P.-T. A. Notes

While deer seem quite plentiful this season, and many of our hunters have been successful in filling their licenses, the inroads made by dogs last winter has certainly affected the deer population. In one small area of deer territory more than 300 carcases of dead deer were found during the height of the dogs' activities.

When leaving for hunting camp Thursday afternoon, Vic Marzin-ski said, "You'll not see me again until I get my deer, if I have to stay out there until the end of the season."

Five deer and a bear were bagged by a party of five hunters at the Graham huting lodge near Curran. FOR SALE-200 choice ewes. D. I. The party consisted of Harry Graham of Bay City, Gordon Shaw of Detroit, Archie Graham, Howard Graham and Edward Graham of of Jackson, spent the week end in Whittemore. Edward Graham, 75 years old, one of the successful hunters, is the father of Harry, Archie and Howard.

> Where are all the deer I have been hearing you birds talk about," grumbled Larry Smith in the barber shop the other afternoon. "Herds of 20 and 30 deer! Say, I have worn my legs off hunting during the past day or so and I haven't even seen a doe,"

Locating a small knoll on which to sit the other day, Albert Howitson turned around to see how far he was from the runway on which he had been hunting. The distance being satisfactory he again turned to his seat, but to his amazement discovered

NEUTRALITY: Revision Complete

When the house voted 212 to 194 to permit the arming of U.S. merchant ships and allow them to sail through war zones into ports of nations at war it amounted to a repeal of the neutrality act's main provisions. For as the senate had already adopted the same measure, the administration's battle on this vital issue was over.

As a vote neared on the measure a warning came from President Roosevelt that its defeat would be evidence to Hitler that "the United States is disunited." For a while there were strong indications of a Democratic revolt in the house, as many members were reported to be demanding a firmer presidential stand on defense strikes in return for "going along" with the Roosevelt foreign policy.

When the President's warning, in the form of a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn, was read before the house, it was inferred that assurances were being given that the strike situation would be dealt with and many mem-bers were reported to have then fall-en in behind the White House revision plans.

Marked by a hectic battle on the issue, the principal fight centered repeal of the combat zone and belligerent port provisions. For shipping arming had already been approved by the house and senate tacked on the controversial provision when it passed the broader bill and returned it to the house for

GERMANS:

Fighting Front

Frank admissions from Berlin that the attack on Russia was entirely stalled no longer had been withheld as the Germans were finding it necessary to explain to the people the failure of their armies to capture Leningrad, Moscow or the defenses in the Donetz basin.

German press announcements blamed entirely the weather. It also was claimed that the Russian defenses, especially around Moscow, were based on the knowledge that the German mechanized army could not operate over fields and through woods on a terrain covered with snow and rain.

One communique said: "This has forced us to use roads instead of traveling cross-country, and these roads are literally minefields, especially the shoulders."

The other day the ninth anniversary of their Vox Pop program, the first outbreak of the growing quiz craze, now rampant on all networks, was celebrated. In an age of deepening uncertainty, people find great felicity if they happen to know how many toothpicks there are in a cord of birchwood -and sustenance for an ailing ego. Messrs. Johnson and Butterworth cash in in a big way.

Parks Johnson is the son of a Methodist minister. He had been a captain in the World war, a newspaper reporter, a cotton broker, and in 1932 was running a one-man advertising agency in Houston, Texas. A client wanted a radio idea. Mr. Johnson quizzed himself at length and got the right answer.

He set up a microphone in the lobby of a Houston theater and began his quiz. At first he had to hand out one-dollar bills to lure participants, but the "mike-fright" soon passed and Vox Pop quickly became a successful program.

Mr. Butterworth, former pho-nograph salesman, radio singer and announcer, came in later. Soon after they were estab-lished in New York their program was on a big network. In 1940, they carried their microphone more than 50,000 miles around the country, and to date, have asked about 300,000 ques-

Removing Dents in Wood. WHEN a table top is dented by the dropping of a candlestick or other heavy object, the dent can usually be taken out by a process that will swell the fibers of the wood. For this the finish around the dent should be scraped off so that bare wood is exposed. The dent is then covered by a cloth dampened with warm water, which is pressed by a warm-not hot-iron. The steam produced will be absorbed by the dented fibers, which will then swell, and return to their original positions. The refinishing of the table top will be required, at least in that part around the dent. Should the wood be actually gouged, so that some of it is removed, the hole that is left can be filled with stick shellac. This can be had in all shades of wood col-ors at many large paint stores and from dealers in cabinet makers' supplies. An old screwdriver is heated to a point at which it will melt the shellac, and a litte of the shellac carried by the blade is then transferred to the hole. If the correct amount of shellac is picked up, the surface can be smoothed by the warm blade; if too much is used, the surface can be cut off with a razor blade. A job of this sort can be so neatly done that the patch will hardly be noticed.

Thermometer Setting

One of my correspondents describes an interesting experience with a thermostat. He could not understand why the house felt so cold with the thermostat thermometer standing at 70 degrees. After a time he checked with a second thermometer, and found that the thermostat was registering two degrees higher. His service man was called in and adjusted the thermometer by lowering the glass tube, so that it registered correctly. He says that home owners might be interested to know that thermostat thermometers are often so made that they can slide in relation to the scale, to change the reading, should it be out of adjustment. I am sure that the above information will be found useful. An experiment with thermometers that is usually startling to those who have not tried it is to take the temperature of the air at floor and ceiling at a time when the wall thermometer is standing at its normal 70. Only too often the low temperature on the floor is the unsuspected cause of chilliness.

Avoiding Greasy Hands. When a dirty or greasy job is to be done, time will be saved by first coating the hands with something that will keep the dirt from working into the pores of the skin. One good material for this can be made by dissolving 2 ounces of gum arabic in 1 pint of water, to be mixed with 1/2 pound of soap chips, dissolved in 1 pint of water. The liquid is heated in a double boiler, and 1 ounce of lanolin is then added. The result is a soft paste, to be rubbed well into the skin, and especially under and around the finger nails. On finishing the job, the hands can be washed with clear water, or with soap and water. It is worth while to make up a quantity of the compound, to be stored in tin cans or glass jars until needed.

Smoky Furnace.

Question A piped hot air furnace admits soot to the rooms, in spite of a recent cleaning. What treatment should it have?

Answer: Smoke and soot are escaping from the firebox into the air passages through open joints between the furnace sections, due to the giving out of the cement with which they were packed. The best remedy is to renew the cement, which should be of a variety made for the purpose and resistance to heat. Even with the best cement, the job usually gives out in five years or so.

'Woody' Smell. Question: About a month ago I was given a bedroom suite of maple furniture. I do not like to put any of my things in the chest of drawers because of the very strong "woody" smell inside. Airing does not seem to help. Is there any way to get rid of this odor? Answer: "Paradi" (moth) crystals make an excellent deodorizer. Put a generous amount of the crystals in each drawer and allow to remain for several days.

Faded Veneer. Question: A damp towel was carelessly left on brown walnut veneer, and made a grayish cloudy stain. How can this be restored? Answer: The damage is probably only in the finish. Try the effect of scraping it off with a razor blade. If this also removes the color apply successive thin coats of oil stain of the proper shade; get a color sample card at a paint store. Finish with a thin coat of varnish.

shot for market or food. While few have died of this Davis III disease, three out of four cases in one family all of whom had what is known as "conjuncitval" type died inside of eight days. Therefore, when you skin and dress cottontails even though you shot them yourself, be sure that the rabbits are healthy for the sick ones are easier to hit than are those that are well.

Deer fly or rabbit fever (Tulare-mia) is an infectious disease caused by the bacterium tularense which in 1912 was found to be the cause of a fatal epidemic among the ground squirrels in Tulare county, California. The disease is also epidemic among the cottontail, jack and snowshoe rabbits which constitute the great reservoir of the infection. High susceptibility is also found in man, in monkeys, guinea pigs, mice, wood-chucks, opossums and coyotes.

Study of 121 Cases.

While man may acquire the dis ease from the bite of the deer fly which has bitten a rabbit or other rodent that has the disease, he does not acquire it from the rabbit tick that carries it from animal to animal in nature as that tick does not bite human beings. Most human beings are, however, acquired by those who skin or dress diseased rabbits. As a result, most of the human infections occur during the "open season" for wild cottontail rabbits, the months of November, December and January. A study of 121 case histories shows that 58 were ever prays for us. This does not in people who would clean and dress or cook the rabbits; 32 in farmers, words, but the moment by moment ranchers and sheepherders and their help; 18 in laboratory workers who were studying the organism; and only 13 in all other occupations. Human cases due to manipulating diseased jack rabbits have occurred from April through September. Those due to the bite of a tick that infests man and rabbits occur in March, April, May and June and those due to the bite of the deer fly in June, July and August.

There is an incubation period of about three days in most cases followed by a sudden onset, often while the person is at work, of headache, vomiting, chills, aching bodily pains, sweating, prostration and fever. During the active stage of the disease which may last from two to three weeks, weakness, loss of weight, recurring chills, sweats and prostration are common. In the type with conjunctivitis there may be convulsions, delirium and stupor but fortunately no permanent impairment of vision has been reported. In the typhoidal type, fever is the only symptom and its course is very similar to that of typhoid fever from which it can only be differentiated by laboratory tests. Convalescence is slow. Most people who have the disease are unable to return to full time work for about three months and a few have been at least partially incapacitated for from six months to a year yet few have died because of it.

UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL CUNDAY CHOOL Lesson

PRAYER AND THANKSGIVING

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:5-15; Ephe sians 5:20; I Thessalonians 5:16-18. GOLDEN TEXT—Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks.—I Thessalonians Being one with Christ, the Christian finds prayer to be as natural as breathing. As he walks with the Master he talks with Him, praises Him, thanks Him, makes his petitions and his needs known to Him. We feel, however, like Christ's disciples who asked Him to teach them to pray (Luke 11:1).

I. Instruction in Prayer

Approaching the subject from the negative viewpoint, Jesus told them
1. How Not to Pray (Matt. 6:5, 7).
Prayer, which is the highest privilege of the Christian, is beset by some deadly dangers.

a. No hypocritical performance (v. 5). Some who wished to be seen in prayer managed to be in a conspicuous place at the Jewish hours of prayer (nine, twelve, and three o'clock). There, before a ground they put on a prayer (the all they put on a prayer (they all they all crowd, they put on a prayer "show" for the benefit of the onlooking audience. Such a prayer is designed for the ears of men and never reaches

b. No vain repetition (v. 7). We do not need to repeat our petitions. God knows our need (v. 8). When repetition is the outpouring of an earnest and urgent heart it means much, but that is different from just repeating phrases.

2. How to Pray (Matt. 6:6, 8, 14, 15; Eph. 5:20; I Thess. 5:16-18). Public prayer is sometimes both necessary and proper, but usually our prayer should be a. In secret (v. 6). When we pray we should be free from distracting influences or personalities. We are talking to God and should give ourselves entirely over to communion with Him. b. In faith (vv. 6, 8). God knows what we need even though He waits to be inquired of concerning it. He will answer prayer so as to honor His name in our lives and in our testimony before others. c. With forgiveness (vv. 14, 15).

No one who comes before God with an unforgiving spirit toward his brother is ready to ask God for the forgiveness which he himself so greatly needs.

d. With thanksgiving (Eph. 5:20). To give thanks is altogether fitting as we come to God in prayer. Note that we are to be thankful "always" and "for all things," not just when some special blessing or favor has come to us. e. Without ceasing (I Thess. 5:16-18). Union with Christ enables us to pray without ceasing, even as He prayer of a heart and life lifted to Him. With such praying comes constant rejoicing (v. 16).

II. A Model of Prayer (Matt. 6:9-

The prayer which our Lord taught His disciples was intended to be a model rather than a form of prayer. We may repeat it, however, if we put into it the prayer of our hearts.

1. God and His Glory (vv. 9, 10). Recognizing Him as our Father to whom we may and must come for all things, we in all humility ascribe all honor to Him. Then we pray that His kingdom may come, not only in the future (and we look forward to it!), but now, in our own hearts. The true believer wants the will of God done in his own life and throughout the earth, even as it is perfectly done in heaven.

This prayer begins at the proper point. A right relationship with God brings true blessing on earth. The one who prays is now ready to present to God

2. Man and His Needs (vv. 11-13) Daily bread is mentioned first for without it life could not continue This is the constant need of man, and his great struggle. God is able for that problem, and only He is able. Unless He gives "seed to the sower and bread to the eater" (Isa. 55:10) we are gone.

But man has even greater spiritual needs. Sin needs forgiveness, weakness needs strength, the power of the enemy of our souls calls for deliverance. Again God is able and ready to hear man's prayer.

One of the sad things about the study of prayer is that we are all so ready to talk about it, discuss it, even preach about it, and then do so little praying. Knowing how to pray, and admiring a model of prayer, will profit us nothing, unless we pray.

Good Work Never Fails So, then, Elijah's life had been no failure after all. Seven thousand at least in Israel had been braced and encouraged by his example, and silently blessed him, perhaps, for the courage which they felt. In God's world, for those who are in earnest there is no failure. No work truly done, no word earnestly spoken, no sacrifice freely made, was ever made in vain .- F. W. Robertson.

Avoid the Peaks and Help Defense

THE chart above shows the ebb and flow of Long Distance telephone calls during an average week-day in Michigan.

Notice the sharp peaks in midmorning and mid-afternoon. That's when business activity is greatest when many important defense calls must go through.

See the third peak around eight o'clock in the evening. That's when your out-of-town friends are most likely to be telephoning.

At these peak periods our switchboards and circuits carry their heaviest loads - heavier now than ever before, because of defense, increased business and new homes.

If you can time your calls to fit the "valleys" instead of the "hills," you'll get faster service and find more people free to talk.

Adams said he apparently had put the money in his trousers pocket in which there was a hole, and the money fell through into the artificial limb.

DEFENSE COMES FIRST WITH OLDSMOBILE! Oldsmobile's great productive capacities are devoted first to the manufacture of artillery shell and airplane cannon. Remaining facilities are employed in producing, in limited number, Oldsmobile's new B-44-a car that's stamina-styled and stamina-built. Thus, Oldsmobile contributes both munitions and materials to national defense.

BETTER LASTING, BETTER BUILT THAN ANY OLDS IN 44 YEARS!

This is the story of an American family in depression years. Laura Maguire, wife of Mike Maguire, happy-go-lucky editor and mayor of Covington, is mother of four children:

Tom, whose real estate job in the big city near Covington is shot and who separates from his wife, Mary Etta, secretary to a big shot, when she refuses to give up her job to return to Coving-

Alec, who, unable to get a job, runs

CHAPTER XVII

Alec Maguire gravely balanced himself on one foot like a stork and squinted along the bottle of gin as if it were a shotgun.

"Ready, fire!" he said with vast solemnity and killed the bottle dead. Myra laughed herself into hiccoughs. "You're so comical," she

They were seated in one of the alcoves which lined the large dining room at the Porterville Swimming Pool. They had been sitting there since four that afternoon. According to the original plan they had intended to start back home when they had their swim. Only Myra had dared them to go somewhere else where they could dine and dance.

To do Alec justice he had meant to go home for dinner. But he felt unusually low that day. The only relief was to get so cockeyed he could laugh and laugh.

Natalie, who so far had been more sleepy than convivial, suddenly giggled. The mechanical orchestra at the other end of the big pavilion was playing an old record, "Shuffle Off to Buffalo."

"Why don't you two stop fooling and pull a real one?" she suggested. The others stared at her. "I mean elope. Get married. I mean middle-aisle it. Or what have you?"

Alec stared. Marry Myra Boone! For a moment he was jolted back to himself and saw the woman beside him with painful distinctnessthe coarse blowsy face, the weak self-indulgent mouth, the metallically yellow hair which was drab at the roots. Everything within him revolted. Marry a woman like that! Take her home to Laura as his wife? He'd rather die.

"I said you weren't game," murmured Myra.

The drive back to Covington did nothing to clear Alec's confused brain. Myra put the gas throttle down to the floor board and the speedometer touched eighty more than once.

They had just entered the suburbs of Covington, still at a maniacal speed. Each of them at the same moment saw the big fire engine careening toward them down the middle of the street. Myra was a true neurotic. She covered her face with her hands and shrieked. It was Alec who reached over and gave the steering wheel a tremendous jerk. It threw them into the opposite curb to the detriment of fenders and running board. But at least they did not meet the fire engine head on. "And was that a near thing?" laughed Alec. The others, still weak from shock, huddled in their seats and said noth-"Where's the fire?" Alec asked of a man running down the street. "Over on Kirby Street."

Kirby Street! Mike had always said those ramshackle buildings down that way were nothing but fire traps. He had begged the City Council for years to condemn them before they went up like waste paper in a bonfire, taking their dreadful toll of innocent lives. Alec's brow was wet with sweat.

"Sit down and let's get going." muttered Myra irritably. "We've a little private matter to attend to." She meshed gears, and the big car shivered away from the curb and began laboriously to pick up speed.

Alec had, however, already snatched open the door and leaped out. By the time she had brought the big machine to a halt which burned the tires, Alec had picked himself up and disappeared toward that ominous coppery glow across the tracks.

He knew before he was within two blocks that his hunch had been right. The conflagration undoubtedly centered in that section of Kirby Street where Pete Knight had a dingy flat. Alec began to run faster. Covington had a naive idea of adequate police protection. Usually there was little need for anything elaborate in that line. But in emergencies things were likely to get beyond the venerable chief and his two men. They were doing all they could to hold the crowd back from the danger zone. But that amounted to little. Alec, already feeling the heat of the blaze on his face, slipped under the ropes. The whole row of dilapidated frame buildings was a strut of licking, crackling flames. Alec's heart turned over. Quite suddenly he saw Lou. She was standing in a little knot of weeping women and children. All of them hugged small possessions which they had rescued from the fire. Lou clasped the straggly red geranium in its forlorn tin can to her breast. Like the rest of the women she stared as if fascinated into the roaring red flames. Tears ran slowly down her cheeks. Lou seemed dazed by the completeness of the disaster. "Lou," said Alec huskily. INSTALLMENT TWELVE-The Story So Far Ritchie Graham, also a newspaper man,

She turned slowly and stared at him. Her eyes were a little blank and they returned at once to their fascinated study of the crackling, leaping flames which were feeding greedily from roof to ground on flimsy buildings. Alec looked around for her father. He thought it likely the old sot was dead to the world somewhere in a gutter. Pete had failed Lou on every other occasion. It was too much to expect him not to now. But Alec discovered Pete Knight almost at once just out of range of the flying sparks. A tragic yet ludicrous figure, as usual. Reeling a little as his bleary eyes stared into the inferno before him. Once he attempted in a clumsy way to aid with the fire hose but he succeeded only in drenching himself. People laughed hysterically. Even at that grim moment shambling Pete Knight furnished the comic relief.

"I don't know what we're going to do," whispered Lou suddenly. 'Everything's gone except what we've got on our backs."

"Gee, Lou, I'm sorry-" he began, but paused abruptly.

women and the frightened whimpers of small children. Alec folowed strained pointed fingers with his eyes. A little boy stared from the window of the flat to the left of the staircase. A small, white-faced boy with a crutch and eyes mad with terror.

"It's Joey! Bess Wilkins' Joey!" shrieked a woman.

Alec knew about Bess Wilkins. She was night operator in the telephone office down town, a widow with one crippled child whom she had to leave alone while on duty.

"Oh, God, everybody forgot Joey!" sobbed Lou. "They're spreading a net," yelled someone. "Jump, Sonny, we'll catch you!" The child, peering from the upper window, stared down at the web spread to receive his thin frail body. Then the little cripple slid slowly to his knees and vanished out of sight policeman. Alec whirled. A shambling figure was on the staircase weaving in his tracks, but fighting his way up against the ferocious heat and blinding burning smoke.

"Father!" wailed Lou Knight. Alec caught her in his arms. She fought him furiously, but he held her against his heart.

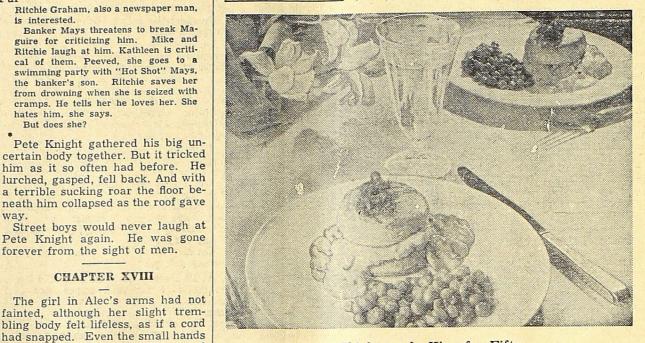

Pete Knight had reached the top landing of the stairs. Flames licked out at him from the upper corridor. Then suddenly he was inside the burning building.

A great sigh swept over the crowd.

Lou hid her eyes against Alec's breast. He held her tightly in an agony of pity. There was a gasp, a tremendous cheer. People surged forward. Pete Knight stood at the window of the flat. He had Joey in his arms. A limp, unconscious Joey! Awkwardly but gently Pete Knight, still swaying on his feet, tossed the child out. The web caught the thin little body. Again a sigh rose from tightened throats.

"Jump, man! Save yourself!" "Father!" screamed Lou.

Church Supper Ideas

What is so gay as a grand, big get-together full of informal fun, the hum of pleasant conversation and plenty of good food thrown into the bargain? A church supper, of course!

The fun will take care of itself and the food-well, almost if you get the right amount of it, for the cooking's as simple as only simple can be. Chicken's a treat any way you serve it, but very easy to prepare and serve if you do it this time-tried, old-fashioned, favorite way ladled out of a big kettle with plenty of cream sauce onto feathery light hot biscuits:

*Chicken or Turkey a la King. (Serves 50)

4 4-pound chickens, stewed, then cut meat into pieces

1 18-pound turkey, stewed or roasted, meat diced 1 pound fat (chicken or turkey fat and butter mixed) 4 cups flour

2 gallons scalded milk 1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 large cans 2 tablespoons minced onion

11/2 teaspoons or more salt 3/4 teaspoon white pepper 1½ teaspoons paprika

2 sweet green peppers, chopped (optional)

2 pimientos, chopped (optional) 1/2 cup egg yolks (6 eggs)

Melt about three-fourths of the fat, add the flour, and blend thoroughly; add scalded milk, stirring rapidly with a wire whisk to keep well mixed. Cook until starch taste is gone-about 10 minutes. Cook the mushrooms, sliced, in remaining fat, until delicately browned and add to sauce with the onion. Beat egg yolks and mix with a small amount of the hot mixture to blend and add to the sauce, stirring thoroughly. Cook 4 or 5 minutes more. Add turkey meat. Season to taste (with paprika and pepper mixed into salt). Add peppers and pimiento, if used. Serve on hot biscuits.

The simplest way to prepare the chickens is to cook them in seasoned water, to which a small onion, 2 carrots and a small bunch of celery are added. Chickens are handled best if disjointed and the breast and back sections cut into convenient-sized pieces.

Baking Powder Biscuits. (Serves 50)

4 pounds flour 3/3 cup double-acting baking powder

2 tablespoons salt 1 pound shortening (21/2 cups)

5 cups milk Sift the dry ingredients together, add fat and mix lightly. Make a well in the center and add the milk.

LYNN SAYS:

Attractive salads pep up meals besides adding nourishment plus to menus. Salads in winter are a little hard to plan because of the scarcity of fresh fruits and vegetables, so I suggest you try these for solving your salad problem: Prunes stuffed with cream cheese and nuts, served with orange sections and lettuce. Cooked beets and cooked carrots diced with celery, mixed with mayonnaise. Orange sections served with tiny cream cheese balls. Marinate oranges in french dressing

THIS WEEK'S MENU

*Chicken a la King *Scalloped Potatoes *Sunset Salad Bread and Butter Assorted Cakes *Coffee *Recipe given

Mix just until the dough holds to-gether. Divide dough into fourths and make ¼ at a time. Roll on a floured board, pat to 1/2 inch thickness, cut and place on baking sheet. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a hot (450 degree) oven until golden brown.

*Scalloped Potatoes. (Serves 50)

10 pounds (6 quarts) sliced potatoes 2 quarts hot milk

½ cup flour 1½ cups butter

3 tablespoons salt

1 tablespoon pepper Peel potatoes before weighing. Before measuring, peel and slice. If large, cut in two lengthwise before slicing. Into six baking dishes put a layer of potato, then a slight layer of flour, and repeat until all potatoes are used. Dissolve salt, pepper and butter in hot milk. Pour over potatoes, cover and cook in slow oven for 11/2 hours or until done.

Best idea for a salad is this one that's made in advance and needs only to be sliced and placed on lettuce leaves for serving. It's as gay and colorful as the get-together itself.

*Sunset Salad. 18 ounces lemon gelatin

21/2 quarts hot water and canned pineapple juice

1½ quarts grated raw carrots 1½ pints canned crushed pineapple, drained

2 teaspoons salt Dissolve gelatin in hot water and pineapple juice which has been heated to 130 degrees F. Chill. Combine carrots, pineapple and salt. When mixture is slightly thickened, fold in carrot and pineapple mixture. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise and grated carrots. Makes 32 portions.

Just in case you want to make up a church supper menu of your own, I'm listing additional recipes:

Meat Loaf. 10 pounds ground round steak 2 pounds ground pork or salt pork 4 eggs

1/2 pound bread crumbs 2 onions

2 tablespoons salt

2 teaspoons pepper 1 quart cold mashed potatoes 1 quart milk or canned tomatoes

Mix thoroughly, mold into five loaves, and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F., until done. Makes 50 servings.

*Boiled Coffee. (Serves 50) 1¼ pounds coffee (6¼ cups)

2½ gallons water 2 eggs Mix shells, whole eggs and 1 additional cup of cold water with coffee. When the water comes to a boil, add the coffee egg mixture which has been tied in a bag, to the boiling water, and boil for 3 to 5 minutes. Test for strength. When ready, remove bag, let coffee stand 10 to 15 minutes before serving.

The wife of one of our famous football coaches, Mrs. Lou Little, likes to serve a simple but hearty meal after the game. Jot this one down as an idea for an after the game supper or church supper idea: Hot mulled cider, casserole of pork and beans, buttered hot date-nut bread, celery, pickles, and chil sauce; jellied cole slaw; doughnuts and coffee.

For the casserole, used canned pork and beans with tomato sauce; heat in the oven about 20 minutes. As a decoration use half slices of date-nut bread. Put them around the top of the beans for 5 minutes be fore the casserole comes out from the oven.

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizzinces, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Braley quoted a statement which is especially true of shop:

"Pack of the beating hammer By which the steel is wrought, Back of the workshop's clamour The seeker may find the thought." The shop boys are finding the fol-owing to be true:

Business is good when the tool is Dull tools do not work for the best-craftsmen. The cutting end of the tool is the business end. Failure is not the worst thing in the world-The very worst is not to try.

The man who thinks ahead of his work is a sure winner over the one who works ahead of his thinking.

A short program followed the business meeting in which the first six grades took an active part.

The program opened when the first graders explained the meaning of the salute to the flag and then ended by giving the salute. Having the youngsters put these phrases into simple words, thus showing that they understood the meaning, was most impressive.
