The Hard Way of personnel resources is important in a critical hour, the record of this file is encouraging. Hitler has not repealed the axiom that the whole is equal to the sum of all its parts; and that being the case, this onlooker is convinced that we have what it takes, considering, particularly, the requirements for courage and highly specialized ability.

Today's citations of individual preparedness are Rear Admiral John H. Towers, ranking avia-tion officer of the navy, and Major General H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps. They are flexibly minded men who never have been grounded by precedent. They came all the way up from primitive and hazardous aviation, and from their altitude they have seen farther over the horizon than most of the rest of us. And they warned us.

Admiral Towers is the only survivor of the first three men assigned to naval aviation in 1911. Commander John Rodgers was killed in 1926, and Commander T. G. Ellyson in 1928. Towers himself has had many a close brush with death. It was in May, 1919, that he commanded the transatlantic flight of the wobbly, but determined NC4. He and his mates, sagging down into the sea, taxied 60 hours over 205 miles to the Azores. In 1913, he was bucked out of a lurching seaplane, caught a strap as he fell and dropped 1,700 feet with the hurtling plane into Chesapeake bay.

The navy's No. 1 flier was born in Rome, Ga., in 1886. Glenn Curtiss taught him to fly at Hammondsport, N. Y. Succeeding Rear Admiral Cook, he became a rear admiral and head of the bureau of naval aeronautics in June, 1939. He is a West Pointer of the class of

THE WAR:

Flanders Flight

When King Leopold III ordered his 300,000 Belgian troops to lay down their arms in their battle against the military might of Adolf Hitler, worried French and British leaders saw that the forces they had rushed into Belgium following the German invasion were doomed. For on the fields of Flanders their armies were exposed to a great encircling movement by the Nazis and were in great danger of being cut off from the main body of the troops in central France.

Without waiting Adolf Hitler began to close the jaws of his gigantic trap of death. Attacking with great ferocity the German machine moved toward the retreating allies. Without loss of impetus military objective after objective was gained in a tremendous show of force.

In the sky, dive bombers swooped toward the earth, cutting off supply details, disrupting communications, destroying immense stores of war goods but failing to seriously daunt

Their lines in formation, the British and French retreated steadily toward the English channel. For they were outnumbered and the country they had come to protect from invasion had been ordered by its king to cease fighting. Their best chance prise blitzkrieg for Johnny Bull. But England has taken strong defense measures of late to be ready for the worst and she has promised a warm reception for any invader.

France's interior seemed a bit stronger too, for as the Germans moved against the trapped Flanders army in the north the line of defense across the nation's central axis was decidedly bolstered.

U. S. DEFENSE:

Progress

President Roosevelt's fourteenth fireside chat began a series of events in the new national defense program that was marked by increasing attention to the details of getting Uncle Sam's house in order—"come what may." Influenced chiefly by the progress of the German army in its drive toward Paris and London, President Roosevelt

Americans of both major political parties are getting behind the President's announced objective of building defenses of the Western hemisphere "to whatever heights the future may demand."

Pleading for unity in the drive for military security, the President in his nation-wide radio address warned against Troan Horse treachery within the nation's borders. He pledged that the government would not expect private capital to provide all of the funds necessary.

This statement invoked discussion as to how the government intended to foot the necessarily large bill of any such program. A defense-tax movement has been gaining ground in congress. This is a complete about-face on the subject by the legislators. When the first proposals were made to increase armaments, most members of the senate and house passed over the matter of providing the money by remarking that the important thing to do was to provide the defenses and worry about paying for them later.

Now the sentiment is that a flat 10 per cent increase in individual and corporate income taxes might be the best way to meet the obligations to be incurred by the billion-dollar program under full

And as the rising war hysteria spread seemed likely that this suggestion would

William S. not meet the disap-Knudsen proval such a tax increase would ordinarily encounter. Reading reports of the fierce power of German military might, U.S. citizens may prefer to dig down in their jeans for preparedness than feel home defenses were insecure. Commission

A presidential commission of seven, appointed to muster the country's economic resources in connection with the preparedness drive, was announced in Washington. This commission represents a lay "general staff" which will work with government officials and agencies in lining up men, materials and plans for speeding up armament production.

The commission: Edward R. Stettinius Jr., U. S.

Steel company chairman, who will supervise production of raw materials: William S. Knudsen, General Motors production wizard, who will direct his attention to manufacturing problems; Sidney Hillman, Amalgamated Clothing Workers union president, responsible for labor matters; Chester C. Davis,

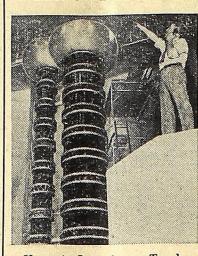

Chester Davis

Federal Reserve board member and former AAA director, who will guide agriculture's course; Ralph Budd, president of the C. B. & Q. railroad, transportation; Leon Henderson, chairman of the Securities commission, will check on stabilization of wholesale prices; and Miss Harriet Elliott, University of North Carolina, who will guard the consumers interests.

Scheduled to be an important cog in the machinery of defense, the automobile industry was given a tuning up by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau on his announcement that the annual policy of introducing new car models may be discontinued after this year. In charge of airplane procurement, he believes it may be necessary to keep assembly lines open for planes. Henry Ford says after six months he can turn out a thousand planes a day if necessary,

PEEK-OF-THE-WEEK

Here is Lauriston Taylor, physicist of the U.S. Bureau of Standards, directing the placing of the corona cap atop of the world's largest X-ray machine. Capable of generating rays to a power of 1,500,000 volts, it was assembled in the high voltage laboratory of the bureau in Washington, D. C. Its use will set a standard for other such machines in hospitals and cancer clinics throughout the country.

GOOD NEIGHBORS: To the South

Not such a "good neighbor" is what many Mexicans are thinking these days of Leon Trotsky, exiled Russian political leader, who has taken up a haven of refuge from his Soviet enemies in Mexico's interior. terior. The recent attempt to assassinate Trotsky has caused at least a few Mexican officials to believe that no good can come from his remaining in their country and they are anxious for him to move on. Trotsky's home is constantly guarded but despite this "protec-tion," Joseph Stalin's arch-rival is not especially loved or admired by some of his "neighbors."

A neighbor further south has been having a bit of trouble with a little uprising of its own. Reports from Panama indicate that the government nipped an alleged plot for a revolution which was scheduled to prevent that country's 1940 presidential election.

An indication that U.S. business was attempting to regain some of its foreign trade lost by the European conflict was evidenced by news that the Moore-McCormack lines were opening a new shipping service between North and South America on both the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards. In announcing the new shipping routes and ships to be used in the service the company's president, Albert V. Moore, said: "The surface of trade possibilities be-tween the U. S. and South America has only been scratched." This was good news to business men for the commerce department's current trade report shows a $27,000,000 decline in export trade for last month. Some real "scratching" will be necessary to build up this loss.

To the North

A career diplomat, Jay P. Moffat was nominated by President Roosevelt to replace James H. Cromwell as U. S. minister to Canada. Moffat, now chief of the western European division of the state department, is not expected to create the flurry that Cromwell did when, as a U. S. representative, he made his now-famous speech expressing a decided sympathy for the British-French cause in their struggle with

IF YOU'RE ENTERTAINING THE BRIDE (See Recipes Below)

No sooner is the June bride back from her honeymoon, than the business of cooking for two begins! Feeding her new husband will be an important part of the bride's responsibility, and any of the successful homemakers she knows can tell her that perfectly cooked meals for a hungry husband help to keep the matrimonial ship sailing merrily

So, why not a kitchen shower for a bride-using for gifts the inexpen-

they are small and inexpensive means that she isn't apt to get them, either, among her wedding

Small, matching pottery pots for chives and parsley to grow on a sunny kitchen window sill, make a thoughtful gift for a kitchen shower; a set of pastel tinted bowl covers is practical and very moderately priced; butter paddles, a french potato ball cutter and small earthenware pots for baking beans are out-of-the-ordinary kitchen gifts. Any bride will bless you for starting her kitchen library for her-with her own copies of my homemaking book-lets; Better Baking, Easy Entertain-ing, Feeding Father and Household Hints.

And speaking of a kitchen library -why not start a collection of favorite recipes for the bride? Have each guest at the shower bring her very choicest recipe, neatly writ-ten on a card for the bride's new recipe box, with the donor's name and the date of the party just for fun. Give her the recipes, too, that make up the menu for the day.

Food, for a kitchen shower, should be "homey," and informally served —and planned to give the bride suggestions for her own cooking and baking problems.

Menu for a Kitchen Shower. Noodle and Tuna Casserole Spring Vegetable Salad with French Dressing Butter

Orange Rolls Cheese Scones Angel Food Cake Strawberry Sherbet Coffee Fresh Strawberry Sherbet.

(Serves 6.) Combine 1 cup of crushed strawberries and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Scald 1 pint of milk, add 3/4 cup of sugar and stir until dissolved. Soak 1 tablespoon of unflavored gelatin in 1 tablespoon of cold water for 5 minutes and dissolve in hot milk. Add 2 beaten egg yolks, blend, and remove from flame and cool. Add fruit mixture to milk mixture and fold in 2 beaten egg whites. Assemble ice cream freezer. Pour sherbet mixture into the freezing container. Adjust dasher and cover tightly. Then fill the ice chamber with a mixture of 3 parts chipped ice and 1 part salt and turn crank slowly for about 5 minutes to freeze. Repack and allow to harden.

Orange Rolls. (Makes 18-20 rolls)

1/3 cup sugar 1 teaspoon orange peel (grated) 21/4 cups flour 3 teaspoons baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt 1 tablespoon sugar

4 tablespoons shortening 1 egg ½ cup milk

3 tablespoons butter (melted) Mix 1/3 cup sugar and orange peel thoroughly and allow to stand while making rolls. Sift and measure the flour, then sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut in the shortening. Beat the egg slightly and add the milk. Stir into the flour mixture. Turn onto a lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Shape into a long narrow roll and roll out into a rectangle to about 1/4-inch thickness. Spread the dough with the melted butter and the sugar and orange peel mixture. Roll up like jelly roll and cut off in 34-inch pieces. Place rolls, cut side down, on a well-greased pan and bake about 20 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees). Barbecued Steak.

(Serves 6.) 2 pounds round steak

3 tablespoons butter 3 tablespoons vinegar

34 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon prepared mustard 1 teaspoon onion, grated 1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce

1 teaspoon chili sauce ½ teaspoon lemon juice 1 tablespoon brown sugar

Cut steak into pieces for serving and sear in frying pan. Melt butter, add vinegar and all other ingredients. Heat thoroughly and pour over the seared steaks. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for approximately 11/2 hours. Baste frequently with barbecue sauce while baking.

Prize Angel Food Cake.

1½ cups sugar 1 cup cake flour

134 cups egg whites 34 teaspoon salt 2 teaspoons cream of tartar

1 teaspoon vanilla extract Sift sugar once. Add 1/2 cup of it to the flour and sift together 3 times. Beat egg whites with rotary beater until frothy, add salt and cream of tartar and continue beating until eggs hold their shape. Add sugar gradually, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add vanilla extract. Then fold in the flour, 1/4 at a time. When all flour is in, fold a few additional times. Then place in large ungreased angel-food pan. Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Invert and let cool in pan. French Dressing.

1/2 cup salad oil 1/4 cup lemon juice or vinegar 1 teaspoon salt Paprika to color

Few grains cayenne

Place ingredients in covered jar. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving shake vigorously. There are many ways to vary french dressing. The acid may be lemon juice, vinegar, or half and half. A few drops of onion juice may be added, or shake a cut garlic clove with the dressing (removing it before serving). Dry mustard may be added. Worcestershire sauce may also be added, as may creamed roquefort

Cheese Scones.

2 cups flour 2 teaspoons baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt ¼ teaspoon paprika

1/4 cup shortening ½ cup American cheese (grated) 3 cup milk

2 teaspoons prepared mustard Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and paprika. Cut in shortening. Add cheese. Then add milk and prepared mustard which have been mixed together. Roll out to 34-inch thickness on lightly floured board. Cut in triangles and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for about 20 minutes.

Percolated Coffee.

Allow 1 tablespoon ground coffee to each cup of water. Place coffee in strainer part of percolator. Add cold water. Adjust top. Heat until coffee just begins to percolate. Then turn heat very low and allow coffee to percolate slowly 8 to 10 minutes. Do not boil.

War Cuts Sisal Imports

One of America's essential farm commodities that may be vitally affected by the continuation of the European war is sisal, out of which binder twine is made. It cannot be grown in this country. It comes chiefly from British East Africa, the Dutch East Indies, and Mexico.

Twine must be ready when the harvest begins, consequently, manufacturers keep their warehouses stocked with sisal fiber so that they may produce twine between harvest seasons. Manufacturers say they have enough sisal to enable them to supply twine for the coming harvest but that if the European war continues, sisal imports will be reduced drastically.

Concern over sisal supplies is felt not only by twine manufacturers but by the federal government, which is now stocking up on cordage fiber under the direct authorization of the President, as part of a plan to store "strategic materials" for a possible national emergency.

In Treatment Of Hay Fever

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE hay fever season will be coming along soon and thousands of sufferers will be wondering just whether the season will be severe or mild.

If much ragweed pollen is being carried in COLUMN the air they know they are in for a miserable time.

Fortunately the use of injections of the ragweed pollen prevents attacks in a great many cases.

Just why some individuals are attacked and others are not, is not definitely known, but there seems to be two reasons for hay fever attacking this large group. One is an inherited tendency toward allergy or sensitiveness to sub-stances and the other is some change in the gland system of these individuals which interferes with the balance of one gland with another or with several others. For instance, the first thought in the treatment of asthma and hav fever is adrenalin or epinephrine-the extract of the adrenal glands, situated one on top of each kidney. This does not cure asthma or hay fever (which with eczema are closely related) but it eases and usually stops the asthmatic attack and, if applied to eyes or lining of nose, eases the distress in hay fever.

Gland System May Be at Fault.

Gland System May Be at Fault.

That the gland system may be at fault is again suggested by Dr. C. S. Bucher of Champaign, Ill., in Medical World, who, by the use of another gland extract—the pituitary gland lying on the floor of the skull—obtained excellent results in 50 consecutive cases in the treatment of hay fever. With his associates, Dr. Bucher gave hypodermic injections of the extract of the front part of the pituitary gland (15 drops, equal to 18½ grains of fresh gland) once a day for seven days to ten days, then three times a week for two weeks, twice a week for two two weeks, twice a week for two weeks, and once a week thereafter. About 24 injections were given. This treatment is begun (as with the rag-weed treatment) about two months before the usual time for the onset of hay fever.

Lumbago, Sciatica Not 'Natural' Ills

Y OU may suffer with an attack of lumbago and sciatica but bemay think that lumbago and sciatica are the "natural" ailments you must endure. So you apply heat in some form, take aspirin tablets regularly and seem to get along fairly

I have spoken before of my own attacks of sciatica and lumbago. The first attack was due to injury for which I wore a Goldthwait brace for four years. The second was due to infected tonsils, the removal of which brought relief of pain in 48 hours, and full use of a partly paralyzed leg within one month. The third and fourth attacks were due to infected teeth.

Due to Injury or Infection.

In other words, sciatica and lumbago are due in the great majority of cases to injury or infection.

The injury may not be a fall, a blow, a wrench of the joints in lower back and hips. In many cases, it is due to the faulty posture or carriage; in fact, Dr. W. M. Steel, in American Journal of Surgery, says:

Poor posture is the usual "pre-disposing" cause of lumbo-sciatica. The spinal "tilt" puts an added pull on ligaments and nerves, with pain in the distant branches of these nerves. "The poor posture may be due to flat feet or just poor muscular power.'

"Pain is transmitted down the leg to foot. In mild cases there is morning back stiffness and muscle fatigue, followed as the day goes on by pain over the hip joints, buttocks and down back of legs. The pain comes and goes and is made worse by sudden body twists, lifting, exposure to wet and cold, or infec-

Q.—What causes belching? A .- Most cases of belching are due to a sluggish liver and gall bladder. Other cases are due to gas forming foods-cabbage, onions, lettuce and cauliflower.

Q.-Will you kindly advise if citrus fruits and tomato juice are good sources of vitamin Bi?

A .- Citrus fruit and tomato juice contain vitamin B1, but are not as rich in it as liver, milk, eggs, whole wheat grains, yeast and peanuts.

Where Statues Wore Hats! Mystery of Easter Island

Science Finds Creators of Intricate Script Were 'Long-Eared' Artists.

ON EASTER DAY, 1722, the Dutch Admiral Roggeveen landed on a small Pacific island, wooden tablets and other objects which he named after the day. He must have thought that he was landing in a nightmare, for the shores were ringed with gigantic stone statues, wearing tall red hats, and standing on high plat-forms with their backs to the sea. And the whole island was literally covered with statues! They still Later visitors made further odd discoveries. It seemed that the inhabitants had suffered a devouring national passion for sculpture. Hardly a boulder or an outcrop of rock had not been turned into an enormous bust, a fantastic head

THE STORY THUS FAR

Left orphans by a tragic automobile accident which claimed the lives of their mother and father, three sisters, Helen, Adele and "Limpy," are visited by their Aunt Olympia, politically minded wife of Senator Alencon Delaporte Slopshire. She insists that the girls return with her to Washington, to make their home with them. In addition to loving the girls, Aunt Olympia knows they will be a terrific political asset. Senator Slopshire has as his political opponent one Brother Wilkie, a minister, whose political campaign is furthered by seven "unspeakable brats" who sit on the rostrum with him while he makes speeches. Senator Slopshire, a pleasantly foggy individual who depends on the astuteness of his wife, prepares for their coming. Though Limpy, the youngest, is 16, and Helen, the oldest, is 21, the Senator buys them all the toys and gifts he can find. When they first meet their "Uncle Lancy," as he is to be known, the girls take him to their united bosom. Soon Adele, most beautiful of the sisters, meets Len Hardesty, publicity man for Brother Wilkie. Though it is Len's job to help defeat the Senator, he promptly falls in love with Adele. Olympia buys an automobile house-trailer which will accommodate the five of them, and from which the Senator will campaign. Then she decides to hire a publicity agent for the Senator, securing the services of Dave Cooper, and as his assistant, young Cecil Dodd. At a Washington tea Helen meets Gabriel d'Allotti. Gabriel then searches out Olympia, and asks if he might call. Olympia acquiesces, thinking it might make Helen forget her suitor back in Iowa, Brick Landis. Brick, owner of a grocery store, is also running for Congress.

The girls gasped. Cecil made fast notes with the Senate pencil. Aunt Olympia descended then from the plane of an interview to practical counsel. "At first, Cece, you'd better let Dave read your stuff and make suggestions if he wants to. You see, he knows our constituency. You can use the same ideas for different constituencies-not always, though; and frequently they must be couched in different words. For instance, some words will delight a Scandinavian Adele's offer that he wiped his or Irish settlement which would grossly offend a Ladies' Aid. Dave has the state mapped out and knows every prejudice in it. You can work that out with him."

"I've memorized the map," said Cecil. "That is, the regular map. I know the counties, towns and rivers, but there's nothing to indicate the prejudices."

"Dave'll indicate 'em," said Olympia drily. "Now, in writing about the girls, Cece, remember to use only what we call innocent adjectives-'young, simple, girlish, ingenuous'-not 'innocuous'; be careful about that. 'Quiet dignity' is good, and 'innocent youth' and 'childish candor' are effective. If you absolutely have to mention beauty, qualify it; call it 'youthful beauty,' or 'girlish beauty.' But avoid beauty if possible. To the average mind, beauty goes with bathing contests and rich husbands. In mentioning their clothes always call them 'simple,' 'girlish' and 'inexpensive.' "

"Considering the effect they are going to have at the polls, they are cheap as dirt," said Aunt Olympia. 'Never under any circumstances refer to elegance or luxury; these belong to royalists. Never say lavish or costly or luxurious. Say 'homey comfort,' or 'companionable hominess.'"

"By the way," he inquired suddenly, "have you cautioned the girls about mentioning our plans to-well, Len Hardesty? You know what he can do with the most casual remark."

She winked cheerfully at the spellbound girls. "We haven't mentioned the campaign to them. Be sure to get this in, Cece. Being entirely domestic and housewifely, as I am; I accompany the Senator to take care of him, to see that he eats properly cooked food at regular hours and gets sufficient rest. We go only to look after his health, his food and his comfort. I take care of his clothes . . . Make a note of that, will you, Limpy? Remind me to buy a needle and some darning cotton . . . But we play no politics. The voters of our state are not constituents to me, they are dear old friends and neighbors . . . You'd better get that word for word, Cece. you can't improve on it

Friends and neighbors! And when they know these precious children as we know them, they will be their friends and neighbors, too." "Am I sprouting a halo, Adele?"

put in Limpy neatly. "I seem to be going angelic by the minute." "Cece, remind me to add a motorcycle escort to the cavalcade," said

Aunt Olympia, reverting again to the practical. "We'll need him to carry the socks back and forth to Hilda to rip out what I put in."

"Do you make speeches, Auntie?" asked Adele. "I'd love to hear you make a speech.'

"'No indeed,' declared Mrs. Slopshire laughingly. 'I do not make speeches.' . . . Except perhaps, privately to the Senator. No indeed! No speeches. All I do is put a little ginger in Del's . . . Don't put that in, Cece."

Although Adele had heard Cecil's hint about Len Hardesty without change of expression, without flicker of long eyelash, she did not forget it. That night when they were all together at dinner he said cheerfully and yet with gravity: "Darlings, would it be betterbetter politics, I mean-for us to see no more of one Len Hardesty until after the election? I can get along without him, you know. And if it would be less dangerous it is quite all right with me.'

Aunt Olympia, spokesman for the Senator as well as herself, offered a prompt disclaimer. 'Not at all, Adele. It's nice of you to make the offer, but it is not necessary. Of course, we may accidentally let something drop that | land and Virginia? You don't suphe can pick up-and if he can, he pose Boston is standing wide open, will. But Len's quite a dropper him- do you? The most doubting of Thomases must realize that New York harbor has a gun or two tucked away somewhere. And come on down the coast! Here's Washington! I doubt if even Gerald Nye would vote to destroy the defenses of Washington.

"But we're not what some people call plain suckers, at that," said Uncle Lancy. "We've got strategic points fairly well taken care of, and fourth-line-defenses spread clear enough, Helen. I admit that. We're working at it though. The trouble fense. is, it's not such hard work building "An up defenses as talking down the fanatics."

"Well, I'm relieved," said Helen. 'I wasn't sure I could sleep tonight. Of course, I'm for peace myself Not quite at any price, perhaps, but at any reasonable price." Helen was having almost as busy a time as Aunt Olympia herself, for she continued her pursuit of political enlightenment so avidly that Limpy's logarithms were overlooked for days at a time. Dull teas, deadly receptions, boresome luncheons, congressional clubs, she attended them assiduously; she had to, in or-der to help Brick when the time came.

"And how about this garden party at the British Embassy?" Aunt Olympia demanded one day. "We've got to answer it. Do you want to jealously. "Yes, we're all invited : . . All right. I'll accept for you girls and us, if you really want to go, and decline for Limpy.' "Aw, Uncle Lancy!" wailed Lim-

"I've never seen a lord!" "You haven't!" he ejaculated. "A Mexican invasion would start "Well, well, think of that now. They're no great shakes, in my opinion, but if you want to see one, go and take a good look."

"Del!" protested Aunt Olympia. 'Why, she's a mere child!"

"Well, she's a nice child," he insisted. "If a cat can look at a king, I reckon a child-a nice child-can have a squint at a lord in the making. There's nothing worldly about garden parties. In my opinion, it's children they're given for."

"Garden parties," said Aunt Olympia severely, "are worth the wages of a gardener for the cigarette ashes they keep off the rugs defenses from the border north-

> "It was very nice," Helen wrote to Brick Landis. "They served champagne punch under a marquee at one end of the garden and the refreshments a long way off at the other end under another. Aunt Olympia said that was to make it harder and take longer for guests to go dashing back and forth, consuming liquor and refreshments. They served exquisite big straw- I'll bet you did. What did they berries and an American substitute | say?" for Devonshire cream. You know how Limpy loves strawberries. Uncle Lancy braved that formidable line of butlers three times to get extra portions for her. He said she was entitled to still more under her quota because she doesn't drink champagne. Limpy said she didn't think the Ambassador was half as lordly-looking as Uncle Lancy and he wiped his glasses for ten minutes and the top of his head turned so pink that somebody asked if he was sunburned. He stopped the car on the way home and bought her six big boxes of strawberries and I dare say she'll break out in a rash. "The invitation said from five to seven and exactly at seven o'clock the orchestra came out from behind the bushes and played God Save the King and everybody stood up, and the chairs just seemed to melt away out of sight and everybody went

"Limpy told Aunt Olympia she ought to try that way of getting rid of people at her parties when she invites them from five till seven, for a dozen or more stick around till nine or ten and Len Hardesty doesn't go till he is put out. on her hands for breakfast. "Adele complained that they did not serve nearly so much as at most of the Embassy things, the South African Union, for instance, where it was a banquet as it always is at the Siamese Legation. Aunt Olympia says it's the law of compensation; the smaller the nation, the bigger the feed.

"I finally put Gabriel d'Allotti to shame on the pacifist question by proving that we are not as vulnerable as we look and sound. Uncle we've got second and third-and Lancy pointed out all the hidden defenses to me and I made a lovely across the country. We haven't map of them. > "And, oh, Brick, weren't you surprised at Ed Eicher retiring from the race for Congress after he had won renomination in the primary? And what a break for us Iowa Republicans! Aunt Olympia was furious. She said in her opinion it was a congressman's Christian duty to hang onto a good seat instead of chucking it to the wolves. By wolves she means us, R., Iowa. She wanted Uncle Lancy to call him up and give him a piece of her mind!'

> On a morning in June, the girls were amused to find Aunt Olympia sitting at her desk, very red of face, frowning intently at a thick pad of paper and chewing the rubber of a pencil with a long, sharp point. As they watched, she bent forward, smiling broadly, and wrote a few lines, very fast. When she had finished with a big black period, she looked up at the girls with a

> "It can't be her expense account," said Limpy. "For even in a dumb thing like trig they figure things out in numbers.'

> "It's my speech," said Aunt Olympia, obviously well pleased with what she had written.

"Your speech!" "For the campaign," she explained: "You know, Helen," said Limpy reproachfully, "that trigonometry of yours has got me clear off the English language. That's what cosines and tangents do to a brilliant mind. I understood her-trigonometrically speaking-to say she doesn't make speeches.' "You understood me all right," said Aunt Olympia. "But there always comes a time, quite late in the campaign-I select the timewhen the Senator is delayed in an important conference-perhaps with Farley, or maybe just a long-distance call from the White Houseand just to fill in the gap till he comes I arise and make a few extemporaneous remarks. And I always like to be prepared. Len Hardesty taught me that trick and it's a good one. He helped write my last speech and it was the hit of the campaign. But now I can do all right alone."

"You know, Brick," Helen wrote, quite anxiously, "there's no getting around the fact that this is the crookedest racket you ever heard of. Not exactly crooked perhaps, but definitely bent. Maybe you'd better stick to groceries. I think I can get you an appropriation from Congress. Brick, you can't believe a word anybody says. Aunt Olympia looks so honest, so open-hearted and frank, and here she is, even before Congress has adjourned, writing and practicing her extemporaneous speech to fill in a strategic moment that she selects herself.

"Brick, when we do get around to getting married, if you stick to politics, I warn you that if you rise at the wedding to make a few extemporaneous remarks, I shall arise myself and publicly denounce you. I've learned that there is nothing extemporaneous in politics."

The next time Len flew down to Washington, Adele, who had what was virtually a unique quality for a beauty, straightforward frankness, looked him gravely in the face.

"I told the folks that if it is at all dangerous, or if it embarrasses them in any way, I would not see you again until after the election.' "Figuring me, I suppose, as some sort of electrical current that can be turned off or on at will."

"I meant it, Len." "Yes, dear adorable little devil,

EZEKIEL TEACHES PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

LESSON TEXT—Ezekiel 33:7-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.—Romans 14:12.

Personal responsibility is a subject well worthy of careful and repeated consideration. We talk so much about social, national or racial responsibility that we are prone to forget that the social order, nations and races, are made up of individuals. The Bible, while recognizing the relationship and responsibilities of nations and social groups to God, rightly stresses individual responsibility. It is man who is made in the likeness and image of God. He is the one who has fallen into sin, and he needs

the regenerating grace of God in the Lord Jesus Christ. It is man who stands responsible to God, both as an individual and as God's representative in carrying His message

I. Man's Responsibility for the Ezekiel had the official responsibility of a watchman sent by God to his own people in their captivity in Babylon. His was a special calling, and yet is it not true that, according to the teaching of the New Testament, every Christian is called to be a witness, a winner of souls,

1. The Watchman's Commission

(v. 7). His appointment is by God, and the waining words he is to speak are given to him by God.

Every true preacher and teacher of the gospel should be a God-called man, presenting the Word of God.

Otherwise, his ministry will have little meaning and no real power.

The same is true of every Christian; a personal touch with God must precede his efforts to win

2. The Watchman's Responsibility

(vv. 8, 9). Being a watchman is not a duty that one bears lightly, for it has grave responsibilities.

Lives are dependent on the vigilance and faithfulness of the watchman.

Even those who watch over worldly goods or who guard the safety and comfort of others are held by us to a high measure of responsibility and are liable for misfeasance or carelessness in office. What about those of us to whom the destiny of eternal souls has been committed? Read the solemn words of verses 8 and 9.

10, 11). The Jews who were in captivity because of their sin and failure were despondent. They saw no ray of hope; they were under the overwhelming burden of their sin. The message of God's watchman was one of hope to the repentant people

1. Consistent Living Required (v.

12). This verse evidently does not mean that a righteous man overtaken in a moment of defeat is lost.

It rather refers to the one who has made an outward show of being righteous. Confident of himself, he has then fallen into careless living, and all at once his true character is revealed in outright wickedness.

That man cannot then draw on his past record as though it were a bank account to be used to justify him in his hour of failure. Righteousness is a matter of the heart. It is a spiritual rebirth, expressing itself in changed conduct and consistent living, not only yesterday and to-

2. Real Repentance Accepted (vv

13-16). God was ready in Ezekiel's day to acceet the genuinely repent-ant man and woman. Infinitely more precious and warm is the welcome that Christ now gives to sinners who turn to Him, for He, our blessed Lord, has now worked out

Look 20 Years beyond the Refrigerator you buy today

Every NORGE ROLLATOR REFRIGERATOR is backed by the reputation and the resources of the great BORG-WARNER CORPORATION, worldfamous manufacturer with 20 factories in 5 states

When you buy an electric refrigerator, look wisely to the future. Look 10 years ahead . . . or 20. Look beyond the refrigerator as it stands today, new and bright and gleaming. Visualize the greater needs which it may be called to meet in the years to come. Consider the satisfactions of service well rendered that can come only from a product ably engineered and ably built by an organization experienced in precision

Such an organization is Norge, backed by the resources and engineering skill, the seasoned reputation and world fame of the great Borg-Warner Corporation whose score of factories employ thousands in five states.

You will look today, of course, at the advanced features that distinguish the Norge refrigerator in its field . . . at the highlights of detail and design that are winning such high acclaim throughout the world. In the big SR-8 model, as shown above, you will admire extra size and ample capacity, a freezer of stainless steel, the convenience of the exclusive Handefroster and Coldpack, the sliding shelves, glasscovered drawers and Cellaret. You will appreciate the simple efficiency of the refrigerant-cooled Rollator Cold-Maker which Norge has built to almost unbelievable limits of precision for lifetime service.

But before you decide, look again at the record of integrity and achievement which Norge has made in the past. That, we submit, is the reason you also may look far to the future with faith in Norge.

• Improper raking will do much to lose the value of your hay crop. In correct raking procedure the hay must be deposited in light, loose windrows with the stems exposed and leaves on the inside. The NEW IDEA Side Delivery Rake & Tedder is especially adapted to do this work. It rakes up every bit of your hay and puts it into a fluffy, quick curing windrow. Curing time is cut to a minimum and desirable color secured with a greater protein value. Gently aerates hay when reversed for tedding. Rigidly constructed for extra long service.
