nearly 100,000,000 francs in taxes.

Lumber Supply Saved

The successful culmination of the long fight to acquire the Carl Inn tract of giant sugar pines for addition to Yosemite National park saves thousands of acres of the dwindling supply of this rare tree from the lumberman's ax.

The purchase assures perpetual preservation for all the nation of a stand of trees many of which are over 200 feet high and which are irreplaceable.

The Carl Inn tract borders the western boundary of the park and is one of the finest sugar pine stands in the world. The sugar pine is a giant among trees, growing to a height of 240 feet and measuring five to eight feet in diameter. It is found only in California and Oregon, and provides majestic trees and beautiful forests.

STEWARDS IN THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 25:14-27. GOLDEN TEXT—Well done, thou good and faithful servant.—Matthew 25:21.

Christ is coming again! This is the message of Matthew 24 and 25, which is the background for the lesson of today. Here we also learn of the end of the age. To many it seems that the time cannot be long before that great and fateful day breaks upon this chaos which we call civilization. These two chapters contain much important prophetic truth, but in studying our lesson we must limit ourselves to the one fact that when Christ does come again we shall be called to give an account of our stewardship.

Men are prone to think of their life as something accidental. They are here and they seem to have certain abilities and opportunities which they may make use of or not as they choose, and then when the time comes, they expect to leave this world, in which they have sought primarily for pleasure and ease, and go out into eternity without any special responsibility. That theory of life was undoubtedly prepared by the devil and is promoted by him for the purpose of destroying the souls of men.

I. Christ Makes Men Stewards of His Goods (vv. 14-18).

All men are stewards, for it is evident that our Lord has given to each one of us ability and opportunity to serve Him. The unbeliever who entirely rejects or ignores His responsibility before God will have to answer for His failure to follow and serve Christ. So will the professing Christian who denies his profession by his works have to answer for his hypocrisy. Every true Christian likewise must stand before the judgment seat of Christ and be judged for the work he has done in the flesh.

The Lord has committed to each man responsibility according to his ability. God is not unreasonable. He does not demand that which is beyond our capacity. He gives to each one the amount of His goods which that man is able to make use of, and then it becomes his responsibility to use those goods diligently and faithfully.

II. Christ Will Return for a Stewardship Accounting (v. 19).

Life is far from a meaningless existence without responsibility and ultimate accountability. Christ is coming again, we know not when, but we know that He is coming and that He may come today. What answer will you and I give Him when He asks us to account for the goods He has left in our care?

Well aware are we that there are those who scoff at the thought of Christ's return. The Bible told centuries in advance that we should expect such an attitude of unbelief, and it also told why men scoff at this truth, namely, because they are "walking after their own lusts" and are "willingly ignorant" of God's Word (see II Peter 3:3-9).

What a solemn indictment that is! Let us see that it does not apply to us. Let us rather be among those who are "looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ" (Titus 2:13). In preparation for that day let us obey His admonition, "Occupy till I come" (Luke 19:13), that we may not stand ashamed in His presence in that day.

III. Faithfulness Brings Reward, Unfaithfulness Results in Judgment (vv. 20-27).

The man who because of special ability had received five talents had a great opportunity to serve his lord, and he did so with courage and fidelity. So also did the man who because of lesser natural endowments received two talents. Both made the most of their opportunities and were equally faithful, and also received equal rewards. We shall not be judged on the basis of the greatness or the limitation of our opportunities, but rather by the use we make of them. That fact should encourage the one who is by circumstance or calling confined to a limited field, while it should solemnize and stir to greater faithfulness the one who has been given great opportunity. Observe that the reward for doing one's work well is not retirement and a pension, but more work (v. 21).

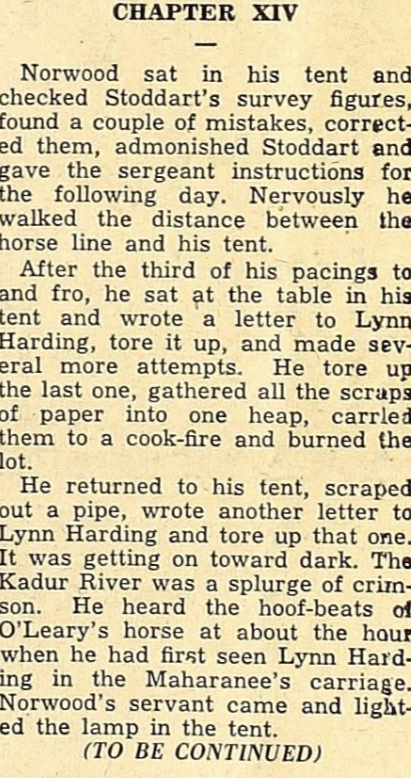

What about the man with the one talent? Apparently he yielded to the ever-present temptation to be hurt because he did not receive as much as the others (vv. 24-26). Instead of appreciating the kindness of his lord in not burdening him with more goods than he was able to care for, and doing what he could with what he had, he hid the talent in the ground and went about his own business. Such rebellion and carelessness naturally brought forth the reproof of the master and judgment (see vv. 29, 30).

As You Reap

"Whatever a man sows that shall he also reap. He that sows sparingly shall also reap sparingly."

Smart Sports Frock With Useful Pockets

POCKET frocks are very smart, especially sports and resort types like this (1889-B), which gives pointed importance to the pockets that Paris is newly sponsoring as both decorative and useful. This charming design is really everything you want in a new dress for sports and daytime. It's young and casual. It buttons down the front so that it's easy to put on. The wide, inset belt and the shoulder portions, cut in one with the sleeves, make it flattering to the figure.

It has a slight blouse at the waistline, which makes it feel comfortable and look engagingly nonchalant. You'll enjoy adding this to your midwinter wardrobe right now—in bright wool or flat crepe if you're staying on the job, in pastel silk or cotton if you're flitting South.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1889-B is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 14 (32) requires, with short sleeves, 3½ yards of 39-inch material; with long sleeves, 4 yards.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Clean Comics That Will Amuse Both Old and Young

By L. L. STEVENSON
Endurance: Frank Oliver, Reuters correspondent, in New York for a brief visit after several years in the Far East, told of a conflict with Japanese military authorities at Peiping because he published a story about a Jap sentry slapping the wife of the governor. The Japs demanded a retraction but, insisting that the story was true, Oliver stood pat. The day after the military inquiry, 40 Jap buglers appeared in the vicinity of his residence. One Jap bugler is terrible, he said, so it is easy to imagine what 40 of them could do. It was hard to take but he just sat back and let them bugle. They kept it up for three days. Then the newspaper man was again summoned before the generals. They informed him that the story having been found true, they were ready to apologize. And with that, bugle practice ended abruptly.

Gotham Gadabout: Dinah Shore in a Radio City drug store singing the alma mater song of Vanderbilt U with two former classmates . . . Benay Venuta at a Broadway milk bar drinking a chocolate mix . . . Crowds during the luncheon hour stopping to watch prouetting figures at the Rockefeller Center ice rink . . . Bea Wain, hatless, in a CBS lounge, signing up members for her "Hats-off-in-the-movies" campaign . . . Johnny Green, observing a vagrant picking up a butt, offering him a cigarette and being refused with the comment, "It ain't my brand" . . . Shopkeepers idly staring from windows and wondering when the public will recover from the holidays.

Going Up: James Stewart, of the movies, was the 4,000,000th visitor at the Empire State building tower recently. Stewart, who received the motion picture critics' award for the best performance given by a male screen star during 1939 for his work in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," was accompanied by Miss Olive Cawley, of New York. Being connected with pictures, Stewart naturally had a picture postcard made of himself and his companion. Incidentally since the tower was opened on May 31, 1931, it has had visitors from every country in the world. Despite the war, they are still coming. During a recent week, representatives of 35 countries, other than our own, were registered.

New York: Dick Todd, youthful singer from Montreal: "New York is a funny town. While they were tearing down the Sixth avenue elevated they were tearing up Sixth avenue to build a subway" . . . Milt Herth, organist from Kenosha, Wis.: "New Yorkers risk injury to duck into a section of a rapidly moving revolving door, saving, at the most, two seconds. Then they waste hours watching a building being constructed or two taxicab drivers engaged in an argument" . . . Kay Kyser, orchestra leader from Rocky Mount, N. C.: "A New Yorker will religiously remove his hat in a hotel elevator. But he will remain seated in the subway or a bus while an aged woman, loaded down with bundles, totters precariously in front of him."

Lesson: Abe Lyman recently saw in a Broadway movie house a film of the Dempsey-Willard fight in 1919 when Dempsey tore the giant Willard to ribbons. "He babied Willard compared with what he did to me one night," Lyman commented on his way out. "I confided to Jack my secret ambition to become a prize fighter. He took me to his private gym and said, 'Abe, this is going to hurt me more than it will you but I've got to knock that notion out of your head.'" Lyman and Dempsey are pals.

End Piece: Encountering a friend on Broadway, Frank Luther recalled that he hadn't seen him in some time and had heard things weren't going so well with him. "How's business?" he inquired. "Business is a little weak," was the reply, "but not from lack of rest."

BILL CORUM—famed sports writer and columnist

COMMON SENSE and years of smoking experience have told Bill Corum what scientists have confirmed in their research laboratories—that the slower a cigarette burns, the cooler and milder the smoking. Some cigarettes burn fast, some slower, some just in between. Laboratory tests show Camels are definitely slower-burning (details below). Turn to Camels and get the extras in smoking pleasure—extra mildness, extra coolness, extra flavor, and extra smoking. Or, as Bill Corum puts it: "More pleasure per puff and more puffs per pack!"

In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL

It is no accident that America's telephone service is the best and most widely used telephone service in the world. Instead, this is the result of a long-established policy of the Bell System . . . a policy that has always sought to provide the public with the best possible service at the lowest possible price. America endorses this policy by using the telephone about 70 million times a day. . . Guided by the same sense of responsibility to the public, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company strives to keep Michigan's telephone service good and cheap, and within the reach of all.

First in the Hearts of its Countrymen

YOU don't have to look farther than the nearest parking lot to see how the public has taken to this 1940 Buick.

Although it is not the largest seller, polls of public opinion mark it clearly as the car "first in the hearts of its countrymen."

On general appearance, for instance, Buick gets better than a 19% vote as best looking, to 11% for the Number Two car.

Its thrifty Dynaflex power plant, now balanced after assembly, gives it twice as many Best-of-the-Bunch votes as any other, as does its chassis construction.

With soft and easy coil springs all around it's only natural that some two and a half times as many people pick Buick as best for ride. And a two to one vote on room is understandable in view of the SUPER'S close-to-five-foot front seat. But the really satisfying thing to us is the way people size up Buick's value.

Half again as many people pick

The model illustrated is the Buick SUPER model 51 four-door touring sedan $1109 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional.*

Buick as best buy as pick any other. And three out of five who rate Buick No. 1 say it's the value that gives it the edge.

So it's not surprising when polls show more people wanting Buick than want any other car — and when Buick's midwinter sales hit new peaks.

And shouldn't that, in turn, logically suggest: better get yours now — and be sure of having it?

NEW YORK.—It is pleasant, indeed, to get something on Horatio Alger. Here's a boy who won his way to eminence by watching a clock, although he was 38 years old and had been just a clock-puncher instead of a watchmaker before this hair-pin turn in his career routed him to fame. We cite Dr. Frank Conrad, the "father of radio broadcasting," recently awarded the gold medal of the American institute for his "guiding genius in developing the world's first radio broadcasting system."

The master clock which ticked off his higher destiny hung in the plant of the Westinghouse company in Pittsburgh. It was a highly reputable old clock, but Mr. Conrad didn't altogether trust it. He and another employee made a bet as to which had the more accurate watch, through a week of time-keeping. Mr. Conrad refused to accept the decision of the office clock. In an unused garage near his home at Wilkinsburg, he rigged a crude receiving apparatus to catch time signals from the naval station at Arlington, Va. He caught them, but he also caught some added starters which he could not at first explain. Employing a primitive direction-finding device, he located them as apparently springing from a slag heap about a block away. He didn't find the source there, but he did find it a few steps farther on with one John Coleman, among the lonely impresarios of the first feeble birth cries of radio.

That was in 1912. Mr. Conrad incidentally won the bet on his $5 watch against its $40 rival, but he forgot all about mere time signals. He and Coleman teamed their researches and began filtering ghostly phonograph recordings through the intervening slag heap. The rest is an old story—the historic KDKA Harding broadcast, Dr. Coleman's 200 radio patents, his honorary doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh and his award of the Liebman, Edison, John Scott, and Lamme medals.

He is still curious and will take a sharp look at anything interesting or important, which alertness has led him into diligent research in botany, biology and astronomy. He has a lined, leathery face, steel-gray hair and, naturally, ever-watchful eyes.

IF THERE are any good ball players among the European refugees, they can get good jobs and nice pay in the Caribbean league, working for Gen. Rafael Leonidas Trujillo, boss of the Dominican republic. He has been angrily accused of raiding the American National Negro league, and the Pittsburgh Crawfords have been mourning that no dark-skinned shortstop is safe when the general starts building up his infield.

The little, brown, diligent head-man of Santo Domingo is unpredictable. Since he took power 10 years ago, the junta of exiles here has been stacking him up as another Hitler. But just now, he signs a contract admitting 500 families of exiles from Germany and Poland, donates them 24,000 acres of land and says provision will be made for 100,000 additional settlers in the future. The contract grants citizenship to the newcomers and pledges their freedom from "molestation, discrimination or persecution."

He was a farm boy who learned fighting and ball-playing with the marines, during an eight-year period, ending in 1924 with the end of occupation. He's a fast shortstop. In the Dominican army he romped up through grades from private to general.

In 1930, he tipped over old President Velasquez and took the country. In the framework of a democracy, he made himself a 100 per cent dictator and his enemies admit that he has made a tidy little nation out of a jungle. He put the opposition in jail.

He has the cleanest of the Latin-American countries and boasts that there is neither crime nor unemployment in Santo Domingo. He decreed that all automobiles should have lettered on their license plates, "Viva Trujillo!" He also had congress officially proclaim him, "benefactor of the fatherland."

He has a beautiful residential estate, patrolled night and day by the army, and three country estates, where meals are served on schedule, as he has implanted the tradition that he is apt to appear anywhere, any time—and he really is.

British-Soviet Tension Grows In Wake of Nazi-Red Treaty; British Expedite Aid to Finns

EUROPE:

Showdown Ahead

Almost six months to the day after Germany and Russia shocked the world with their non-aggression pact, Berlin paused to hail a new phase of Nazi-Communist relations. Ratified with ceremony was a new and glistening trade treaty, which was but one part of a complex but vividly clear picture of what is happening in Europe today. Inevitably, it is believed in most chancelleries, a wedding of Russia and Germany, of Communism and Nazism, will stack these military juggernauts against the rest of Europe. Among the signs:

Marxism. Writing in Der Angriff, Nazi Party chieftain Dr. Robert Ley showed how leftism has grown in Germany by using the Marxian

HITLER'S DR. LEY
"Workers of the world, unite!"

Communist cry: "Workers of the world, unite! . . . This war is a war of the mastery of money against labor . . . Therefore the working men and women must draw together . . ."

Allies in Finland. France and Britain were actively protesting against Scandinavia's reluctance to let allied volunteers pass through Sweden and Norway en route to the Finnish frontier, indicating a stiffening attitude toward Russian aggression. Even more pointed was parliament's decree permitting men over 27 to enter the Finnish campaign.

Near East. Arrival of 100,000 British colonial troops in the Near East coincided with an alarming growth of war talk. The Balkans, led by Turkey, were forming a strong mutual-defense frontier against Nazi-Russian penetration. Russian frontiers of Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan and India were strengthened, either for defense against the Reds or for a lightning allied stroke against Russian oil wells.

The Wars

In the West. Quiet, as usual, but continued sea warfare.

In the North. Finnish troops retreated on the Karelian isthmus, but Russia's gains were terribly costly. In mid-Finland, unreported for several weeks, a United Press correspondent found the Reds have suffered 50,000 casualties in the Pitkaeranta sector alone.

CONGRESS:

Six Weeks Gone

Either the President thought he had congress well in hand, or else he decided it was hopelessly rebellious. At any rate he left secretly on a 10-day fishing trip in Caribbean waters, his movements shrouded behind an army of secret service men. His last acts were to (1) okay the $252,000,000 emergency defense bill and (2) veto a bill to raise mail carriers' salaries.

Congress meanwhile began its sixth week with members of the American Youth Congress hissing from the house gallery at everything in sight. Still unsolved were such major problems as economy, foreign relations and the reciprocal trade act, indicating another long session. But plenty of legislation was in the mill:

Neutrality. Passed by the senate 49 to 27 was a bill to boost the Export-Import bank's working capital by $100,000,000, paving the way for non-military loans to Finland and China. Interest on foreign policy thus shifted to the house, where the G. O. P. expected to fight against loans to belligerents. Meanwhile the senate foreign relations committee kept postponing action on the proposed embargo against Japan. Congress watched with interest while Secretary of State Cordell Hull laid at Britain's door the responsibility for a German threat to torpedo U. S. ships in the war zone. Reason: Britain has detained U. S. vessels and taken them to contraband ports in the war zone.

Defense. Less than 24 hours after it had okayed a $966,772,878 navy supply bill (cut $111,700,000 under budget estimates), the house naval committee repented and approved a $655,000,000 fleet expansion program. The latter bill would only authorize new construction; actual funds must come from separate legislation. Primarily concerned about the big supply bill, the house expected to restore part of the cut.

Agriculture. The house agriculture committee okayed a $350,000,000 bill to expand scope of the farm tenancy act, insuring mortgages of tenants who want to buy their own farms.

Labor. Chairman J. Warren Madden of NLRB told the house labor board committee that Reconstruction Finance corporation has agreed to withhold loans from firms found by NLRB to be violators of the Wagner act. This created a rumpus.

WHITE HOUSE:

'Missy' in Trouble

Several days after President Roosevelt appointed State Undersecretary Sumner Welles to make a European peace junket, arch-Republican papers like the Chicago Tribune published a juicy story. Its gist:

The peace mission was conceived by Welles himself, who slipped in through the White House back door one day and outlined his idea in glowing terms before Marguerite "Missy" LeHand, the presidential secretary "who is rated to have more influence in the throne room than anyone else." Said the Tribune story: "'Missy' thought it a grand idea and laid it before the President. Mr. Roosevelt, who was in a most receptive mood for a new peace drive, beamed and called in Mr. Welles and commissioned him on the spot to set out upon the great adventure."

"MISSY"

Whatever the facts, the President's two ace diplomats showed up in Washington next day and were reportedly displeased. Up from Miami came Joe Kennedy, ambassador to Britain. Home from Paris came Bill Bullitt, ambassador to France. Why, they allegedly asked, did the President prefer Mr. Welles' unseasoned opinions on Europe to their own painstaking studies?

Apprised of the gossip, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and White House Secretary Steve Early took pains to deny any rift. Said Mr. Hull: "I do not think a more capable person could be sent upon the European mission."

While Sumner Welles sailed for Europe to visit chancelleries in London, Berlin, Paris, Rome, etc., another presidential coup was coming home to roost. The Vatican, which holds no diplomatic status with the U. S. because of Protestant objections, nevertheless announced that Myron Taylor (whom the President named his "personal" envoy to Pope Pius XII) would be given official status as ambassador from the U. S. While Baptists fumed, the Vatican calmly pointed out that any agent must have diplomatic credentials if he is to be recognized.

BUSINESS:

Insurance Quiz

Under the temporary national economy committee's spotlight in Washington went U. S. insurance companies. When the examination was finished, this thriving enterprise had acquired a lot of unpleasant publicity.

First witness was Leon Henderson, securities and exchange commissioner, who charged that life insurance companies hold a first mortgage on U. S. business. He went on to prove it:

SEC had studied 26 of the largest firms, finding (1) that they seem to be drifting from their original object of writing life insurance to handling investments, and (2) that their tremendous concentration of assets is probably robbing business enterprise of funds.

Facts were interesting. From 1929 to 1938, SEC found, 26 companies took in 42½ billions. Of this, 10½ billions was not disbursed but went into reserve, surplus and contingency funds. Still more interesting was the fact that SEC's 26 subjects increased their assets by 63 per cent from 1929 to 1935, yet life insurance in force went up only 10 per cent.

Next day John A. Stevenson, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, surprised TNEC and the nation by advocating a modernization of the 60-year-old mortality statistics, asserting that amounts collected for mortality have been too high in recent years. But, he added, it makes little difference in cost to the policyholder since excess income is returned in dividends.

COURTS:

3 Decisions

In Washington the U. S. Supreme court made news by three decisions:

¶ On Lincoln's birthday, it saved four Florida Negroes from death, ruling that murder confessions were obtained by "secret, inquisitorial" police methods after five days of continuous grilling which violated the Negroes' constitutional rights.

¶ It created a furor by ruling that federal courts have no right to change National Labor Relations Board decisions on questions of disputed facts in labor controversies.

¶ It enjoined Arkansas from imposing a tax on gasoline (in excess of 20 gallons) carried in fuel tanks of interstate busses when the gasoline is intended for use in other states. Three justices (Frankfurter, Black and Douglas) dissented, claiming the trade barrier question is a matter for congressional action.

AGRICULTURE:

Parity for '40

While the farm bloc was busy trying to wheedle $200,000,000 for 1941 parity payments out of an economy-bent congress, the agriculture department began using the $225,000,000 authorized (but not provided for) last year. Payments would be made this year, it was ruled by the last congress, if 1939 average farm prices were less than 75 per cent of parity—which is the 1909-14 average as related to farm purchasing power. Since prices were below parity, the agriculture department announced 1940 payments of 1.55 cents ($96,000,000) per pound on cotton; 10 cents ($57,100,000) a bushel on wheat; five cents ($48,600,000) a bushel on corn, and 1.7 cents ($300,000) a hundredweight on rice.

AVIATION:

Boom

When Europe went to war, and especially when cash-and-carry neutrality took effect, everyone knew the U. S. aviation industry was in for boom times. After six months of war the boom had surpassed expectations. In southern California alone there was a backlog of some $200,000,000 in orders for the U. S. and foreign powers. But within 30 days, a survey indicated, mass delivery will begin on thousands of ships.

Already filled since the boom began last summer have been orders for 1,450 combat planes; still uncompleted are 7,700 more. Major foreign sales have been to France and Britain, which ordered 5,000 ships. But only about 350 craft have been delivered of the 4,450 ordered by the U. S. army and navy.

Meanwhile, however, the U. S. is profiting on more recent designs, hence will get the best of the new ships. Typical is the army's new four-motor bomber. Carrying four tons of bombs and a nine-man crew at 300 m. p. h., the ship will give any enemy a run for its money.

MISCELLANY:

Import From Poland

¶ At Berlin, Field Marshal Hermann Goering announced 1,000,000 Poles will be imported to work German farms, bolstering the Nazi larder without taking men from the front lines.

¶ At Albany, N. Y., 8,000 taxpayers protested, apparently with success, a proposed $15,000,000 personal income tax boost, also demanding reduction in the pending $396,700,000 budget.

School for Baseball Umpires Shuns Bottle-Ducking Course

When baseball teams head south for spring practice the umpires enter training, too, preparing for a summer of virtual isolation and desolation. During the season they must travel alone, live alone (and like it), endure stinging insults from audience and player alike—and still keep their tempers. They must even learn to duck pop bottles, for the big league fans and players seem to have a standing credo that most errors must be blamed on the umpire.

Picture Parade

When calling a player out, McGowan says you hold the head and thumb just so, possibly affecting a disdainful demeanor. To call a man safe: "You bend the knees and hold the hands like this." Walter Fry, a student, learns how to welcome a successful base-runner who's just scampered home from third. If it's a close decision, he'll hear buzz in just a moment.

Umpires are trained by Bill McGowan, American league arbiter shown here giving lessons.

Beauty Treatment For an Old Chair

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
HERE is proof of what a beauty treatment and a new costume will do for an out-of-date chair. Its new dress is very chic. The material is a soft old-red cotton crash with seam cordings and binding for the scalloped skirt in dove gray.

An inch was cut from the back legs to tilt the chair for greater comfort. The carving at the top and the upholstery on the back and arms were left in place, but the lines of the chair were completely changed by padding with cotton batting. Unbleached muslin was then stretched over the padding to make all perfectly smooth. Soft rags or excelsior may be used for filling under the cotton if desired.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears has prepared four booklets for our readers containing a total of 128 thrifty homemaking ideas; with step-by-step illustrated directions. Another banner, not pictured here, bore the slogan: "Pass a 'peoples' budget, tax the upper brackets."

Obedient the first rule for longer life on the western front, these two German soldiers are keeping their heads down low as they operate a trench mortar designed for hurling grenades. The grenades may be sent on their way while the soldier is lying in comparative safety. The mortar guns are well adapted to trench warfare and are used by both allied and Nazi forces.

Tonsillectomy Is Matter for Careful Study

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON

I HAVE spoken before of living near a clinic where every Saturday morning a number of youngsters would have their tonsils removed, apparently just as a safeguard against developing rheumatism and heart disease. In some cases there was a history of sore throat from time to time and also frequent colds. Later it was found that the tonsils have some power to resist the diseases of childhood and that they should not be removed until after the age of 15.

TODAY'S HEALTH COLUMN

Today the removal or non-removal of the tonsils is a question that confronts the child, his parents, and the family physician. If the tonsils have the filtering ability that they are known to have it would appear to be unwise to disturb them unless special circumstances demand it.

Dr. George B. Wood, Philadelphia, in Medical Clinics of North America, says: "I am strongly of the opinion that operating on normal tonsils just to prevent an attack of some ailment (tonsillitis, rheumatism, heart disease) should be condemned. The surgical risk of removing the tonsils, while not sufficient to prevent their removal when operation is really needed, should be considered."

It was formerly believed that the removal of the tonsils would prevent colds, bronchitis and pneumonia, but "recent statistics show that, following a lapse of years, acute colds, sore throats and bronchitis are more frequent in individuals who have had their tonsils removed than in those who have not."

Under what circumstances should the tonsils be removed? When there are frequent attacks of sore throat and particularly in those cases where the little glands in the neck swell and remain swollen, the tonsils should be removed. Dr. Wood states that tonsils should not be removed because of the white, pea-size plugs seen in the throat, but when there is pus in these openings they should be removed.

Today the family physician is better able to give an opinion on whether or not tonsils should be removed than he was a few years ago. He is in a position to decide also as to the best condition of the patient and the best time for operation should operation be necessary.

Barium Sulphate Cleans Out Stomach

A PATIENT consults his physician complaining of indigestion pain immediately after eating, and sometimes three hours after eating. Baking soda and other alkalis do not relieve the pain, sometimes the stomach bloats and sometimes the abdomen. In order to help find the cause of the trouble the physician has him undergo an X-ray examination after taking some barium sulphate. The X-ray specialist sends a report in about a week's time stating that the stomach and intestines are normal—no disease present, no delay in the passing of the barium sulphate through stomach and intestines.

What has happened? The barium sulphate—a clay-like substance—in passing through stomach and intestines has swept their lining clear of any irritating or obstructive material and thus relieved the patient of his symptoms.

How It Works.

Some idea of how barium sulphate can sweep out the stomach and bowel can be gathered from an incident reported by Dr. Henry G. Hadley, Washington, D. C., in Medical World.

"Charles B., aged three, was first seen on September 3, 1937, after having swallowed his mother's wrist watch. Fluoroscopic (X-ray) examination showed the watch in the stomach. He returned September 7 (four days later) with the position of the watch remaining the same. To locate the position more exactly, a heavy suspension of barium sulphate was given in buttermilk. The watch was noted to be in the lowest part of the stomach. After the watch was surrounded entirely by the mass of barium it apparently passed through the opening of the stomach to the small intestine more easily, and the watch was passed out of the body in 18 hours after the barium was given."

The point is that an object which will not pass out of the stomach readily may be "picked up" by this heavy clay and readily moved downward and out of the body.

PLAN REFRESHMENTS TO SUIT THE SEASON

See Recipes Below.

When You Serve a Crowd

Whether it's your responsibility to provide unusual eats for the Senior skating party, or an inexpensive menu for the church supper, cooking in quantities does present problems!

Unless you have recipes designed to serve large numbers, it's safer to make quick breads, cakes and cookies, according to standard family size recipes, doubling them, perhaps, but no more. Proportions of ingredients change as recipes become larger, and it's no simple matter for an amateur to guess at them.

Plan refreshments to suit the season and your guests. When equipment is make-shift, the help limited, and the number to be served is large, select foods that are easily prepared and served, and foods that won't be hurt by standing.

For the simplest sort of refreshments after skating or skiing, hot spiced tea is ideal.

Clam chowder, with toasted crackers, makes a hearty, satisfying and substantial dish to serve after a sleigh ride in the frosty air. Spaghetti or macaroni make inexpensive, mainstay dishes for a church supper or midwinter meeting of the P. T. A. Served with a crisp salad, hard rolls and fresh fruit for dessert, Italian spaghetti makes an unusual and easy-to-serve meal.

You'll find the tested recipes below practical when you entertain a crowd, and if you're planning a smaller party, my booklet entitled "Easy Entertaining" will give you suggestions for menus and recipes, too.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nationwide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

We expect to have the motion picture, "Land of the Free," to show to the Junior and Senior high schools in about a week. This is an epic of America's progress and comes to us well recommended by other schools where it has been shown. This picture comes to us for the cost of transportation.

A committee from the junior and senior classes has chosen the play "Meet the Folks!" to be given the last week in March. About twenty-five students have declared an interest in taking part in the play. However, there are only eleven characters to be chosen and those best qualified will be selected by try-outs held Thursday night after school.

We are much pleased with a project which started at the school house Wednesday night under the instruction of Mrs. Archie Colby and Mrs. Wm. Leslie. The Barkman Furniture company has presented to the auditorium an old living room suite which will be reupholstered by a group of juniors and seniors. Several old lamps have been given also, and will be reconditioned by another group. This furniture will then be the permanent property of the Community building. This work is an expression of fine community spirit and worthy of much praise.

SEVENTH and EIGHTH GRADES

The eighth grade are learning Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

The Valentine jarty was enjoyed by all.

James Prescott has returned to school after being absent because of illness.

Wednesday the Current Event class discussed Mexico, "A New-Old Land." Thousands of Mexicans still live in tribes. Among some of these tribes, life is very much as it was in the late Stone Age.

We are having monthly test this week.

The civic class is studying the unit on counties. The first county in Michigan was Wayne. The last one is Dickenson county in the Upper Peninsula.

THIRD and FOURTH GRADES

Last week we had our Valentine party. Everyone had a nice time. Mrs. Oisten sent us a nice cake trimmed with red hearts. We also had pop-corn, candy and cookies for lunch.

On Monday we made silhouettes of George Washington. Some are in black and white, others in red, white and blue.

Our room is decorated with pictures of Dutch boys, windmills and tulips. We can almost imagine that we are in the Netherlands. All we lack is a canal.

Fourth graders are learning to do long division by one number. We hope everyone will know how by the end of the week.

PRIMARY

We have a new pupil in the beginners' class. He is Paul Treice from East Tawas.

This week we are reading about George Washington. We learned that our first flag was planned and made by George Washington and Betsy Ross.

Our boys are going to begin playing ball soon, so they think.

An Open Letter of Thanks

To the Taxpayers and Citizens, Tawas City, Michigan.

Friends and Citizens of Tawas City:

Some time ago you went to the polls and in an election concerning the approval or denial of a bond issue, expressed yourselves as being wholeheartedly in favor of the issue which was for the financing of your new municipal building and community center.

In this action you complimented yourselves in choosing a forward step in the development of your city. In the same action you complimented the work which my associates and myself had done in the planning and preparation of the engineering work which was necessary to make it possible for you to take this action. We wish to thank you on both counts. This is but another forward step in the community development of Tawas City, and concerning which our firm has had much to do. We trust that you are pleased with your new community building and that you will ever be thankful and proud of it, and that it will also mean as much to the city and the school district as we anticipate.

We cannot meet you personally and thank you for having placed your confidence in us for rendering professional engineering service to the community relative to this project, but in this open letter we take this opportunity to express to you our sincere thanks and best wishes.

Sincerely Yours,

The Francis Engineering Company
