Sew This Dress for Some Child Refugee

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

WHEN war came to Finland a Red Cross group to sew for refugees was started in our community. The feeling that our home needs were more important was so strong that exactly two workers came. When the Low Countries were invaded more joined. Now, 12 or 14 women meet faithfully and make about 50 woolen dresses every week, in sizes 9 to 14. The group is financed through gifts of money and material which they themselves have solicited They bought the simplest dress pattern that they could find and then eliminated every unnecessary detail. "Work for quantity—don't bother with a collar," the county Red Cross leader urged. "Never mind the pocket-there will be nothing to put into it anyway."

I have just sketched here some short cuts used to speed up production; and as I write this, looking out of my studio window over a beautiful and peaceful garden, I am trying not to think of winter and what it will be like in Europe when some child is wearing this little blue woolen frock.

-15-Olympia was pushed into the rear seat of the big car. The Senator clambered after her and took her in his arms.

"Be brave, my dear, be calm," he said, through clenched teeth, and the cameramen got a very good flash of them, the Senator looking stern and noble, with Olympia in his arms, weeping like Rachel for her lost children. Police cleared the way. The big car rolled off.

The crowd was a little surprised to hear the roaring of motors as the car went off. But they waited. They would be back, probably, in five minutes, with the lovely young girls in tow. But when Jim Allen, slowly rallying, struggled to his feet, wiping blood from his face, they rose instinctively. If that blood wasn't beet juice, this was real drama. Jim Allen was helped to the platform.

"Ladies and gentlemen!" he roared, still mopping blood. "That's our candidate! That's the man we Democrats stand for! What's an election to a man whose home has been ravaged? What are votes to a Democrat whose most sacred feelings have been profaned? That's the candidate we give you—one who will knock down his state chairman to go to the aid of his children! Ladies and gentlemen, do what you like with this rally. I'm going to help our candidate rescue our children!"

Evidently, then, it was no plant. As the constituents streamed out of the auditorium following Jim Allen, whose nose continued to bleed with theatrical profusion, their resentment rose. These were their orphans who had been subjected to this outrage.

"Call the police!" "Get out the G-Men!" "Give us our children!" 'Down with Wilkie!" "Were the police asleep?"

A pandemonium of cars swept away in the wake of the Senator. The wind-up rally joined the rescue. A dozen busses, hastily filled, followed more slowly. Only those luckless ones remained who had come on foot or by train and had no emergency conveyance. These, left behind, eventually clustered together and burst into noisy imprecations of the Opposition, interspersed with cheers for Sloppy, boos for Wilkie, and finally fell into a sustained my child? "We want our orphans! We want our orphans! We want our orphans!"

Unfortunately, the Senator and Aunt Olympia were unaware of this loyal demonstration. They had retired from the campaign in a dead silence, over the prostrate form of good old Jim Allen, the state chairman; followed, so far as they knew, by the unbounded indignation of an offended constituency.

For twenty noisy miles, Olympia was satisfied to sob on the Senator's breast, in which burned a volcano of suppressed passion. Finally she found voice.

"I only wanted them-to rest a little, Del," she said humbly. "I left Ben to bring them. I thought of course they would be safe."

"Be calm, my dear, be brave." said the Senator, patting her shoulder with a hand that itched for Brother Wilkie's throat.

"If they've harmed a hair of those children's heads," moaned Olympia, "I'll choke him with my bare hands, and what's more, I'll sue him."

"Be calm, Ollie, be brave," crooned the Senator, between set

So it was Aunt Olympia and the Senator with a belligerent police escort, who roared into the Republican rally at Lancaster.

As soon as the car came to a halt, the Senator crawled over Olympia's feet and started to get "You stay here! This is no place for a woman! This is going to be a knock-down, drag-out engagement!"

His ferocity terrified Aunt Olympia. She was as mad as he was, and just as determined to fight it out. But she wished he would leave it to her. After all, her first responsibility was the Senator. She grabbed him with both hands. After the wear and tear of the long campaign, at his age, in his state of health, he was not physically able to cope with a set of blackguards who would stoop to such depths of lawlessness. He must not impair his dignity by engaging in a common street brawl with ruffians. Besides, he would get his glasses broken. So she hung on and was drawn with him from the tonneau. And the first thing she saw was Len Hardesty, standing with both arms outstretched against the rear door of the sound truck, from which the police had gradually edged the crowd away.

my children! You let them right out of there this minute or I'll call the police!"

"Shut up, Olympia," he said "They can't come out. They haven't any clothes on!" "They haven't any clothes-" Suddenly Aunt Olympia remembered. She had forgotten to take the suitcase from the trailer. "Del!" she "They'll-catch their death of cold!" And would have collapsed, had she not been supported by the Senator and a couple of policemen.

The girls, watching from the narrow little windows at the top of the rear door, had seen the beloved and sheltering, though agitated, figures of the Senator and Aunt Olympia.

Limpy opened the door defiantly. "Len Hardesty!" she screamed. "You give me my Uncle Lancy, this minute! You give him right here!' The defiant voice then rose to a familiar wail. "Aw, Uncle Lancy."

When had Uncle Lancy heard that appeal in vain? He did not hesitate a moment. He relinquished Olympia to the arms of the policemen with all the dignity of an old Roman, in smart fall coat instead of toga, and bore down on the truck. He didn't say a word. He waved his arm and Len Hardesty stood aside. The Senator stumbled up the

"My poor children-" he began. But Limpy interrupted.

"Come over here to this mike and give them a piece of your mind," she ordered. "They said the most outrageous things about you. They said you were a hopeless inefficient and turned the lights on us to prove it. Tell them, Uncle Lancy!"
"My dear—" he remonstrated

"Here's the mike," said Limpy. There was only one thing to do in the presence of a microphone. Uncle Lancy cleared his throat. "Ladies and gentlemen!" he The bands, which had been instructed to stop playing when the speeches began, stopped at the first syllable. The musicians wanted to get over to the truck themselves and see what was going on. "Ladies and gentlemen of the Opposition!" went on the Senator. "This is Senator Slopshire addressing you from my own sound truck which was in dastardly fashion stolen by one I have loved and trusted for many years. I shall neither love nor trust him again . . . So I am accused of inefficiency, eh? Well, if to put trust in a man at whose pulpit I have sat for spiritual guidance, who has blessed my food -which I gladly shared with him -if to put trust in that man is inefficient, then I plead guilty! Yes! I am a hopeless inefficient! I did trust him!

"This is the closing night of my campaign for re-election. Thousands had gathered at Trentfare to hear my final message and my summary of the issues of this campaign. But the instant I heard that these children of mine had been ruthlessly snatched from the swimming pool and dragged away on this chilly autumn night in thin bathing suits, still wet from swimming-when I heard that, I stopped in the middle of a sentence. I waived the issues. I relinquished the campaign. I sacrificed any votes to be gained there and rushed here at full speed to save my children. If that is inefficiency, yes! I am a hopeless inefficient!

"Crouched beside me, here in my sound truck, are these three girls, three American children, bereaved young orphans. They are still in the wet bathing suits they wore when kidnaped, they are shivering and blue with cold. Their very lives have been endangered by this despicable act. I could stand here for hours expounding the issues of this campaign; it is a great opportunity; but I relinquish that opportunity. I sacrifice any votes to be gained here. I go to take my children to warmth and comfort; I go to see them safe in their little beds, with what precautions may be taken to save them from the danger of this terrible exposure they have suffered. If that is inefficiency, ladies and gentlemen, yes! I am a hopeless inefficient.

"Give them some Bible," said Limpy grimly. "They used Bible on you.

The Senator hesitated briefly. He hadn't been brought up on the Bible like Brother Wilkie and the girls. He had a special clerk to handle his quotations. He tried desperately to remember something.

"'As ye sow, so shall ye reap," he finally roared. "I thank you."
"Come on, girls," he ordered and immediately left the truck. Again cameras were grinding, lights flashing. The Senator saw nothing, heard nothing. As he told Olympia after-"Len Hardesty-you-you give me | ward, he was so burned up he didn't even remember making

Then she turned off the lights and closed the door.

She headed at once for the room she shared, rather grudgingly, with the Senator.

"Another pitcher of hot lemonade for the Senator," she said to Hilda over her shoulder.

The Senator was already in nightshirt and bathrobe and warm slippers. He was smoking a cigarette. "Did you take their tempera-ture?" he demanded. "Did they have a chill?" "I wish you'd be more grammatical, Del," she said irritably. "How can three girls have one temperature and one chill? Did you change to your flannel nightshirt?" "My dear, it's a very mild night.

You know I never change to flannel till the first snow."

"It's a chilly night, or I miss my guess! I've got trouble enough without pneumonia." She fished roughly about in a drawer and produced the flannels. "Change," she ordered briskly. "And be quick about it." The Senator made the exchange

"More grammar. One apiece." she said angrily. "Her place is in a she reproved him severely. "Anyhow, you're older than they are and Limpy diplomatically continued to have less reaction . . . You don't feel anything coming on, do you?"

"You've had a pretty easy summer, so it won't make any difference if you lose a little sleep tonight, Hilda," she said. "I want you to keep an eye on the girls and if any of them seems to be catching anything, you call me immediately and 'phone the doctor. And don't disturb us. "Yes. We'll be wanting coffee when we ring for it and that's all we will be wanting. Be sure to keep an eye on the girls and let me know if they start chills or fever . . . Coffee, nothing else."

"Won't you be wanting the morning papers?"
"Heavens, Ollie!" ejaculated the Senator, and the unwonted profanity showed how wrought up he was. "I forgot the press. Do you suppose they got pictures?"

"Well, thank God the girls have straight legs," said Olympia. "No, Hilda. No papers! Never any more papers as long as we live! Good get a good break to work in a thing night, Hilda. Go and look in on the girls, will you? If they need any. thing, let me know."

UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL UNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for July 28

WEIGHING CONSEQUENCES A Principle of Temperate Living

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 1:7-10; Isaiah 5:11, 12, 18-23; Galatians 6:7-9.
GOLDEN TEXT—Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.— I Timothy 4:8.

An intelligent approach to life calls for an understanding of principles governing thought and action. Our lesson for today recognizes that every act and thought of man brings consequences, either good or bad. Man himself must make the decisions of life, and what he sows he must also reap. Matters of crucial importance to modern young people are involved in our lesson. They are asking these days, "Shall I listen to God's voice, or is that just old-fashioned nonsense? What about obeying parents? Should I drink intoxicants? 'Everybody' does—why should I be different? Of course, I don't want to be a drunkard or ruin my future life, but I'd like to have 'my fling'can't I have it and still avoid disastrous consequences?'

The answers to these questions are in our lesson. May God help young people to find the right answers, and enable every teacher to present the truth clearly and effectively. I. Safe Counsel (Prov. 1:7-10).

No sane person wants to make a fool of himself. He is looking for the right way and will lend his ear to good counsel. Here it is-"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge" (R. V., "wisdom"). Fear of God is not a cringing terror, but a sincere appreciation of His wisdom and a desire to do His will.

The best counselors a boy or girl has are father and mother. Only a fool will pass up the golden opportunity of profiting by their experiences and avoiding their mistakes, and will miss the opportunity of carrying forward their high hopes. Those who fear God and honor their parents will not be misled by the enticement of sinners (v. 10). They just will not "consent," and that settles it.

II. Steps to Ruin (Isa. 5:11, 12, 18-23)

Isaiah lived and ministered in a time of prosperity, which led to drunkenness and immorality. This in time led, as it always does, to the decay and destruction of the nation. We face similar moral conditions today. Let us not shut our eyes to the lesson so oft-repeated in history and in false security go on to national ruin.

We need outspoken and determined opposition in civic, social and still shivery—I'll sue that louse," religious circles to the liquor traffic and to all the vices that follow inevitably in its train. The portion of than a mere wringing of necks. "In our lesson from Isaiah vividly portrays the downward path of the drinker of intoxicants. Ponder it well, young man and young woman. III. the realm of the moral and spiritual. Sowing to the flesh always brings corruption. No matter how well educated, no matter what his position in life, or his family connection, the man who takes his first drink has started on the road to a drunkard's grave. Statistics reveal that the victims of drink come from every strata of society and every circumstance of life. Young people, the sure way to avoid the consequences is to not take the first drink.

Sowing to the Spirit brings "life everlasting." That, too, is always true. There is also another precious truth: namely, that by turning to Christ the one who has begun on the downward path may stay the ruinous hand of sin upon his life. Taking Christ as his Saviour, he finds regeneration and renewal of Later Spot News happened. Some of these prophecies may be more illuminating than later "spot news" accounts.

There's Henri de Kerillis, French Nationalist deputy, recently arrived in Ottawa in behalf of General De Gaulle's die-hard committee. On December 22, 1939, M. De Keril-lis published in his newspaper "Epoque" a minutely detailed ac-count of a conspiracy to oust Premier Daladier and install Marshal Petain in that office. He wrote:

"The object of this conspiracy is to convince the greatest and most famous of military chiefs-Marshal Petain—that he must resign himself to accepting the premiership in a government of national union in which the most notorious defeatists are to be included. According to the conspirators, the old marshal un-consciously will have to play a role analogous to that of Hindenburg, opening the road to Hitler in a moment of discouragement. And by his presence alone, he will neutralize our military chiefs."

In Ottawa, M. De Kerillis says, "Marshal Petain is not a traitor. He did not know when he capitulated that he would go to war with England, tomorrow with the United States, and the next day with Russia. He did not know that when one is in the hands of the Germans one cannot stop."

As a journalist and nationalist deputy, M. De Kerillis has been a spokesman for French Nationalist opinion for many years. He was a lone voice supporting General De Gaulle in 1934, when the latter was pleading for a mechanized army to been pertinently quoted:

"Our strategy will destroy the enemy from within and oblige him to conquer himself. Everywhere in the country of the enemy we will have friends who will aid us."

problems.

Mrs. Adams was born in Cincinnati, the daughter of Walter Grabau, a music teacher. In 1914, at the age of 15, she had her first plane ride at Lake Eustis, Fla., with Walter E. Johnson at the controls. Since then, her mother has complained that there's no keeping her down to earth. She was a passenger on the first transatlantic trip of the Graf Zeppelin in 1928, and in 1932 on the giant plane Dornier Do-X on its flight from Rio de Janeiro to New York.

In 1936 she crossed the Pacific on the first China Clipper; and, also in that year, she was on the ill-fated Zeppelin Hindenburg when it crossed to this country. She saw it burn a year later. In 1937 she made a roundtrip non-stop flight from New York to Bermuda, and July 15 of last year landed back in Newark after a flight around the world in 16 days, 19 hours and 4 minutes-a record for globe girdling.

She is 5 feet, 11 inches tall and has what she describes as a "stringbean figure suitable for flying." She has gray eyes and reddishbrown hair, dresses simply and attractively.

IT IS perhaps just as well that Carl Brisson, Danish film star, has landed safely in America. He once popped the Crown Prince Wilhelm on the nose, and there's no telling but that Herr Hitler has that somewhere in his bring-up file. Born Carl Pedersen, the big, handsome Carl Brisson was welterweight champion of Denmark at 15 and later middleweight champion of Europe. After fighting 72 professional ring battles, he became a star of vaudeville and musical comedy. He discovered Greta Garbo.

Campaign of 'Peace Rumors' Precedes Britain 'Blitzkrieg'; F. D. and Willkie Set for Battle

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Seeking John Bull's Eye.

THE CAMPAIGN: Chicagoings-on

This was the Democratic convention's lead-off message: "I (Senator Barkley) and other close friends of the President, have long known that he has no wish to be a candidate again. We know, too, that in no way whatsoever has he exerted any influence in the selection of the delegates, or upon the opinions of delegates in this convention.

"Tonight, at the specific request and authorization of the President, I am making this simple fact clear to this convention. The President has never had, and has not tomeet the German onslaught. He day, any desire or purpose to con-has vehemently denounced both tinue in the office of President, to has vehemently denounced both Communist and Nazi subversive influences. In a review of his activities, one utterance of Adolf Hitler, as reported by Dr. Rauschning, has nestness and sincerity, to make it clear that all of the delegates to this convention are free to vote for any candidate. That is the message I deliver to you tonight from the President of the United States, by authority of his word."

Some 22,500 men and women, packed into the Chicago stadium, MRS. CLARA ADAMS rides airplanes because she "loves to watch clouds." Her flight on the first stratoliner from New York to tion the next day nominated President Roosevelt for a third term. No man had ever before received this honor. A day later, Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, was nominated vice president virtually at the request of the President. The convention indicated the issues would be foreign affairs and the utilities, principally.

Wendell Willkie in the meantime warned the Democrats. He said he didn't want to hear any more about the Insull scandal, and indicated that he was tired of wisecracks about public utilities. It was true that some Democrats had been whispering at a great rate along those lines. Willkie was a bad man to try and smear, for he is peppy, peppery, and given to rough, biting invective. But Willkie did agree with the Democrat Bankhead, in condemning the speculative orgies of the 1920s. Willkie said, too, that he liked to protect the investments of the people against the assaults of their governments. This all emanated from Willkie's vacation haunt at Colorado Springs, as did a statement that he welcomed the third term issue presented by Roosevelt. What price "party"? Wendell

NAMES . . . in the news

"St Helena." Allyn Jennings, general superintendent of New York city's parks since 1936, became the new general director of New York's famous Bronx zoo.

Pope Pius instructed his official nuncio to France, Valerio Valeri, to give every aid and support to Marshal Henri Petain's new fascist government. Generals Petain and Weygand, two of the triumvirate, are devoutly clerical. Dark-faced, white-tied Laval, the third member,

Oswald Lewis, Tory member of parliament, suggested that England sell America at least one of the West Indian islands for use as an air and naval base. This, said Mr. Lewis, would cancel that "eternal" war

Willkie, Republican candidate for President, was a registered Demo-crat until two years ago. Henry A. Wallace, Democratic candidate for vice president, was a registered Republican until four years ago.

That Willkie would prefer to make the campaign on domestic issues and that President Roosevelt would keep it on the foreign issue if possi-ble seemed indicated in the early days of the campaign.

But wise William Allen White, who in the capacity of journalist attended both conventions, declared that neither Willkie nor Roosevelt would determine the results of the final election in November. It would be. Hitler, he stated. He meant, no doubt, that the repercussions of a complete Hitler victory, or vice versa, would weigh more with the American voters than the oratory of both Willkie and Roosevelt.

One thing seems conclusive. The Old Guard in both the Republican and the Democratic parties were not at first satisfied with the final choices. Much may depend on how they ultimately accept the decision of their conventions.

II GERMAN WAR:

Rumorings

There were twin rumors going the usual rounds in the usual rialtos. One of these rumors predicted a huge mass offensive by the Germans against England. The other rumor was of peace. Hitler's "blitzkrieg" against Britain had been "set" by various "authorities" on several days. These were wrong guesses time and again as were the "peace"

'NO BASIS':

Byoir No Nazi

Not everyone who is called a 'communist" is one, and not everyone who is called a "Nazi" agent is one. Carl Byoir, New York publicist, is no "Nazi" representative, says the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The FBI investigated on Byoir's request because Rep. Wright Patman one day got up in the house and sounded off against Byoir. The enmity between the two is really over another matter. Patman's "chain-store tax" bill is the source of their feud. Byoir has been directing publicity against the Patman bill. So, among other things, Patman called Byoir a Nazi tool. There was "no basis" to the charge, reported the FBI.

CUBA LIBRE:

Elections

Col. Fulgencio Batista, Cuban dictator for seven long years, beat Dr. Grau San Martin in the Cuban presidential election. Also, six provincial governorships, most of the mayorships, and 24 senatorial seats were scheduled for Batista candidates. Batista had, supporting him, parties of the right, left and center. San Martin had, supporting him, more parties of the right, left and center. The communists plumped for Batista, but so did some of the Cubanero Tories.

Meanwhile, Generals Camacho (government candidate) and Almazan (opposition candidate) continued to fuss and argue about the net results of the Mexican presidential election. Both appealed to the fair and tolerant President Cardenas, the "honest broker." Just the same, Camacho had it in the bag.

Rome Wants Return

The University of Rome demanded that France give back, pronto, all the art treasures that Napoleon carted out of Italy, and set up in

HOLY LAND: Bombed!

Italian airplanes raided Britishmandated Palestine, and dropped 50 bombs in 20 minutes. They peppered the Mediterranean port of Haifa, where an oil pipeline for the British navy feeds John Bull's water monsters. It brings in petroleum from the rich fields of Irak from the rich fields of Irak, and is considered a key spot in the empire. In the Italic aerial stab, one American oil-refiner was injured. His name was Flannigan. Italian planes also were raiding off the Grecian coast, while Italian and British warships were skirmishing up and down the blue waters of Mare Nostrum. But the loudest bombs exploded on the pages of the Italian newspapers. The above was ancient Palestine's first experience with streamlined, modern, bellicose methodology.

II Spanish War??

The hideous Spanish civil war, 1936-39, killed more people by murder and execution than it did in actual fighting between the armies. It resulted in the clerical dictatorship of Generalissimo Franco, a kindly produce construction the whole. kindly, pudgy creature on the whole. Meanwhile, a number of the exiled Spanish reds fled to Latin Amer-ican spots like Mexico and Chile. In Mexico they made a certain amount of trouble, but in Chile they agitated actively against the fascists of Spain. Chile had a so-called Popular Front government, and loyalist Spain had had the same thing. The Spanish radicals felt quite at home in Santiago and Valparaiso.

But Franco didn't like all this. He was touchy about his relations with Latin America, and distrusted Popular Fronts of all sorts. Chile had been pro-loyalist in the Spanish civil war. So Franco broke off Spanish-Chilian diplomatic relations-a bitter family quarrel between mother and child. It was too bad, for Chile (a long strip of rocky coastline, with only 4,000,000 people) could hardly damage Senor Franco, the friend of Herr Hitler. Meanwhile, Chile's President Pedro Aguirre banned strikes, lockouts, and other labor disturbances, and kept a cold hawkeye on the local Nazis. This was one of the things that Franco-Hitler did not like.

NEXT DOOR: Canadians

Every Canadian had to register, if he or she was over the tender age of 14. Failure to register means a fine of $200, and three months imprisonment. Also, there was pro-vided a $10 daily fine for lateness in registration. False information means another $200, and refusal to answer questions costs $100. Other 'crimes' cost $50 apiece. If you lose your registration card-and it may be demanded at any time-it's an additional $20. Observers declared that totalitarian England, on the point of invasion, still appeared more liberal than the No. 1 dominion, safe by 3,000 miles.

Meanwhile, Canada was not invited to the Pan-American conference at Havana, which tended to simplify things considerably, for Canada has no exact legal standing under international law.

MANILA: Quezon, M.

The little boss, Manuel Quezon, of the Philippine islands, began to talk about a semi-dictatorship way out there toward Asia. Already Senor Quezon has compulsory military service. Now he wants social restraints, social justice, and the yieldup of property rights. He does not want the Japanese, incidentally, at any price. By 1945, the Filipinos were supposed to get their complete independence, but with Nippon on the loose, things did not look so promising, and Senor Quezon was doing a bit of back-watering.

Meanwhile, at Tokyo, the Japanese army forced out of office the comparatively liberal Yonai cabinet. Prince Konoye (father of the captain of the Princeton golf team) was scheduled to come in, and bring with him a new semi-fascist setup. No wonder that Senor Quezon felt jumpy, only a couple of jumps away from that Mikadonian rising sun. The Filipinos began to realize that there was worse than your kindly old Uncle Samuel.

FLYING: Atlantic II

The civil aeronautics board, at Washington, gave permission for Export Airlines Inc. to start a transatlantic service, in competition with Pan-American Airways. The new service was to be operated between New York and Lisbon, and was set to start at a near date. The Export outfit announced that its planes and ships would be co-ordinated. Nothing succeeds like competition, said the aviation critics, and they pointed out (as proof) that Roosevelt had liberalized the Republican party.

BALTIC: Bust-Ups

The three little Baltic states of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia went red, and then went Russian. They were to become federal states of the great Soviet Union, which already had approximately a dozen of these entities (they vary somewhat, and some are elaborately subdivided). In Estonia, the red vote totalled 93 per cent. Lithuania, a thoroughly

Catholic country, voted 90 per cent red, just the same.

Early Auto Advertising Is Now Quaint Humor

The old vaudeville wheeze about the car that had "wooden frame, wooden wheels, wooden body-and wood'n run" recalls some of the things manufacturers were telling the public about their product 30 or 35 years ago.

The Aerocar was advertised as "the rich man's car at a poor man's price—$2,000." Today the popular priced auto sells for about $750.

The Winton was advertised "as easily controlled as the best mannered horse and safer because it cannot scare."

Some other slogans designed to ure the public away from the horse back in the early days included: Yale-"A car with the doubt and

sand too deep." Knox-"The car that obviates the Thomas-"The car that shuns the repair shop." In 1905 the Premier car somewhat proudly published a testimonial from two motorists who had run up a total of 500 miles on roads between Troy and Boston. According to the testimonial, total cost of the trip was $73.65-about 14 cents a mile. The driver today has an overall cost of 4 cents or less. Another testimonial said:

"I have used my Thomas Flyer nearly every day and have no use for a rope as yet."

Other Thomas Flyer advertisements said the car was "as sweet and sound as a nut, just as brimful and bubbling over with power, light on its feet and eager to get away, and at the same time instantaneously docile and obedient."

Of course the early automobiles came in for considerable ribbing by comedians. Magazines printed such howlers as the one about the lady who asked a tramp how he accustomed himself to such long walks. "Please, mum," said the tramp,

"I used to own an automobile."

Many Potato Varieties Are Studied by Botanist

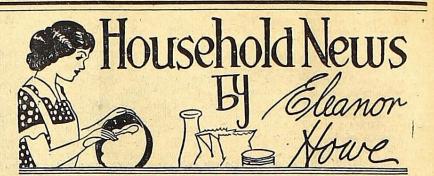

To the housewife and the restaurant patron the world of the potato may be divided into five partsbaked, boiled, French fried, mashed and hashed brown.

But E. K. Balls, an English botanist estimates that there are at least 600 varieties of potato. An account of his expedition in the highlands of western South America has recently been published.

In one single cultivated field in Peru, Mr. Balls found 15 different kinds. Wild types were found from Mexico to Argentina. By hybridization the botanists seek to develop a potato resistant to both disease and cold. In Bolivia Mr. Balls saw a potato that could withstand a nightly temperature of 22 degrees Fahrenheit without wilt-

In addition to collecting potato specimens, Mr. Balls made many photographs in the Andes. Among them was a series showing the use of the ancient Peruvian footplow.

SERVE A SUCCULENT STEW (Recipes Below)

There's something so homey and | with 2 tablespoons of cold water to tasty about a good stew, that most form a paste. Cook, stirring confolks feel cheated unless a stew of stantly, until the gravy thickens. Arone sort or another appears on the family table fairly regularly.

There are stews and stews, of course—lamb stews with feathery light dumplings and an assortment of vegetables to add flavor (and vitamins!); hearty Mulligan stews; and stews of chicken that masquerade under all sorts of fancy There are even "Cinderella

Stews," which start out as leftovers and end up as a well-seasoned onedish meal. Remember that "serving a stew" is an economical measure, and a time-saving one, as well. Stews and meat pies usually make use of the less expensive cuts of meat. Their preparation is simple, and they make a satisfying "One-dish meal," indeed.

Lamb Stew With Mint Dumplings. 1/4 cup butter

2½ pounds lamb (cut in pieces) 4 cups boiling water

1 tablespoon salt 1/4 teaspoon pepper 3/4 cup carrots (sliced)

3 cups potatoes (cut in cubes) 3 onions (sliced)

1½ cups tomatoes (canned) 1/4 cup flour

1/4 cup cold water Heat butter in large saucepan. Add meat and brown. Add boiling boiling, reduce heat and simmer 11/2 hours. Add vegetables and continue of Gumbo File. and water to a paste and add slowly. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Increase heat and when boiling vigorously add dumplings. Mint dumplings: 2 cups bread flour 2 teaspoons baking powder

1 teaspoon salt 1/4 cup lard 2 tablespoons fresh mint or parsley (chopped) 3/4 cup milk (approximately) Sift together dry ingredients, cut in fat and add chopped mint. Add milk and mix gently with a fork.

Drop by spoonfuls into boiling stew. Cover and continue to steam for 15 minutes without lifting the cover. One-Dish Sunday Dinner.

For a practical, one-dish meal that can be left simmering while one is in church on Sunday, chicken rice pilaff is unsurpassed. Cut a 3-pound chicken in pieces and fry in butter to a golden brown. Add salt and pepper to taste. When nearly brown drain off all but 1/4 cup fat, add an onion, finely sliced, a little chopped parsley and ½ of a bay leaf and fry 10 minutes longer. Wash 2 cups rice and spread over the chicken; add 4 cups boiling water, one small sliced tomato (or 2 tablespoons canned tomatoes) and 1 teaspoon salt. Stir gently; cover, bring to a boil and then simmer for one hour. A small family might have the best parts of the chicken fried one day, and the rest cooked this way the next day, using only 1 cup of rice and 2 cups

Lamb Riblet Stew. (Serves 4 to 5)

4 pounds lamb riblets (rib ends of breast of lamb)

4 tablespoons fat

3½ cups water 1 tablespoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper 5 medium size onions (peeled)

5 medium size potatoes (pared) 3 carrots (scraped, and cut in halves lengthwise)

Have butcher remove breast bone from breast of lamb, and cut between rib ends to form finger-like pieces. Wipe meat with a damp cloth, dry, and brown in hot fat. Drain off the fat, and add 31/2 cups of water to the meat. Cover, and simmer for one hour. Add seasonings and the onions, cover, and cook for 30 minutes. Then add potatoes and carrots. Cover, and cook for 30 minutes longer. Pour off the gravy, and add a tablespoon of flour mixed range lamb riblets in the center of a serving platter with the vegeta-bles around the sides. Pour gravy over top

Creole Chicken Gumbo File. 1 4-pound chicken

Flour, salt, pepper ½ pound lean ham 2 tablespoons lard or butter 1 onion (chopped) 1 sprig thyme

1 tablespoon parsley (minced) Garlic, amount you like, rub bowl 1/4 red pepper pod, without seeds Boiling water

1 dozen shrimp or more Creole Gumbo File

Clean and cut up chicken as for a ricassee. Dredge with flour, salt and pepper. Cut ham into small dices. Place lard or butter in soup kettle or deep stewing pot and when hot put in the chicken and ham. Cover closely and brown for 5 to 10 minutes.

Then add onion, parsley, garlic and thyme, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. When nicely browned, add boiling water just to cover chicken. Add bay leaf broken very fine-and red pepper pod. Lower flame and allow Gumbo to simmer gently until chicken is tender-2 to 4 hours. Remove carcass and bones. Just before serving, add 2 dozen shrimp, diced. Heat through thorwater, and seasonings; cover. When boiling, reduce heat and simmer 1½ add ½ tablespoon to 2 tablespoons Brunswick Stew.

Put one gallon of water in a large iron pot, bring to a boil, and add one tablespoon of salt. Add one onion minced fine, one pint of shelled butter beans, six potatoes peeled and sliced, six ears of corn cut from the cob, one-half pound of fat salt pork or bacon cut into shreds, onehalf teaspoon each of black and cayenne pepper. Two squirrels or one large fat hen, disjointed and soaked in cold water to draw the blood out, are next thrown into the pot. Cover closely and stew very slowly for two hours, stirring occasionally from the bottom. Stew one hour longer, add two teaspoons of white sugar and one quart of tomatoes peeled and sliced. Ten minutes before serving add one-fourth pound of butter cut into bits and rolled in flour. Bring to a boil again and serve on soup plates with dry rice. This is a dish men like and one they can excel in preparing.

Is Influenced By Exercise

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ONE of the things that for-merly was difficult to under-stand was how some men ate enormous meals and had no trouble with liver or gall bladder TODAY'S while others who ate meals of ordinary size were COLUMN troubled with indigestion, belching, desire to vomit, constipation, and other signs of a slow or sluggish liver and gall bladder. The explanation is that the heavy eater is one who is also active, takes plenty of exercise — riding, golfing, brisk walks and the other sits at his desk all day.

Nature meant that man should move about, bend his body, reach up and down, all of which not only

squeezes the liver and gall bladder but and gall bladder but also makes him breathe deeply. Deep breathing, by pressing the diaphragm (floor of chest and roof of abdomen) against the liver, squeezes it and increases the flow of bile.

Will bile not flow unless exercise is taken? Bile is manufactured and will flow down into small intestine, into gall bladder, and from gall bladder also to small intestine, even if no exersmall intestine, even if no exercise is taken. But the amount made and rapidity with which it flows can greatly be influenced by exercise. Over a Quart of Bile.

Just how much bile is manufactured in 24 hours and how fast it flows is recorded by Dr. I. C. Zuck- dress (8679) with high-cut front erman and associates, in American Journal of Digestive Diseases. A patient with a fistula - opening in duct carrying the bile-was observed when starved and no bile taken by mouth. Over a quart of bile was manufactured in 24 hours.

In regard to the rate of flow, it was found that the hourly rate of flow during day and night was fairly regular. There was, however, a sixhour interval during night and early morning (when patient was sleeping) when there was a noticeable decrease in the bile flow.

What does this teach us? It teaches us that when the body is completely at rest, bile flow is slower than when body is active. If, several times a day we would bend the body with knees straight or take a few long breaths we could increase the bile flow and prevent constipa-

The Prevention of Stones in Kidneys

ODAY physicians are not content I simply to treat kidney stone colic and remove large stones, but are studying the causes of these stones and how best to prevent these stones from forming. The Stone clinic was organized at the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston. Dr. Full-er Albright, in the New England

Medical Journal, says:
"The Stone clinic represents an effort to learn more about the prevention of kidney stones by a combined study of the problem by the general physician, the chemist and the urinologist (specialist in kidney and bladder diseases). There are undoubtedly many factors that influence the formation of stones-stasis (sluggish circulation), infection (from various parts of the body), lack of or insufficient amount of vitamins, lack of colloids (matter or substance in a glue-like condition), excess of crystalloids (matter or substance in a crystal form) in the urine, and so forth."

The thought then in investigating stones is that a urine of a certain composition precipitates or manufactures a stone composed largely of the substances thrown down by or precipitated by this certain type of urine-cystine stone, uric acid stone, calcium phosphate stone. This being the case then, medical treatment consists in trying to reduce the manufacture of the substances forming the stone by the urine, or to try to change the composition of the urine so as to keep the substances solvent.

The first step in the treatment is to find out the type of stone that is present. Dr. Albright states that taking large amounts of fluids is ideal treatment for all kinds of
