Victors Go to Mt. Pleasant Today

AuGres won the District Class D tournament and Oscoda copped the Class C tournament from East Tawas here last Saturday night. Playing before an over-capacity crowd of 700 the AuGres quintet battled out with Tawas City in a classic, in which the Tawas City Elks were seeking their straight District tournament championship. The Oscoda Owls were in a battle royal with the East Tawas Indians and came the East Tawas Indians and came out on the long end of a 36 to 25 count. The AuGres bunch frimmed 44 points while the Elks put 39 through the bucket. Both of the Class D teams tangled all three nights of the tournament. The first night the AuGres team unset St. night the AuGres team upset St. Bernard 30 to 25, while Tawas City came out winners in a 47 to 41 battle with Harrisville. The second night AuGres took a 39 to 8 count over Whittemore while Tawas City took a 49 to 20 verdict over Hale.

After defeating AuGres twice during the league season the Tawas City Elks were on the receiving end of a 44 to 39 decision administered by the Maroon of AuGres. The fans were due for plenty of surprises all through the game when the sturdy AuGres quintet started dunking basguests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mallon.

F. J. Bright left Sunday for a few days visit in Detroit with his daughter, Mrs. Lewis Fraser and family.

Communications

We read in the Herald this week that Fred Latter thinks he is speakspent on snow removal.

The National Gypsum Company is so located, without snow removal they cannot operate. A large amount of their product goes out by trucks, which carry as much as 20 tops.

which carry as much as 20 tons, and are seldom seen by the people of Ioset are on the ballot at Whittemore. are seldom seen by the people of Iosco county, the trucks coming in late in the afternoon and going out at night. Yet they are compelled to drag those heavy loads out of this County over roads that are relics of horse and buggy days. We have personally gone out at midnight some years ago to sand roads with the Gypsum Co. truck, to get them in after their loads. There are over 200 employees at this plant, most of 0 employees at this plant, most of 14 them dependent on their pay checks 0 to support their families.

The Michigan State College Rural Caravan consisting of more than three trunk loads of working models, bor saving methods and newly veloped equipment will be upon dis-play at the County Garage in Tawas between 10:00 A. M. and 4:00 P. M.

The caravan which shows more than 300 lineal feet of background display panels six feet high was developed by the MSC departmens of Agricultural Engineering, the Extension Service and Emergency Farm Labor plus all other agricultural departments at the College. It is designed to show ideas, methods, tools and gadgets that people ods, tools and gadgets that people from all parts of the state have planned as a method of getting their work done during the past was years when hired labor was not available in rural agricultural areas of the state.

Many working models of hay mow dryers, dairy barn gutter cleaners, potato seed cutters, various carts, iself-feeders, poultry housing, ventilation models, home insulation methods, home economics models, tractor mounted hay sweep rakes, vegetable storage buildings, grain elevators, baled hav elevators and many others may be observed.

This rural progress caravan has visited more than 35 counties of the state and will visit some fifteen others after leaving Iosco.

WASHINGTON. - Some people are wondering whether the fact-finding board for the meat packing industry took the trouble to read the newspapers. If so, they might not have recommended that the housewife bear the main burden of the cost of increased wages in the meat packing industry.

The fact-finding board, which included Dr. Edwin E. Witte of Wisconsin university, Chief Justice Raymond W. Starr of the Michigan Supreme court, and Clark Kerr, former chairman of the meat packing branch of the war labor board -three able men-decided that a 16-cent pay increase was fair and equitable for meat packing workers. But they added that only five cents of this was "absorbable by the meat industry without price or subsidy relief."

In other words, the fact finders recommended that the big meat packers could pay only 5 cents of the 16-cent wage increase out of their own pockets. The rest would have to be passed on to the consumer or the government. Their report was filed February 7.

However, early in December, long before the fact-finding board was appointed, a number of smaller meat packing plants had already signed contracts with the CIO and AFL for 15 cents an hour pay increase without any strings attached regarding increased meat prices.

The small packers who signed such agreements included Hygrade Food Products of New York, George A. Hormel of Austin, Minn., and others in the Chicago area.

Apparently, the fact finders did not take this into consideration. Apparently also, they ignored the fact that Swift and company previously had agreed to a pay boost of 10 cents an hour without any strings attached regarding increased meat prices to the housewife.

For, despite Swift's offer of 10 cents an hour and the smaller companies' increase of 15 cents, the fact finders recommended that only 5 cents of the 16-cent increase could be paid for by meat packers. The remaining 11 cents will be passed on to the housewife-unless the government votes a subsidy.

BREAD WASTE SCANDAL.

Department of agriculture sleuths have been doing some quiet checking of unscrupulous bakeries which violate bread sales regulations in order to kill off competition.

Despite the fact that the nation has been forced on a "dark bread" diet to help feed war-starved peoples of the world, thousands of loaves of good bread are still going to waste, or being fed to hogs and chickens.

It works like this:

If a big bakery is trying to grab business away from a competing bakery, it will begin supplying grocery stores on a "consignment basis," which means that grocers' shelves are loaded up with supplies of bread in excess of what they can

The following day-sometimes the same day-drivers pick up the unsold loaves and replace them with fresh stock, charging the grocer only for the bread actually sold. Idea is to promote sales of a particular brand of bread because of its "freshness."

This is a violation of war food order No. 1, but it hasn't stopped certain bakeries in Houston, Texas, Richmond, Va., San Francisco, Cleveland, Kansas City and St. Louis from carrying on the practice on a huge scale.

Instead of making their returned stocks of one-day-old bread available at a reduced price to poor families, the loaves frequently wind up in garbage bins. One Texas farmer who tipped off the department of agriculture about conditions in Houston said he had been buying wagon-loads of bread "fresh enough to eat" to feed his hogs and chickens. ATOM VS. BATTLESHIP

Unless President Truman does something drastic about it very soon, the forthcoming atomic tests in the Pacific, scientists say, may turn out to be a study in waterspouts instead of atomic energy.

On-the-surface atomic-bomb explosions, the scientists claim, will add nothing to the knowledge already accumulated from previous explosions at New Mexico, Hiroshima and Nagasaki, except that we may learn the size and damage of the world's largest water spout.

Grain Bins Are Turned Into Houses at Shenandoah, Iowa

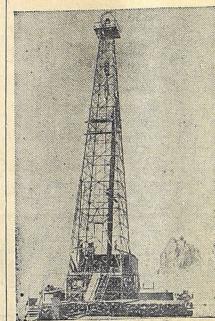

SHENANDOAH, IOWA.—"Housing Problem Is Solved," proudly announced the Shenandoah Sentinel recently, when the chamber of commerce purchased 97 grain bins, and worked out combinations so that two of the bins could be combined to make a dwelling

"Scattered through the state are thundreds of these bins," the Sentinel stated. "They were built by the department of agriculture to store excess grain. For some time they have been empty and available to purchasers. They are all made of good prewar lumber, and were built in three sizes—12 by 16 feet, 14 by 20 feet, and 14 by 24 feet. They already have a good pitched roof on them."

The Shenandoah chamber of commerce raised money enough to buy 97 of the bins and set to work. Windows were put in and plumbing was installed. With a coat of paint and well insulated, the completed house sells between $2,300 and $2,500 -and that includes a heating plant!

In several other Iowa communities the building of homes by using old grain bins is progressing rapidly. Frank Lawson, a contractor at Storm Lake, bought 150 of the bins and is converting them into houses.

By the time spring arrives, hundreds of new dwelling units will be scattered over all of Iowa where the housing shortage has been acute. It looks like the Shenandoah Sentinel is right: "The Housing Prob-lem Is Solved."

Dr. Carlos E. Castanada, an authority on Mexican history, will lecture on the historical background of Mexico and discuss interesting places on the itinerary.

Sociological and cultural information will be given the teachers by Dr. Rex Hopper, assistant professor of sociology at the university.

Former army-navy pilots are pepping up civilian flying all over the nation. Typical of news stories is this one from the Outlook, Lawrence, Kans.:

PORT has an odd way of hooking up time and space. On one night lately we ran across an Australian sportsman in New York, who felt fairly confident that Jack Bromwich and Dinny Pails could take pretty good care of the Davis cup next December. Next we had lunch with Beals Wright, the famous S. tennis star. Wright defeated both Norman Brookes and Tony Wilding on Australian turf in Davis cup play back in 1908, when they were considered unbeatable, although Australia retained the cup 3-2.

Grantland Rice Here was a gap of 38 years in time and 12,000 miles in space with the Davis cup the main item of conversation.

"I think we have an excellent chance to hold the cup," our Australian friend said. "Bromwich is good but in my opinion 19-year-old Dinny Pails is even better. Or he will be better with the 9 or 10 months of play and training he has left before next December. Some good advice from Sir Norman Brookes won't hurt. Bromwich is still in good form, an excellent player and a stout competitor. And we may have others by the cup

"Against this strong Australian pair the U. S. must bank largely on Frank Parker, Billy Talbot and possibly Kramer and Schroeder if they can get out of service in time to reach former form. You will discover no Big Bill or Little Bill in this group—the pair who brought the cup home in 1920 after World War I. But it will be an experienced team that can at least put up a good front."

Beals Wright—and 1908

"Australia and 1908 are a long way and a long time back," Beals Wright remarked. "We took a foolish gamble because only Fred Alexander and myself made the trip. I kept wondering what would happen if either of us should get sick or injured. We had no substitute. I had two great matches with Norman Brookes and Tony Wilding and was lucky to be at my best in both contests.

"Unless conditions have changed the U.S. team must be ready to face two important factors. One is the intense heat in December. When we played the temperature was 115 degrees. While it was a dry heat, still 115 is what you might call a bit warm. I recall an intense desire to take a drink of water through the matches, which, of course, I couldn't do. You shouldn't drink any water or anything else while the play is on.

The second factor is the turi. Australian turf is quite different from ours and England's, where the grass has a much lighter or thinner texture. Australian turf is much stronger, much more rugged. This means your spikes are likely to stick, affecting your ankles and your leg muscles. I don't think my legs were ever quite as sore. I had to go in for rubber-soled shoes."

Beals Wright is the son of the late George Wright, who played shortstop on the unbeaten Reds of 1869, a team that won 55 games, lost none and was tied once.

George Wright played professional ball until he retired in 1876, the year that gave birth to the National league. He was also a brilliant cricketer and a good golfer late in

Calls Tilden Greatest

I asked Beals to name the greatest tennis player he had ever seen in his 40-odd years of competition and observation.

"I've seen many great ones," he said "The Doherty brothers — Brookes and Wilding — Larned — McLoughlin - Billy Johnston - the French stars, especially Cochet the best that have come along since 1900. But the top man is still Bill Tilden in my opinion. Tilden had both speed and power on the court. As far as I could see he had no weakness in his championship years. He had amazing stamina. In addition to this Tilden had unusual court generalship. He was one of the few men I've seen in sport who could let down and then pull himself back. He had the art of keeping his opponent off balance, both mentally and physically. No one ever knew what was coming next."

Made Many Millionaires

So tremendous was the industrial development in this country for two decades after the Civil war that it produced several hundred millionaires, says Collier's.

Between 1890 and 1910, more than 500 daughters of such millionaires were married to titled Europeans. As the majority of the husbands were poor, the ultimate cost of these international unions to the families of the girls has been estimated at 220 million dollars.

What you NEED in SLOAN'S LINIMENT

TESTS conducted under a wide range of soil and weather conditions proved conclusively that Firestone Ground Grip tires will give your tractors up to 16% more pull on the drawbar. That's because only connected, triple-braced traction bars...with their extra tread-bar length in the center of the pulling zone...take a "Center Bite."

Besides giving Firestone Ground Grips a "Center Bite," connected traction bars also insure better cleaning. There are no brokenbar, trash-catching pockets such as you see on ordinary tires. The connected bars are stronger, too, because they are triple-braced. This added strength increases tread life.

These money- and time-saving features are responsible for today's farm preference for Firestone Ground Grips. And they are the reasons why it will pay you to have Firestone Ground Grips on your present tractors and to specify Ground Grips when you buy a new tractor.

*Area in white shows the "Center Bite" traction zone, not found in other tires because of Firestone's exclusive patent rights.

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF IOSCO IN CHANCERY

In the matter of the Petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

No. 1574

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court to be held at Tawas City in the County of Iosco, State of Michigan, on the 26th day of March A. D. 1946, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof desiring to contest the lien claimed the State of Michigan. part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, of for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day, of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 0'clock a.m. on said day or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Tresurer, or at such conventhe office of the County Tresurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Iosco, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveynce of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or be-fore the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF IOSCO IN CHANCERY

In the matter of the Petition of John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon. To the Circuit Court for the County of Iosco, in Chancery: John D. Morrison, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the nonpayment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays: a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended; b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc. Dated: January 17, 1946.

JOHN D. MORRISON, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

What the TELEPHONE WAGE SETTLEMENT Means...

... TO THE PUBLIC

Recognizing their responsibility for maintaining a vital public service, both union and management representatives made concessions that averted a telephone strike recently. • Settlement means that the welfare and security of the public were not imperiled by a general curtailment of telephone service; that business and industry were not handicapped by a lack of communications in their efforts to regain full stride.

... TO THE EMPLOYEES

The settlement provides basic wage increases of $5 to $8 a week for non-supervisory male employees and $5 to $7 for non-supervisory female employees.

The increases boost Michigan Bell's hourly basic wage rates an average of 18%, or 17 cents an hour. • This is in line with the national pattern of recent wage increases in other industries, and is subject to governmental approval under the national wage stabilization program.

... TO THE COMPANY

These new wage adjustments, together with those granted recently to supervisory employees, will add about $6,500,000 to Michigan Bell's annual payroll. The settlement means that the Company can keep moving ahead with its big expansion and improvement program to the end that the kind of telephone service wanted can be provided when and where it is wanted. With both employees and management pulling together, Michigan Bell looks forward to the busy months ahead with complete confidence. The agree of the property is a surplished.

Richard Powell ~ Shooting STARRING ARAB AND ANDY BLAKE WAN FEATURES

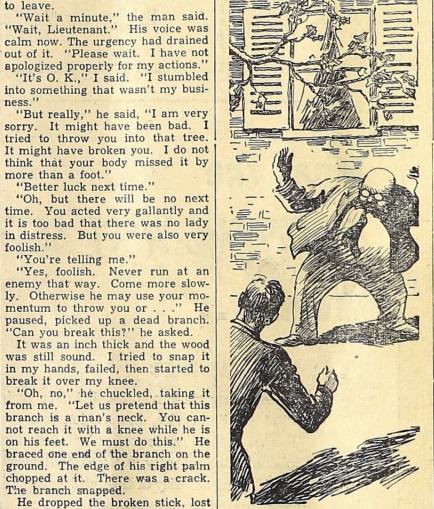

THE STORY THUS FAR: Lt. Andy Blake of Operations was joined in Washington by his wife, Arab, who took a job with Ordnance. Arab secured a room on ed, 'There are always extra girls, 'Q" street, which she believed to be the headquarters of German agents. Andy so if . . . if . . .''
"Sure, I understand. Joey's givgot into a fight with Joey, one of the roomers, and a neighbor, Jones, knocked ing me tough competition, isn't he? Joey out. The next night Andy went over to the Louse to look around. He checked on Joey's car and found out that I'll make it if I can. And thanks.'

After dinner in the cafeteria I got the car and invested part of my A ration in a drive to Rock Creek Park. A car would be handy for the program I had scheduled. I parked some distance away from the picnic site, and crept close. My woodsmanship would probably have deafened an Indian, but at least I got close without dislodging any boulders or snapping any dead trees underfoot-and besides nobody at the picnic was paying any attention. Everybody from the house on Q Street was present. I peered out from the shadow of a tree and spotted Renee and my pal Sadie and all the CAF twos and threes and Arab and Joey. A fire blazed in the dusk. shook him. He straightened and Arab had her head thrown back, laughing at Joey, and her hair tossed rippling golden reflections back at the fire. Joey looked like the kind of guy they fix up with a coconut palm and a sarong and a featured role opposite Dottie Lamour. He seemed to be doing all right in the role he had right now.

I went back to the car and drove down Rock Creek Parkway toward the turnoff to Q Street. My reconnaissance had produced the information I wanted: the house on Q Street was deserted.

A block away from the house-I pulled to the curb, switched off the motor, and began to change costume.

I shivered.

A service cap flaunting a big fried egg, a blouse with lots of shiny brass, and freshly pressed pinks weren't regulation for this sort of work. I skinned out of the pinks and into a pair of dark O. D. pants. I swapped the blouse for a field jacket without insignia and left the cap in the car. I was out of uniform, but the way I was going they'd overlook little details when they courtmartialed me.

The first window I came to, on the ground floor, was unlocked. I could have raised it and climbed in easily, but I didn't. Sneaking into dark houses is the sort of thing I tend to put off, like going to the dentist. I circled the place and found quite a few unlocked windows. Just out of curiosity I decided to test the front door. I climbed over the porch railing and crept to the door. Its latch moved under my thumb. I shrugged. Everybody was away and the front door was unlocked. Things couldn't have been arranged more conveniently. I started to open the door and then my nerves began snapping like old rubber bands.

Things couldn't have been arranged more conveniently. Uh-huh. And maybe they had been arranged.

I backed away from the door and my foot skidded on something round and hard. I picked it up. Probably it wouldn't have bothered anybody but a guy with the reflexes of a rabbit. I stared at it and almost shuddered a shoulder out of joint. It was a dead branch about an inch thick, neatly broken in the middle. Not the one I'd handled the night before. I held the thing like a person taking lesson number one in snake charming. Plain Mr. Jones had been practicing.

The branch was a plus sign which added up everything for me. The fat man and his friends suspected that somebody was unusually interested in the house on Q Street. Perfriends a picnic supper in Rock haps Arab had been prying around and had left traces, or perhaps they wondered why I was hanging around. At any rate, one of them, stage a picnic in Rock Creek Park I crept off the porch and into the shelter of the shrubbery. I found myself starting to yawn. It had been a long day. I needed to be fresh and alert for my job. It was really my duty to go home and get a good night's sleep and quit bothering people who didn't want company. The trouble was that going home wouldn't settle anything . . . and I owed Plain Mr. Jones a few bad moments.

I made a wide circuit across the street, across the grounds of the big estate, and then back across the street to the side of his house away from Renee Fielding's place.
His house was a Victorian type with gables at each end like ears pricked up to listen. No lights were show-ing. It wasn't likely that his house had been turned into a booby trap, too, and besides it wasn't a pleasant thought and the hell with it. I didn't have to worry about Plain Mr. Jones spotting me. There was enough space and shrubbery between the two houses to insure privacy. walked onto his porch and immediately found one bit of information. A small brass plate beside the door announced:

JONES NEWSPAPER CLIPPING SERVICE

I tilted an eyebrow at the sign. It was an interesting business for him to be operating. I tested the front door and checked all the groundfloor windows. No intruders were expected or wanted; everything was locked. I didn't mind that. After my experience next door an unlocked downstairs window would probably have sent me screaming home. I climbed onto the porch rail and found that I could get a good grip on the roof. Surprisingly enough, I could still chin myself. I pulled up, hooked an elbow and then a knee over the edge, and finally made it. After that feat I deserved to find an unlocked second-floor window, and I did.

Before getting too involved in anything I carried out the operation known as securing one's lines of retreat. I went downstairs, unlocked the front and back doors and all the windows. If things got bad I was all set, as the Axis communiques say, to disengage the enemy in a rearward direction. Then I began snooping around.

After returning to the second floor I examined the room I had first entered. It was just like the downstairs setup except that no clippings stairs setup except that no clippings were lying around. Only one, that is. I found it inside the leather reinforcing corner of a big desk-size blotter. I had been looking in the corners because people often tuck notes there, and then the notes slip in out of sight and are forgotten. in out of sight and are forgotten. The clipping was a short personal item, stamped with a date over a month old, and it had been clipped from a small-town weekly. It announced the disappointment of several of our prettiest girls. Bill wrote that he is mighty fit and that his Second Armored Division will give a good account of itself whenever it is called to go into battle for freedom. Good luck, Bill, and here's hoping you get that visit home soon.

I tucked the clipping away in my billfold. There should have been a couple of twenties to keep it company instead of a pair of wrinkled dollar bills and a dry cleaner's ticket. In certain quarters a clipping like this would be worth plenty, although you might have to take payment in reichsmarks. A fortune teller wouldn't have to squint at Bill's palm to chance a prediction that he was about to make a trip across water. If the Second Armored were canceling all leaves it was either going on maneuvers or heading for a staging area. The Second Armored was pretty hot. It had been on lots of maneuvers and its next batle problem was likely to be for keeps.

There were a couple of bedrooms on the second floor, and a big side room fixed up as a study. The latter was furnished with a big mahogany desk, a leather couch, two upholstered chairs, and a couple of straight ones. A bust of Caesar scowled from a table; it was the same one which used to sneer down at me in my Episcopal Academy days as I murdered sight translation. One wall was paneled with books: history, psychology, Haushofer's study of geopolitics, Clausewitz on war, Mahan on sea power, Homer Lea's once-forgotten books on Jap and German militarism, de Gaulle's analysis of tank warfare (the one which the French General Staff had snooted but which had greatly influenced the Germans). Rommel's hard-hitting book on minor tactics, and the like.

On one shelf was a collection of leather-bound multigraphed letters. They were all datelined from Washington, addressed to "Dear Sub-scriber" and signed "Observer." They contained alleged inside dope on Washington politics, economic trends, tax plans, and predictions about national and world affairs. very much. All of us go. THE EVERYDAY LIFE OF A PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT: Ruth 1:8-17.

MEMORY SELECTION: Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.—Ruth 1:16.

A good life in the midst of a corrupt and confused age-such is the life of Ruth in the awful chaos of the time of the judges. One is reminded of the poet's words:

"How far that little candle throws its beams! So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

It is refreshing to have a glimpse into the home life of God-fearing people who live right in spite of the low standards around them.

Ruth knew life's sorrows and its bitter disappointments. She was a widow, destitute of all she held most dear. Yet she, because of the sweet purity of her life and her devotion to God and those she loved, became an example for others.

As we read our lesson we first hear how logic speaks, then love replies, and finally a life says the final word.

I. Logic (vv. 8-13).

Tragic misfortune had visited Naomi, who with her husband and two sons had gone from Bethlehem to Moab in a time of famine. Not only had her husband died but also her two sons, who had married Gentile women, leaving three widows in one family to mourn together. Naomi craved the fellowship of her own people in her hour of trial, and she arose to return to her own

Her departure brought out in the two daughters-in-law the expression of kindness and loyalty which should exist in every family, but which is all too often lacking. Her own testimony concerning these girls of Moab is that they dealt kindly with her and with the dead. That word speaks volumes. There is so little genuine kindness in the world.

Both Orpah and Ruth went with her on the way, protesting their loyal purpose to go with her all the Naomi met their kind offer with the only sensible answer. There was no point in leaving their homes and loved ones and going with her to another country.

Logic is so conclusive and so final. Yes, and sometimes it reaches the wrong conclusion. Love has something to say about the matter. Let us listen to its voice.

II. Love (v. 14).

Orpah loved her mother-in-law. That is evident. She wept at the thought of parting, and was affectionate in her final farewell. We must not be too quick to censure her. She did what Naomi told her Mrs. Dwight had to call off a to do. She responded to her love party arranged for him, much to for home and kinfolk. She gave up reluctantly, but she did give up and turn back.

How glad we are that Ruth showed a deeper love. kissed her mother-in-law, but Ruth clave unto her." There is a difference. Such love cannot be denied. It is the most precious possession that a man can have, apart from his fellowship with God. The love of a devoted father or mother, of a noble helpmate, or of a little boy or girl, these are the things that really make life worth while.

Life has put into the hands of many of us the opportunity of showing just that kind of love in these postwar days. A boy comes home crippled and disabled and a loyal sweetheart shows her undiminished love for him, even though he can never again be what he had expected to be. That is love. A mother and a father take to their hearts a promising young son who returns from overseas with a shattered nervous system, and give their lives anew to him. One could go on and on with such illustrations, but what we are saying is that it takes more than a kiss and some tears to express real love. "Ruth clave unto her." Such love expresses itself in a

III. Life (vv. 15-17). Literature knows no more beautiful declaration of faith and devotion than these words, and nothing could improve on it. Lord Tennyson said of the book of Ruth that "no art can improve on it." And of these verses another said, "We cannot hope to contribute to literature a sentence so exquisite and thrilling as that into which Ruth poured the full measure of a noble heart, but we can imitate her devotion" (William Jennings Bryan).

The conclusion of the story finds Ruth married to Boaz, her kinsmanredeemer, and "living happily ever after," as a true romance should end. God gives happy endings. Here we find the right attitude toward marriage, something which needs emphasis in our day. ONLY LACK OF COMMODITIES

WILL LEAD TO INFLATION A LACK OF commodities with which to meet an unusual buyers' demand is a major factor leading to a disasterous inflation. We cannot have peacetime commodities until our factories are reconverted to peacetime production. Strikes, instituted by less than one-eighth of our population, delay reconversion and prevent the production of the greatly needed peacetime commodities. It can mean our destruction; hunger and cold and intense suffering for all including those who refuse to work.

Strikes, and especially those of the reconversion period, definitely affect each John Doak of us. And each John Doak will pay the price regardless of whether he lives on a farm, in a town, or a city; whether he be a wage earner or engaged in mercantile, manufacturing or professional business. Strikes that lead to inflation will mean the loss of the savings we have laid aside for those rainy days of declining years; a nulification of the values of our insurance policies we have carried for the protection of loved ones; a wiping out of the values of John Doak's investments in stocks and bonds, and there are some 60 millions of such John Doaks.

Can we, the John Doaks of America, afford to sit idly by with a feeling that strikes are none of our concern? They represent at this time a greater danger to us than do atomic bombs. But there is a defense. Much of the conditions out of which such a situation has grown was created by congress and by executive orders. Congress can remedy the conditions by enacting such legislation as will place on both sides of the labor - management controversy equal responsibility. That responsibility is now on one side only. Organized labor must carry its part. It must fulfil its contracts, or pay a penalty as does management. Congress listens when we, the John Doaks, speak as individuals. We can force a settlement, fair to both sides, and fair to ourselves, if we but insist on needed legislation. Congress will listen to the group representing the most votes, and the seven-eights of us not numbered among organized labor is that group.

GOVERNMENT MUST PROVIDE JOB FOR EVERYONE IN NEED

THE PURPOSE of the government is to provide a job for everyone who needs one. But, does everyone who needs a job want one? Back in 1927-28-29 when we were going strong - when there was an incessant cry for help, for more manpower - we had more than three million men who needed a job, but did not want one. were listed as better than three million unemployed. Throughout the period of the war, when every day brought an appeal for more workers, I could, and did, see each day a considerable number of healthy looking men sitting around on park benches. They were over draft age, but not over work age. They just did not want jobs. Throughout the nation there would be from three to four million such men, as there always are, regardless of the demand for workers. Let's start counting noses of those who both need and want jobs before we begin making government appropriations. There are always a considerable percentage who want to be supported without any effort on their part. With such men out, we cannot fill 60 million jobs.

Strange as it seems, Russia's only year-round ice-free ocean port has been Murmansk on the Arctic ocean. The opening of the Dardanelles, and acquiring of Koenigsburg on the Baltic and Port Arthur on the Pacific, will provide new outlets for Russian products, of which there will be an ever-increasing quantity.

IT IS A SAFE VENTURE that the men from the farms, as they have been or will be mustered out of the armed forces, will more quickly and satisfactorily adjust themselves to civilian activities, than will those of urban centers. There is something in following a plow, in harvesting the food crops, in doing the routine jobs of the farm, that is conducive to tranquility. The men of the farms will beat their swords into plowshares, and be pleased at tering to the face. Note the eyelet the opportunity of doing just that.

"TECHNOLOGY," says Webster, "is systematic knowledge of the in-dustrial arts." It is contributed to industry by management, but the benefits derived are largely divided between the buying public, in the form of lower prices, and labor, in the form of higher wages.

JUST HOW THE MAN in Maine, or Florida, or Virginia is to commute between home and a government job in Oregon, or Nevada, or Arizona, is a mere detail for cor-gress to work out.

Woman's World Unused Dresses Will Make Attractive Blouses, Jumpers

By Ertta Haley

A S YOU thumb through your closets preparatory to spring cleaning, you'll probably come across at least two dresses that are sadly worn and unwearable. With the clothing shortage and also the expense of buying new clothing, you would do well to consider the prospect of remodeling this clothing into something distinctly attractive and new looking.

One garment that has plenty of calls for wearing is the jumper. When it's tailored, the jumper is ideal for business wear or sports. If it's made of velvet or another of the more decorative materials, the jumper makes an attractive date dress.

Before any remodeling is attempted, the dress should be cleaned or washed thoroughly and ripped apart completely. Take care while ripping so that no threads in the material are pulled, and material so made useless. If you want to change the color of the dress, remove the old dye first. If, of course, you are dyeing it a darker color, the original shade does not have to be removed.

For the classic jumper, trim off the sleeves and cut the armholes, making them fairly large. If you are uncertain as to the exact shape you desire, consult a pattern. Trim down the neckline, too, into a square or round shape.

If the original skirt is flared, this may be retained in the jumper, but it will add a note of smartness to make wide, deep pockets out of the sleeves. In some tailored materials, these pockets take on new interest if they are stitched in contrasting thread.

In some jumpers, a capped sleeve treatment is used. This is easily done simply by recutting the sleeve, leaving enough material to fold under for finishing; or, the sleeves may be ripped out and the capped effect achieved through the use of wide bands of grosgrain or faille ribbon. This is done after the dress is redyed.

At the beginning of this article I spoke about the possibility of your finding two dresses in the closet. Thus far, only one of the dresses has been mentioned. The other dress might well be made into a blouse to go with the jumper so that you will have a complete costume.

Select Jumper Blouse In Contrasting Color

The blouse for the jumper should be contrasting in color to the jumper, itself, or it may blend with that garment. With so many new prints out this season, a worn print, provided it looks well with the solid color you have used in the jumper, would be highly desirable.

If, however, the jumper is of a rather conservative dark shade, the blouse can be a solid bright color that blends with the jumper. Bright red goes beautifully with navy blue, or cerise is a lovely foil for aqua.

You'll find ample material in most worn dresses for a blouse of almost any style and design. The most popular type for jumper wear is the blouse that ties in a bow at the neck, or one that has a neat collar treatment and buttons down the front. The sleeves may be long or short depending upon your taste and the material available.

If the dress is tailored, it may not be necessary to rip the complete garment. Sometimes the bodice of the dress just needs trimming from the skirt and finishing to make the complete blouse.

If you do want to make a brand new blouse, rip the dress and start as you would with new material. Recut the sleeves and make them long or short. Add a new collar if the dress has one that is too fussy, and do bear in mind the type of jumper when you are making the blouse.

Mending Pointers

Men's worn-out shirt cuffs may be cut off and turned. Soft collars can sometimes be purchased at a notions counter, or, they may be taken off other shirts that are not usable.

Never stop stocking runs temporarily with nail polish as this frequently damages the thread of the hose permanently. Reinforce weak spots by darning carefully before the holes appear. This is especially true for hose that tends to wear in the heels or toes or on top of the stocking.

Patch slips that wear out underneath the armholes. If the straps are worn, replacements may be purchased and sewed on easily.

Heavy linen thread is recommended for button sewing. Buttons will stay on better if they are sewed with a thread shank that permits the iron point to get closer to them without snapping off the button.

Hooks and eyes are best sewn with double thread and an over and over stitch through holes. Sew over hook near top to hold it down. The straight metal bar or thread bar worked with a blanket stitch is placed on the seam line. The curved eye extends slightly beyond edge of the open-

To mend a diagonal tear, darn with small running stitches parallel to lengthwise thread but in the direction of the tear. Over these stitches work another set of right angles to the first.

Spring Fashion Notes

If baby brother wants a sailor | outfit like big brother, select one in a fabric that repels grime and dirt so as to keep him neat longer.

For after-work, you'll want to concentrate on checked gingham short slacks and jersey blouses. Casual dresses include corded chambray, striped and checked ginghams, waffle pique in shirtwaist and button-front styles.

The angular outline in shoulders is disappearing and the rounded effect is coming back strong. Hips, too, are emphasized with draped shirrings.

Buttoned bands on square necklines and peplums go to make up smart, cool dresses for the summer and spring. Choose a dark background and trim in bright or pastel among the drugs used for the removal of internal parasites from farm animals. It may be easily administered to a group of pigs at one time by incorporating the required amount into almost any feed given

When administered in the feed it should be given at the rate of about 0.1 gram per pound of live weight, or about 4 grams each pig weighing about 40 pounds. Phenothiazine should be thoroughly mixed into the grain, milk or other food. Pigs under three months of age are susceptible to various toxic reactions following treatment, so care should be taken to prevent overdosing. Individual doses of pellets, tabs, or drench with a syringe, are also commonly used.

Tests have proven that phenothiazine is also partially effective against several other parasites of livestock. The USDA have estimated that this new drug is worth more than 10 million dollars annually to the livestock industry in making it possible to produce better stock, free from worms.

Soybean Stem Rot May Be Greatly Reduced

Big yields from healthy vines.

Soybeans are a soil-building crop ment in the soil when grown for seed or forage in rotation with other crops, if the straw is plowed under and returned to the soil as manure.

They should not, however, be planted in the same field two years in a row if stem rot is to be avoided. The fungus that causes the disease is unknown. It is perhaps the most serious disease that has yet attacked the soybean. Like most new crops, soybeans have been relatively free from disease.

Modern science has discovered that the glands of sheep weigh from two to four grams. The iodine content is from 0.2 to 0.3 per cent. This small amount is often the difference between health and sickness, profit

Time to Plan for Next

Year's Sweet Potato Crop If planning to grow sweet potatoes, now is the time to purchase certified seed stock. If old bed is to be utilized, it should be renewed as soon as the frost has left the soil. To secure the best returns, use hotbeds to start the plants. More sweet potato plants can be obtained per bushel of seed bedded when electric or fire-heated beds are used. As manure is a source of disease spread, it should not be used on beds.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To Our Many Friends and Customers...

We are pleased to announce that we have purchased the Masonic Building and property in Tawas City to remodel into a store for our new quarters.

Remodeling to be started at once with the anticipation that we will have a large display of stock within the very near future.

We shall continue to render the service that we have always given, and we still are operating at the present with an office in the J. Barkman Lumber Co. building.

Thanking all for your kind interest and many past favors.

You aren't getting machinery, Mr. Farmer, because...

PRODUCTION LINES!

...so don't blame your Implement Dealer!

Your implement dealer had planned and expected to have his display floor filled with new implements and tractors weeks ago. And we had planned to make them—had told our dealers and our farmer customers they would have new equipment and plenty of service parts for the 1946 spring work. And we had hoped to sell these machines at no advance in price.

Real Production Had Started

When the war ended, our organization bent every effort to increase production, with the result that in the last months of 1945 machinery was being built in very substantial quantities. Here are a few figures:

PRODUCTION NOV. 1945 DEC. 1945 7,432 Combines.........2,345 3,308 Cultivators . . . . . . . . . . 3,482 Hay Loaders ..... 209 *Plows ......6,185* 6,702* *Plows are made in our Canton and Chattanooga Works, Both your dealer and we were encouraged by this production picture at the turn of the year. But the strike changed all that. As you know, the CIO United Farm Equipment & Metal Workers of America called a strike in ten of our plants, on January 21, 1946.

which are not on strike. January production was 7,747 plows.

What Is The Strike About?

Wages are a basic issue. At the time of the Yarvester employes were among the higher paid workers in American industry. When the strike began, the average hourly earnings in the ten plants, not including overtime, were $1.151/2. If present wage proposals are adopted, this figure will become $1.331/2 per hour.

When the strike began, negotiations were broken off by the Union on the issue of compulsory union membership. The Company has no desire to weaken the Union. It recognizes certain reasonable needs of the Union. But the Company does oppose compulsory unionism. It feels strongly that an employe's membership should be a matter of his own choice.

Material Costs and Price Relief

Wages and materials are the great costs of operating our business-together they consume all but a few cents of every dollar the Company takes in. Wages are obviously going to be high—and nobody knows just how high material costs will go.

In the face of rising costs of materials, the Company does not see how it can pay the wage increases recommended by a Govern-ment fact finding board until it has definite and satisfactory assurance from the Government that reasonable price relief will be granted to the Company within a reasonable period of time. This matter is of such importance that it will not be discussed here, but will be covered by future advertisements devoted to both prices and profits.

Speaking for our dealers and ourselves, we can assure you that no customer is more eager than we are to resume production. We are doing and shall continue to do everything in our power to bring about a fair settlement as soon as possible.
