Commercial fishermen's unusually large hauls during the fall spawning season produced an abundance of lake trout eggs. After hatching, the fry are released at ages varying from ten days to two and a half months, on the lake trout fishing banks. alists have become dollar-a-year men for military rearmament. Dr. Kingdon is perhaps the first man to give up his job to work for intellectual rearmament. With others, he built the Citizenship Educational Service to advance tolerance, cooperation and all-around American solidarity. Theodore Roosevelt is its chairman and Dr. Kingdon is educational director.

"American Unity" was the subject of Dr. Kingdon's address before the Institute of Public Affairs at Charlottesville, Va., recently. A few days ago, this writer happened to be present when Dr. Kingdon was conversing with a New York citizen of distinction and influence who maintained that democracy was both decadent and impotent. In his Charlottesville address, Dr. Kingdon said:

"The other day, I was arguing with a self-confessed Fascist. I happened to use the word freedom. He immediately scoffed, saying, 'Freedom for what? Freedom to be unemployed? Freedom to starve?' He knew that the word was one of the signal words of human history. He could not meet it squarely. So he tried to tie it up with all kinds of other words having un-pleasant definitions in order to destroy its own appeal by trans-ferring to it their dismay. His was a deliberate effort to empty of meaning a word that is packed with hope and faith. His performance was typical of the planned and concerted attempt to destroy the foundations of our thought so that we shall crumble before a vigorous onslaught from the cause with which he has allied himself."

In the above address Dr. Kingdon assays such words as Christianity, freedom, religion, propaganda, isolation, in the interest of tolerance and unity. Such is one of the unique endeavors of the Citizenship Educational Service.

Dr. Kingdon, tall, urbane schoolman and cleric, was born in London and came to this country in 1912, at the age of 17. He was educated at University College school, London, and Boston university.

The two most important segments will be occupied by the Axis powers, Germany and Italy. Germany received the black area in the above map according to armistice terms which ended the fighting. Italy now controls the dotted area on the map. The white area remains under French control.

POLITICS: G.O.P. 'Oomph'

From the opening session of the Republican national convention in Philadelphia, there was little doubt as to what presidential nominee aspirant was the "gallery's choice." For each time the name of Wendell Willkie was mentioned on the convention floor a sally of cheers swept down from the onlookers.

President Roosevelt would accept The New York lawyer and utilities executive in a decidedly brief third term as he would be happy to campaign against him. This atti-(two months) period of time had risen from the political unknown to the pinnacle of popular G. O. P. party leaders, who realize that a favor.

vigorous, energetic personality like Wendell Willkie's will be needed in the coming political battle. Entering the convention balloting with a mere handful of pledged delegates, Willkie's dynamic supersalesmanship started its telling ef-UNEASY WORLD: fect in the form of a definite trend Europe toward him as the second roll call As the Nazi war machine con-tinued to push its military occupaof states was called. On successive ballots Willkie then gained 65, 86, 47, 123, and finally on the sixth roll call he went over the Union was being felt in Rumania. Willkie having won, all state delegations then made the nomination unanimous. Next day, on the first balloting for the vice presidential nominee, Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon was elected as the party's overwhelming choice for Mr. Willkie's running mate.

It's better to drop bombs on an invader than to knit socks for young soldiers in the opinion of Mrs. Lorene Holloway, able Jackson Heights, N. Y., air pilot. If war strikes this country, she wants to join U. S. defense forces and organize young women fliers into a fighting corps.

AVIATION:

Spreading Wings

Three new air routes mark current developments in America's ever-expanding aviation industry. Hailed by Alaska's governor, Ernest Gruening, as a stride toward national defense, the 20-ton Alaska Clipper began regular pay-passenger service between Seattle and the territory. On the first flight the Clipper made a trip that usually takes four days by boat in slightly over five hours. Twenty passengers were aboard.

This initial flight called attention to Alaska's air defenses which are in the process of being strengthened by the U.S. navy. Two new flying bases at Sitka and Kodiak are under construction at the present time and the naval expansion program calls for further bolstering of Uncle

Pan American Airways is starting transoceanic service over 8,000 miles of the S uth Pacific to New Zealand and a new flight schedule with daily plane service to Argen-tina is slated to get under way July 12. On the New Zealand route, four and a half day service will be provided between Los Angeles and Auckland, New Zealand.

INDUSTRY:

Change of Pace

Current reports of Federal Reserve banks plus other commercial indices reveal that a downward trend of industrial activity which has marked U. S. business since last December has now been reversed. Expanding production is noted in many key industries.

With much of such increasing activity centered directly or indirectly in war and defense materials, nonmilitary industries are also registering important gains.

Treatment for Buzzing Ears And Dizziness

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON (Released by Western Newspaper Union.) MOST cases of dizziness are due to some disturbance of the ear or the liver.

What is known as Meniere's disease of syndrome has sudden at-TODAY'S tacks of dizziness HEALTH as its outstanding symptoms, to-COLUMN gether with nausea and vomiting. "Deafness and tinnitus (singing in the ear) may occur just before or just after the attack of dizziness, nausea and vomiting.

"The attacks are so suddenly severe that patients are 'struck down' and walking without aid is usually impossible." It is this "suddenness" and being struck down and unable to walk without help that is the real difference between Meniere's disease and the ordinary feeling of lightheadedness and dizziness.

The treatment of Meniere's disease in the department of internal medicine, Lahey clinic, Boston, re-ported in Medical Clinics of North America, may be ei-ther medical or surgical. "The medical management giving most promise consists of use of a diet low in sodium-apples, asparagus, cabbage, Dr. Barton brussels sprouts, lettuce, grapes, lemons, oranges, sugar, jelly, honey; unsalted butter and bread, the avoidance of table salt and the administration of ammonium chloride.'

The Foods to Avoid.

The foods that contain a large amount of sodium and therefore should be avoided are: ordinary bread, salted butter, crackers, eggs, meat, milk, spinach, carrots, beets, oatmeal and all corned, pickled, smoked or salted foods.

If the above treatment does not give relief, the patient is referred to the surgeon who cuts nerve fibers supplying certain parts of the ear.

Eighteen patients were placed on the medical treatment above outlined (eight men and ten women).

Thirteen of the patients had symp-toms in both ears—buzzing, roaring and deafness.

Despite the fact that these were outpatients and could not be under complete control, 12 of the 18 patients obtained complete relief from the acute attacks, although two still had annoying ear noises.

Worry Can Cause

Role of Women and Children Behind the Lines of Battle

Women all over the world step out of character to meet the demands of war. For not all phases of the Great War are fought in the front battle lines. The vast organization that feeds, clothes and supplies the fighting armies with the sinews of war plays a vital part in the general scheme of things. To meet this need the nations involved in the great struggle overseas have mobilized the women and boys to do their bit behind the lines, as well as the men who are unable to serve at the front.

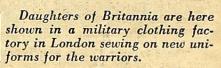

Somewhere in England . . . The corner of a shell-shed, showing women marking shell cases before the projectiles are filled with explosive. England has already issued a call for 1,000,000 women to work on muni-

There are 400,000 Germans in Brazil who have indicated similar views about "sterile democracy."

President Vargas has seemed much more able and plausible than most dictators. He isn't given to casual shooting or hanging and he says very little and this in a low voice, never in a sports palast or on a balcony. He built his 1930 campaign on a bare-knuckle fight against the "plutocratic coffee barons" of the Sao Paulo. He was badly defeated. He didn't yell, "I've been robbed," but instead gathered a few of his old gaucho friends and quietly took over the country.

For four years, he ruled by decree and then set up a liberal constitution, written by the national assembly. He proclaimed his allegiance to liberal government and the democratic ideal. He governed effectively and is credited with having cut down debt and upped production.

Reared in a prairie town, he enrolled in a military college, but was diverted to the law and, like many of our own politicians, reached the national congress, with a start as district attorney.

At about two o'clock on the morning of November 10, 1937, President Vargas telephoned all the members of his cabinet and the leaders of his legislature to come to the palace immediately. They seized weapons as they dashed for their cars. The president received them urbanely, broke out cigars and wine, chatted a few moments and then handed them a document in which he had scrapped and fired congress, nullified existing laws and substituted his own code. There was no dissent.

Tagged as a "peace, preparedness and prosperity" platform, the G. O. P. 1940 statement of party policy straddled most important national issues but packed plenty of anti-New Deal and anti-Third term punch.

Unanimously approved, the platform contained a keep-out-of-war declaration; a plan of Republicaninspired national defense; a slap at President Roosevelt's "provocative" speeches; and a demand to limit presidential service to two terms. Willkie's political rise stands out as one of the most dramatic in American history. Coupled with the fact that he started his campaign a short two months ago, is the fact that up until the last few years he has been a Democrat. Many political experts thought this would spell political doom in a Republican con-vention. But it didn't.

Under a new bill signed by the President the corporation is authorized to finance purchases of strategic material so that "in any eventuality" supplies will be on

A number of years ago a Protestant clergyman and a Catholic priest were attached to one of the hospital clinics in London. A patient, after being thoroughly examined and no organic disease found which could account for his symptoms, was handed over to the clergyman or priest. QUESTION BOX

Q .- My son, who is 16 years old, s very moody and introspective. Would you advise me to consult a psychiatrist?

A.-Your own physician can help your boy after one or two consultations. He must mix or play to become a normal man. There may be some physical reason, or some emotional condition, that is causing this behavior. However, your physician should see him before taking him to a psychiatrist.

Germany's women are now mobilized to work in the factories and fields while the fighting is going on far from home. After work the girls form in classes and study German history, all of which is tempered by the Nazi conception and interpretation of these subjects. German women are also playing an important part in keeping Germany ahead in the vital race for air supremacy.

Important work is being done by the women of the warring countries in the fields these days. Above is a scene in an asparagus field in a Berlin suburb. (Right) This girl driller is employed in one of the aircraft factories where Britain turns out her bombing planes.

Their Motto Is, 'Be Prepared'

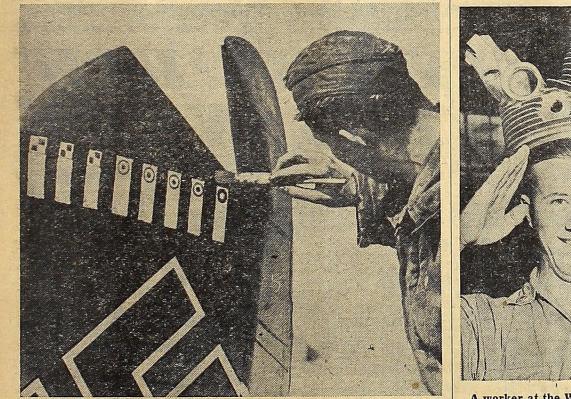

Bearing posters demanding a strong national defense "to preserve the freedom won for us by the founders of our nation," these five girls, dressed in Revolutionary war soldiers' uniforms, rode up Fifth avenue, New York city, in a horse-drawn victoria, to observe the 165th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

By VIRGINIA VALE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.) HE first actor in Hollywood I history ever to be elected a delegate to a national political convention, Melvyn Douglas wonders if he will be able to enjoy the honor.

"Of course I can always be represented by proxy," he said the other day. "But a chance like this comes only every four years, and I'd hate to miss it."

Douglas made preparations to be in Chicago July 15 for the big con-clave. But he temporarily forgot that he is also an actor, involved in the new Columbia comedy, "He Stayed for Breakfast," along with Loretta Young, Eugene Pallette, Una O'Connor and Alan Marshall. Alexander Hall, the director, is making every effort to hurry things along, and is making all the scenes with Douglas first.

The studio wanted her to make some more pictures in which she wore a sarong, and she was de-termined not to. So both sides gave in; she had her hair bobbed by Wally Westmore, head of the makeup department (and cried a little, as most girls do when they hear that first snip of the shears) and consented to do three South Seas pictures - "Moon Over Burma," "Aloma of the South Seas," with Jon Hall, and "South of Samoa," with Bing Crosby. A custom has been initiated during the rehearsals of the Rudy Vallee show to mark the scripts with asterisks to denote the laugh allowed. The reason for this is to clock for timing when the show is actually broadcast. Four asterisks are tops in laugh pauses. The other night someone in the cast asked scriptwriter Sid Fields what it meant to see five asterisks instead of the customary four. Replied Fields, "Then you know that you have the Fred Allen script by mistake."

When you see the Bing Crosby picture, "Rhythm on the River," you may be surprised to find that Ken Carpenter, Bing's announcer and chime ringer on the air, plays a radio announcer named "Ken Carpenter." It's the result of an accident. Scenarists had given Carpenter another name in the picture, but John Scott Trotter, who's Bing's broadcast band leader and plays a band leader in the picture, made a long film take in which he called Carpenter by his real name. It was simpler to change the name than to do the scene over again.

"You'd think Del was some sort of a heathen," said Aunt Olympia the day after they arrived at Shires. "And I'm not sure but in some ways he is," she added thoughtfully. "Seems to me even a heathen would worm about his conduct."

"Well, I didn't hire him to go calf-eyed over Limpy. You tell him to quit looking at Limpy. Every time I glance up I see him looking at Limpy. It's getting on my nerves. You tell him to stop it."

Thus frustrated on every hand, Olympia conceived the notion of dropping a few delicate hints herself. She couldn't come right out in the open about it, because she realized that even if Limpy herself felt no personal interest in Cecil, she did enjoy being admired, and open opposition would arouse her and her sisters with her to her own defense. So Olympia decided to be diplomatic. "Well, Cece," she began pleasant-

"But we always do that!" "Yes, but when I make my ex-streaming into the park. Micro-phones had been set up all over the grounds, so that those unable to crowd into the auditorium might hear. At seven, floodlights were turned on, and the band struck up. "We'd better dress now," said Aunt Olympia.

"It's very crowded for four to dress in here," objected Adele. "Can't we take our bags and dash over to the hotel?"

"No. It's more effective for them to summon us from the trailer; in case they call on us, of course.

ten minutes, while the ladies, looking very pretty, stood bowing, smiling, waving their hands. Limpy, remembering the brats, threw kisses.

Then Jim Allen roared for silence. 'Ladies-ladies-and gentlemen!-This lady needs no introduction to you! She's your lady! This is our old friend, Olympia Slopshire! She won't make a speech, she just wants to say howdy !- Your lady, ladies and gentleman, Olympia Slopshire!"

Olympia advanced, smiling, to the rostrum and put her handbag and gloves on it. Then she turned and shook a playful finger at Jim.

"Now, Jim Allen, you only asked me to come and take a bow! You didn't say a word to me about making a speech," she protested gaily. "I can't make a speech; I don't even know how to begin. Especially on politics. I always say one politician in a family is enough. Sometimes I think it is more than enough! Now if you wanted a speech on keeping the house, on running the family budget, on cheap recipes for canning fruit and making pre-serves, I could talk till election.

"Why, I am not even enough of a politician to call you constituents!" she cried, keeping well in range of the microphone. "You're not con-stituents to me! You're just friends, old friends and neighbors. That's all I know about politics.

"Now because you are only my friends and neighbors, I want you to meet these three dear little children of mine who have made me so happy and kept my heart and hands so full this year . . . Girls, come on, stand up! I want them to see what you look like."

The girls tripped up and stood, smiling, grouped about her.

"Now those of you who have families," she went on, "understand that between providing nourishing meals, doing the mending and darning, superintending the laundry, safeguarding the health of my husband and these three children, I wouldn't have time to meddle in politics if I wanted to. But the girls mean more to me than politics. That's why I want you to be their friend and neighbor, as you are mine . . This is Helen! . . . This is Adele! . . And this is my little Limpy! . . . Stand up on a chair, Limpy! So they can see you!" Limpy was boosted, blushing, out of it." Those who use that lie upon a chair, but she rose to it gallantly and threw more kisses. "You can sit down now, girls.

"But I would not give you the wrong impression about my attitude," continued Aunt Olympia with sudden earnestness. "I am interested—just as you are—in every detail, every movement, every law, every national policy, that affects our state and our country. Women are concerned with politics, because all problems that touch the home, the family, the school, the church, the health, are women's problems! What is there that concerns our nation that does not eventually lead straight to our homes, your home and mine? Labor, relief, flood control, wages and hours, taxation, even war itself, rearmament, a naval policy, the affairs of commerce and agriculture-all these are powerful electrical currents by which our carry on a study of the poets of the Bible. None of us should miss a single lesson. The book of Job deals with and solves the fundamental problem,

"What is the meaning of the suffer-ing of the righteous?" Our first lesson presents Satan as the great adversary and accuser of man, and reveals that man may successfully resist him by faith in God.

I. Satanic Accusation (vv. 1-5). The lesson opens with a scene in heaven, where the angelic beings present themselves to give an account of their activities. Satan, too, is there as the adversary and accuser of men's souls. He had already, by God's permission and as a test of Job's faith, destroyed all of Job's property and taken from him his family (see Job 1:14-19), but he had not destroyed Job's trust in God

(1:21).Now Satan had a new charge; namely, that Job could bear the loss of his children and his riches, but if God would permit his own body to be afflicted, he would deny God. It is the familiar refuge of those who would lie about the servants of God to say, "He is in it for what he gets do well to recognize the originator of their calumny; they are working with Satan when they thus hinder the Lord's work.

II. Spiritual Integrity (vv. 6-10). The trial of Job was most severe, for only his life was spared. His affliction was evidently not only that of boils on his skin (which would have been bad enough), but a systemic condition which made his whole body sick and made him so repulsive as to be unfit to live with other people (see Job 7:1-5, 14, 15; 16:8; 19:17-20).

Not only did he suffer physically within an inch of his life, but he was subjected to the mental and spiritual torture of having the one who should have stood by him-his wife-urge him to renounce his faith in God and die. Many who have borne excruciating physical pain have broken down under spiritual cruelty, but

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry; irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infec-tion—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are some-times burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recom-mended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

a matter of complexion and features and hair. And it may interest you to know that all real authorities on beauty-artists and sculptors andreal authorities-say Adele is far and away the most beautiful."

"Oh, perhaps, from their point of view," he conceded. "Personally, he conceded. "Personally, I don't agree with them."

"Well, what's wrong with her looks, you silly dunce?" she demanded irritably.

"Nothing. Nothing's wrong with them. Her looks are lovely. But in my opinion, her kind of beauty is-well, it's not natural. It's not spontaneous. It looks artificial, almost theatrical."

Aunt Olympia could hardly believe her ears. She was speechless.

"Now, you take beauty—well, like Limpy's for instance," he said, warming to his subject. "Now Limpy's beauty is honest and clean-cut and straightforward. There's nothing stagy about it. It's just plain, unvarnished, straight-to-the-heart beauty." "Adele's not varnished, either,' she said feebly. "I've seen her come straight from her bath. I've watched her make up. I know what I'm talking about." "Oh, probably not," he said indifferently. "But the effect is the same. It looks made-up. Limpy's different."

'Do you realize," began Olympia, half-choking, "that Limpy is-is-a perfect-infant? A mere child?" "To a man of my age and-gen-eral experience," he said gently,

"there is nothing in the world so beautiful as a brave, glowing little bud just blossoming out."

Aunt Olympia got up and walked straight out of the room. She had to. She was afraid if she remained she would choke him with her bare hands and that would end the campaign in a hurry.

"You've got to stop looking at her," said the Senator firmly. "But Senator, you must realizethere's no place else to look when us.'

Limpy's there," remonstrated Cecil desperately. "I'm sorry, Cece, but you've got to stop it. Pay attention to your work. And when you are discussing the campaign with us, you needn't address your remarks to Limpy. She's not running for office and I am."

"I'll try, Senator," he said un-appily. "I don't want to upset happily. Mrs. Slopshire and I do want the campaign to go through all right. But Senator, you must see how impossible it is to look at anybody else when Limpy's in the room." "I'll keep her out of the room as much as I can," promised the Senator, kindly. "You keep your eyes glued to Mrs. Slopshire. Discretion is the best policy-at your age. When you get to be my age, a glance or two at Limpy won't hurt you. It'll even set you up a little. But for the time being, you stick to Mrs.

Slopshire.'

During the first week of October, the trailer entourage established Baystown as headquarters and were giving parking facilities in the Community Center. From this base, the campaigners went off daily on flying junkets by automobile with a noisy escort of police. It had been a hard week, for this was the beginning of the Senator's state-wide sweep for votes. On Saturday, Aunt Olympia exhibited a degree of nervous energy for which not even the hard week could be held entirely accountable. She spent the morning relaxing in bed and studying manuscript. She spent the afternoon having a facial, a wave. a mud pack and a hot bath. The Senator had gone off with Dave and Cecil to attend a picnic of the Young Democrats at Hardcastle, planning to return to Baystown in time to address the big rally in the Auditorium at eight o'clock. He had wanted to take the girls along, but Aunt Olympia had put her foot down on that. "No, I want them to get rested up so they'll be pretty and fresh tonight," she said. "And if Limpy were off with you and Cece

Job still maintained his integrity.

Why God permitted him to suffer he did not yet understand, but he knew God and he was willing to take from His hand evil as well as good (v. 10) as long as His heavenly Father was in control. What a testimony!

III. Sympathetic Friendship (vv. 11-13).

His wife and neighbors had abandoned Job, and even the children of the street despised him (19:18), but he did have three friends. Thank God for friendship-not the fair weather kind, but the type that stands by in the hour of trouble. These friends apparently came from a distance (vv. 11, 12) and at some sacrifice of time, effort and money. Friendship that doesn't cost anything usually doesn't amount to anything. Note the intelligent and sympathetic manner in which they shared his sorrow. They were themselves sorrowful (v. 12) and they sat with him, not saying a word. In the hour of deepest need words are futile and often only add to the sorrow, but how much it means in such an hour to have someone who will silently, and yet sympathetically, stand by. One could wish that his friends had continued as they began and not later have spoiled their comfort by many important sounding but foolish words which the Lord had to condemn in the serious words

We shall see the answer to the question regarding suffering in our lesson for July 21 as being that man might be brought to really know God and to see himself in the light of God's holiness. Thus, by victory through testing, man proves to himself and to his fellow men that God is worthy of our fullest confidence, that faith in Him will bring us through the deepest darkness and the severest trial.

Roots of Evil To abolish evil its roots must be dug up and exposed in the sunlight, where they will wither and perish. These roots thrive underground and are cancerous. No More Vanity Ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations; for I will deliver my people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am the Lord .-Ezekiel 13:23.

Largest American Airport

Contrary to popular expectation, the largest airport on this side of the Atlantic ocean is not to be found in the United States. It is the new British-built transatlantic landing field in Newfoundland, about 150 miles from St. John's. Located on a high, dry plateau 500 feet above sea level, this airport contains 1,000 acres. Its landing areas and approaches cover 350 acres, while the paved runways will eventually cover 254 acresthree times the runway area of any airport in the United States. Four 1,500-yard runways are already paved .- Pathfinder.
