X-Ray Clinic Here Tuesday, April 23

On Tuesday, April 23, 1946, a tuberculosis x-ray clinic will be held from 9:00 to 12:00 A. M. at the Tawas high school building. Formerly this clinic had been scheduled to be in the afternoon of April 23, but the Michigan Tuberculosis Association asked to have the time changed to morning hours.

A special effort is being made to reach food handlers with this clinic. Dr. Robert C. Strode, district health officer considers that all employees of food handling establishments should have an annual tuberculin test and if found to be a positive reactor, an x-ray. Tawas City has a city food ordinance which requires such a test.

Toward carrying out this program a number of food handlers were given a Patch test for TB. On Monday of this week, a reading of these tests will be made about 96 hours later and those who are positive reactors to this test, i. e., those who show a susceptibility to tuberculosis will be given the x-ray of the chest at the clinic on April 23, in the morning.

Three-Year Old Boy Crushed To Death

Little Dale Lynn Harsch
Falls from Truck

Dale and his three little sisters and brother were playing around the truck. Before starting to drive the truck, the grandfather lined up the children out of the way. While Mr. Harsch got into the cab, little Dale slipped away from the group and climbed on the truck. Shortly after the truck started the little fellow fell beneath the wheels.

The child was born April 20, 1943. The entire community was shocked by the tragedy and deeply sympathize with the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harsch, and Supervisor and Mrs. Harold Black.

The remains were brought to the Moffatt funeral home.

SMELT RUN BRINGS MANY TO TAWAS

During the past week hundreds of hardy fishermen have lined up along the Tawas River and Big Ditch to dip the "silver horde" of smelt that are swimming upstream to their spawning grounds. The fishermen who braved the cold winds were well repaid for their efforts with tubs and bushel baskets full of the fish. Saturday the run reached its peak when the dippers were getting about twenty-five to thirty to a dip. The smelt made their reappearance to the lakes and rivers of Michigan this year after their mysterious disappearance for several years.

All of the restaurants were sold out over the week-end because of the many down state people crowded them.

WAR NOT EXPECTED

WASHINGTON.—That the Truman cabinet is not looking for war in the near future, despite warlike talk, was indicated at a secret session of the senate military affairs committee recently.

When Secretary of State Byrnes and Secretary of War Patterson testified in favor of an extension of the selective service act, the figures they presented on planned strength of the army and navy were exactly the same as those presented early in January. In other words, they proposed an army of barely over a million men by July of 1947.

The senators had expected that because of the complicated international situation a larger army would be asked for, but the war and state departments made no such request. When one senator asked how it happened that there was no "emergency" planning, Secretary Byrnes refused to answer. He passed the question to Secretary Patterson, who also did not reply.

WALLACE SPEECH CENSORED.

It wasn't supposed to be known outside the cabinet, but Henry Wallace's speech at the Jackson Day dinner was censored — by President Truman himself. Wallace had one line in his speech which he thought would answer Republican critics. It read:

"Abraham Lincoln was not a member of our party. But he was certainly a fellow traveler."

Truman thought such a reference to the martyred Lincoln might be misunderstood and cut it out. Wallace was glad to concur.

MEN'S SUITS

It still looks like a long wait before veterans can get the clothing they need. The office of war mobilization and reconversion will soon bring out a report on men's clothing showing a need for 40 million suits this year but production plans for only about 28 million.

The report will also show that first quarter production has been only about 5 million, and officials of the civilian production administration are worried sick that even the goal of 28 million suits for 1946 will not be met.

There is no sign yet that the increase in prices granted this month by OPA will mean more men's suits. There are indications, however, that large stocks of suits are being held off the market in the hope that price control will not be extended beyond June.

For years John L. Lewis has been one of labor's top negotiators. Usually he has his facts cold. Recently, however, while arguing safety precautions with Harry Moses, an important Pittsburgh mine operator, he said:

"Why, Harry, your father is a good illustration of why we need these safeguards. Everybody knows him as a veteran coal man, and we've all seen him limping around for 50 years because of a mine accident. So how can you sit there and deny us the safeguards to prevent the same sort of thing from happening to other miners?"

"John," replied Moses, "I don't know where you got your information about my father—but it wasn't so good. I'll tell you how he hurt his leg. It wasn't in a coal mine, it was playing baseball. He broke his leg sliding into second."

NOTE — Bureau of mine officials heartily endorse Lewis' demands for better safety precautions in the mines.

DIPLOMATIC VICTORY

During the heyday of the Roosevelt administration, Vice Pres. Jack Garner gave a dinner for the late Will Rogers at which the cowboy humorist, commenting on a forthcoming international conference, said:

"This country has won every war, but lost every conference." Recently, however, one international conference closed at Savannah, Ga., at which the United States won every single round. It was the first world monetary conference, and the man responsible for the American victory was hard-hitting Fred Vinson, secretary of the treasury.

His chief battle was over the location of the international bank and the stabilization fund to be established under the Bretton Woods plan. The British wanted the bank and fund located in New York, but Secretary Vinson wanted them in Washington. When the vote was taken, there was only one vote against Washington — Lord Keynes' vote.

FORTUNATE . . . Robert and Ely Lindahl and sons feel "fortunate" that they have a two-room apartment and can live in Denmark. Family income is about $1,600 a year, with $200 going for taxes. Pauline Frederick, WNU Foreign Correspondent, was a guest in their home.

EUROPE'S LITTLE PEOPLE — 1946

Copenhagen Most 'American' Of All Cities on the Continent

By PAULINE FREDERICK
WNU Foreign Correspondent

COPENHAGEN.—Denmark's revered Grundtvig has said that this is a land where "few have too much and fewer have too little." Copenhagen is a city of one million, containing one-fourth of the population of the whole country. And I might add that American army men visiting here on leave are saying that Copenhagen reminds them more of an American city than any place they have seen over here.

My trip here was extremely worth while, for I had a chance to meet and get acquainted with Robert and Ely Lindahl and their two sons, Svend, aged three, and Palle, who is two.

The Lindahls live two flights up in a two-room apartment of a large red-brick apartment building. They have a single living room where they also eat, a smaller bedroom shared by the four of them, a kitchen with gas-range and cupboards and sink like those in thousands of American kitchens, a bath with shower. The Lindahls lean toward simple, modern furnishings in warm rusts and greens with colorful land and seascapes on the walls. It was February, but there was a bunch of golden forsythia on the coffee table. The blonde, bright-eyed hostess and her husband offered cherry wine in which we toasted Denmark and America.

Robert Lindahl is a clerk in the office of the oldest newspaper in Scandinavia. He earns eight thousand crowns a year, or a little better than $1,600, and around $200 of in any other country of Europe except Belgium. It is not surprising that in a dairy land like this she is able to give her children the milk they need and the eggs and cream and many of the other essentials. In fact, in the food line only the following are rationed: butter, sugar, brown bread, white bread, oatmeal, coffee, tea and cocoa. Since the liberation the butter ration has been cut from three pounds per person per month to two pounds because it is being exported. Each person is allowed about three and one-third pounds of sugar a month. Candy is scarce, especially chocolate. Each person may have a little less than three-fourths of a pound of bread per day, about one-half pound of coffee or cocoa and a little more than one-fourth pound of tea per month. The soap ration is one-third of a pound per person for personal use each month, and the same amount in soap flakes or powder for household use.

Svend and Palle Lindahl are having a chance to grow up in a little country that will offer them many advantages if there is not another war. (But there are many Danes who expect that the United States and Great Britain are going to get tired of their occupation job in Germany and withdraw, and in that event a new Hitler will soon come to power.) Because of the advance in medicine and hygiene, the average life span of these little boys should be 64 years, and if they have any sisters, theirs should be 66 years. If they decide to live in the country they will probably have a farm of from 24 to 120 acres, the size of most Danish farms. If they live in the city they will probably have two-room flats such as they occupy now, as that is an average city dwelling.

From olden times the Danish State has recognized its obligation to supervise and watch over the normal and physical upbringing of children and take special care of incorrigible and perverted as well as neglected and deserted youngsters.

When it comes time to go to school, the Lindahl boys will find that not only are the secondary schools free, but instruction at universities and other advanced institutions of learning is also free. When they are ready to take jobs they will find that 52 per cent of their fellow men are engaged in manufacturing and crafts and 28 per cent in forestry and fishery.

They will find that they are living under a constitutional democracy. With fervence people here talk of their king who stayed with them during the occupation, while at the same time they cling ardently to their democratic institutions.

Yes, Svend and Palle Lindahl, you were fortunate to be born in Denmark—that is, if there isn't another war in Europe.

PAULINE FREDERICK

It goes for taxes. The apartment with heat costs about $200 a year, with gas and electricity running $28. Robert went to work when he was 14, and in 1939 when he married Ely she was working in an office also.

I noticed two books in English in their book-case. Both the Lindahls expressed regret that they had not been able to continue school where they would have learned to speak English, which was a requirement, so they are trying to learn to read the language a little as they find time.

Mrs. Lindahl says with real satisfaction that she is fortunate that she can bring up her healthy blonde little boys in a country where it is possible today to get more to eat than

Denmark's Economy Is Well Balanced

Denmark is one of the few countries where the cost of living and wages have been kept more or less in balance. Finance Minister Thorvald Kristensen explained to me that during the occupation the Germans offered high wages to get workers to build airdromes and other installations. Wages in towns rose between 60 and 65 per cent, and went up even more in agricultural areas. Since 1939 the cost of living has gone up 60 per cent, although the quality of all goods has gone down. Whether or not high wages can be maintained depends on the competition from world wages. The finance minister said the prices Denmark is able to get from her exports will greatly affect the wage standard at home. Cotton and wool are almost non-existent, since the Danes are trying to build up dollars to increase the imports. It is harder to get clothing than food in Denmark.

In These United States

Americans Will Greet Easter With Open-Air Sunrise Worship

(By WNU Feature Service)

Hours before the dawn on Easter, thousands of American families will be stirring about, getting ready to attend sunrise services, thus dramatically and reverently affirming their belief in the Resurrection. The Easter sunrise service has become an institution that has spread all over the United States in the past 25 years, and this year it will be greater than ever.

Again nature's cathedrals of the great outdoors in national parks will provide backgrounds and settings for Easter worship from New Jersey to California. Open-air services will be held at the rim of the Grand Canyon, at the base of towering Half Dome in Yosemite, by the Easter Bowl near Stovepipe Wells in Death Valley, among the fantastically carved and vividly colored sandstone cliffs of Zion in Utah, and around a rustic cross in the pines on the summit of Hot Springs mountain.

Mammoth Hot Springs terrace will be the church of the open air in Yellowstone, and special Easter services will be held on Bromide Hill in Pratt National park, Oklahoma. Scene of historic ceremonies more than 800 years ago, the Great Kiva in Aztec Ruins National park, New Mexico, will again be used for sunrise services. Deep within Carlsbad Caverns, 750 feet below the surface, hundreds of visitors will gather for Easter worship.

In the cities, too, sunrise services will be held from coast to coast. From Rodney Square in Wilmington, Del., to Soldier Field, Chicago, and the Rose Bowl at Los Angeles, more thousands will gather to sing and worship as the sun rises on Easter morn. The traditional service at the Garden of the Gods, Colorado Springs, will be broadcast over a nation-wide radio network.

Miami Beach, Atlantic City, Seattle, and dozens of other cities have instituted sunrise services. In Washington, everyone from the President and cabinet members to the lowliest citizen will attend the impressive Easter service at Arlington National cemetery. At San Francisco, thousands will rally at Mt. Davidson for Easter worship.

Hundreds of small communities in Texas, Kansas, Vermont, Oregon, and all the other states, will hold their own sunrise services, many of them in parks and public squares, others among the great natural settings so abundant in America.

KING FOR DAY . . . Cpl. Lawrence O. Johnson of Portland, Ore., was chosen from G.I.s in the regional hospital of the Smoky Hill army air field, Salina, Kan., as "King of McPherson for a Weekend." One of his first acts was to repeal an old law prohibiting boys from playing marbles on Sunday.

Uncle 'Stork'

WASHINGTON.—Uncle Sam is still playing stork for war veterans. The old fellow who has already played a part in bringing some 800,000 servicemen's babies safely into the world, all expenses paid, is still taking on the responsibility for an additional 30,000 or so monthly.

This function comes under the Emergency Maternity and Infant Care program which provides for service to wives of servicemen in the four lowest pay grades, including medical, hospital and nursing care for their infants during the first year of life.

Hyde Park Dedication Is Set for April 12th

WASHINGTON.—Ceremonies formally dedicating to the nation the home of Franklin D. Roosevelt as a national historic site will be held at Hyde Park, N. Y., April 12, first anniversary of the former President's death, with President Truman scheduled to deliver the principal address. J. A. Krug, secretary of the interior, will accept the property for the department and the national park service.

YOSEMITE . . . Mirror Lake at the base of Half Dome is the scene of Easter sunrise services each year. Thousands of California people as well as many from other states attend the annual event.

"Off We Go" AVIATION NOTES

FORMER PARATROOPERS The 17th airborne division association has grown from 134 members in September, 1945, to over 3,000. But there are 20,000 eligible former 17th men for whom the association has no address. The address is 11 Ravine street, Birmingham, Mich., in case others want to join. The official publication is the "Talon."

Buy Stratocruisers Northwest Airlines has purchased 10 Boeing stratocruisers, developed from the B-29 superfortress. Double-decked, each will carry 75 passengers.

ECONOMY FLYING CLUB At Waukegan, Ill., Wayne Carpenter, manager of the airport, is gathering 100 members for the Economy Flying club, with annual membership set at $25 and $10 a month for flying training. The plan is experimental, Carpenter said, its purpose being to make it possible for anyone to learn flying.

Cleveland Foundation Civic and business leaders of Cleveland, Ohio, have formed a non-profit air foundation to advance aviation through public education, research, and by means of scholarships.

AIRLINE PILOT . . . Miss Louise Schurman, who flew for the ATA in England during the war, is now working as a co-pilot with Willis Airlines, New York. She has over 1,600 pilot hours and has flown practically every type of plane.

Farm Aviators to Meet Farmer-aviators will fly to the Hutchinson municipal airport, Hutchinson, Kan., on Friday, May 24, to organize a Kansas Flying Farmers' club. More than 100 are expected to attend.

Vets Get Airport BETHANY, CONN.—The new owner of the Bethany airport is Bethany Airways, Inc., with Bob Halpin as president and Ben Shifrin, secretary-treasurer. Both of the men are ex-army pilots.

Swank and the Ball Parks

"Get me a table up front at the ball game!" . . . "How's about a reservation for six at the double-header. And will you put on four quarts of champagne! . . . Never mind who's pitching; what I wanna know is who's in the floor show!"

These may be routine cracks in American big league ball parks this season. Two private club rooms with bars and 400 boxes to which members only will be permitted will be a feature of the games at Yankee Stadium.

The boxes and club rooms will be open to members paying from $600 to $900 a season, and most of the memberships have already been grabbed by bankers, brokers, business men, theatrical men, etc.

Thus will exclusiveness, social distinctions be introduced to that stronghold of democracy, the American national game of baseball. Down through baseball history the millionaire has rubbed elbows with the street cleaner at the ball parks. "Take your coat off, let your hair down, relax and be one of the gang!" has been the traditional cry.

All men may not have been positive they were equal but at the ball game they felt closer to it than anywhere else.

And now—of all places—the baseball park is to find class consciousness, the upper and lower levels of society, financial distinction and a touch of the night club and country club flavor. One club room will be modernistic with chromium fixtures and red leather chairs; the other will carry the mood of an old English inn of the Heathcliff-on-Finchley-Finchley type. The bar and restaurant will be a deluxer.

Bleacher fans arise! We demand that the bottle of beer, the pop bottle, the frankfurter and the cause of democracy remain intact at American baseball parks, never to give way to the breast of chicken under glass, the ragnum of vintage wine, cafe society, the gossip columns and special privileges for the bourbons!

The beer shortage may be so serious this summer that we will be applying for priority to get a small glass of suds. But we can stand anything up to the point where, in order to get a schooner of beer, we are compelled, through a tie-in sale, to buy a crate of sweet cider.

A rich New York landlord and real estate speculator who worked the old game of charging a war veteran several thousand dollars for a few bits of cheap furniture in order to get a small apartment, got ten days in jail and a fine of $100 the other day. Our idea, if that is the maximum penalty, would be to make the landlord come across with at least $5,000 for the chair in his cell.

A. A. Milne says that years of war have hardened the British so that they "are now immune from the scourge of victory."

It seems more and more apparent that what UNO needs more than anything else are bumpers front and rear and a bullet-proof windshield.

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

"Bock Beer, Five Cents."

"Here's a quarter. Go get a quart of ice cream."

"I don't make a lot of money but I can get all I need and have some fun."

"Let's buy him two new suits for Easter."

HERE AND THERE

They say General Marshall, back from China, took one look at the American scene and exclaimed, "And I thought it hard to understand Chinese!" . . . Are-We-Gonna-Get-Inflation Item: the $3.50 filet mignon without vegetables. . . . Bakery inquiry, now that the size of the loaf of bread has been cut, "Do you want the small loaf or the invisible one?"

Winston Churchill, getting still another degree, must wish he could repeat his famous line, "This may not be the beginning of the end, but it is the end of the beginning."

Shopper's Lament The shop windows bulge with the loveliest things; A feast for the greediest eyes! It seems to hurt more with rare objects galore To find that they don't have your size.

REMEMBER—When a woman's complain "He spends his weeks salary on liquor" implied that he got more than two drinks? Back when it wasn't necessary to begin each day by checking to see how far away the nearest war was?

Happy Days for Sluggish Folks

WHEN CONSTIPATION makes you feel punk as the dickens, brings on stomach upset, sour taste, gassy discomfort, take Dr. Caldwell's famous medicine to quickly pull the trigger on lazy "in-nards", and help you feel bright and chipper again. DR. CALDWELL'S is the wonderful sena-laxative contained in good old Syrup Pepsin to make it so easy to take. MANY DOCTORS use pepsin preparations in prescriptions to make the medicine more palatable and agreeable to take. So be sure your laxative is contained in Syrup Pepsin. INSIST ON DR. CALDWELL'S—the favorite of millions for 50 years, and feel that wholesome relief from constipation. Even finicky children love it. CAUTION: Use only as directed.

Watch Your Kidneys! Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste. Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys are sometimes lazy in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney trouble or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

RURAL INTELLIGENCE ABOVE LARGE CITIES

THROUGH THE MANY years that I edited a service used by the rural newspapers of America, as many as 10,000 of them, I had many callers whose purpose was to sell manuscripts. Frequently those callers would tell me that while their offerings might not be up to the standards of the better grade magazines and periodicals, they were good enough for country readers. I invariably refused to look at such manuscripts, or to hold any extended conversation with such writers. The appeal to that rural audience called for the best. The average of intelligence in rural sections is much higher than is found in urban centers. That is demonstrated, in one way, by the registration of students in our colleges and universities. For each 1,000 of population, there are more college and university students from the small cities, towns and farms than from the larger cities. Rural America supplies the greater portion of the brains of the nation.

LABOR MUST RECEIVE A FAIR PROFIT DIVISION

DIFFICULTIES between industrial management and labor will not be permanently settled by the granting of demanded reduction in working hours, or demanded increase in wages. They are but palliatives. They do not cure the disease. The disease will not be cured so long as labor is considered a commodity to be bought and sold. Underneath it all there are basic fundamentals that must be recognized and firmly established by law. Labor must know definitely that it receives a fair proportion of the profits labor produces. Labor must accept its responsibility for labor's part in that production from which profits are made. The establishing of such fundamentals is something more than an industrial job. It is a political, but not a partisan, job without reprisals for either side. To keep on as we are going the radical element of labor will break our free enterprise system and substitute state socialism.

WE NEED trained workers, men and women who are proficient at a job. A large part of the purpose of organized labor is to so limit the training of new workers in any trade as to create a continuous deficiency in that trade. The apprentice system imposed upon industry is an ever threatening evil. I know of a plant in which 80 trained workers are employed. In that plant, the union permits the employment of but one apprentice, who after five years is recognized as a journeyman worker. At that rate, it would take 150 years to replace the 80 trained workers needed for that plant's operation. A dearth of trained workers means a limitation on production, and America needs an ever-increasing production to keep our standard of living moving upward.

IF THOSE WHOSE JOB it is to represent us at Washington would forget politics for a time, and instead of working to create votes, one way or the other, would think only of America, we might get out of this mess. Too much is being done to make votes for next November.

WHAT A DULL WORLD this would be if everyone thought the same way, and did the same things.

War did much to shatter our preferences for favorite commodities and favorite stores. Years of advertising had established those favorites, and then when we could not get them at our favorite stores, we went to others. In the end, we purchased where we could, what, at the time, seemed but substitutes. These we are continuing to use. It will take more years of advertising to attract us back to the prewar favorites in both commodities and the stores at which to buy them.

THE NUMBER OF federal government civilian employees for January of this year was 27,728 greater than for the previous December, despite a decrease of 27,000 in the civilian employees of the army. It seems impossible to break the bureaucrats away from the feed trough, and then, too, there is an election next November.

FOR THE FIVE-YEAR period ending January 1, 1945, the financial assets of American farms increased to 17 billion dollars as against 5 billion for the previous five-year period. Agriculture is not doing so badly.

PUBLIC OPINION is not changed by talking to those who believe as you do.

It's a neat trick

but we can't do it

ADVENTUROUS little boys risk their hides on hazards like this every day. But most grown-ups shy away from risks—especially if they have a responsibility to other folks. Here at Michigan Bell, we have a vital 24-hour-a-day responsibility to millions of Michigan people. We have to keep our feet solidly on the ground.

This rule applies to every phase of our business, including the company's earnings. Good telephone service depends on adequate earnings, and we must avoid any risks that might jeopardize them.
 Here is why. Thousands of thrifty people have their savings invested in Bell System securities. Their money makes good telephone service possible. In fact, Michigan Bell's 5-year $150,000,000 expansion program will be financed by these and other investors. And that program will provide more and better telephone service for you.

So you see, our earnings are important all around. And telephone rates—such a small part of your monthly budget—must be maintained at a level which will keep our earnings adequate. Otherwise, investors would put their money into some other business, and the future quality and extent of your telephone service would suffer.

We believe our customers want good telephone service, even if it costs a trifle more than inferior service.
 Technical improvements in the past brought rates for good service down and have kept them down in the face of rising costs. As rapidly as future improvements will permit, we expect and want our rates to come down still further. For, Michigan Bell wants rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to insure good telephone service.

All Over But the Richard Powell Shooting AN INNER SANCTUM MYSTERY STARRING ARAB AND ANDY BLAKE WHO FEATURES

THE STORY THUS FAR: Lt. Andy Blake and his wife, Arab, believed that a German spy ring was working out of her Jones' house, nearby, and found some evidence which he turned over to FBI.

CHAPTER X

When we finished we were pretty sure of what we had. No remark made the grade unless we knew that there was a chance that the speaker could have had some kind of inside knowledge on the point in question.

1-Remark: "People think they're not getting much gas now, but just wait. So much oil will be needed that we'll have to cut the A cards way down from four gallons. And maybe the B cards too."

2-Remark: "We're so busy that half the time I don't know whether I'm coming or going. I thought it was bad last spring but now—!"

3-Remark: "I used to be a wiz in geography at school, only I didn't know the half of it. Why, some of these places in foreign countries can be spelled three or four different ways..."

8-Remark: "This V-mail is really wonderful. Of course it will take time for it to catch on but we're getting ready to handle a big increase soon."

10-Remark: "Almost every boy I knew at college went Navy. Funny, most of them got jobs skipping something called Higgins boats. They were so disgusted. They wanted PT boats. One of them was coming down this week end but his leave was canceled."

11-Remark: "Those German tanks aren't so tough. After all, we haven't been asleep. Wait till they hit our new tank destroyers."

13-Remark: "I thought we'd have a grand week end but Eddie could only get a six-hour pass and then go right back to camp, so my trip wasn't worth while. And he was so miserable. Everybody in his outfit had more inoculations."

15-Remark: "It's not just a matter of shipping locomotives. American locomotives won't run on some of these narrow-gauge tracks."

gauge tracks: North Africa. Arab—Russia? Me—Russia has extra-wide gauge. 16-Remark: "He wrote me his hands were all over blisters from spending a week climbing down some kind of rope things on the side of a ship."

"Let's go," I whispered.

"Let's go," I whispered. Arab must have felt me go rigid. Her lips moved against my ear. "What is it?" she asked.

"Don't look now," she whispered, "but here comes company. That's a window going up."

III. Some Stayed at Home (Mark 5:18-20). These men had met Jesus before (John 1:35-51), but now He was ready to call them away from their daily occupation as fishermen and make them "fishers of men."

IV. Others Left Home and Business (Luke 5:27, 28). Levi—better known to us as Matthew—was "a member of that hated group of renegade Jews, who served the Roman invader and helped him in his cruel work of wringing extortionate taxes from the people" (Earl L. Douglass).

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 14 Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

Friendship calls for an exchange—not of gifts or possessions necessarily, but of service, love and fellowship. The friends of Jesus responded to the warmth of His affection and the appeal of His call, and they gave themselves in life and service to Him.

I. Some Became Preachers (Mark 1:16-20). These men had met Jesus before (John 1:35-51), but now He was ready to call them away from their daily occupation as fishermen and make them "fishers of men."

II. Others Became Followers (Mark 10:46, 52). When Jesus came by, blind Bartimaeus began to cry, "Jesus, son of David have mercy on me" (v. 47).

III. Some Stayed at Home (Mark 5:18-20). This striking story of the deliverance of the mad man shows the importance of testimony at home. The people had asked Jesus to leave (v. 17) because in delivering the maniac He had caused some swine to go mad and run into the sea.

IV. Others Left Home and Business (Luke 5:27, 28). Levi—better known to us as Matthew—was "a member of that hated group of renegade Jews, who served the Roman invader and helped him in his cruel work of wringing extortionate taxes from the people" (Earl L. Douglass).

By GRANTLAND RICE

LOU BOUDREAU, the 29-year-old manager of Cleveland's Indians and one of baseball's best short-stops, has the brand and breed of club he likes to handle. In the main it is a young club, a big club, a hustling club and it is backed up by four talented starting pitchers. These are Bob Feller, Allie Reynolds, Steve Gromek and Charley Embree, with other possibilities who should help.

"This is a tough race for anyone to predict," Boudreau tells me. "I mean a tough season in trying to guess postwar form. I will say right at the start that I can't see any hot chance of our Indians beating out the Yankees, Red Sox or Tigers. But maybe we can nip one of them with our pitching and our hustle and finish as high as third. Fourth place is our main goal and that won't be any sure thing."

"I'm looking largely to a year or two on beyond when these kids will be seasoned. And don't forget by that time our starting pitchers, headed by Bob Feller, should still be going strong. It isn't an old staff. Feller, Reynolds, Gromek and Embree are all well under 30."

Two Strong Points

It might be stated here that the combination of Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack gives the earnest Indians a strong spot at short and second, where strength is needed.

It might also be mentioned that in Lou Boudreau the Indians have a young manager who is rapidly gaining experience, for which there is no substitute in sport. Not often, anyway.

"If the Yankees, Tigers and Red Sox play up to their expected form," Boudreau says, "I can't see how they are to be crowded out from the first three places. But a lot of things can happen through a long baseball season. A lot of things. After all none of the top three will be cheering when they have to face our pitching staff day after day, and they all know this."

"It means a lot to have four good starters you can bank on. Pitching has always been and always will be a big part of baseball. How much? Well, maybe 60 or 70 per cent."

Bob Feller's Future

It was worth while taking another look at Bob Feller, hardest working member on the Cleveland roster.

I asked Feller about his improved curve ball. I heard he had developed this in the navy.

"No," Bob said, "that isn't right. I've had about the same curve for some years now. Only before I depended too much on my fast one. Now I'm simply using more curves. This also helps save my arm."

"I didn't get to do so much pitching in the navy," Bob went on, "but I'll tell you one new thing I learned. This was a slider. I don't know how it will work out, but it may help."

A Bob Feller with a slider added to his fast ball and his curve ball isn't going to be happy news to American league hitters.

I didn't have the nerve to ask Feller how many years he thought he might have left. For at the age of 27, 28 in November, my guess would be at least 10 years more. This is still a guess for I felt sure that Dizzy Dean would have better than 10 years left when something snapped and went sour in his right shoulder blade.

All I can say here is that Bob Feller is smart enough to be thinking about 1946, not 1948 or 1950. He knows what the hazards are when you are wheeling that fast one and that quick break in game after game against bats that too often are loaded with poison.

True Color in Baseball

The Yankees have been accused in the past of lacking color.

I was talking about this matter of Yankee color with Manager Joe McCarthy recently.

"In my opinion," he said, "this 1946 Yankee team has my idea of true color—the color that really belongs. By that I mean the color we have in infield skill and in outfield skill and power."

"I believe big crowds will get their thrills out of watching our infield in practice—Rizzuto and Gordon around second, Stirnweiss at third—in the execution of their plays."

"Those who love baseball—or those who love athletic skill above the average, will see Rizzuto, Gordon and Stirnweiss make plays that belong to a circus. They are the greatest infield combination in this respect I have ever seen. Remember, I am predicting no pennant. We don't know too much about our pitching yet. But I know what our infield can do. I know the impossible plays this infield can make, the type of plays that give any crowd a big kick—even if we lose. Rizzuto and Gordon are two acrobats. They are the type of color I want."

Million Pieces of Glass in Stage Curtain of 27 Tons

The most magnificent stage curtain on record, a mosaic of glass, has hung in the National theater in Mexico City since 1911. Depicting a popular Mexican legend, the curtain has an area of 280 square yards and contains nearly 1,000,000 pieces of colored glass; and its construction required the work of 20 men for 15 months in the Tiffany studios in New York.

Although weighing 27 tons, it is raised or lowered by hydraulic pressure in seven seconds.

AS SMART as can be is this three piece bare-midriff sports set for the young in heart. The gay little top ties in a bow and is easy as pie to make. Crisp shorts and a dirndl skirt complete an outfit that'll do you proud. Use a chalky white fabric to show off a nice sun tan.

Household Hints

To get curtain tiebacks fastened straight, pull window shades down to desired length and fasten the tiebacks in line with the bottom of the shades.

List on a piece of cardboard the articles stored in a closet, trunk, or large box. Saves rummaging.

To make mends in sweaters or jersey dresses invisible, use a rocket hook to make chain stitches to duplicate the appearance of the knitted fabric.

If you have just opened a new bottle of glue, rub a little lard over the opening before you put the lid back on. When you want to open the bottle again, the cap will come off easily.

Turn off the fuel before instead of after removing utensils. Also, do not leave a burner turned on because you expect to use it later.

Honey or maple syrup mixed with whipped cream makes an excellent "topper" for baked apples.

When an old broom is about to be discarded, cut off the handle and use it for a curtain rod, towel rack, or a stick to remove hot clothes from the wash boiler.

If you're having a birthday party for your tiny tot, bake cup cakes along with the usual birthday cake. Put a candle in each and serve to your guests. When your child blows out the candles, all the others have a candle to blow out too.

Lacquer should not be applied to a varnished surface until the varnish has first been removed.

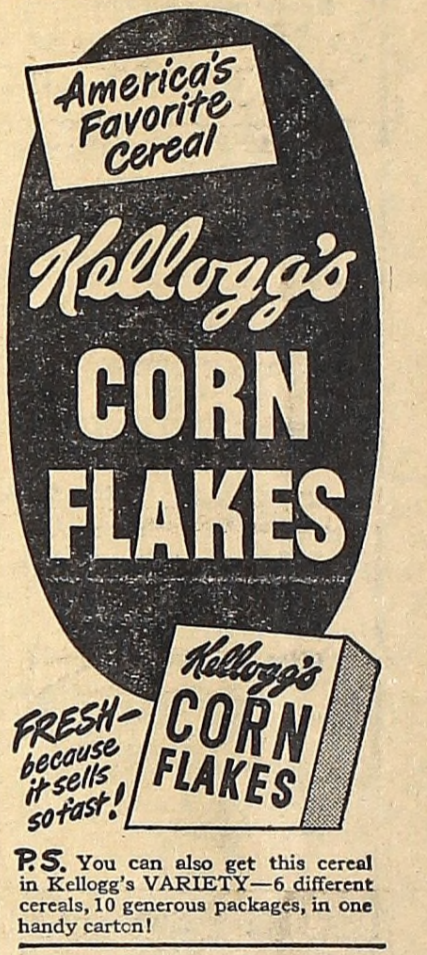

Dip dusty wax flowers in warm water containing a little baking soda now and then to keep them clean.

On-the-Job Training Opportunities for Retailer-Veteran

Veterans in business are being trained today under the G. I. bill of Rights. The On the Job training provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act are providing a real aid to the homecoming soldier and sailor. Any businessman in any community in Michigan can assist by applying to Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, for approval to train veterans. The size of the business does not matter just as long as there is reasonable assurance of employment upon completion of the training period and of competency to train.

Veterans qualify for On-the-Job training by submitting application form 1910 to the Veterans Administration to determine eligibility for receiving benefits.

An employer can be approved to train veterans by first writing to the Superintendent of Public Instruction indicating his desire to become a training center, what job he plans to train veterans for and in what type of business he is engaged. Help in preparing a training plan may be secured from the local public school. If the local public school is not equipped to give aid, the State Department of Public Instruction may be requested directly to aid in preparing a plan of training.
