Heart Attack Fatal to Tawas Supervisor

Services for William Schmalz held Sunday

William Schmalz, prominent Isoco county farmer and supervisor of Tawas township, died early last Thursday morning. A heart attack was the cause of death.

William Schmalz was born in Tawas Township on May 7, 1884 and spent his whole life in the township. On April 12, 1921 he was married to Ida Timreck, who survives him also three children; Sgt. Carl Schmalz, stationed in Germany, Mrs. Ruth Rainsberger of Tawas City and Mrs. Dorothea Sheldon of Detroit, also two sisters, Miss Helen Schmalz of Tawas Township, Mrs. Marie Krueger of East Tawas; two brothers Ernest Schmalz of Detroit and Ferdinand Schmalz of Royal Oak, besides a host of friends in the community.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Emanuel Lutheran church with Rev. J. J. Roelke officiating. Burial in the Tawas City Lutheran cemetery.

Duengel-Austin

An impressive candle light service in the chapel of the Metropolitan Methodist church, Detroit, Irene Austin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Austin of Whittemore was united in marriage to Edward Duengel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duengel of Detroit. The Rev. M. L. Simpson performed before 200 relatives and friends on Friday evening February 8th before two hundred relatives and friends.

The altar was decorated with twin candelabra and white gladioli and white roses. The bride wore a gown of pure white satin, her gathered hoop skirt ending in a long train. The dress had a yoke of net outlined by a lace ruffle with lace ruffles at the sleeves, which came to points over her hands. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a beaded Dutch bonnet, she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Dorothy Norton formerly of Twinning was maid of honor, was gowned in sea-foam green and georgette; and Betty Jane Duengel sister of the groom was bridesmaid, wore a gown of orchid satin and net and each wore a veil and bonnet of crossed bands of net and seed pearls, the color of their dresses and each carried colonial bouquets of roses and gladioli.

Thomas Scott of Detroit was best man and Russell LeMay of Detroit was usher.

Mrs. Austin selected a black brocade crepe dress for her daughters' wedding. Mrs. Duengel chose a grey (Turn to No. 1, Back Page)

Mrs. Elmer Malenfant is spending two weeks at the home of her son, Richard Malenfant in Saginaw.

Hereford Men Hold Annual Meeting

Elect New Directors; Discuss 1946 Plans

Discussion of plans for the coming year and the election of Board of Directors members was the order of business at the annual meeting of the Northeastern Hereford Calf Breeders association held last Tuesday at the Federal Building, East Tawas.

Among the speakers at the meeting were, E. L. Benton, Livestock Specialist of the Michigan State College; C. M. Harrison of the Farm Crops Department; Carl Wright of the Farm Management Department of the college, and O. B. Price, Agricultural Representative of the New York Central Railroad.

The association directors elected were:

Isoco County—Waldo Curry, C. T. Prescott, James P. Mielock, Elmer Britt and S. E. Wood.

Ogemaw County—W. A. Crandall, George Diebold, Louis Davis, L. D. Keyes and Hodgins Bros.

Alcona County—Dallas Ford, George Leonski, John Kingston, Harry McDougald and William Lattin.

Arenac County—Robert Stuerman and Percy A. Crawford.

Oscoda County—Ross Stonebreaker, C. T. Barstow and George Davis.

Stock Specialist Benton offered suggestions on improved feeding and breeding and urged that every effort should be made to keep up the high standard of calves produced here. He also said that our young people should be encouraged to enter 4-H calf club work.

Red Cross Gives Useful Service to Serviceman

A seaman stationed in the Pacific and his mother, critically ill, are together today because of efforts of the Red Cross Service Department of Isoco County.

What the department did for the VanWormers of Hale is only one phase of its many duties, which include everything from helping a serviceman's family when in need of emergency funds to hustling off veterans for immediate medical care.

The American Red Cross serves as an official channel of communication between the people of the United States and the Army and Navy. For this reason the Home Service Department renders services to men in the armed forces and their families which are not, and cannot be, duplicated by any other agency.

The Red Cross Home Service Department of Isoco County is composed of Mrs. William J. Leslie, chairman, three sub-chairmen, and one clerk; all of whom are volunteer workers. Although none of the money from the fund drives goes to pay executives or chairmen, much is needed to carry on their work. Approximately $1000.00 are lent annually to servicemen and their families, $200.00 are paid for telephone service, and $450.00 for telegrams. The amount spent for the latter two items will gradually become smaller; but, at the same time, Home Service workers anticipate an increase in the requests for loans.

The war is over for millions, but the war is never over for the Red Cross. So Give!

Chas. Prescott Candidate for State Senator

Makes Announcement This Week

Charles T. Prescott, of Prescott, President of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association, and owner and operator of a large cattle ranch in Isoco and Ogemaw County, has announced his candidacy for the State Senate.

Mr. Prescott, in a recent interview stated he was not as interested in politics as he was in the continued development of the natural resources of Northeastern Michigan.

He stated that the east side of the district had not had direct representation at Lansing for about twenty years and he agrees with many others that the east side is about due for recognition.

Mrs. Elmer Malenfant is spending two weeks at the home of her son, Richard Malenfant in Saginaw.

A Communication

National City, Mich. February 20, 1946. Attention County Road Commissioners and County Engineer.

And any other taxpayers who may be interested.

There are a number of questions which have been asked many times among the people of Isoco County concerning road matters, without any satisfactory answers. Therefore, we have decided to ask you, through the county press from time to time, the things we would like to know.

Why is the water allowed to run down the highway instead of the ditch in many places? Must we point out the places!

Why were the employees of National Gypsum Company compelled to drive through water for a distance of sixty rods west of National City last spring after every heavy rain through the summer? Water so deep that several cars were stalled from being wet. Why was nothing done about providing drainage for this water this spring? Why is the same condition allowed to exist east of National City after every sudden thaw or heavy rain?

Why weren't the main roads dragged the night before the freeze after the recent thaw?

Why did it take several days to get sand on the worst hills on the county roads after the same freeze, namely the Hale Creek Hill, the AuGres (Turn to No. 4, Back Page)

AN INNER SANCTUM MYSTERY
STARRING ARAB AND ANDY BLAKE WNU FEATURES

THE STORY THUS FAR: Lt. Andy Blake, assigned to Operations, was agreeably surprised by the arrival of his wife, Arab, who had come to Washington to take a job with Ordnance. On the bus while looking for living quarters for Arab, she said she was going to write down all of the loose talk taking place on the bus. While she was in the act she was noticed and the cry of "Spy" rang out. Arab and Andy were able to jump off the bus, but in following her Andy tripped and passed out. When he came to the FBI questioned him, and he told all about Arab's work, and that she had been mistaken for a spy. Andy was told to be sure that Arab did not interfere, but rather to report to FBI in the future.

CHAPTER III

"Andy! Please, Andy. You've got to help me. You—"
I jammed my foot on the starter. "Am I? You aren't staying here." She wrenched out of my grip, flung open the car door, and jumped to the sidewalk. She turned for a moment. "And if you won't help," she choked, "I'll do it alone." Her heels clattered on the walk and up the curved steps and then the door opened and she was gone.

I sat there in the car. I sat there doing nothing. I wish I could even claim that dozens of reckless plans boiled through my head. Only one plan went through my head, and it limped through. I wanted to call a cop. That, of course, might be the very worst thing to do. It would identify Arab publicly as the girl in the white raincoat without solving any of the mystery.

Probably I would have waited there until arrested for overtime parking if the problem hadn't been decided for me. The door of the Q Street house opened and a rugged-looking guy came out. He was tall and had shoulders which crowded the doorway. He eased himself down the steps and came, limping slightly, to my car.

"A guy wants to see you outside, Jack," he said.

"I don't get it," I said. "What's the idea?"

He drawled, "Are you coming out nice, or do I dig for you?"

I wasn't happy. The Army likes its officers to stay out of trouble, and has a few dozen regulations to that effect. You can get a court for a street brawl. But this case seemed to call for taking a chance. I shrugged off my blouse and cap, so that I wouldn't be wearing any insignia, and started to get out of the car on his side.

That was a mistake. I was only half out when he hit me. My head bounced off the door frame and got caught in a cross-rip of short hooks. It felt like having my head rattled in a giant dice box. Galahad was smiling. He could have dropped me with a real punch but he didn't try. He seemed to be having fun. I got a foot up against his ribs and shoved hard. He staggered back and fell in the hedge and I had a chance to scramble out.

There wasn't time to clear my head. The big guy came off the hedge like a fighter using the ropes, and rushed me.

Then, instead of dropping off to sleep, I found my head clearing. I had been doing a little instinctive work on his groceries and he didn't like it. He was trying to push me away. That was swell. I got a good flat-footed stance and threw hooks at his middle as fast as I could. He was tough. It was like hitting an underinflated tire. He would take a lot of softening. He—I looked down, blinking. The guy had wilted. He was down. But he wasn't writhing slowly the way a man does when you really get to his groceries. He was sitting down, holding his right knee.

"Get up," I snapped.

"Go to hell."

"Buddy," I said, "if you don't get up I'll—"

"What'll you do, kick me? Go on, Jack, kick me. It'll look swell in the sunrise edition. Army Lieutenant Kicks Cripple."

This was getting silly. "You're no cripple."

He yanked up his right trouser leg and said, "There you are, Jack. Bad knee. Jeez, they ought to give you a medal."

He had a brace on the knee but it didn't necessarily mean a thing. I've seen guys with braces like that rack up ten baskets in big-league basketball. "You're just yellow," I said.

A strange voice said, "Joey Raeder only likes fighting when he is winning." It was a harsh voice. It scratched like a bum needle on a phonograph record.

I turned and saw a short fat man. The street light reflected on his glasses and made him look blind. He was so fat that his arms stuck out at angles instead of hanging straight down.

Joey Raeder scrambled to his feet and grabbed the fat man's coat with his left hand. He snarled, "I've been taking that stuff off you ever since I came here. You're gonna learn to keep your mouth shut."

I saw Raeder drop his right shoulder and start a punch and I jumped forward to stop him. I wasn't needed. What happened was almost too fast for me to follow. The fat man's hands made short white blurs against the darkness. Not hitting, slashing. With the edges of his palms. Raeder's arms dropped as if numbed and the edge of a palm clipped under the ear. He crumpled.

The fat man said, "He works for me. He needed this lesson." He moved up close and the blind glasses glared with reflected light. "People think a fat man is a joke. They think he cannot fight or make love or plan." His voice was higher, scratchier. "Perhaps you think so? Perhaps you think so?"

"Take it easy," I said. "I never gave it a thought."

The voice came down a pitch. "Raeder lives in there," he said, tilting his head at the fake embassy. "Take him in. Tell him to report as usual tomorrow."

I picked him up in a fireman's lift and staggered up the steps to the house. The door opened. The next ten minutes were among the worst in my life. The place was filled with excited girls. None of them knew exactly what had happened, except that poor Joey was hurt and that I had done it. As I entered there was a gasp of horror. The way they shrank back I might have been a Jap task force.

It was too much for me. I said brutally, "Where do you girls want the body?"

A lovely little ash-blond Southern breathed, "Is... is he daid?"

"No," I growled. "He swooned. Can I drop him just anywhere?"

"Don't you dare drop Joey," one of them cried. "You bring him back here to his room and be careful or we'll call the police!"

I carted him to a bedroom-bath combination on the first floor and flopped him on the bed. Half a dozen girls clustered around him, twittering with grief and smoothing his forehead and making him comfortable. I saw his eyelids flicker, but he didn't open them. In his place I'd have done the same.

"If you really want him to move," I said, "call his draft board."

They stormed at me that Joey was a genuine 4-F and had a terribly bad knee from fighting the Nazis in Spain long before persons of my type thought of fighting and he had gone up in a frightfully old plane the Spanish Loyalists had given him and had knocked down five brand-new Messerschmits and now wasn't I ashamed.

"Not yet," I growled, "on account of the Germans didn't use any Me's in Spain."

A weak voice said, "They got things wrong, Jack. It was Heinkels, and only four. I might of got five but I caught a slug in my knee."

It was Joey, and he was starting to sit up at last. His admirers crowded around him and patted him and told him not to overdo it, but he shook them off bravely.

"Jack," he said, "we still got something to settle."

I said hopefully, "Something we can disagree about?"

A teen-age kid cried, "Now you just leave Joey alone! You knocked him out once."

"Just for the record," I said, "I didn't knock him out. He decided to sit out our waltz, and then his boss came along and they had an argument, and his boss rocked him to sleep."

Arab fell into a chair, whooping like an Indian bearing down on palefaces. I stamped out of the room. Luckily it didn't have a revolving door.

As I reached the hallway a cool hand touched mine and a woman said, "Let me fix those cuts before you leave, Lieutenant."

Her face was in a shadow but I could see a slim figure with legs that deserved a triple-A priority on nylon. She wore a tailored suit with a flaring white collar opened one more notch than a really shy girl would have opened it.

"I'm all right," I said. "You better take care of Joey, though. He's just been shot down by a mess of Heinkels. And besides, he's pretty."

"You're not all right," she said. "You have a cut over your left eye and a bloody nose and your vanity is terribly bruised."

"With Joey around," I grumbled, "there isn't any vanity left for anybody else to have."

She laughed softly and patted my hand. "You're a little boy, like most men. But a nice one, I think. Come along. I am Mrs. Fielding and this is my home."

I lumbered down the hall beside her like a small grimy kid with a nice aunt. "If you own this place," I said, "why do you let a guy like Joey Raeder stay here?"

The trim shoulders shrugged. "One needs a man around a house. To take care of the grass and furnace and to open stuck windows and—"

"Yeah," I said, "I bet he's great on opening girls' windows. From which side?"

She opened a door and fumbled for the light switch. "You have no right to say that," she said coldly.

"Sorry."

"Sit down," she said. "Don't worry about the girls coming in and bothering you. Their community room is across the hall."

I sank into a chair and watched her rummage through a closet. I don't have a photographic mind but I never have much trouble remembering a pretty face. And I hadn't forgotten hers. She came back from the closet with some absorbent cotton and Band-Aid and alcohol, and I said softly, "Do you still like those tall glasses of cafe nature and onion soup at Les Halles at six a. m. and the tango and buttered croissants?"

Her eyes widened but she didn't seem very curious. "What would be the use?" she said. "The Germans have Paris."

"I don't want to pry," I said. "Shut me up if you want. But your name was Renee something-or-other and you were a hostess at Zelli's and half the college boys seeing Paris that summer were in love with you. It was August of thirty-one."

She smiled faintly. "You have a good memory."

"Why not? You were Paris and mystery and all that."

"I was seventeen and fresh from a Breton fishing village and nothing more. What else do you remember?"

"I remember we all tried to make you and you laughed and didn't have time for anybody really except a big happy-go-lucky kid from Dartmouth. He was half of one of their terrific pass combinations. He set a new record one night in Harry's New York Bar for emptying that two-liter beer mug. Something under twenty seconds. What was his name?"

"Bob. Bob Fielding."

She said it so calmly that for a moment I didn't click. "Sure, Fielding," I said. "What happened to him? I don't remember him playing his senior year."

"We were married. He didn't go back."

I kept quiet. I had no right to get curious.

She began dabbing at my face. My throat felt as if somebody had tied a knot in it, and I wouldn't have known the difference if she had used carbolic acid. My scratches didn't seem very important.

I had my throat untangled by the time she finished. I thanked her but she wasn't listening. She tilted my face to the light and studied it. After a few moments I muttered, "You won't remember my face. Nobody does."

She gave a little start. "I'm afraid I wasn't even trying to remember you," she said. "That was not polite of me, was it? I was trying to remember a girl from Brittany."

She rose. I stumbled to my feet and we turned toward the door. And there was Arab. She didn't look angry or suspicious. She looked like a college freshman hauled up before the Dean of Women. Her feet were toeing in and her fingers tightly laced and her eyes wide and fearful. I had never seen Arab frightened, although there had been a few times in the past when it would have been sensible of her.

"I've been fixing your lieutenant's face," Renee said calmly.

"Oh," Arab said. She sounded relieved, and I wondered if there had been a shade of emphasis when Renee said "your lieutenant." Women make me feel helpless. Sometimes I get the idea that men don't have any choice at all, but just get dealt out by women to each other like cards. From the bottom of the deck, too.

"I know that you two had some misunderstanding," Renee said. "But you ought to forget it and start all over. I think that you will like each other."

"We-ll...," Arab said.

"I'll come back tomorrow night, if I may," I said.

Arab murmured, "I want to fix up my room tomorrow night, but if it's all right for Lieutenant Blake to help—"

When we got out on the porch nobody was around, and I said, "Do I know you well enough yet to kiss you?"

"Well, no. But it's a nice way to get acquainted."

Arab looked at me hopelessly and said, "I've got to get some sleep. Do you mind?"

"I'd better go, anyway," I said, (TO BE CONTINUED)

The big guy came off the hedge like a fighter.

Woman's World

Men's Discarded Suits Provide Material for Jackets, Skirts

By Ertta Haley

Cuff Bonnet

This black off-the-face cuff bonnet is worn by Martha Vickers who is featured in "The Big Sleep." The hat has gold lace across the cuff and colored jewels are set in the lace. The black veil, laced with felt cords, ties in bows at the back.

EVERY home has a clothes closet with a down-and-out suit that is not quite worn enough to throw out or a dress that has passed out of fashion. Every "rag bag" has a piece of material in it which, properly treated, would solve the problem of trimming a dress or making a smart hat or bag.

On the other side of the picture, there is no such thing as the woman or her daughter who has a large enough clothes budget to buy all the wearables which their hearts desire. However, armed with a pin and needle, sewing machine, perhaps, a dyeing dish, and a little ingenuity, every woman can make rapid strides toward creating the wardrobe she wants.

In many homes right now, there are a number of men's suits which are not suitable for wear just as they are. Big brother, who has been in the service, finds he has put on both inches and pounds and his old clothes do not fit. Or, dad wants something new and snappy in a suit, and decides the old blue serge suit will not do for another season. This suit, then, is fair game for remodeling.

Clean It First.
Before any actual cutting and sewing can be started, the garment should be washed or cleaned depending on the fabric. Woolens may be washed in warm, soapy suds and then dried in a warm place. If you fear shrinkage, dry cleaning is always safe. Then the seams should be carefully ripped, either with a small scissors or a razor. They may also be unravelled, but in any case, care should be taken to prevent pulling threads in the fabric or small holes which might make it unusable. Careful pressing is also important. If the suit is cleaned at home, it should be laid on the ironing board as smoothly as possible, then covered with a damp cloth—cheese cloth or muslin will do—and pressed with a fairly warm iron.

If You Have a Worn-Out Man's Suit...

This preparation might seem like unnecessary work, but it will preserve the lines of the material and will simplify recutting. The material will also be in long pieces and will be easier to piece together.

A boy's or man's suit can be clearly fashioned into a blazer jacket for daughter, and the pants may be used for a wrap-around skirt for mother or daughter. The jacket will probably need few alterations. In some cases it will be necessary to rip it apart to cut down for size, but this is easily done.

Contrasting Trimming.
Now, here's how the jacket is finished into a blazer. A tape of contrasting color is selected for trimming. This is piped around the collar and down the front. If there are pockets, these may also be trimmed with the tape.

What about the color? If the suit is navy, brown or black, don't fuss; just use a bright colored trim. If it is any other color, take it out with color remover, and dye it navy, brown, dark or kelly green, or bright red.

The trousers, when ripped, can be pieced together for a nice, trim skirt. This may be gored or plain in the back, and it will have an opening in the front to the side. The end of the skirt that will be wrapped on top is fringed by the

Then Make a Blazer and a Fringed Skirt.

Fashion Notes

Broad shoulders, deep armholes and set-in waistband give that much desired slim look in a soft gray laid suit.

The latest idea in costume jewelry is to have some idea behind it. Crossed swords decorating a black suede bag have been seen, and a simple pin depicting a sheaf of wheat may adorn a black or navy dress.

Wide, round collars of pink or white pique make nice frosting for a simple, dark basic dress.

Pink print jackets are smart with solid black skirts for dress-up wear. This makes a nice ensemble for town wear.

Swirled print blouses are increasingly popular with the bolero type suit. The blouse usually girdles at the waist and ties in a bow.

THIS seems to be as good a spot as any other to give you the various champions of 1946. Of course there may be a slight element of chance involved in these various nominations, but if you combine the past performance operations and the future chart you can't go far wrong. Also we reserve the right to make a few changes later on when some of the mists and fogs have lifted and there is more light ahead.

These selections belong to the snows of winter, not the flowers of April and May nor the red and gold tints of next autumn. Here is our prediction for big league baseball:

American League — Joe McCarthy's Yankees with the Red Sox and Tigers as leading challengers.

National League — The St. Louis Cardinals with Cubs, Dodgers and Giants close up.

At the moment Joe McCarthy seems to be more worried about the Red Sox with Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr and Tex Hughson back than the Tigers with Wakefield and Greenberg hitting, plus the pitching of Newhouse, Trout, Trucks and Benton.

Outside of the Cardinals, the scramble to finish in the first four teams will be terrific, depending largely on the clubs that get the pick of Sam Breadon's $100,000 or maybe $150,000 worth of pitchers, infielders and outfielders. I don't mean collectively, but individual. Sam Breadon has already sold over $200,000 worth of talent and he has something like $700,000 in the way of talent left. Owner Sam Breadon will have a big influence on the next National League race.

Joe McCarthy, one of the top managers of all time, is too conservative to make any predictions. "Why I haven't even seen such men as Dickey, Gordon, DiMaggio, Rizzuto, Johnson and others in several years. How could I know what they have? All I know is what they were—not what they are. Remember that old song of George Cohan's — 'It isn't what you used to be—it's what you are today.'"

Anyway, our first prediction stands — Yankees and Cardinals, which is no wild dash into the unknown. It is a long shot selection.

Army on Top in Football

As far as football goes, our top nomination is Red Blaik's Army team. This Army team has been the high spot of college football for the last two years. For 1946 it will still have most of its stars on hand, including Blanchard, Davis, Tucker, McWilliams, Coulter, Foidberg, Poole, Fuson and several new additions. Army's 1946 team may be even better than her 1944 and 1945 squads that outclassed the country.

I know Oklahoma A. and M., Indiana and Alabama believe they could have given Army an even scrap. Notre Dame and Pennsylvania felt the same way this last fall. Result against both: Army 100—Notre Dame and Pennsylvania 0. And don't forget Army was under wraps.

I'd pick Alabama in the south next to Army. Frank Thomas had a fine squad last fall and he will have a much better team next fall. He has more than a few outstanding stars coming back, plus the squad he already has.

Oklahoma A. and M. won't be far away with another big, fast, rugged and experienced bunch. Bo McMillin believes his Indiana team could give Army an even game, but I doubt Indiana could beat Alabama or Oklahoma A. and M.

Michigan, if the draft doesn't mow down Fritz Crisler's freshmen, can be one of the best. So can St. Mary's with new and bigger men coming in. Navy may rank close to Army—but not too close. Navy will certainly be the second best team in the east. Pennsylvania won't be far away, the top of the Ivy league, in a much closer run.

What about Notre Dame with Frank Leahy back? Good, but not great. The South and Midwest will both be strong. The East, outside of Army and Navy, won't be much different. The Far West still has a wide gap to close. The best pick along the Pacific will be St. Mary's, where Jimmy Phelan gave out one of the best coaching jobs I've ever seen and where Herman Wedemeyer will again be a vital factor. What about the two pro leagues? We'll turn that over to the Delphic Oracle.

What about boxing? The two tops in the country should be Joe Louis in the heavyweight division and Sugar Robinson among the welterweights. They should remain the two best ringmen of the year. Beau Jack will remain the best club fighter and the most popular entertainer. Graziano won't be far away. A Beau Jack-Graziano roundup can be one of the main features, where neither can box a lick. But where both like to throw punches, and let the clips fall where they may. They always put on a good, scrappy show.

Chest of Drawers For Storage Space

A SIMPLE chest of drawers is useful in any room, but have you thought of grouping two or three chests to give a really dramatic effect? Try it in the living room, dining room, hall or bedroom and you will find that you have also solved the problem of what to do with extra linens, the belongings of overnight guests and many odds and ends.

The best part is that with a pattern that shows you a trick way to make drawers, these substantial little chests may be made at home from straight cuts of lumber, with no tools but a hammer, saw and screw driver. The pattern gives a list of materials required right down to the last screw and nail, as well as the size of each piece of lumber and step-by-step directions, with diagrams.

NOTE—Order pattern 286 for this chest, and No. 287 for the Wooden Lamp Base. The small chests are made from pattern No. 282. Each pattern is 15c postpaid and order should be addressed to:

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF IOSCO IN CHANCERY

In the matter of the Petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

No. 1574 On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court to be held at Tawas City in the County of Iosco, State of Michigan, on the 26th day of March A. D. 1946, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day, of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Iosco, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Herman Dehnke, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Iosco County this 19th day of January A. D. 1946.

HERMAN DEHNKE, Circuit Judge. Countersigned, R. H. MCKENZIE, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF IOSCO IN CHANCERY

In the matter of the Petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Iosco, in Chancery:

John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully, shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended; 2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county, upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the nonpayment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays: a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides; d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc. Dated: January 17, 1946. JOHN D. MORRISON, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

OUR AIM is to provide the kind of telephone service you want.

We have no choice but to grow as the demand for our service grows. That's our public responsibility—and we like it that way.

Right now, the demand for telephone service is at an all-time high. To meet it and prepare for future growth, we have a 5-year post-war program under way that will cost $120,000,000.

Money to finance that program must come from thrifty people who are willing to invest in Bell System securities. If our prospects for future earnings are less attractive than those of other companies, folks will invest their money elsewhere.

In recent years, the rate of Telephone Company earnings has been declining until at the end of the war it was far below the average of other industries.

So it boils down to this:

Too long a continuation of a rate of earnings substantially below that of other industries would weaken our ability to raise the money required to meet expected telephone needs.

The future quality of your telephone service depends on telephone rates that will produce earnings attractive to investors.

We believe our customers want good telephone service, even if it costs a trifle more than inferior service.

Technical improvements in the past brought rates for good service down and have kept them down in the face of rising costs. As rapidly as future improvements will permit, we expect and want our rates to come down still further. For Michigan Bell wants rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to insure good telephone service.

DREW PEARSON

AMERICA'S OIL TWINS
 WASHINGTON. — Many senators believe that the confirmation row over charming Ed Pauley as under secretary of the navy has taken on new significance now that Sec. Harold Ickes has offered Ralph Davies the job of under secretary of the interior.

It happens that Davies and Ed Pauley are bosom friends. Both are oil men. Both have followed the policy of "scratch-my-back-I'll-scratch-yours." This is important.

Recently, Secretary Ickes, who has a crusading record for guarding the nation's resources, recommended to President Truman that naval oil reserves be transferred from the navy to the interior department. It was just such a transfer by Albert K. Fall in the Harding administration that resulted in the teapot dome oil scandal.

No motive is attributed to the Ickes proposal except that of safeguarding oil. In fact, some people consider it significant that his proposal happened to coincide, by luck or otherwise, with the nomination of Oil Man Pauley to be under secretary of the navy.

But what senators consider important is that, with Pauley's friend Ralph Davies offered the job of under secretary of the interior, the navy's oil lands, no matter where they are located — in interior or navy — will be partially under Pauley or a friend of his.

MEXICAN OIL DEAL
 Relationship between Davies and Pauley has been extremely close. Davies was executive vice president of Standard Oil of California. Pauley sold him his own independent oil company. Later Pauley brought Davies to Washington, introduced him to Ickes, following which Davies became Ickes' deputy oil administrator. He did a good job.

However, state department officials say he continued to look out for Ed Pauley.

When Pauley was trying to lobby his high-octane Mexican gasoline plant through the government, it had to pass the hurdle of Secretary Ickes' petroleum administration. Davies okayed it — not only okayed it, but pushed it vigorously. At first Ickes also gave it his blessing. The state department, however, was vigorously opposed.

Showdown came in a secret session between Ickes, Davies, a Davies aid, and the Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The full story of this session was never really told at the senate hearing. Acheson opened by giving Ickes a very careful diagnosis of why the Mexican high-octane gasoline plant should not be built by Pauley. He took up point after point, his main argument being that the Mexican government would have to pay such a high price to Pauley that it would sour U. S.-Mexican relations.

After Acheson had finished, Ickes turned to Pauley's friend, Ralph Davies, and asked:

"Why didn't you tell me these things?"

"I didn't know them either," replied the red-faced Davies. Then, turning to his aid, he alibied: "Why didn't you tell me these things?"

Ickes immediately reversed himself, threw his weight against Pauley. That is the real inside of how the Pauley octane plant for Mexico was stopped. Davies, of course, is an able, intelligent operator, too intelligent not to have known the main points of the Pauley plan. Pauley is equally able. He would be a good executive almost anywhere. But some senators want to think twice before putting these oil twins near the head of two departments controlling the oil reserves of the nation.

PRESIDENTIAL HUMOR

President Truman has been taking recent criticism in excellent humor. The other day he was talking with a group of friends and said: "Apparently, no matter what I do I'm always in the middle. I say something about Palestine, and the Jews and the Arabs holler. Labor and capital get in a fight, and I am in the middle. The Russians and the British have an argument, and I am in the middle."

Suddenly the President paused, walked over to the door of his office, which connects with that of his secretary, Matthew Connolly, and called out:

"Hey, Matt, where can I buy a copy of Dale Carnegie's 'How to Win Friends and Influence People'?"

CAPITAL CHAFF

Assistant Sec. of State Spruille Braden is being muzzled by the cautious pink-tea diplomats regarding some sensational documents seized in Germany showing how certain Latin-American diplomats aided the Nazis during the war. . . . Forty-five small steel companies have now increased steel wages, thus sending more than 50,000 steel workers back to work. . . . Southern senators seem to like the filibuster method. Last week Senator Bilbo served notice he intends to use it against the British loan.

BEATING THE HOUSING SHORTAGE . . . Frank Smith, Harold McLain and Harry Newcomb, left to right, show how they beat the Los Angeles housing shortage. They pitched their canvas atop a bus depot garage. Their traveling job took them to Los Angeles for three weeks, and unable to secure hotel reservations they brought their own tent from San Francisco.

GRAND CHAMPION BRAHMAN BULL . . . Blue Director, a Florida-bred Brahman owned by Norris Cattle company, Ocala, Fla., which was judged grand champion at the recent Second Annual Registered Brahman show held at Ocala. The show brought increased interest in Brahmans and proved that the breed is not as rare as many people are inclined to believe.

REVERSE LEND-LEASE WITH ENGLAND . . . Hundreds of British war brides and their babies are arriving in the United States to join their husbands and fathers. Immediately upon arrival of ships in New York City they are being rushed by special trains to all parts of the United States. First arrivals announced their pleasure of the clothing and food conditions in America, but refused to discuss politics.

FIREWOOD FOR OPERA TICKETS . . . Before you can buy a ticket for the opera in Kiel, Germany, you have to produce a pound of firewood in addition to the price of the ducat. The wood is used to heat the building during the performance. The German sailor in uniform, at left, is working in Kiel for the British navy. Places of amusement receive no fuel rations.

'WINNIE'S DAUGHTER' . . . Mrs. Sarah Churchill Oliver, eldest daughter of former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, is shown as she arrived by air at New York City, en route to Miami to Cuba to join her parents.

HOT COSSACK . . . Dimitri Matvienko, Kuban, Russia, has spent the past seven years showing New Yorkers the art of dagger dancing in which he uses eight blazing daggers. He also does a flame-swallowing act.

PRINCE TO MARRY IN U. S. . . . Prince Carl Johan, grandson of King Gustaf of Sweden, has arrived in the U. S. to marry Swedish newspaper woman, Mrs. Kerstin Wijmark, for whom he forfeited his royal rights.

HIZZONER CLEANS UP . . . Mayor Bill Cade, Lakeland, Fla., did not let the labor shortage interfere with keeping the city clean.

FIRST POSTWAR CHAMP . . . The first champion to be crowned in the postwar world, Marty Servo, 26, of Schenectady, N. Y., won the welterweight championship of the world from "Red" Cochrane. Marty is an ex-coastguardsman.

WINTER IN FLORIDA OR NEW HAMPSHIRE . . . Regardless of the weather, the younger generation finds plenty of amusement and body-building activities. At North Conway, N. H., the Eastern Slope Ski school, give more than 24,000 ski lessons annually to youngsters who contribute $2 annually and write a school composition on skiing. At a cabana club pool in Miami, Mary Jane Coucci, New York, goes overboard, while Kent Merkle, Washington, and Mary Jane's sister, Shirley, watch in their "doughnuts."

HANDY WRENCH . . . Weighing 265 pounds, this wrench has been declared surplus by the U. S. army at the Lordstown (Ohio) ordnance plant. Ed Dolan of Warren, standing by the wrench, is six feet tall. Civilians may purchase such gadgets as these—to fix their watches.

INTERNATIONAL COURT . . . Green H. Hackworth, 63, Chevy Chase, Md., has been elected one of 14 world judges by UNO. A native of Prestonburg, Ky., Hackworth served at the Hague.

MORE POWER TO THE DRAGON . . . China is to pump new life into the old dragon by building the biggest concrete dam, irrigation project and power plant ever known. Yangtze gorge project, with co-operation of the U. S. bureau of reclamation, builder of Boulder and Grand Coulee dams, is drafting overall plans. The mechanical lock facilities are shown above. They are capable of hoisting a loaded vessel of several thousand tons displacement capacity. John Lucian Savage is consulting engineer.

In These United States

Girls, Here's a Husband— If You Can Milk 14 Cows

GRANTSBURG, WIS.—Arthur Birnstengel, a farmer, made a New Year's resolution to get married in 1946, but he's going to be careful which woman he picks. He insists that she be willing to help milk 14 cows, among the other small chores a woman will find to do on a farm.

The mating matter began last year when Birnstengel, a husky 44-year-old farmer, found he was too busy operating his 610-acre farm to go courting. So he wrote his congressman.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski was short on wives but long on advice. "Be sure she's honest," he replied. Artful Arthur advertised, "You must be honest," he said in his ad.

It was a relief, he said, to discover that there are 1,600 honest women in the world. They answered from New York to Chicago, from Georgia to Alaska.

He isn't fussy. All he asks of a wife is that she must:

1. Be between 30 and 42 years old.
2. Not weigh more than his 195 pounds.
3. Be between five feet and five feet, eight inches tall.
4. Be truthful. (His congressman said so.)
5. Not smoke or drink.
6. Be healthy.
7. Be friendly.
8. Not be a gold-digger.
9. Have a sense of humor.
10. Be willing to take good care of Arnie, his six-year-old son by a former marriage.
11. Be willing to help milk 14 cows.

Grandpa Bags Deer With Pocketknife

DETROIT LAKES, MINN.—John S. ("Grandpa") Pretts, who got two deer last fall with only a pocket knife as a weapon, tops the list of hunters this season, according to L. Benshoof, editor of the Detroit Lakes Record.

Grandpa Pretts' feat happened this way:

He was working inside his house one afternoon when he glanced out and saw three deer strolling leisurely between the house and the barn. Pretts grabbed his shotgun and went after them, but in the meantime the dog had started out after the animals and they broke into a gallop. He fired four shots, but failed to halt them.

A neighbor boy, who had been hunting, got on his bicycle and aided by the dog chased the deer onto the glare ice of the lake. The animals fell down and the ice was so slick they could not get up. Seeing their predicament, Grandpa went after them with his trusty jackknife, artistically cut their throats right there on the ice.

Pan Gold from Mud on Helena's Main Street

HELENA, MONT.—"Gold!" The magic word which gave Helena a 16-million dollar boom in the last century rang through the streets again when contractors were excavating for a building. Hopeful spectators lined up three and four deep, but a boom was averted.

Henry Kasman, a placer miner, poked out some of the dirt with his pick and panned it in icy water while Mayor John J. Haytin and others looked on silently.

Pretty soon Kasman straightened up, holding in his hand a tiny bit of black sand.

"By gosh! It's gold all right," exclaimed the mayor.

And everybody agreed—a dozen small pieces of the precious stuff. A dredgemaster estimated the gold would run $1.75 per square yard.

But even for that much you don't rip up the main street of a state capital. Everybody soon went home, except for contractors who went back to work pouring cement over Helena's new gold strike.

More War Casualties: Oil-Soaked Sea Birds Perished by Millions

Oil and waterfowl don't mix, either. The department of the interior reports that "thousands of auks, murre, puffins, sea gulls and ducks" perished during the war.

The auks, murre and others were victims of oil on the sea "which penetrates the feathers and ruins them as waterproof coverings."

STILL JOHN BULL . . . Still looking like an animated picture of the cartoonist's "John Bull," former Prime Minister Winston Churchill posed for photographers while he was vacationing in Florida. He smoked cigars, painted, rested and otherwise enjoyed himself.

'POCKET POOCH'
Walter Ward, Philadelphia, who calls himself the vagabond poet, makes a hobby of picking up stray animals and gives them a home until such time as he can find the owner. The dog shown is Pee-Wee, one of the seven owned by Ward, who often travels in the overcoat pocket of the vagabond poet. Once a joint owner of a boiler factory in New Orleans, Ward says he prefers the life of a peddler to that of a tycoon.

LEARN ABOUT ENGINES . . . Engineer cadet-midshipmen of the United States merchant marine cadet corps learn practical operation of steam and diesel engines during their four years of study ashore and at sea. Cadet-midshipmen receive a college education with pay during the four-year course, one year of which is spent in merchant ships engaged in foreign trade.

See the World— Youths Become Officers In U.S. Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON.—The United States merchant marine cadet corps is offering appointments as cadet-midshipmen with concurrent appointment as midshipmen in the U. S. Naval Reserve to young Americans who are interested in becoming ships' officers in the merchant marine.

Appointments are made on the basis of competitive scholastic tests at conveniently located centers throughout the United States. These tests are given annually by the U. S. civil service commission, and the next one will be held on April 3, 1946. Applications may be addressed to: Supervisor, U. S. Merchant Marine Cadet Corps, Training Organization, War Shipping Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Applications for this examination should be in the mail and postmarked prior to midnight, March 1, 1946.

The course covers four years, which include:

(a) One year as a Fourth Classman at a Cadet School located at either Pass Christian, Miss., or San Mateo, Calif.

(b) One year as Third Classman in merchant or training vessels.

(c) Two years as Second and First Classman at the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, Long Island, N. Y.

The candidate must be a male citizen of the U. S. for at least 10 years; unmarried; not less than 16½ and not yet 21 years old; able to pass the physical examination, and possess a firm desire to pursue a life-long career in the merchant marine.

Scholastic requirements include evidence of credits from accredited schools consisting of 15 units as follows: 3½ in mathematics (including 1½ in algebra, 1 in plane geometry and ½ in solid geometry or trigonometry); 3 in English; 2 in science, including 1 in physics; 1 in U. S. history, and 5½ electives.

"off we go" NEWS OF FLIERS AND FLYING

SCARED OF THE ATOM

In Washington, D. C., there's a story going around which typifies to some extent the baffling and startling realization that atomic power has been found. It seems that two monkeys were sitting on the ruins of the world which had just been wrecked by atomic bombs. Only one man remains, and he is a pilot circling high above the desolation. Realizing that there is nothing in the world worth living for, the pilot crashes his plane near the monkeys and ends it all. The lady monkey begins to weep bitterly.

"Just like a woman," growls the monkey husband, "Why be sentimental about it?"

"I'm not being sentimental," the wife sobs. "I just can't help thinking that we've got it all to do over again!"

It Might Have Happened

Another story comes from a southwestern training base. The crew of a B-17 tried unsuccessfully to free fused bombs which jammed the bomb bay. As his fuel was running low, the pilot swung the plane around toward home. As he approached the field, he called to the tower:

"Two-O-Three to tower. Our bomb load is jammed and we are running low on fuel. What do you advise? Over."

From the tower came this message: "Tower to Two-O-Three. Repeat after me slowly: 'Our Father which art in heaven—'"

City Planning

A single mapping plane of the special type which has recently come into being can, in a few hours time, give a literal picture of what needs to be done in your town or city to assure efficient zoning and planning, tax equalization, traffic and safety control, street and highway betterment, drainage, sewage, etc.

HAZE AND SMOKE

Although haze and smoke are of little importance to normal movements on the ground, they place a screen of indistinctness in front of ground objects from the air. Check points, on which the pilot is depending, can drift by almost under the plane's wing and be unrecognized. Small airports, with no paved runways and bearing no outstanding marking, look just like any one of thousands of other fields, and can be missed completely from only a half mile away.

The CAA is now perfecting an omni-directional radio range which will be a blessing to the amateur who flies by radio. Today's ranges have two to four courses, while this new range will have an infinite number of courses. The pilot will be able to set his course on a simple instrument.

Air Future of Kansas

Editorial: "Kansas, geographic center of the United States, occupies a strategic position in air transportation. During the past two years 26 Kansas municipalities voted a total of $926,500 in bonds for airport construction. During the same period more than 30 other towns have started airport development. As of September 1, 1945, Kansas had 88 designated airports. In addition the army and navy have 16 large air bases located throughout the states. Four major airlines cross Kansas on transcontinental schedules."—To the Stars, Topeka (Kansas Industrial Development commission).

Brazil Is Building Planes
Brazilian factories have turned out more than 500 civilian planes, mostly of the two-place cub type, but expect to produce larger or family-type models. Their market is the vast areas of air-minded South America.

Jet propulsion and other developments of World War II have failed to dim model plane builders' urge to keep on constructing "crates" of World War I vintage.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT —RELIGION IN THE HOME

LESSON TEXT: Deuteronomy 6:4-12.
MEMORY SELECTION: Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.—Psalm 145:2.

Home, church, school and the state—these are the four institutions which determine the greatness of a people—and the most influential of all is the home.

What a child becomes under the nurture of the home will determine his interest in the church, his attitude toward school, and eventually his value as a citizen of the nation. How tragic then that we are giving so little attention to our American homes!

The religious life of the home is the most important element of its activity, for it is the determining factor in the life of the child. It is in the home that the child's whole existence centers and from which he receives the repeated impressions, day by day, which determine character and destiny. It is in the home that the parent has the opportunity to demonstrate the reality of the faith professed in the church, and to show the child that Christianity really counts in the ordinary experiences of life.

Three things appear in our lesson as characterizing the religion of the home.

I. Worship (vv. 4, 5).

Twice a day the orthodox Jew repeats the words of these verses; namely, at the time of prayer, morning and night. They remind him of his personal relationship to God, and they recall one of God's primary reasons for calling Israel to be his people. They were to be a national witness to the one true God in the midst of the almost universal worship of many gods. They were to stand for monotheism in the midst of polytheism.

So important is the complete devotion of man—and that brings in the whole family—to God that when Jesus was asked what was the greatest of all commandments (see Mark 12:28-31), he named this passage together with Leviticus 19:18.

Nothing should take precedence over the true worship of God in our hearts, and in the hearts of all those we hold dear in our households. The Eternal One, the Source of Life, the All-Powerful One, he is "our God" (v. 4) and he looks to us for complete and constant devotion to him. Let us give it!

II. Instruction (vv. 6-9).

It was not enough that these words should be repeated in some regular or formal worship, but they were to be taught to the children in the home with all faithfulness and diligence—and by the parents.

We are far too eager to delegate the teaching of our children to others. In religious matters it is the church and the Sunday school which are responsible. Many parents do not even take their boys and girls to the house of God. They just send them. Mark it well, such parents are delinquent in their duties to God and to their families.

But our vital point is this—it is the business of the home to teach religion, to do it regularly, and to make it a normal and natural part of daily life.

This is a matter of great significance. The faith which we profess in the church must be effectively brought into the home. It is not enough to carry a Bible on Sunday. It should be in use in the home throughout the week; not only in family worship, but in the incidentals of daily life.

The family altar has gradually disappeared, and it is regrettable that it has, for the testimony of generations indicates that in family worship some of the most useful men and women of all ages have received the direction of life which made them great for God.

III. Remembrance (vv. 10-12).

Israel had a history full of the magnificent mercies of God. In the day when, by his help and blessing they were to be established in their land, they were to recall his blessings and recognize his goodness.

There are few, if any, more powerful incentives to faith and courageous living than the remembrance of past blessings. To recall how God made it possible for ordinary men and women to, by faith, subdue kingdoms, quench the fires of persecution, turn back the armies of aliens, to become strong in the midst of weakness (read Heb. 11) is to make one ready for the battles of life.

Every family has its dark and trying days, its experiences which rock one back on his heels in astonishment and fear—and in the Christian family God has always been the answer—the solution to every problem, the provider for every need. Keep such memories fresh in the thinking of boys and girls and they will be ready for the storms of life.

Help them to a great faith in a great Saviour and you have given them something more precious than all the riches of all the earth.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERNS

Home Frock for Long-Day Charm A Trio of Blouses for Your Suit

Slimming House Dress

A SIMPLE side-button home frock with slimming lines and a neat, efficient air. Novel scalloped pockets add a decorative touch. Make it in bright cottons for morning wear, in rayon crepe, spun rayon or shantung for afternoons.

Pattern No. 8928 comes in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 4¼ yards of 35 or 39-inch.

Household Hints

Even an old funnel can be glamorous. Paint it to match your kitchen color scheme and hang it on the wall as a holder for a ball of twine.

To remove old glue from furniture easily and quickly, wash it off with hot vinegar. Let wood dry thoroughly before applying fresh glue.

Before replacing a broken pitchfork handle or anything similar, boil the end of the new handle for about five minutes. Then the fork is easily driven in.

No squeaks if you make oiling your sewing machine a habit. To oil a sewing machine properly, put the oil on every place where one part rubs against or turns within another.

To restore the gloss of dark furs, rub lightly with a brush which has been dipped in brilliantine.

Three Lovely Blouses

THREE pretty blouses to add a touch of glamour to your wardrobe. You can have a youthful round neck with gathered or cap sleeves, or a flattering V neck with short or three quarter sleeves. All button down the back.

Pattern No. 8964 is for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 14, gathered sleeves, 1¾ yards of 35 or 39-inch; cap sleeves, 1½ yards; short sleeves, 1½ yards.

Ever Try Making Cough Syrup In Your Kitchen?

Quick Relief. No Cooking. Easy!

If you've never tried mixing your own cough medicine, you've missed a lot. It's no trouble—needs no cooking—and gives you about four times as much cough syrup for your money. You'll say it beats anything you ever tried for coughs due to colds. And here's how it's done—

Make a plain syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until it is dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from your druggist. Put this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a pint—a family supply. Tastes fine and never spoils. Children love it. And as for results, you've never seen anything better. It goes right to work on the cough, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritation, and helping clear the air passages. You will like it for its results, and not merely for the money it saves.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.—Adv.

EMTA Resort Map Will be Distributed

A large, three color map showing the location of resorts in the East Michigan Tourist Association area will be distributed this spring, Frank Davis, secretary-manager of EMTA announced today.
 Because of the need for detail, the large map (44x33 in.) will be printed on both sides. One side will show the northern half of the area, the other side the southern half.
 Davis said the location of every EMTA member offering accommodations will be on the map as well as lakes and streams, state and federal highways, county roads, state parks, forest fire towers, landing fields and airports, auxiliary fields, fish hatcheries, national and state forests, and state game areas.
 Thirty thousand of the maps will be enclosed in the 1946 EMTA guidebook, and 5,000 more will be printed for general distribution.
 "Because vacationers are apparently going to return to the pre-war style of cruising vacations, it is important for the tourists to know the location of resorts," Davis said.

If you fail to read the home newspaper, many interesting things may happen in your home town without your knowing anything about them.

River hill east of Whittemore, and the Meadow Road hills?
 Why is sand not put on the icy hills on all school bus routes? Why have the Whittemore school buses been snowbound the past two days? Why has our mailman been driving many extra miles, back tracking these same two days to get mail to people, while his regular route was blocked with snow? On the same two days we were informed there were six plows going back and forth on M65.

We are informed that the road to Silver Valley was well sanded last Sunday for the tourists, who were here for a two day week-end. That is fine. But there are a lot of people who didn't get any road sanded, who live here seven days every week.
 We read the front pages of the News tonight that the snowplows worked all night Wednesday night. We would like to know where they were when about fifteen cars were trying to get through the snow east of Whittemore Thursday morning, Feb. 14, taking them to National Gypsum to work. Where were they when the Gypsum Company employees were stuck in the snow on Hemlock and Meadow roads west of Tawas before daylight.
 These and many other questions we will ask you, through the press, from time to time.

Payroll at National Gypsum Company is $10,000.00 per week. From the Tawas News we read there were 8000 people going over to Silver Valley, the roads being well sanded, while we at National Gypsum were having a hard time getting through to the plant.

Respectfully yours,
