TAWAS CITY

207 BOYS AND GIRLS ENTER COUNTY 4-H

Definite Work Program Planned for the Year

According to a report recently received from the Iosco County 4-H Club officials, whose offices are in the County Building at Tawas City, there is a pleasing increase in Winter 4-H Club organization.

The total club enrollment to date has reached 207 members. Of this number 103 are clothing club members, 63 are handicraft members, and 41 are enrolled in the hot lunch project.

Each member is required to complete a definite number of articles or fulfill definite activities between now and April 2, which has been temporarily set for the Annual Spring Achievement Day. Each member is required to keep an accurate cost account of his project during the winter and inculcate this into a report and story which accompanies an exhibit of his club work at the Achievement Day program.

The 4-H Club program is available to people between the ages of 10 and 20 years who are interested in developing ownership and ability for themselves. The 4-H's which are so frequently referred to represent Head, Heart, Hands and Feet. The members who enroll in club work pledge their Heads to clearer thinking, their Hearts to greater loyalty, their Hands to larger service, and their Feet to better living for their club, their community and their country.

The club members thus far enrolled come from 12 clothing club groups, eight handicraft club groups and five hot lunch clubs. The clothing clubs are known as the "Happy Go-Lucky's" of Whittemore, led by Miss Elizabeth Robertson; "The Kees Sewers" of Plainfield township, led by Miss Lulabell Shellenbarger; "Busy Bees" of the Lower-Townline school in Tawas township, led by Miss Frances M. Klish; "Willing Workers" from the Anshuetz school in Tawas township, led by Miss Irma Rapp; "Stitch and Chatters" from Taft, led by Miss Martha Becker; "Happy Sewers" from the Vine school, led by Mrs. August Lorenz; "The Merry Stitches" from the Londo school, led by Mrs. Emil Holzheuer; "Busy Workers" from the McIvor school, led by Mrs. Austin Allen; "Handy Helpers" from Leidlerville, led by Miss Ruth Katterman; "Wilber Workers" from the Upper Wilber school, led by Mrs. Howard Gregg; "The Stitches and Chatters" from Hale, led by Miss Elizabeth Carter and Mrs. Sarah Johnson; and "The Turtle Clothiers" from Sherman township, led by Miss Frieda Ross.

The eight handicraft clubs are: "Handy Workers" from Hale, led by Bert Chrivia; "Wilber Wood Workers" from North Wilber, led by Howard Gregg; "Willing Workers" from the Anshuetz school, led by Irma Rapp; "Handy Helpers" from Leidlerville school, led by Ruth Katterman; "Vine Cedar Club" from the Vine school, led by N. C. Schuster; "Rip Saw Rulers" from Taft, led by Martha Becker; "Busy Workers" from McIvor, led by William Collins; and the "Turtle Hammer Hackers" from the Turtle school, led by Frieda Ross.

The five hot lunch clubs are: "The Busy Paters" from McIvor, led by Miss Grace Norris; "Wilbur Hot Lunch Club" led by Mrs. Howard Gregg; "The Turtle Snappers" led by Miss Frieda Ross; "Busy Body Builders" from the Schneider school, led by Miss Thelma Heilig; and "The Vigorous Viners" led by N. C. Schuster.

Other clubs including the Conservation Project "Deer Yard Study" will without a doubt be organized between now and the first of the year, according to the County 4-H leaders. This will mean an increase of approximately 100 members over that of a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grise and Al Gervais, of Detroit, spent the week end with the former's aunt, Miss Elizabeth Grise. Harold got his deer on Saturday.

Miss Margaret Fitzhugh will be hostess to the Women's Guild of the Christ Episcopal church on Monday evening at eight o'clock.

CHRISTMAS SEALS ARE NOW ON SALE

Help to Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

"On November 22, tuberculosis Christmas seals will again be sent out to the people of Michigan," states Luren C. Dickenson, Gov. of Michigan, in a proclamation made this week. For over 30 years the citizens of this state have responded to the call by giving voluntarily of their incomes so that the work of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, an organization engaged wholly in the struggle against the ravages of tuberculosis, may continue.

"The work of the tuberculosis Christmas seal, and that money is used throughout the year in research, tuberculosis case-finding, by tuberculin tests, and X-ray clinics, arranging for sanatorium treatment, and publicizing into every part of Michigan the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

"So successful has been the work that the annual tuberculosis death rate has been lowered from 200 out of every 100,000 at the beginning of the century to 36.8 in 1939. Even now there are 22 sanatoriums in Michigan devoted entirely to the treatment of those afflicted with this disease. Until this figure has been greatly lowered, the war against tuberculosis has just begun.

"Therefore, I, Luren C. Dickenson, Governor of Michigan, call upon the people of this state again to give freely in the buying of tuberculosis Christmas seals so that in the midst of destruction of human life across the seas, this work of saving lives may go on."

This year the tuberculosis Christmas seal was designed by Felix Lewis Martin of Loc Angles, the famous painter who has gathered inspiration from his own two children and love of music to put on the seal three singing children who symbolize those who must be most guarded from disease, according to Dr. George Sherman, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Groff-Irish
On Saturday afternoon, November 16, at 2:30, Rev. J. J. Roekle performed the marriage ceremony uniting Miss Fidalis Groff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groff, and William Irish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Irish, both of this city.

The bride wore a gown of navy blue crepe with a corsage of roses and baby mums. Miss Jeanette Koepke, acting as maid of honor, wore a gown of teal blue and a corsage of roses and baby mums.

Owen Wheeler, of East Tawas, acted as best man.
A wedding supper was served at 6:00 p. m.

The young couple will make their home in Detroit.

Nelson Pringle
Nelson Pringle, age 72, passed away at the home of his son, Kenneth Pringle, of McIvor, on Friday, November 15.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Methodist church at Whittemore, with Rev. H. C. Watkins officiating. Mr. Pringle was a resident of McIvor for the past 50 years.

WITH the HUNTERS

Six members of the Robin Hood clan hunted in the Iosco Game Area this year, according to O. DeWaard, superintendent. They were Bob Kumpula, Norman McLeich, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skane and Carl Barfield, of Detroit, and Jack Buck, of Flint. Every one was fortunate in getting a shot at a deer. One had four shots. The group used bows and arrows.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rollin proved a successful team in the woods this season. Both brought in deer. Now Russell is acting as guide for Superintendent Knowlton in the woods.

Reports indicate that many Iosco hunters have been successful.

Rollie Gackstetter's first attempt this season resulted in the death of a buck sheep, but eventually he was successful. Even though the deer he shot was shy one horn, he was satisfied.

Fred Rempt had been standing on a runway for only about ten minutes on the morning of the first day when a fine buck came into view. Fred took careful aim and brought it down with the first shot. Fred says "As I rushed over to cut its throat a terrible ringing sound assailed my ears. As the din increased, I awoke. It was the darned alarm clock awakening me to go hunting."

One of the finest specimens to be brought down by a hunter of this city during the season was the one shot by Wm. Wendt, Sr. It is a beauty, weighing 260 pounds, with ten point antlers.

Jack Elliott was one of the first ones last Friday to report his deer at this office.

Hunters say that the deer are in exceptionally fine condition this year. "No wonder," explains Henry Hobart, one of Wilber township's successful hunters. "They fed all summer on good alfalfa pasture and finished off with corn."

Frank Hill, a senior at the Tawas City high school, was successful in shooting a fine seven point buck.

While out in the plains the other day, Harold Gould called to Dr. John LeClair, one of his hunting companions, and said "I just got a glimpse of a big deer that was as black as a bear, but it didn't have any horns."

Only a few minutes elapsed when the two heard seven shots in rapid succession, fired presumably by two other companions, Dr. J. J. Austin and Dr. Earl Hasty. A short time later two crestfallen hunters came into camp—Dr. Austin and Hasty. The deer that was "as black as a bear" was a bear. Two of the shots fired had been effective in wounding bear. The last shot to him was fired by Dr. Hasty and the bear turned toward Dr. Austin. With the bear about ten feet from him, Dr. Austin took careful aim and pulled the trigger, but there was only a snap as the hammer hit the empty chamber of his rifle. He hurriedly tried to reload but had too many thumbs, dropping the shells several times, and by the time he got more cartridges in the gun, Bruin had disappeared in the brush. The two men trailed him for a time and then returned to follow the trail, but snow had covered it.

Senior Classes Invited To Visit Local Bank

"Coming Generations Week" will be observed by the bank of this community, states G. N. Shattuck, cashier of the Peoples State Bank. The event extends from November 25th to 30th and invitations have been extended to the senior classes of the several public schools of the county to visit the bank during the week. An announcement of "Coming Generations Week" appears on another page of The Tawas Herald.

An interesting phase of "Coming Generations Week" will be the essay contest sponsored by the Peoples State Bank and the Michigan Bankers association.

A first prize of $5.00 and second prize of $3.00 are being offered by the local bank to the seniors of the county for the two statements on "Why I Would Choose Banking for My Life's Work." In addition to these prizes, all contestants will participate in the state-wide contest in which the Michigan Bankers Association offers cash prizes of $75.00, $50.00 and $25.00; and an all expense paid week-end trip to Mackinac Island, staying at the Grand hotel during the summer of 1941. The trip includes parent or guardian.

An all expense paid trip on the Great Lakes by the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation company. This trip also includes parent or guardian.

Four box seats to a Detroit Tigers game during the season of 1941. Entrance blanks will be given at the bank during the visit "Coming Generations Week."

Frederick A. Ball
Frederick A. Ball, age 85 years, passed away at his home near Whittemore, November 7, 1940, after a few days' illness. He was born at Washington, Ontario, on July 19, 1855. He was united in marriage to Mary Ann Finch who preceded him in death September 26, 1926.

They moved to Mikado where they lived for two years. In 1888 they moved to Au Sable where he was employed by H. M. Loud & Sons until the Au Sable fire in 1911. They then moved to their farm in Burleigh township where he has since made his home. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Ball was a kind and thoughtful neighbor and always cheerful. His death came as a shock to his family as he had been active until two days previous to his death, and will be greatly missed in his community.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth DeRemer, one son, Orville Ball, both of Whittemore; five grandsons and one granddaughter; two sisters, Mrs. Wesley Van Tassel, of Mornmouth, Illinois, and Mrs. Robert Smith, of Farground, Ontario; and one brother, William Ball, also of Canada.

Funeral services were held on Sunday from the Whittemore Methodist church with Rev. H. C. Watkins officiating. Burial took place in the local cemetery under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

The many floral tributes and friends who came from the surrounding towns bespoke the high esteem in which Mr. Ball was held in the community. The many friends extend their deepest sympathy to the family.

DRAFT BOARD MOVES TO OLD BANK BUILDING

Iosco County to Provide Sixty-Eight Men For Service

The permanent location of the Iosco County Selective Service office will be in the old Iosco County State Bank building in Tawas City, stated H. Read Smith, chairman of the draft board. The files and equipment of the office have been moved into the building and everything was ready for business in the new location last Monday morning.

The draft quota for Iosco county for the year ending June 30, 1941, is 95, with a credit of 27 previous enlistments leaving a total of 68 to be filled during the period. Five men have received their medical examination in the first quota. The status of these men is not known because the reports of the medical board have not been returned.

Arthur A. Bigelow will leave next Thursday for Saginaw where he will be sworn in as a soldier in the United States army. Bigelow was the first to volunteer under the new service act. He is an exceptionally fine young man, has three periods in the Citizens Military Training Corps and his services in the army will be a credit to himself and the county. We wish to congratulate him.

Mrs. Carl Kobs, clerk of the draft board, said today that a few of the draftees had not returned their questionnaires. If the draftee does not ask for an extension of the time limit the questionnaire must be filled out and returned to the office within five days to avoid being delinquent. Delinquents are subject to prosecution. Questionnaires must be filled out in ink, not with a pencil, Mrs. Kobs said.

Aliens Must Register Before December 26
Alien registration will end on December 26 and all non-citizens who have not yet registered are warned that severe penalties will follow failure to comply with this Federal Law.

All aliens, 14 years of age and older, must register in person and be fingerprinted.

Alien children, under 14, must be registered by their parents or guardians.

Registration takes place at the post offices.

The Department of Justice warns aliens to beware of racketeers.

The Post Office Department and the Department of Justice will willingly assist the alien in every possible way.

Earl G. Harrison, Director of Alien Registration of the Department, suggests that those aliens who have not yet registered do so as soon as possible and avoid the Christmas rush at the post offices.

All aliens are also warned that, having registered, they are required to report any change in their permanent residence address within five days to the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice in Washington. Forms for this purpose are obtainable at all post offices.

No alien need be unprepared for the questions he will be asked. Sample registration forms which show him exactly what information he will need at registration are available in all post offices.

Mrs. Daniel Low
Mrs. Daniel Low, a former resident of this community, died last Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Parks at Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Low was one of Iosco county's highly esteemed pioneers.

The remains were brought here Monday to the home of her stepdaughter, Mrs. Martin Long, which had been the family home for nearly 65 years. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Frank Metcalf. Interment was in the family lot in the Tawas City cemetery.

Fox-Cadorette
Miss Margaret Fox, daughter of L. J. Fox, of this city, and Albert Cadorette, of East Tawas, were married Saturday morning at the St. Joseph rectory by Rev. Robert Neumann. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rouiller.

A reception was held at the Fox home for relatives and friends that evening.

They left on Sunday for Detroit where the groom is employed.

Emanuel Lutheran Church
Rev. J. J. Roekle, pastor
Sunday, November 24—

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Greeks Take Second Inning of War; 2,000 Killed in Rumanian Earthquake; Rumors of Changes in Next Cabinet; British Bombers Raid Italian Fleet

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WOODBRIDGE, N. J.—This scene of desolation met the eye after a terrifying blast leveled the United Railway and Signal Co., here, killing nine persons and injuring 33. Though the plant made torpedo signals for railroads, it was said to be working on a device of "great importance" to the army and navy. (For news of other powder plant blasts see "DEFENSE: Supplies.")

FOUR HORSEMEN:

Greece is connected to Fascist-held Albania by three highways running through deep mountain passes. Down these three highways marched Mussolini's blackshirt legions in the first week of his war with Greece. Back up the highways hurried what was left of the divisions in the second week.

The Greeks, outnumbered two to one, reported they had pushed the invaders back on the northern and central front. On the southern front they also claimed victory, said a complete Italian division was surrounded and wiped out.

England, still pounded by German warplanes, saw the Tower of London, ancient prison where famous prisoners were confined in the Elizabethan era, smashed by a bomb. One night the raiding planes had an unaccustomed hum. The English guessed they were Italians, a guess confirmed when one was shot down. The Italian onslaught brought demands in London for a raid on Rome, treasured architectural city until now protected by agreement. Said George Bernard Shaw, "There is no reason why Rome should not have it. If only people were not killed and we could select the places to be bombed, I would welcome an attack on London. They are knocking down a good many things we should have knocked down ourselves long ago."

Germany was being torn by tons of explosives also. When Adolf Hitler visited the Munich beerhall, Nazi shrine, R.A.F. fliers sought out the place and dropped explosives. Hitler cancelled the broadcast of his annual speech. The raiders found the spot just an hour after the address and sent high German officials scurrying to shelters.

Likewise when Soviet Premier Molotov and 32 trade and commercial advisers came to Berlin, the route over which their private train passed was bombed. The visiting diplomats escaped injury. The following day Molotov and Hitler held a three-hour conference during which it is believed the course of the two nations in relation to the Balkan countries was decided.

Death

The Pale Horseman rode over Europe in more than war. An earthquake shook Rumania killing an estimated 2,000 and causing millions of dollars of property damage. Destroyed also were some of the prolific Rumanian oil wells which have been supplying Adolf Hitler with the gasoline needed for his war machine.

Famine

Unable to ship food through the British blockade, the American Red Cross prepared to close all its stations in occupied and unoccupied France. All Europe was under strict rationing.

Pestilence

How long England holds out may depend indirectly more than directly on Nazi bombs. Millions of people were crowded into air raid shelters night after night, in foul air and weakened by loss of sleep. It is feared this may bring epidemics as soon as spring arrives.

On the continent, other millions, enfeebled by lack of proper nutrition, also are susceptible to disease.

WAR AT SEA:

British Losses

Britain was not hiding the fact that continued loss of freighter vessels was seriously interfering with the conduct of the overseas supplies. Neutral estimates have put the losses at 3,400,000 tons out of an available 30,000,000. The rate of sinkings has gone up sharply since June. Prime Minister Churchill told commons the losses were more serious than air raids, and said the British must expect even heavier attacks next spring. He sounded out Ireland on the use of bases there but Eire President De Valera rejected the bid.

One day Berlin announced that a convoy of 20 British ships had been attacked and sunk. It was believed a sea raider of the pocket battleship type was at large in the north Atlantic.

But three days later, London reports of the attack on the same convoy varied greatly from this Berlin dispatch.

Said the British: A German pocket battleship overtook a British convoy of 38 ships and a dramatic and heroic episode of the sea was then enacted.

The British armed merchant cruiser, Jervis Bay, steamed directly at the more heavily gunned and armored German ship and engaged in combat. Though outclassed, the gallant crew of the Jervis Bay continued shelling their enemy until at least 29 of the other ships of the convoy had made their escape under smoke screens. In the end the Jervis Bay was lost and Captain Fogarty Fegen, wounded in the battle, went down with his ship.

Italian Losses

Reports from London also told of a smashing bombing attack upon Italy's navy, anchored in the Mediterranean port of Taranto. British planes operating from an aircraft carrier were reported to have put out of action two battleships, two cruisers and two auxiliary craft and severely damaged a third battleship. Aircraft were used in the attack, according to London, because the harbor is too heavily fortified for surface craft to approach it. While the Italians described these reports as "fantastic," if they are true, it means that English domination of the Mediterranean is assured for some time to come. The vessels sunk or damaged represent about one-half of Italy's full fighting strength of larger vessels.

POST ELECTION:

The Aftermath

Rumors of changes in the cabinet were given scant attention by President Roosevelt, although there are excellent indications some will be made when the new administration officially starts January 20. Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes was the first to submit his resignation. He acted the day after election. There was no indication the resignation would be accepted, it merely was the same routine Mr. Ickes followed four years ago "to give the President a free hand."

War Secretary Henry L. Stimson is mentioned among those who may leave. New York's Mayor LaGuardia was mentioned as a possible successor. The "little flower" knows the army, was raised on an army post.

Death—Neville Chamberlain, appeasement prime minister of Great Britain, found the peace he so long sought. Amid the roar of German bombs around his Hampshire home, the ill and aged statesman died at the age of 71. Earlier it had been reported he would seek health in California, but his illness had proceeded too far for that trip to be undertaken.

Refugee

NEW YORK.—Mme. Annette Clemenceau, daughter-in-law of Georges Clemenceau, "The Tiger" of France in World War days, is photographed on her arrival in New York aboard the S. S. Exeter. The Exeter brought many American and European refugees from the war zone and the ship's officers told of two shots fired across her stern by a British patrol boat while the vessel was one hour out of Lisbon, Portugal.

CONGRESS: No Business

Congress continues the fiction of being in session, although virtually all but a few members left the city. Every other day officials of both houses appear, open the session, hear the official prayer, permit speeches to be inserted in the Record and then recess within a few minutes. There is no embarrassing roll call.

Agitation for an official adjournment is opposed by Republican leaders as well as many Democrats. They hold congress should be in the position of instant action, due to the troubling foreign situation.

One bill being worked out in the meantime is the Ramspeck measure for extension of the merit system to cover some 150,000 more government workers. The bill has been passed by both houses and is being delayed because the house won't accept changes made in conference. Final acceptance would make the Roosevelt administration the record-breaker for civil service extension.

Debt

Meanwhile Treasury Secretary Morgenthau warned the ceiling on the federal debt must be raised soon, due to heavy defense spending. A formal treasury request for new taxes and a higher debt limit—probably $60,000,000,000—is not expected until next January however. The present congress has voted almost $17,000,000,000 for defense. Morgenthau said the treasury has no idea of asking congress to pass a retroactive tax on government securities.

NEW STATE:

Hawaii Votes

By a vote of two to one Hawaiian citizens expressed a desire for statehood. The vote was merely a plebiscite, an indication of how the people of the 40 islands feel toward the question.

Agitation in the islands to become the forty-ninth state goes back beyond the time when the area was annexed to the United States. An element in the island then sought to make the annexation dependent on statehood. But congress merely granted the new land territorial rights.

The territorial legislature now is expected to petition congress again. If the petition is granted, the legislature must draft a proposed constitution which also must be approved by congress. A congressional resolution is the final step in the admission procedure.

DEFENSE:

Supplies

To equip the men who will operate U. S. tanks, trucks and planes, the army quartermaster depot at Philadelphia is working overtime. In one week the depot accepted bids on 900,000 bath towels, 15,000 pairs of gauntlets, 200,000 field hats, 10,000 pounds of twine, 20,000,000 yards of khaki cloth, 550,000 roll-collar wool overcoats, 2,000,000 pairs of leggings, 9,000,000 pairs of socks, 2,347,000 pairs of shoes and 750 bugles.

Engines by Ford

The Ford Motor company has been awarded its first defense contract, a $123,000,000 order for airplane engines. Last June, Henry Ford declared he would accept orders for the United States but not for Britain. The number of engines in the order was not announced.

Share for Britain

Great Britain will receive approximately 26,375 American-made airplanes before June, 1942. This was made possible by arrangement approved by President Roosevelt, who agreed to allow London 50 per cent of the planes which will be produced in the United States by that date. The extent of the British order was set at $2,000,000,000. The 50-50 sharing will extend to other munition needs, the Priorities board announced. Deliveries will be staggered.

Heat Always Good Remedy For Backache

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WHENEVER I see a man on the street walking as if his back were hurting him I want to stop and tell him about the backaches I have had in my time. My first backache, due to injury (braking my car) required a supporting brace (Goldthwait) for four years; the second attack, due to infected tonsils, disappeared when tonsils were removed; and the third and fourth attacks, due to infected teeth, disappeared when these teeth were removed.

With the backache due to injury I found that by assuming a certain position in bed I could be free of pain. With the backaches due to infection (tonsils and teeth), I found that the pain was worse when I was at rest and was less painful when I was up and walking about.

What many physicians, including myself, fail to remember, however, is that the backache due to injury may come on slowly because the injury is not due to some sudden strain but to some slow steady strain on the back. Many cases are due to men and women allowing themselves to become overweight, particularly over the abdomen. The increased weight of the abdomen causes a pulling on the joint between the spinal column and the hip bones. This causes not only backache but often severe pain down the upper leg—sciatica. In these cases, reducing the weight and the wearing of an "uplifting" abdominal belt takes the strain off these joints and gives great relief.

Abdominal Belt Also for Underweights.

However, those who are underweight may also have this pain if they are physically weak and do not stand correctly. Here also an abdominal belt is of help. Also, as men and women grow older and weaker there is an extra strain on the joints and muscles of the lower back.

The thought then in all cases of backache is to try to find the cause. While trying to find the cause—injury, infection, poor posture—heat in any form is good treatment. Heat not only soothes the nerves but relaxes the muscles, thus taking much of the "pull" or tension off the muscles and ligaments surrounding the affected part.

Tooth Disorders and Trifacial Neuralgia

ONE of the drug companies has distributed to the medical and dental profession an accurate and complete illustration of the distribution of the "fifth" nerve. The illustration shows how branches, large and small, go to every part of the face, jaws, cheeks, throat and to each individual tooth. I had it framed and it hangs on the wall of my office as I can so easily point out how one tiny nerve ending in a tooth can start pain in the large group of nerve fibers under the ear and cause that agonizing pain called tic douloureux, or trifacial neuralgia.

That other conditions of the teeth aside from impacted wisdom teeth may be causing this severe trifacial neuralgia is stated by Dr. M. Melchior in the Journal of Psychiatry and Neurology, Copenhagen.

Dangers of Extracting Teeth.

Dr. Melchior is very emphatic in pointing out the danger following extraction of the teeth. Pieces of the root or splinters of bone from the bony socket often remain which may heal into the jaw without causing any symptoms but which, after many years, may be the concealed cause of severe neuralgias.

Extraction of the teeth may develop little nerve tumors, thin ridges of bone, and fractures of the sides of the bony sockets in the jaw bone. Some of the pieces of bone stick out as bony edges and cut into the lining membrane of the mouth. These sharp edges are of course struck by food or other substances in the mouth, causing continuous injuries or soreness with resulting infections. The treatment for such cases is the removal of these jagged pieces of bone.

QUESTION BOX

Q.—What is sebum? What does it do?

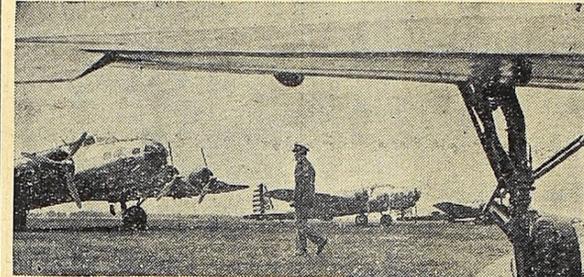

A.—Sebum is the name of the natural oil that is made in little oil sacs or sacks in lower part of skin. It comes up to surface of skin and keeps skin soft and pliable.

Q.—Does the five-meal-a-day plan mean to eat more food in the 24 hours?

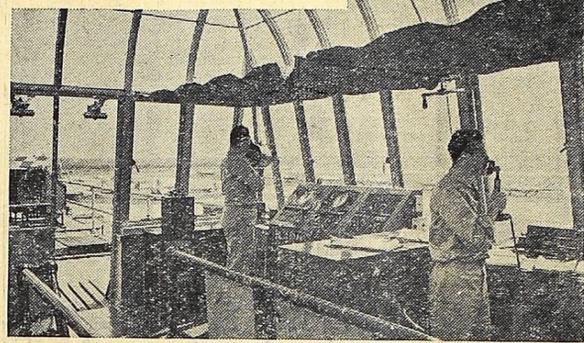

A.—No. Part of lunch and evening dinner is eaten at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Wings of Freedom for America!

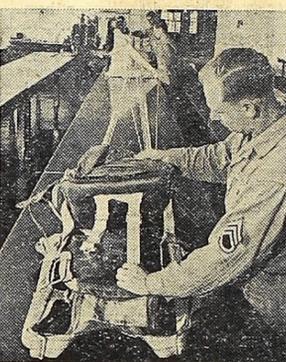

At Mitchell field, located on Long Island, New York, are roosted some of the most powerful fighting airplanes in the world, ready to give a warm welcome to any invader. Mitchell field is one of the key military air centers of the eastern seaboard. Once the casual visitor was welcome to stroll about, but not today! No chances are being taken with saboteurs or other weevils. This series of photographs gives you a peek at this eagle's nest, and will be good for your morale.

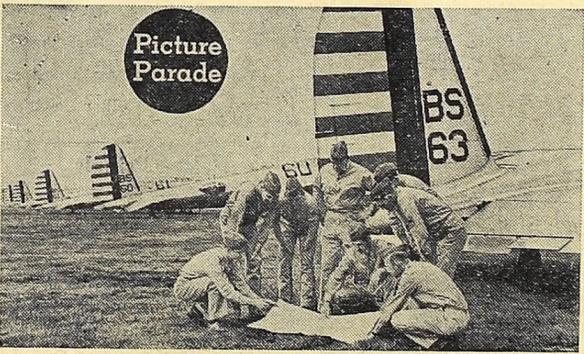

Above: "Flying Fortresses," technically Boeing B-17 bombers. Below: Observation traffic control tower. The officer in charge instructs pilots by radio telephone.

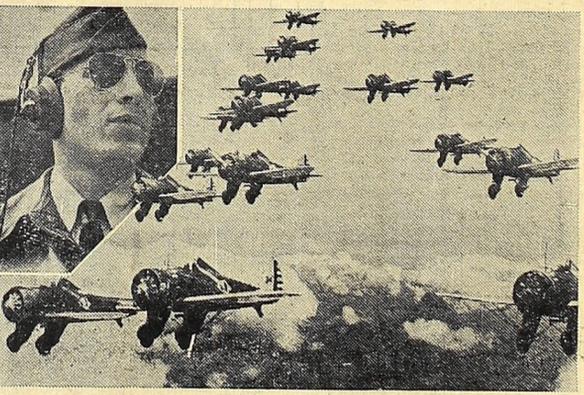

A bombardier connected with the first bombardment squadron holds a 100-pound bomb as tenderly as if it were his first-born child. The plane is an A-17 light bombing.

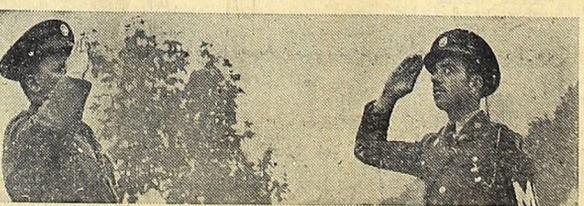

Sometimes a flier's life hangs by threads—the shroud lines of his parachute. In this department parachutes are periodically examined, very minutely.

Dwarfed by the striped rudder of a big bomber, the crew is in a huddle over a map on which the route of a practice flight is laid out. These boys "know their stuff."

Inset: Lieut. John Doerr, one of Mitchell field's bright young men. No maestro ever listened as intently for a false note as the lieutenant was listening to the roar of the motor when the camera caught him. Right: An impressive view of a formation of Curtiss pursuit ships roaring through the clouds over Long Island.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE by Reger E. Whitman

Cooling a House in Summer. QUESTION: Our attic floor is insulated. There is four feet from the floor to the peak of the roof. We are told that a ventilator would let out heat built up by the sun on the roof. This sounds logical, but I should think that a ventilator at each end would be better. What do you think?

Answer: Air confined in an attic is over heated by the sun beating on the roof. On a 90-degree day I have known attic temperature to be as high as 150 degrees. Heat from air confined in an attic under a peaked roof goes through the ceilings and heats the rooms below. It will take many ours after sundown for the attic air to cool off, and during that time rooms below will still be heated. The surest way to keep a house cool in summertime is to have plenty of attic ventilation so that air can escape as fast as it becomes heated. One excellent arrangement is a trap-door high in the roof with another trap door through the attic floor below. Air in the attic and in the house will then pass out as fast as it is heated, and be replaced by air coming in through open windows downstairs. The scuttle over the roof trap can be worked by cords going downstairs through the attic floor trap. If the attic has a stair, its door should be left open for the movement of air.

With this arrangement a house will cool off at sundown almost as rapidly as the air outdoors. If a roof trap cannot be provided there should be attic windows large enough to give cross ventilation. A large sloe-spand fan made for the job, placed to blow outward through an opening through the roof or attic wall, is a great advantage in speeding up circulation.

With house air permitted to escape as fast as it becomes heated, the temperature in the house will be little if any higher than the temperature of the air outdoors.

Clogged Cesspools. Question: What can I do to have my cesspool cleaned from water. I have two cesspools, one leading into the other. Can I use yeast to any advantage? Should I have them cleaned out? This would cost money.

Answer: Yeast will be of no use in a cesspool. A badly clogged cesspool is best left alone and a new one built alongside of it. If you wish to save yourself money and further troubles, by all means install a grease-trap. These traps are made of clay and are not very expensive.

Silver Plate. Question: When silver plate is put away, is it better to clean it occasionally, whether it is used or not? If the silver plate were allowed to get as black as it will, would the heavy tarnish injure the plate?

Answer: An occasional cleaning is advisable. Do not permit the silver to get very black; it will be difficult to clean when the silver is needed, and it may become pitted. Old silver is best cleaned by a silver-remover.

Stained Cistern Water. Question: We have just put on a cedar shingle roof, and find that it discolors the cistern water. Can anything be put in the cistern to overcome this condition?

Answer: The staining comes from the oils and coloring matter in the shingles, and nothing that can be added to the water will overcome it. Staining will continue until rains have washed the shingles clean. The length of time that this will take will, of course, depend on the dampness of the season.

House of Logs. Question: Would like your advice on which is a warmer house; one made of solid logs, seven inches thick; or a house with ship-lap outside and finished walls inside? Which is cheaper to keep in repair?

Answer: The seven-inch thick wall of logs will be warmer. The upkeep cost on the log cabin may be a trifle lower than the frame house.

White Paint. Question: Is there a pure white flat paint that will not turn yellow when used on a bathroom radiator? Answer: All white paints when subjected to heat for long periods of time will turn yellow. Some heat resisting enamels will last longer than the flat paints, but they also will change color eventually.

Cloudy Piano Finish. Question: What can be done to remove a cloudy appearance, which has come upon the finish of our piano?

Answer: Wipe the surface with a soft cloth dampened in a mixture of one tablespoonful of cider vinegar to the quart of tepid water. Then wipe dry.

Lights of New York
by L. L. STEVENSON

New York's latest free show is the razing of the old Ninth Avenue elevated railway from the Battery to the Polo grounds. Five crews are at work ripping up rails and removing ties. Next will come the cutting down of the steel pillars with acetylene torches. Then the spectators will get more thrills as it takes experts to handle the heavy sections without causing damage. That holds especially true as to the stretch along Greenwich street where the tracks extend over the sidewalks. Not only that but in the vicinity of Washington market there is an immense amount of trucking traffic, which has to keep on moving because foodstuffs are involved. The most spectacular bit of all will be the part of the tracks that makes a long bend at One Hundred and Tenth street. There the tracks are 100 feet above the street.

The high point of the elevated at One Hundred and Tenth street, used in the past by both the Ninth and Sixth Avenue trains, was long known as "Suicide curve." Men and women, weary of life, paid their nickels, passed through the turnstiles, climbed to the rail and leaped. There was a time when those who destroyed themselves were so numerous that merchants in the vicinity called on the city to force the erection of screens or other protection. Their complaint was due to loss of trade because patrons stayed away through fear of being struck or witnessing some terrible sight. Lately, however, those who destroyed themselves at that point became so few that for more than a year before the line closed, there was not one case.

Despite the fact that most New Yorkers are in such a hurry to get places that they will change from a comfortable local to an overcrowded express to save a few minutes in the subway, there are still those who prefer the few remaining trolleys to faster forms of urban transportation. I speak from experience since, having moved nearer mid-town, I have been able to free myself from the subway unless time pressure is too great, and thus have been able to do some field work. To my surprise, the cars on the Broadway line, during the morning and afternoon rush hours, are almost as crowded as the subways. True, passengers are not packed in like sardines but they don't have any too much space. That's all the more remarkable in this city of haste because, during rush hours, the progress of a Broadway trolley, until Columbus circle is passed, is leisurely indeed.

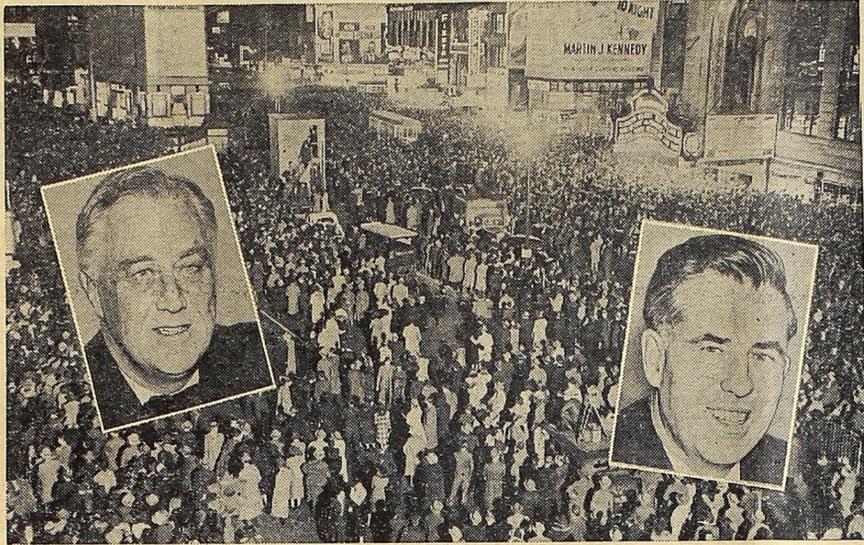

As you undoubtedly know from experience, reading or information, New York's subways in rush hours are really mob scenes. It's a case of first come, first served and just about everybody seems to want to be first. So the aged, the very young and the weak are pushed aside or trampled. The fortunate few who get seats hold onto them. As a matter of fact, I've observed young men, comfortably seated, actually endeavoring to flirt with girls hanging over them on straps. That doesn't hold true on the trolley cars. Repeatedly I've seen men get up and surrender seats to women or girls or even some tottering old man. It is graciously done and the acceptance is just as gracious.

Another thing I've observed, while journeying between Eighty-sixth and Forty-third streets morning and evening, is that young folks are decidedly in the minority on trolley cars. Youth doesn't care for a stop at every block, and sometimes, when taxis or trucks get in the way, several stops to the block. So a preference for noise, confusion, discomfort, bad air and worse manners on the part of boys and girls. Sleeping a little later mornings and getting away from work a little sooner evenings apparently overbalances crowding and elbows-in-ribs. And I have yet to see a young motorman. All seem to be veterans of the control handle and airbrake.

Out-of-towners drop many nickels into trolley car fare boxes. To the visitor, especially one in town for the first time, the subways are terrifying or at least confusing. Rather than get trampled or lost, strangers sacrifice speed and if they can't afford taxis, board trolleys. Another reason for trolley preference, as explained to me by a gentleman from Troy, is that it is possible to see something while traveling about the city. I don't own a nickel's worth of Third Avenue Railway stock, but I'm free to say that riding up or down Broadway in mid-town brings more than a nickel's worth of sights, while all the subway has to offer in the way of scenery is dirty walls and pillars.

PICK BREEDING HENS WITH CARE

Physical Form Is Important Factor in Selection.

By PROF. C. S. PLATT
(Associate Poultry Husbandman, Rutgers University.)

In selecting breeding hens this fall, consider physical development and breed type as well as egg production during the last 12 months.

One of the best means of measuring the physical development is the body weight of the birds, and in the white leghorn breed no individual that weighs less than four pounds should be considered for breeding purposes, while five pounds should be the minimum weight for hens of the heavier breeds, such as Rhode Island Red and Barred Plymouth Rock.

It is likewise just as important that the eggs the birds have laid have been large enough to sell for the best prices; namely, that they have averaged better than 24 ounces to the dozen, and in addition, have been of good shell color and strong shell texture. These factors of egg quality must receive due consideration in any selection of birds for breeding purposes.

If sufficient breeding records are available, the pedigree of the bird should receive due consideration, care being taken to use hens that have had a good ancestry and whose sisters have shown a tendency to satisfactory egg production. Such a background is an indication of strength in the breeding value of the stock. While it may not be possible to obtain many birds that come up to the standards suggested, still a small pen of such individuals would give much more promise of better stock in future years than a larger pen of birds showing weaknesses of an inherited nature.

Noxious-Weed Seed

Destroyed in Silage

Put weedy hay crops in the silo instead of the stack or mow, to stop the spread of weeds.

This is the substance of advice to farmers which T. E. Woodward, of the bureau of dairy industry, offers on the basis of experiments with seeds of noxious weeds buried in ensilage when silos were filled at the Beltsville research center.

Of 26 varieties of weed crop seeds that went into the silo, 23 were killed outright, and the germination of the other three—bindweed, Lespedeza sericea, and American dragonhead mint—was greatly reduced.

Many farmers have burned clippings from weedy pastures and hay from weedy meadows because they were unwilling to take a chance on fouling cultivated fields with the weeds in the manure hauled from the feed lot. When weedy material goes through the fermentation in the silo and then through the digestive process of animals there is no likelihood that weed seeds will be troublesome. The silo and the live stock will safeguard the cultivated fields, and the farmer can safely get out of the weedy material any feed values that exist.

Johnson grass seed was one of the varieties killed completely in the silo, and this suggests that making silage instead of hay may provide a new and safe way of making use of the good feed values of Johnson grass without the danger of spreading the seed to cultivated fields through manure.

Old, Used Wood

Is Good as New

Wood taken from old buildings can be safely used for other purposes, according to the U. S. forest products laboratory at Madison, Wis.

Age in itself does not cause wood to deteriorate in strength. If the material is free from decay, insect attack, checks, splits, or other defects, it should be good for re-use for any purpose for which the lumber was originally suitable, the forest products laboratory points out.

The principal cause of damage to wood in buildings is decay and decay cannot occur unless a certain amount of water is present, says the laboratory. In old buildings in which the sheathing, roof boards, floors, and other wooden parts have been well protected from the weather the wood will, in practically all cases, be as sound as when first erected. Wood may darken with age, but it has lost none of its original strength characteristics.

There can be no objection to re-use of lumber simply because it has been in use.

Culling Cows

Probably any time is culling time when a poor cow is being thought of. But now as cows come from pasture their owner should ask a few questions before he turns Bossy loose on a winter's free board and lodging. Diseased-udder cows, shy breeders, and low producers should all be asked what returns they can be expected to make. Maybe an empty stanchion and a full feed bin would mean more profit than a filled and an empty feed bin.

Hot Paint, Cold Job

When painting, always remember that for best results—the temperature of the paint and the temperature of the surface to which it is applied should be approximately the same. If warm paint is applied to a surface that is cold, the paint will likely run, sag or streak, whereas, if cold paint is spread on a warm surface it may expand in volume.

SUPERVISORS' PROCEEDINGS

OCTOBER SESSION, 1940
October 14, 1940

The Board of Supervisors for the county of Iosco met at the courthouse in the city of Tawas City, on Monday, the fourteenth day of October, A. D. 1940, in regular Annual October session, as set by statute.

Board called to order at 9:30 A. M. by Chairman Wm. Hatton, who ordered roll call. Present: Supervisors Anderson, Bellville, Black, Brabant, Burgeson, Cross, Hatton, Laidlaw, McAuliff, Nunn, Powell, Seifert, Schmalz, Schneider, Van Patten, McCuaig. Quorum present.

Communications from the city clerk of East Tawas authorizing E. V. Sheldon and E. Lonsberry to serve on the board in place of L. Bowman and R. Lixey were read and unanimously accepted. Mr. Sheldon and Mr. Lonsberry were given seats on the Board.

A report of the Dog Wardens of the county was read. Moved by Nunn, seconded by Van Patten that the report be accepted and adopted, and placed on file. The motion prevailed.

Communications were read and referred to the proper committees by the Chairman.

The committees were ordered to their respective duties by the Chairman, the balance of the Board to be at ease subject to the call of the Chair.

The Board was called to order at 12:00 noon by the Chair and it was moved by Bellville and supported by Cross and the motion prevailed that the Board recess until 1:30 p. m. same day. The Board so recessed.

Afternoon Session
The Board was called to order at 1:30 p. m. by the Chairman, who ordered roll call. Present: Anderson, Bellville, Black, Sheldon, Brabant, Burgeson, Cross, Hatton, Laidlaw, Lonsberry, McAuliff, Nunn, Powell, Seifert, Schmalz, Schneider, Van Patten, McCuaig. Quorum present.

The committees were ordered to their respective duties, the balance of the Board to be at ease subject to the call of the Chair. Upon call to order at 2:30 p. m., Dr. Sue Thompson of District Health Unit No. 2 addressed the Board regarding an appropriation for Health Dist. No. 2 for the coming year and the matter was referred to the Finance and Apportionment Committee. School Commissioner Rollin also addressed the Board at this time.

The committees were ordered to their respective duties by the Chairman, the balance of the Board to be at ease subject to the call of the Chair.

Upon call to order at 4:25 p. m. Supervisor Black read the following report of the Finance and Apportionment Committee:

Tawas City, Mich., Oct. 14, 1940
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Iosco County:

Gentlemen:
We, members of the Finance and Apportionment Committee, have had under consideration the communication from the East Michigan Tourist Ass'n pertaining to an appropriation to said Association for the ensuing year, and recommend an appropriation of three hundred dollars to be included in the 1940 budget.

Respectfully submitted: H. F. Black, E. F. Seifert, Ferd Schmalz, L. D. McCuaig, E. Burgeson.

Moved by Black, supported by Seifert that the report of the Finance and Apportionment Committee be accepted and adopted. The motion prevailed upon the following roll call: Yeas—Anderson, Bellville, Black, Sheldon, Brabant, Burgeson, Cross, Lonsberry, McAuliff, Nunn, Powell, Seifert, Schmalz, Schneider, Van Patten, McCuaig—16. Absent 2.

Supervisor Black read the following report of the Finance and Apportionment Committee:

Tawas City, Michigan, Oct. 14, 1940.
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Iosco County:

Gentlemen:

Wall Linoleums
An interesting combination for modern kitchens can be found in matched wall and floor linoleums. Wall linoleum, as a treatment for side walls, reflects the qualities that have made it popular for floors. Harmonious wall and floor blends are obtainable. Another use of wall linoleum, said by builders to be growing in popularity, is in shower stalls.

Pain in the Neck
On the glass-roofed trains that run in Germany between Munich and Berchtesgaden, the seats have head rests which prevent that pain in the neck which might come from viewing nearby mountain scenery through the roof.

| Welfare Director Kraus read a short report by the Welfare Commission and the matter of the new set up on Welfare Salaries was referred to the Salaries Committee.  |              |
| The Committees were ordered to their respective duties by the Chairman, the balance of the Board to be at ease subject to the call of the Chair.   |              |
| The Board was called to order at 4:30 p. m. by the Chairman.   |              |
| It was moved by Anderson, supported by Laidlaw that the Chair appoint a Special Committee of three to investigate the matter of publication of Supervisors Proceedings in the various county papers. The motion prevailed and the Chair appointed Anderson, Cross and Van Patten as the above committee.                                 |              |
| Supervisor Seifert read the following report of the Building, Grounds and Purchasing Committee: Tawas City, Michigan, Oct. 18, 1940 To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Isoco Co.   |              |
| Gentlemen: Your Building, Grounds and Purchasing Committee to whom was referred the request of the County School Commissioner for a typewriter for his office have had the same under careful consideration and recommend that the Clerk write to the different supply houses for prices on rebuilt typewriters, and that the Board give |              | the Committee the power to purchase the same.

In as much as the School Commissioner will not be using a typewriter full time we, the committee, think that a rebuilt typewriter will answer the purpose.
Respectfully submitted: W. J. Laidlaw, E. F. Seifert, F. L. Brabant.
Upon motion by Seifert, seconded by Laidlaw the report of the Building, Grounds and Purchasing Committee was accepted and adopted upon roll call. Yes—Anderson, Bellville, Black, Sheldon, Brabant, Brayman, Burgeson, Cross, Laidlaw, McAuliff, Nunn, Powell, Seifert, Schmalz, Schneider, Van Patten—17. Absent, 1.
Moved by Black, supported by Van Patten that the Chair set a time for the appointment of a member of the Isoco County Welfare Board and for the appointment of a Board of County Canvassers. The motion prevailed.
The Chair set the above time as Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 22, 1940 at 3:00 p. m.
Upon motion by Van Patten, supported by McAuliff, the motion prevailing, the Board recessed until Monday, October 21, 1940 at 9:30 a. m. (Continued Next Week)

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
At a session of said court held at the courthouse in the city of Tawas City in said county, on the 10th day of October, 1940.
Present, Hon. Herman Dehnke, Circuit Judge.
On reading and filing the bill of complaint to quiet title in said cause and the affidavit of Travilla G. Daines attached thereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above entitled cause, and,
It further appearing that after diligent search and inquiry it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether or not said defendants are living or dead, or where any of them may reside if living, and if dead, whether they have personal representatives or heirs living or where they or some of them may reside, and further that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry.
On motion of Travilla G. Daines, attorney for plaintiff, it is ordered that said defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in default thereof that said bill of complaint will be taken as confessed by said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns.
It is further ordered that within forty days plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be published in the Tawas Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, such publication to be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession.
Herman Dehnke, Circuit Judge.
Countersigned: I. H. McKenzie, Clerk of Circuit Court.
Take notice, that this suit, in which the foregoing order was duly made, involves and is brought to quiet title to the following described piece or parcel of land situate and being in the County of Isoco,

More Power to Thrift—more Thrift from Power
MOST people would be willing to spend a little extra for what Buick has to offer—style, size, room, steadiness, durability—if part of that extra could be paid back through lower operating costs.
Especially they would like really satisfying performance—quick take-off, easy hill-climbing, sure power, fast response—if they could have it in a car that's stingy with gasoline.
That's what we've given them—through the extra power in this 1941 Buick.
The added wallop of FIREBALL engine design and Compound Carburetion lets us use more thrifty gear ratios, saving money without complicating extra gears or mechanisms.
And the tremendous reserve-power in these Buick engines—at 40, for instance, you have as much as 85% of your power "on call"—still permits the flashing get-away, the swooping hill-climb, the sure lift out of pinches you once had to buy with heavy gasoline consumption.
So we say—more power to thrift—it helps put Buick thrill and comfort within easy reach.
And the reason is—more thrift from power—from abler engines.
It all adds up to the sensation of the year—the car you ought to see first—the brilliant, able beauty your Buick dealer has waiting for you.

MARKED MAN

By H. C. WIRE WNU Service

Off on his left, southward, a new ripple of gunfire sounded, and Walt heard unmistakably the fog-horn voice of Horsethief Fisher, and another that was like the baying of a Texas bloodhound.

He drew down, resting his winded horse, with a hollow feeling all at once, and he sat spent, alone as far as his gaze could penetrate the prairie top, while the ripple of guns moved on west and the thunder of cattle grew more and more distant.

Morning grayed at his back. Someone was coming. He wheeled and saw Paul Champion loping toward him.

The boy came up. "Why didn't you let me in this? Look!" He held up his forty-five. "I ain't fired a shot!" Gandy reined over to him and grinned. "That's all right, boy. Who's come? Everyone?"

"Sure. The boss got back, too. He's somewhere." "Did Helen..." Paul turned quickly in his saddle as if just remembering something. "Helen was there she is." He pointed into the gray dawn. "Wait, if she'll be all right with you I'll go find me some trouble!"

"Go ahead," said Gandy. "If there's any left." He swung to the ground and was standing braced against the black horse when Helen Cameron reined and dropped beside him.

"Wait!" she cried. "Listen, do you know? Lavin told me. I made him talk. It was... Walt... it was Stoddard!" "Wait a minute," he calmed her. "Wait now. Then tell me just one thing. Did Stoddard kill Ranger Powell?"

"Yes! And Chino Drake!" She choked, starting up. "Wait," said Gandy, putting out a hand to her.

In a moment her words came evenly, in full control: "I'm all right now. When I told Bent Lavin that Bill Hollister was not going to live, he talked. It's too terrible, but he has been so jealous of dad, and Bill too, that when he knew Chino Drake was playing traitor, he wouldn't tell us. Wait, it was Drake who took Bill's rifle from the rack and gave it to Stoddard. And Stoddard shot Powell with that gun! After that he couldn't let Drake live. Don't you see? He killed Chino and then put the gun back in our house himself and the whole thing looked like the C's doing."

She broke off; going on then with effort. "All this time Sheriff Battle has had the cad of some tracks. They were Stoddard's! But Battle was trying to prove they were Bill Hollister's."

"I know," said Gandy. "Bill laid himself open to suspicion by having those boot tracks flooded out. You know by this time, don't you, that he felt he was shielding your father?" She nodded. "I knew that only last night—there at Outpost cabin. Oh, if Dad and Bill had only talked! Each thinking his silence was protecting the other! I felt that Bent knew too much. But I thought it was something against Bill Hollister. I've been trying night and day to get it from him. He is so deaf he couldn't have heard any of those Drake or Powell shots, but he has eyes that never miss a thing. Walt, I had every reason to believe he held information against Bill Hollister, and had turned that information over to Jeff Stoddard."

She finished in a sudden rush of breath, "Stoddard can't get away! We can't let him slip out now!" Gandy held her. "He won't. You stay here. Don't leave. I'll not be gone long." He turned and gathered the black's reins and had drawn himself up into one stirrup, when from eastward across the prairie came the rolling vibration of a pistol shot. One, no more.

Helen blanched, gasping, "What was that?"

Walt stared into the gray morning; it was a minute before he said: "Couldn't mean anything much. But I guess if you'll get on your horse, we'll ride back together. We'll find Fisher, and he can pick up the loose ends here. Then you and I can go on in."

CHAPTER XXII

THEY came under the towering wall of the Emigrant Mountains toward mid-afternoon, miles ahead of the cavalcade that moved more slowly behind them. In the wind-break of timber, Helen leaned heavily on her saddle horn.

"I guess I'm tired," she said. Gandy looked at her. "It's high time you stopped! I've thought we could rest here."

There was much more that he had been thinking, filled with compassion these hours of watching her cross the winter-swept bench, riding knee to knee with him, uncomplaining. But these other thoughts he could not tell her.

Avoiding weight on his left leg, he was already sliding to the ground, and then stood near while without reply she dismounted. He pyramided three dry pine cones, crossed sticks over them and had an instant fire. Helen came beside him and they hunched down together, backs to a sheltering tree. It was she who spoke first. "I don't know where to begin, Walt."

"Why begin at all?" he asked, staring at the blaze. "No need." She shook her head. "I've got to. I feel so guilty. It's Bill Hollister I want to talk about, of course. Do you mind?"

"It's Bill I'm thinking of," he answered. "If only I could have loved him enough to marry him," she said bitterly, "this wouldn't have happened, and he would be living!"

Gandy stopped her, covering her hands with his and turning her toward him. "You can't say that. This range war has been brewing a long time. Bill saw what was coming, even saw what would happen to him. He told me."

"You mean he knew?" "Absolutely. That's why he called me into this country." Freeing her hands, Walt Gandy stared out across the gray flat of the Emigrant Bench, groping for what he was to say next.

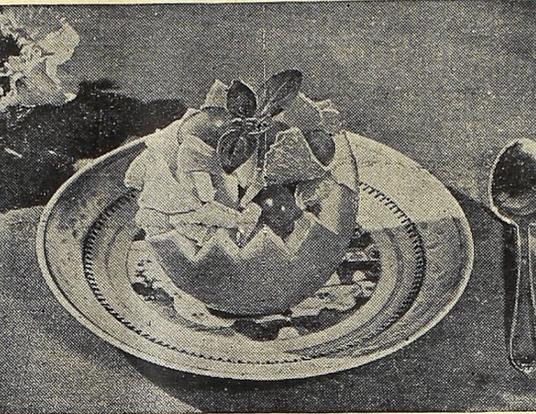

"Helen, I've been thinking it all over since last night. Bill wanted the C C and the rest of us to pull out of this hole more than he wanted anything for himself. He'd be satisfied to quit now. Do you see? I never had much religion of one sort, so I don't know how to explain it exactly, but it's like—well, maybe you know what I mean about Bill Hollister."

So falteringly had he spoken, and so from the depths of his feeling that the girl drew her eyes from him; and then impulsively turned and lifted both hands to his face. "You're fine, Walt Gandy; you're the finest that ever could be, and I know now why I waited."

He held her close, cheek against her hair; and could hardly believe this way in which his life was to go on.

[THE END.]

Household News By Eleanor Howe

FOR THAT EXTRA SPECIAL LUNCHEON

When your children are in school, and your husband is at work, you find little pleasure in eating a solitary meal. And when you are rushed with household duties, you are apt to grab a quick sandwich, or a steaming bowl of soup, and then continue with the tasks that are still before you.

But, you can take advantage of the days when the family is away, and the work all finished, to entertain your friends at a one-o'clock luncheon, a dessert luncheon for the bridge club, or for just a friendly get-together. A good menu and an attractive table will give you the poise and enthusiasm necessary to serve your guests easily and graciously.

Oftentimes the most easily prepared food may be the most attractively served. A fluted orange cup makes a colorful container for many fruits, which may be varied with the season. The fruit must be cut into pieces of convenient size, free from seeds and skin, except for grapes. It should be thoroughly chilled and combined so that it is a neat arrangement. If a few pieces are crushed or wilted, the whole concoction will look careless and unappetizing. Remember, an appetizer should not be too sweet, for as the name implies, the first course should sharpen the appetite.

For the rest of the menu you might like to serve mock chicken legs, baked potatoes, crisp green salad, crescent rolls, and as an unusual dessert, chocolate mint roll.

Fluted Orange Cup. (Serves 6) 3 oranges 1 banana 1 cup grapes 3 tablespoons sugar

With a sharp knife pierce to center of orange. Cut the orange in half, using zig-zag strokes that meet to make the points of the scallops. Separate the 2 orange halves, and remove meat from shells. Cut orange meat into pieces. Peel, and cut banana into pieces. Combine orange meat, banana and grapes. Sprinkle with sugar. Chill. Serve in well-chilled shells, garnished with a sprig of mint, if desired.

Chocolate Mint Roll. (Makes 1 11-inch roll) 6 tablespoons cake flour (sifted) 1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/4 teaspoon salt 3/4 cup sugar (sifted) 4 egg whites (stiffly beaten) 4 egg yolks (beaten) 1 teaspoon vanilla 2 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together 3 times. Fold sugar gradually into egg whites. Fold in egg yolks and vanilla. Then fold in flour gradually. Add chocolate, and beat gently but thoroughly. Turn into a 16 by 11-inch pan which has been greased and lined with paper and greased again. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes. Cut off crisp edges and turn onto a cloth covered with powdered sugar. Remove paper, roll, and cool. Unroll and spread half of mint frosting over cake and roll again. Wrap in cloth and cool for about 5 minutes. Cover with remaining frosting. When frosting has set, cover with bitter sweet coating, made by melting 2 additional squares of unsweetened chocolate with 2 teaspoons butter.

Mint Frosting. 2 egg whites (unbeaten) 1 1/2 cups sugar 5 tablespoons water 1 1/2 teaspoons light corn syrup Green vegetable coloring 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract

Combine egg whites, sugar, water and corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat with a rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, and cook for 7 minutes, beating constantly, until frosting stands in peaks. Add coloring gradually to hot frosting to give a delicate tint. Remove from boiling water, add flavoring and beat until thick enough to spread.

Mock Chicken Legs. (Serves 6 to 8) 1 1/4 pounds veal steak 1 1/4 pounds pork steak 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1/2 cup flour 1 egg (beaten) Cracker crumbs

Pound meats, after seasoning with salt, pepper and flour. Cut into 1 1/2-inch squares, and place 6 pieces, 3 of each kind of meat, alternately on a skewer. Press together. Chill for 1 hour. Dip in beaten egg and roll in cracker crumbs. Brown on all sides in hot fat in a skillet. Pour 1 cup water over the "legs," and cover. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour. (The liquid will all cook away.)

Corned Beef Souffle. (Serves 6 to 8) 2 cups milk 1/2 cup celery (chopped fine) 2 tablespoons onion (chopped fine) 2 tablespoons butter 2 tablespoons flour 3 egg yolks (well beaten) 3 egg whites (well beaten) 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs 1/2 teaspoon paprika 1/4 tablespoon salt 2 cups cold corned beef (chopped fine)

Scald milk in a double boiler with the celery and onion for about 15 minutes. Strain and cool a little. Melt butter in a saucepan, add flour, then the milk, and stir until smooth, stirring constantly. When boiling, add the bread crumbs, paprika, salt and corned beef. Remove from fire and add the beaten egg yolks. Fold in the well-beaten egg whites, and pour souffle into a greased pan. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) for about 45 minutes.

Rice Butterscotch. (Serves 5 to 6) 2 cups milk 1/2 cup rice 2 cups brown sugar 2 tablespoons butter 1 teaspoon salt

Scald the milk in a double boiler. Add the washed rice and cook until nearly tender (about 30 minutes). Meanwhile, melt the brown sugar, butter and salt, and cook for 10 minutes over low fire, until a syrup is formed, stirring constantly. Gradually turn this mixture into the rice and continue cooking until the rice is tender. Turn into wet molds and chill. Serve with cream and sugar, if desired.

Easy Entertaining. Everybody loves a party, from the toddling youngster to the sophisticated adult. A hostess who can entertain her guests with something new in the way of party ideas is indeed popular. You do not have to wait for a birthday to warrant a celebration, for soon there will be many holiday events to bring a group together.

Miss Howe, in her book, "Easy Entertaining," gives you many new party ideas and suitable menus with tested recipes. You may secure your copy of her book by writing to "Easy Entertaining," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and enclosing 10 cents in coin.

ATTITUDES TOWARD THE GOSPEL MESSAGE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 8:4-15. GOLDEN TEXT—Take heed therefore how ye hear.—Luke 8:18.

"He that hath ears to hear, let him hear," cried Jesus as He taught the parable of the sower. Thus He reveals the heart of the lesson—that it is the hearing of the Word of God, and the manner in which it is heard that determines the destiny of men.

One may hear and yet not hear at all. Some who imagine themselves deaf have perfect hearing, but are so preoccupied with their own thoughts that they do not grasp what they hear. To be in such a state as far as spiritual things are concerned is desperately serious. Jesus cries to you, "If you have ears, hear the Word of God."

A parable is an earthly story relating common things of life to illustrate and present heavenly truth regarding the spiritual life. Parables are simple, but profound. A parable does not need interpretation. The parable of the sower, or rather of the four kinds of soil, presents the hearers of God's Word as being like four different fields.

I. The Wayside (vv. 5 and 12). Through the fields of Palestine ran well-beaten paths, so hard from many footsteps that no seed could find lodgment and grow. The hearts of men are like that, with the world rolling its heavy wheels over the roads of our thinking, Sin and worldly pleasure add their bit, and the din and clatter of unwholesome or nonsensical radio programs cut their paths across our lives.

Little wonder that so much of the Word of God which we do hear is picked up by the devil's own birds and carried away. Let's break up the hard ground of our life's way-side.

II. The Rocky Ground (vv. 6 and 13). Here we have the shallow soil on the rocky ledge, where seeds grow as if in a hothouse, but wither when the steady heat of the summer sun comes upon them.

Shallow hearers are those who receive the word with joy, are carried away with emotional enthusiasm, and seem to be most promising as followers of Christ until the real temptations and trials of life come, and then they are gone. They are like the soldier who enjoys wearing the uniform and marching in the parade past the reviewing stand with bands playing and flags flying, but who deserts his post when his company goes into battle. Surely none of us wants to be that kind of a hearer of God's Word.

III. The Thorny Ground (vv. 7 and 14). The soil was good, the seed found its place to live and grow, but no one kept down the weeds, and they, as usual, got the best of the good seed.

Note carefully in verse 14 what are the destructive thorns and weeds in the spiritual garden. The very things people in our day most seek—riches and pleasure—are the things which choke spirituality. Watch them and root them out.

Observe also that the "cares" of this world are the weeds of the devil. How they do press upon us and hinder our spiritual growth. A man testified that while he had attended church for 20 years he had never heard a sermon because he was always thinking about his business. How about you?

IV. The Good Ground (vv. 8 and 15). The harvest comes from the good soil, and how it does rejoice the husbandman as it brings forth even up to a hundred fold.

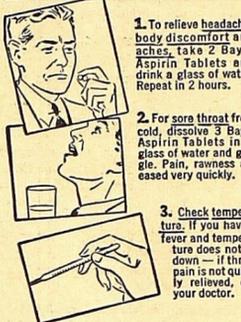

The hearers of the Word who are thus fruitful for God are "honest." They listen to really receive help and do something about what they hear. They have "good hearts"—a field plowed, prepared and weeded, ready to bring forth fruit. When they hear the Word they "hold it fast"—they are reverent, thoughtful and obedient to the Word. Then they have the "patience" to grow spiritually. It takes patient effort and devotion to do that, be sure of it (read Luke 21:19 in the R. V.).

In conclusion, we ask, "What then shall we do—sow only in the good ground?" No, let us ask God to break up the beaten soil of the way-side with the plowshare of His Word. Let us deepen the shallow soil, fight the weeds and thorns by His grace until they give up. Then let us go right on sowing the seed "in season and out of season" (read II Tim. 4:1-5).

In all such labors your heart will sing with joy because here and there you will be privileged to minister to "an honest and a good heart" which will bring "forth fruit a hundredfold" to the glory of God and for the encouragement of His faithful seed-sower.

Do Not Guess But let every man prove his own work.—Gal. 1:4.

Is your child a NOSE PICKER?

It may be just a nasty habit, but sometimes nose picking is a sign of something nastier. It may mean that your child has round worms—especially if there are other symptoms, such as fidgeting, finicky appetite, restless sleep and itching in certain parts.

Many mothers don't realize how easy it is to "catch" this dreadful infection and how many children have it. If you even suspect that your child has round worms, get JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE right away! Drive out those ugly, crawling things before they can grow and cause serious distress. JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE is the best known worm expellant in America. It is backed by modern scientific study and has been used by millions for over a century. JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE has the ability to drive out large round worms, yet it tastes good and acts gently. It does not contain salinifer. If there are no worms it works merely as a mild laxative. Ask for JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE at any drugstore.

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.

● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

A New Mystery Thriller by F. F. VAN DE WATER Author of "Thunder Shield" and "Glory Hunter" WHEN young David Malory accepted a job as switchboard operator in a swanky New York apartment house he didn't expect to become involved in a murder. But then, neither did he know that the elderly Miss Agatha Paget was such an amazing woman. Nor that her niece, Allegra, was so lovable. However, he soon discovered those things. And, in discovering them, he solved one of the most cunning murders ever to baffle New York's police department. "Hidden Ways," F. F. Van de Water's newest serial, is the kind of a story you'll like. We promise that! It's a lively, well-told yarn that will keep you guessing to the final chapter. HIDDEN WAYS BEGINS NEXT ISSUE

To Plan Social Life for Army

Movies, Amateur Dramatics, Games to Be Provided For the Soldiers.

WASHINGTON.—Movies, amateur dramatics, books, games, songbooks and army hostesses to supervise "the social life of the enlisted men" are all to be provided for National Guard and selective service trainees, as well as for the men of the regular army. This will be done by the morale division, recently set up in the office of the adjutant general, it was said by the war department.

To Boost Morale.

In all these various activities of the morale division, it was emphasized, the sole aim would be to strengthen the will and ability of the soldier to perform his military duties. It is believed, for instance, that army song leaders will prove effective in creating and maintaining esprit de corps.

"A singing army is a fighting army," said Major General Bell in the World War, and it is planned to publish an army songbook to encourage the soldiers of 1940-41 to keep up the tradition. Mass singing under competent direction will be encouraged and many singers of national renown have volunteered their services in this connection.

The army motion picture service will provide moving pictures. A typical week's offering at an army theater includes three outstanding features and also a double feature. The service is being extended to the tent camps and cantonments which will house the National Guard and selective service trainees when they join the army.

Movies Available.

At each cantonment there will be two theater buildings, each seating 1,000, and at larger tent camps "big top" tents will accommodate as many as 2,200. For troops in the field or at maneuvers, mobile motion pictures will be available.

In World War days the army hostess was a familiar figure. When the army was demobilized in 1919 no new hostesses were appointed. The present program provides for one chief hostess and two assistants at each larger camp. One assistant will supervise the cafeteria, the other will supervise social life.

With the exception of camps where Y. M. C. A. buildings or those of the American Red Cross already exist, supervision over welfare work on military reservations will be exercised by military personnel.

College Names Fireman

LANCASTER, PA.—Franklin and Marshall college honored John Price, a city fireman who never progressed beyond grade school, by naming him assistant curator of the college museum.

The post is an honorary one, and Price will continue to answer fire alarms.

Just as a hobby Price began collecting fossils for Dr. H. J. Roddy, museum curator and nationally known scientist. Not long ago the Smithsonian institution named a newly discovered fossil for the fireman. Princeton university and other educational institutions recognize his opinions.

"Price came up the hard way," Dr. Roddy said. "If you don't think he's good ask some of the big universities."

24-Ounce Bottle of Wine

Termed Ideal for Dinner
SAN FRANCISCO.—The proper amount of wine which a wine bottle should contain and the proper amount to be served at dinner is a matter of official record.

Before a public hearing by W. S. Alexander, federal alcohol administrator, H. A. Caddow, secretary-manager of the California Wine institute, testified that through the ages man has found three-fourths of a pint the ideal serving at dinner.

Hence, he said, the three-fourths of a quart bottle, or 24 fluid ounces, which constitutes a serving for two, is the ideal bottle for dinner purposes.

Geologists Report on

Great World Upheaval
DENVER.—A great sea once rolled over that part of America where the majestic Rocky mountains now tower.

Then came a mighty volcanic action that literally turned the earth inside out.

This happened 1,500,000,000 years ago, University of Denver geologists decided after a study of the formation of the Rocky mountain region.

Vital Defense Metals

From Alaska May Increase
SEATTLE.—Alaskan tin deposits may give the United States a measure of protection in the event foreign shipments are cut off.

The Far North will produce between 50 and 60 tons of the vital defense material this year, it was said by Jack Underwood of the chamber of commerce.

If the deposits are sufficiently large, he disclosed, a tin smelter will be constructed near Seattle.

Trim Coverall and Smart Tie-Around

TWO of the most useful aprons in the world are yours in this one simple pattern (No. 1993-B). One is the all-protective type that you rely on to keep your dresses clean while preparing supper. The other is the more or less decorative little tie-around that you wear when serving afternoon tea. Notice the special virtues of the coverall. It protects the top as well as the skirt of your dress; it goes over your head and ties in a jiffy. It's so cut that it can't slip from your shoulders.

Just leave off the bib part of the coverall, and you have the high-cut, saucy little tie-around. Batiste, gingham, linen, percale and seersucker are pretty apron materials.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1993-B is designed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 34 requires for #1, 2 1/4 yards of 36-inch material without nap and 6 yards rickrack; 1 3/4 yards for #2, and 3 3/4 yards trimming. Send order to:

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Millions of Years
The perfect reflection milady sees in her polished plate glass mirror is the result of 500,000,000 years of striving by nature to make the raw material. Scientists of a leading glass company in Toledo, Ohio, estimate that the special silica sand used to make fine plate glass "weathered" that long to attain the quality needed.

TAWAS CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS SHOULD A LIBRARY BE USED?

(Helen Krumm)
We can all answer that question. If a library should not be used, why have one? There would be no purpose in buying the books, standing them on the shelves, and not using them. That would be a waste of money, a waste of time dusting the books and shelves and cleaning the library. However this sort of thing is not a practice.
A library is an excellent place to increase our knowledge. If we wish to know more about history or government, we should go to the library for reference. If we wish to increase our learning in the field of science, the library furnishes material for us. If we like to read for pleasure, we again turn to the library.
Another fact to keep in mind in the use of the library is to take the best care of the books. Would you enjoy reading a torn, filthy book? Any person might go to the library and take out a book. When it is due he may return it in the condition in which he received it. He is doing his part in maintaining the book in a perfect state so that someone else may find it in the same condition as he did. Then someone else comes along, takes out the book, throws it around, tears the pages and maybe never returns it. You know that is not how a library should be used. Yes, a library should be used in a constructive way.

MUSIC

The Tawas City High School Band will give a concert FREE of charge to the public at the School Auditorium on Friday evening, November 29, at 8:00 p. m. They have some special novelty numbers arranged including an "Old-Time Band" and a "German Band." A cordial invitation is extended to everyone in the surrounding country to attend and witness the progress being made in the music department.

"TOBY HELPS OUT"

The Senior Class will present the play "Toby Helps Out," December 5 and 6, at the auditorium.
The following is a short summary of the play:
The bunch is out to win the play contest and the play they are to give is a very hilarious melodrama. However, they all regard it with deadly seriousness except the cut-up, Toby. Toby is to take the part of the poor old mother in the play. So while the heroine pleads with the cruel villain to spare her poor old mother, Toby, rigged out in woman's clothes, clutches his hair in despair, and lifts his wig off! He falls off a chair and goes through other antics that convulses the audience but make the cast ready to murder him! In addition, other actors forget their cues and every sort of comical mishap occurs. In the end, the bunch is just crushed, and then the judges' decision arrives to delight them, and the play ends with everyone celebrating.
Beside the play there will be some in-between acts which includes the German Band and some humorous skits.

SPORTS

(Phil Ross, Sports Editor)
Basketball
Do you like maroon and white as colors for basketball uniforms? We hope you do because these are colors of the new uniforms which have just arrived, maroon and white for the first team and solid maroon for the second team.
Basketball practice is still going its feet-aching, head-aching, muscle-aching way.
The boys are learning the zone defense system which has proved of such value to basketball teams.

The boys are taught not to see how many baskets each individual can make, but they are taught to see how many baskets the boys can make as a team.

Hunting

This year each student is allowed one excuse absence for hunting. This enables the student to get in some extra sport without harming his scholastic average.

So far the deer hunters, Buckeye, Marjorie, Willard, Harry Rollin and last but not least, Mr. Knowlton, have reported that "either they are no good as hunters" or that "they're so good that the deer know better than to come near them."
We wish them all better luck for the next time they go into the "wilds" after that "thing with horns on its head."

P. S. Later returns show that Frank Hill, another of our nimrods, shot a seven-point buck the second day of the season.

FRESHMEN NEWS

We received our report cards finally and some of us were badly disappointed.

Florence McDonald visited Evelyn Colby in school Friday.
How many pounds have you lost since you started basketball, Harry?

PRIMARY

We were glad to get our report cards last week.

Our new library books are very interesting. The first grade enjoyed hearing the stories of "Ladybird" and "Copy Cat."

We have been busy naking Thanksgiving Day decorations for our room.

THIRD and FOURTH GRADES
On Armistice Day copies of Willard's famous picture "The Spirit of '76" were colored by all pupils. Each person has also colored a Pilgrim boy and a Pilgrim mother.

In story hour the pupils are hearing Margot Austin's "Oice Upon a Springtime." It is a story of three American children and their pets.

SEVENTH and EIGHTH GRADES
Pupils of the seventh grade have been making graphs in arithmetic.

Dwayne Leslie and Jack Rollin did the best work on Wednesday.
Lucille Malcolm's cousin, Barbara Loisell, of Flint, visited our room Friday.

We are decorating our room for Thanksgiving Day.

COMING GENERATIONS WEEK

A Greeting To All High School Seniors

THE BANKS and trust companies of Michigan, four hundred seventy-one of them, extend to you—the high school seniors—their compliments on the effort you have made to acquire an education.

The week of November 25 to 30 has been set aside as a time devoted to your interests. We would like to meet you and would feel it a great compliment to us if you would come down and pay us a visit.

Some day you will have to assume our responsibilities. You will have the vision, the imagination, the nerve and the judgment keyed to your time and your generation to carry on the best interests of good banking for your community.

We want to meet you, believing that you may find in our business an inspiration and opportunity for your life's work. Dollars make the wheels go around—they are the tools of business, of society, of the home. Banking is the management of these tools, and we realize that these elements form the very life of our community.

This is why we are proud of our business and a bit selfish about to whom we pass on this heritage. Come down and see us. We would like to know you, and we hope you will want to know us. Undoubtedly your father and mother are good friends of ours, and some day you yourself will find our service of value to your plan of life.

The door is open, the latchring is out, and there's "WELCOME" on the mat for you and your friends.

We are looking forward to meeting you during
