WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Truman Begins Busiest Four Years; GOP Wins First Senate Vote Test; Bevin Offers Critics Olive Branch

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

INAUGURATION: Brief Interlude

President Truman could lay valid claim to the title "busiest man in the world." The inaugural behind him, the nation's chief executive was up to his neck in problems, both foreign and domestic.

ON THE HOME FRONT, there was a little matter of having congress impliment Democratic campaign pledges and provide funds for the continuing armament expansion. Abroad, with this nation committed to the gargantuan task of saving the world from com-munism, the problem was equally monumental.

But for awhile, on January 20, Harry Truman, Missouri farm boy who rose to the presidency of the United States, once by succession, currently on his own vote-getting prowess, relaxed, basked in public adulation, may even have forgotten the tremendous pressure under which he labored.

ORIGINALLY PLANNED as a more or less sedate affair, with this atmosphere desired by Truman, the inauguration, instead, was turned into one of the most lavish and spectacular since Andrew Jackson rode into the top spot.

Packed and jammed, Washington gave a hero's welcome to the World War I artillery captain. Truman buttons, Truman pictures, Truman banners were greatly in evidence and the President, seeing these and the vast multitudes, must have wondered if there were anyone at all who voted against him in the November election.

BUT THE INTERMISSION from duty was brief. The parade, the swearing in ceremonies, the round of gala capital affairs that night, and the next day, Harry Truman was again on the job.

Peace has been his rallying cry. Its importance marked all his utterances. Now he was buckled down to the job of trying to preserve it. Men of good will everywhere in the world were wishing him success.

MONKEYS: Up in the Air

For whatever benefit it may be to scientists or anthropologists, two sad-eyed dogs will not calm 300 Rhesus monkeys.

THIS WAS graphically, if somewhat disturbingly demonstrated when 30 crates of the monkeys arrived in New York by plane from the Azores.

The trip started sedately enough with all the monkeys locked in their crates. Two large, sad-eyed dogs were along because someone had said their presence would tend to keep tranquil the monkeys' spirits. Somehow most of the monkeys got out of the crates and suddenly

He did not completely endorse the Democratic platform, would not be led into enthusiastic "me too" declarations.

Lucas was vehement. "On whose all possible equipment to stand by coattails did Chapman come to the senate," he demanded, "the Truman-Barkley coattails or those of Dewey and Warren?" Other angry Democrats rushed to point out that Chapman ran 100,000 votes behind Truman and Barkley in Kentucky.

JOINING CHAPMAN in the "no" votes were Democratic Senators Byrd, Johnson, Maybank, Mc-Cellan, Robertson and Russell.

Chapman didn't take criticism lying down. He declared, in effect, that if such taxes are to be removed, it ought to be done in regular legislative process, not by hurried action on the floor.

Republicans were more metaphorical. They argued that since there is a tax on powder used on babies, a woman dressing up for an inauguration ball should regard her powder as more of a luxury than powder applied to a baby. This statement followed an effort to exempt baby powder for federal taxation which failed of approval.

OLIVE BRANCH: Bevin Recants

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin apparently was relenting in his stand on the Palestine situation. Gingerly he held out an olive branch: Britain's willingness to release Jewish immigrants of fighting age now held in Cyprus, his personal and strong support of peace negotiations between Israelis and Egyptians at Rhodes.

U. S. BUDGET: Under Attack The question whether President

Truman's 21 billion dollar budget was excessive was being raised again. This time John Foster Dulles, chairman of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations general assembly in Paris, raised the issue.

The budget, which Dulles ques-HIGH COST OF WRITING tioned, provides 15 billions for military expenditures, six billions living were there was a time when for foreign aid during fiscal 1950. ment, has walked out on him. New is not so great that we should postage rates which went into efseriously jeopardize our own economic health . . . by saddling our-selves with such vast armament." fect the first of the year make a luxury out of correspondence. The stamp window threatens to get into Dulles suggested cause, implied the same class with the night club, a remedy. He blamed lack of sufthe musical comedy and the new ficient unification of U.S. armed forces for administration belief in the need of huge military outlay, and declared that present huge military expenditures cannot go on. "I thing our armament is exaggerated by the fact that there is not sufficient unification between the different branches of our (armed) services," he said. "It seems as though the rivalry were such that each branch wants to be run-of-the-mill letters and postal strong enough so that if there is a war it can win it alone, without help from anybody." Dulles said there is "less fear of war," than there was last year, but commented: "OF COURSE, there is always a risk. You have a tense situation like a dry autumn in the woods when any fool can start a fire. "It is entirely possible, however, to have better relations with Russia and I think it is probable." The problem was up to congress. Could it gamble on the "fool" in the woods, or should it prepare with for a possible conflagration?

Tourist Queen

It's all very depressing. The postoffice department has for generations been one place which it was a comfort to visit when things were high everywhere else. It never made you feel like taking your trade some other place.

> To raise the mail rates was always accepted as bad politics sure to cost voters. But the politicians today know that the public has lost its capacity for indignation and that very idea of the mail service breaking even would have been out of the question any time in the past.

> > But for the past few years the postoffice department has been spending so much money paying for new designs and issuing new stamps in new sizes, shapes and color schemes, that it really had to dig up some fresh dough. It is tickled silly with the new rates, as they will give it a lot of fun designing more new stamps.

Washington Digest Oftee Over Tax Bill Is Rabbit Stew To Congressman Doughton

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON, D. C .- Another rabbit stew has been served up to Rep. Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina, and he's all ready for it. Representative Doughton, I might suggest if you don't know it, is not only the oldest member of the house of representatives (85) but likewise the oldest hand at handling tax measures.

He had to step down from the chairmanship of the ways and means committee for the brief Republican interlude. Now he's back at the old stand, sharpening the butcher knife again.

But to get back to rabbit stew. Last season when President Tru- lina hills. Laurel Spring, N. C., is man vetoed the second Knutson asked Doughton how he felt about it. He leaned back and told a story, for he's fond of answering in parables.

A Tarheel housewife, it seems, served her husband rabbit stew every night for a week. When the second Saturday night came

BAUKHAGE around and the same old dish with it, the husband bowed his head as usual, but instead of saying grace he was heard to mutter: "Rabbit's rough. Rabbit's tough. Oh, Lord, I've had rabbit enough"

That, opined Mr. Doughton, was the way he felt about the tax bills.

But he has to help meet the biggest peacetime budget ever submitted to a congress and he's ready for it.

In the 38 years that he has represented the state of North Carolina in the congress, the habits of the dean of the octogenarian's club in the lower house have changed very little since the last time. I explored them in some detail more than a score of years ago. He has earned a tremendous respect from the men who work on fiscal matters in the house of rep--resentatives where the money bills have to originate. And because he has a theory of his own about colanything goes. Certainly the post- lecting and spending the people's still his home. He was born on his parent's farm near there. His tax-cutting bill and and fired it back at father, wounded in the war between congress, a reporter the states, died when he was a grown boy. His mother was keenly active to her last hours, interested in the day's mail and the daily newspaper to the last. Inheriting some land from his father, the boy started off for himself, gradually acquiring more until he became a livestock raiser and farmer. Then he entered business, finally becoming president of a bank. horse trader. There are many tales that have grown up about his astuteness that, if embellished by repetition, are not doubted by those who have watched his steady advancement in congress.

He entered under a Republican regime-President Taft's-accepted minor committee appointments, but rose pidly to the position he holds today-chairman of the powerful ways and means committee.

One of the horse-trader stories he tells is this: after disposing of some animals he had meant to sell, he was made a very attractive offer for the horse he was riding-his own saddle horse. Done, he took the money, turned over the bridle, put the saddle under his arm and walked back home, 70 miles, says tradition, under his any deep-laid plan for a political career in the farmer boy's mind when he began life among the oxcarts and hand looms of those early days in the South following the war. Nor yet when he had acquired his own acres and entered into the business life of the community. He was chosen a member of the state board of agriculture and served on the prison board. Then one day it was decided to run him for the state senate. He was elected and served for a term. Congress was next, but there was a sort of unwritten law in his district that one term was all a man could expect, for Republicans and Democrats had always swapped terms. But Doughton changed all that. Or at least his constituents did. When he had served his term in the 62nd congress, instead of retiring him, as had been the custom, the voters sent him right back again, and they have been doing it ever since. There isn't any question that Robert L. Doughton likes his job in Washington. But it's equally true that when the session is over, he likes to hie himself back to his Carolina hills and enjoy life there.

there were monkeys in the cockpit, monkeys through the plane, monkeys peeping out of windows and monkeys even trying to liberate other monkeys.

Capt. Miguel Braganca and his crew, heavily outnumbered, was forced to stay in the forward part of the ship while the monkeys cavorted. The monkeys saw to that. Says the captain: "They kept hanging on the cockpit door and watching us all the time."

When the plane reached La Guardia field, about a dozen chattering monkeys were starting to climb out the windows, but eight airline cargomen joined the crew and with brooms and blankets finally snared the truants.

The monkeys were consigned for infantile paralysis research.

SIX "NO'S": Was It Revolt?

Six Democrats joining with senate Republicans gave the GOP victory in the first test of strength since the 81st congress convened. The issue may have been trivial, but the result burned Democratic leaders. Scott Lucas, Illinois, successor to Vice-President Barkley as majority floor leader, "sputtered." Barkley was also put out. For, it appeared, the result was an unexpected as it was "humiliating." THE ISSUE was exemption of inauguration tickets from federal amusement taxes. The exemption slid through the house 199 to 49, so one can imagine the surprise when it failed in the senate.

Chief target of administration censure was Kentucky's Virgil Chapman.

But those who remembered the Kentucky campaign would recall that Chapman showed no little independence in his drive for votes

The army is making it tougher for American G.I.'s to marty German frauleins. In the first place, many army authorities and chaplains suspect too many German girls are using marriage as an excuse to escape from the hard life of occupied Germany to the United States. There is also an apparent desire to protect young draftees expected to start arriving soon in Germany.

foreign secretary, there was no overlooking the fact that criticism had been mounting both in England and America. With the pressure continuing, the situation might have resolved itself into one holding the very political future of Bevin.

The foreign minister also indicated that de facto recognition of the government of Israel was being seriously considered. If that step were taken by Great Britain, it would mean the death knell of Arab hopes for continuation of strife or any eventual triumph in the Holy Land controversy.

DIXIECRATS:

Rough Road

The road ahead looked rough for state's righters. Democratic administration forces were showing little patience with southern old-liners who had bolted the party in the presidential election.

THE PURGE SWORD swung first at the un-American activities committee and two heads tumbled. They were those of Representative John A. Rankin, fiery Mississippian, and F. Edward Herbert, Louisiana, both of whom supported the state's rights ticket against President Truman in November. Rankin, along with everyone else, knew the blow was coming, accepted it calmly.

BONUS BILL:

Amvets Ready

Amvets, World War II veterans organization, has announced its intention to ask Congress for an immediate veterans bonus which they think might cost as much as 67 billion dollars. The organization said it will carry its proposal to congress soon.

A similiar bill prepared by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is in the house hopper, having been offered by Rep. Rankin, Mississippi.

This German fraulein, Miss Elfi Giovanelli, was chosen "tourist queen" and will tour the U.S. this year in an effort to stimulate attendance at an import exhibition in western Germany.

PERFECT:

Testers Amazed

U. S. air force intelligence testers rubbed their eyes, looked again. Yes, there it was-a perfect I. Q. score by a gangling, bespectacled Kentucky youth seeking a connection with the military.

WILLIAM M. BELEW, 18, of Simpsonville had done what no one before him had been able to achieve, something the army believed impossible. Told he was not expected to answer all the questions correctly, he nevertheless went ahead and, in rapid-fire order, dashed through the test without a single error.

It was the preliminary test given volunteers at the air force recruiting office in Louisville. The testers were amazed. They checked, rechecked the score, found it perfect. They then checked the records. Sure enough, Belew was the first to make a perfect score. a cow. It is good to see that he no

THESE NEW TESTS, much more exacting than the old, have been in use since last May. Questions are divided into three sections, vocabulary, arithmetic, and perception of spatial relationship. There are 45 questions and they must be answered in 40 minutes. Belew will give the air force a trial. If he likes it, he will make it a career; if he doesn't he will take up accounting. A Simpsonville high school basketballer and diamond performer, Belew stands six feet tall, weighs 160 pounds, was expected to pass the army physical examination with ease.

One story involves a man he went to see about a horse-two horses, to be exact. This man had bought a team from Doughton (the congressman is still a farmer in his own right, though he has to spend more time away from home than he used to). Later on the man wrote that he didn't think the span was worth the $800 he had agreed to pay and wouldn't pay it. The deal had been negotiated at a distance and the principals had never met. So one day Doughton dropped in at the farm and said he wanted to look over a good team. The man showed several, but none seemed to suit Mr. Doughton.

"All right," said the man, "I'll show you the best pair you ever saw in your life."

He brought out the horses recently acquired from Mr. Doughton, but still unpaid for. And what might they be worth? Well considerably over $800. Mr. Doughton introduced himself and didn't have much trouble in collecting.

There is another reason why Doughton is a god man to have on the collecting end of a bargainif you aren't the debtor. He's a farmer, true, but he is also a banker, and he works at both when he isn't in Washington. He doesn't keep banker's hours, however. He goes to his office at 6:30 a.m., works throughout the day, and he's often back in the office after dinner. He lives right across the plaze from the Capital.

This year President Truman's request for six billion dollars more in taxes, including some social security withholding levies, will get very careful scrutiny before it becomes law. Meanwhile, Doughton's committee has to take care of the bill to extend reciprocal trade treaties. Also, studies will begin on the subject of extending social security benefits. There is in addition the matter of certain revisions in the basic tax code. But Representative Doughton is used to rabbit stew.

PENNIES HIT SCRAP HEAP ... Steel pennies being scrapped here have been taken out of circulation by the federal reserve banks, defaced at the Denver mint and sent under armed guard to the Colorado fuel and iron steelmills in Pueblo to be melted along with other scrap in the making of steel. The pennies are shown being loaded in tube-like metal charging boxes from which they are dumped into seething furnaces for melting. The government minted a million of the pennies in 1943 when copper and bronze were so vital in war material use. These $68,446.36 worth of pennies are valued at $1,000 as scrap. Many Americans probably never realized they were using steel pennies.

With this information they are better equipped in searching for oll deposits.

Men Are a Laugh

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Bell Syndicate-WNU Features By KATHLEEN NORRIS

T'S A WISE man, indeed, at whom the women of the family don't occasionally laugh. The other day I had a quiet laugh at my favorite psychologist. He is my favorite because his talk is usually so down-to-the ground sense. I've listened to him on the radio for some months and know that he is a professor and writer in his own line.

But the other day he went 'way off the track and I confess I enjoyed it. I've quoted him here twice, once as reminding us that our first great ally, God, is being pretty well neglected in international conferences these days and again when he gave some excellent simple advice. about uprooting corrosive hates from our hearts.

The talk that made me laugh in a quiet superior way was not on such grave subjects. It was about an annual family gathering of his own clan, apparently consisting of as many as 35 or 40 persons.

It seems that usually women prepare the feasts on these occasions, each bringing her own famous dish, prepared in special and longpraised ways.

All Nonsense

Well, my psychologist and some other men of the group decided that this was all nonsense. There was no reason for the women to fuss and flurry about so simple a thing as a ceremonial dinner, so this year, let the boys do it!

So the boys, he boasted, laid in buns and frankfurters, mustard. paper plates, cups and napkins, pop and coffe, cakes from a famcus baker and ice cream from somewhere-the drugstore, perhaps.

And there was their feast, so simple, so easy to eat, so econom-

AIR FORCE VET AND FAMILY EVICTED . . . It was a difficult day in Long Island City, N. Y., for air force veteran Edgar B. Van Leuvan and his wife and seven children. But he didn't stop there. He went on to say that if ever the women were foolish enough again to set a table with lace and candles, dress turkeys, frost cakes, proudly produce the string beans with mushrooms and the corn with peppers, the iced puddings and lemon meringue pies.

Have No Sympathy

The men wouldn't have any sympathy with them. Not one whit. The men wouldn't help clear up and the women could bear the result of their own folly. More than that, housewives generally had better stop fussing with food as all important, because men didn't care a whoop what they ate. Men want the little woman cool, pretty, rested and free. She can-I gathered this anyway—she can give him frank-furters and bakery cake right straight along.

Well, I'm older than the professor and, in this respect, I'm wiser.

Believe me, professor, the sweet, cool chatty little woman with the can-opener and the bakery bill loses out. There's no sensation in the world that makes a tired man feel so snug, so content, so loved as to have the smoking kidney chop, the asparagus, the cube of cornbread, the apple dumpling put before him by the woman who cares enough to fuss with them for him. More divorces break loose in the kitchen than in any other part of the house. Slapdash cooking is extravagant cooking and monotonous cooking means ulcers, mental, moral and physical.

Smart mothers know that no disturbing subjects must be opened until the husband is fed comfortably. Good wives set a pretty as well as a nourishing table and the things that world-travelers see first and appreciate most are those very candles, the line, the silver dish or olives or chocolates.

No congratulations go from me to you on that commonplace, sloppy, mustard-smeared, mashed paperplate-and-napkin meal you men served so complacently. We women, in these servantless days, have too much of that sort of makeshift.

Not Too Salty-but Plenty of Salt

The sea may not be exactly saturated with salt—a hundred parts of sea water contains only between three and four parts of a salt water mixture of which about 2.7 per cent is ordinary common salt.

However, using the approximate 145,000,000 square miles of water covering the globe as a factor, the total amount of salt in the sea figures out to be about 45.500,000,000,000 tons: and if the seas suddenly dried up, the salt deposits left in their beds would be some 200 yards thick-enough to cover all Europe with a layer of salt between 4 and 5 miles deep.

Let Bedroom of Youngsters Reflect Hobbies, Interests

By Ertta Haley

TS YOUR CHILD'S bedroom a place to sleep in or is it planned to show his hobbies and interests as well?

A child whose bedroom is designed to take care of his hobbies as well as his sleeping will enjoy his room more and will not have to be told constantly to busy himself with something. If the parents show an interest in the child's having hobbies, the youngster will start thinking in those terms and foster interests in things which will give him much joy throughout his lifetime.

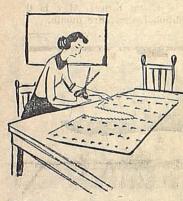

Rooms should not only contain those essentials of living such as a desk, bed and chair, but they should be the embodiment of hobbies, interests and tastes-a picture of what the person is who lives in it.

When furnished like this, rooms require a little more thought in the planning, but their dividends are greater than the effort to make them so. A room that invites its occupant to make model planes or boats, dolls or houses, painting or clay modeling is a happy room designed for creative effort.

Let the youngster help in deciding what he wants, and if old enough let him help decorate it. A room that has a lot of work and thought put in it brings its people close to terms of real living and staves off boredom.

Yes, but you have no idea what children would bring into their rooms, if I let them, I can hear some mothers saying. Well, youngsters do develop passing fancies in all sorts of strange things and in this case they might need guidance.

The little fellows who carry birds and insects in their pockets and want to bring them into their rooms might be directed toward an interest in biology. Pictures can fre-quently substitute for the live animal if they are large, attractive and

Pink edges for decoration . . . colorful enough. Perhaps he would like to keep a bulletin board of those which he has seen outside, or make a scrapbook of them. Hobbies Determine

Room Decoration

Boys are usually harder on furmishings than girls, so their rooms are best when sturdily furnished. Striped materials show soil least and can be utilized to advantage.

School Dress

Here's a striped cotton dress good for schoolwear, with pretty tucking and spanking crisp collar and cuffs. The stripes are in graduated widths in petal gray and a pastel combination. The rows of tucking accent the pretty skirt fulness. Made of Avondale's sanforized, mercerized cotton with collar and cuffs of birdseye pique, the dress is one of the costumes from an all-cotton wardrobe made from natterns.

use heavy oilcloth. If you cut the drapes with pinking shears, no other finishing is necessary. These wipe off easily and are no task to keep clean.

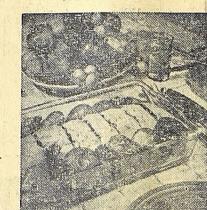

To avoid clutter when youngsters have collections of toys, whistles and whatnot, have shelves built in the room, and encourage them to place their objects on the shelves in an attractive pattern. If they have lots of assorted things, the best answer to this is a chest with plenty of drawer space; or a closet with built-in drawers will serve the purpose nicely.

When boys are old enough and interested in making furniture, or refinishing it, they can easily work on the furniture in their own room. You'd be surprised at how much more pride they will take in keeping things neat if they've created part of the furnishings themselves. For boys who need reminders, for mail, for assorted pictures and things of that nature, a bulletin board above the desk is invaluable for keeping the room tidy.

For two or four boys in one room, use double-decker beds to save space. The coverings should be sturdy as the youngsters will lounge on them.

Poorly Against Foreign Women PHILADELPHIA, PA.-How does the American woman stack up in. the international matrimonial derby?

U. S. Wives Rate

If she had to compare for John Doe's affection-and wedding ring -with her sisters from other lands, would she emerge as a champion or a badly outclassed also ran?

More and more, authors, psychologists, sociologists and just mere men have been making uncomplimentary comparisons between America's women and those of other lands.

For instance, foreign correspondent Leland Stowe, on the basis of 20 years of travel on five continents, says that the American woman is neither all she thinks she is nor much that American men assume she is. Compared to her overseas sisters, she doesn't score as many top points as might be expected."

He draws up a lengthy indictment. Among other things, he says, American women have been accused of being the most spoiled, selfcentered, aggressive, disinterested in men and homemaking, expensive, restless, rude, conversation hogging, unfeminine, individuality lacking unhappy and dissatisfied women in the world.

Are any or all of these things true? If they are, what is the reason?

These questions were directed in Philadelphia to a young French bride. Her answers are given below.

"American women should be the happiest in the world. They have more of the things that make life easy for a woman — refrigerators and washing machines and vacuum cleaners.

"Instead, they always seem to want more and more. In France women are happy with what they have.

"Perhaps that is why the United States keeps making progress-because its women want change. But it also means that American women always seem discontented.

So says Mrs. Marie Bonds, brown haired, brown eyed native of Biarritz, France, who came to this country to marry Ralph Bonds of Haverton, Pa

Since that time she has accompanied her husband, a member of a brother team of organists, throughout New England, the east coast and the midwest, and has thus been able to observe American women in various settings.

"Why should American men prefer women of other nations?" Marie muses. "That is hard to say. After all, American women are attractive, much better informed than European women

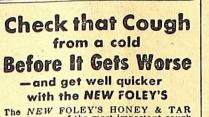

"However, the American woman's point of view is entirely different from, for instance, the French woman's.

"Take the matter of marriage. I believe we are more serious about

Have room reflect hobbies.

Select warm or cool colors, depending upon the exposure of the room. The drapes and one or two chair covers may be of a durable striped material harmonizing with the background colors of the walls.

If your boys are interested in painting and are apt to be a bit careless with paints, the best thing to do for drapes and covers is to

Be Smart!

Have your dainty dress pumps and your anklet slippers, too, in one and the same pair. It's easy when the anklets even unto the third strap, are removed as quickly as a bracelet from the wrist. The trick is in making the high cut style the basis of a secure anchor for these straps, yet looking just like another fashion whimsey of the moment when the slippers are worn as stripped pumps.

Girl's Room May Be Tailored or Feminine

The girl who's feminine will want a bed and dressing table covered in filmy, ruffled material. Most mothers would like to dissuade their daughters from such thoughts because of laundering problems, but if they remain unconvinced, the only answer to this is the enlisting of their aid when it comes to ironing.

Actually, though, if you show the girl pictures of rooms which are attractive, but without the frills, you may be able to get her to change her mind.

The girl who is tailored, who likes things neat and trim, will probably prefer a studio couch for a bed since it can take a more tailored cover.

If a cool background color such as gray or blue is chosen, it's best to warm the room with tangerine or red or warm yellow colors for the couch or bed and for the chair coverings. The in-between room, which is a combination of both tailored and feminine is fun to live with. The studio couch may still be used, but the drapes and perhaps a chair cover will be in a gay floral pattern or a bright print. This does away with lace and ruffles but is easy to keep trim and tidy without sacrificing any thing of its girlish good looks.

Provide Drawer Space To Preserve Neatness

Low cabinets with shelves may be lined against the walls of the room if the closet is small. This can be an inexpensive project if unfinished furniture is made or bought and painted with flat or enamel paint depending upon the room.

Unless you provide sufficient place in which clothing, shoes and other things can be placed, the room will be a cleaning problem, and will never look neat.

Bookcases can be built on the wall so there need be no reason for them to clutter the room.

If you lack space for a regular desk, have one made with sturdy hinges that attaches to the wall, so that it can be let up and down as used. Have a proper chair and good light near it.

Spread mixture over dough. Roll as for jelly roll. Place roll cut side down in a 10-inch heat-resistant glass dish. Cut apples in halves and arrange along sides of roll. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 30 minutes. Cut in thick slices and serve with extra gravy or tomato sauce. . . .

HEARTY CHEESE and noodles are combined to make this next casserole. Wedges of ripe tomato baked on top add color as well as interest.

Red-Top Olive Casserole (Serves 5-6)

1/2 cup ripe olives 2 cups noodles (4 ounces) 2 tablespoons butter or substitute

2 tablespoons flour 11/2 cups milk

1/2 teaspoon salt Black pepper to taste 2/3 cup grated American cheese

2 tomatoes Cut olives from pits into large pieces. Cook noodles until tender in boiling, salted water. Drain and place in baking dish. Melt butter and blend in flour. Add milk and seasonings, cook and stir until thickened. Remove from heat; stir in cheese and olives. Pour over noodles. Cut tomatoes into 6 wedges and press skin side up on top of noodles. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven about 25 to 30 minutes.

If you've decided on the individual cheese and meat pies, here's the recipe which will give you 8 pie inch deep. It's a good idea to make these first so they can chill while you make the mixture for the pies.

Japan's Baby Boom Zooms Population to 81 Million

TOKYO .- Japan's 'amazing postwar baby boom has even the statisticians gasping.

Abetted by a declining death rate, the bumper baby crop has helped up Japan's population to 80,800,000.

This is a population gain of eight million since Japan's surrender. Repatriation of Japanese soldiers and civilians from abroad accounted for slightly more than half the gain.

On the basis of present estimates by occupation experts, Japan has 568 persons per square mile.

Previously statisticians figured Japan would have a population of 80 million by 1950.

With that figure already exceeded by nearly one million, they now anticipate a population of 84 million by 1950, more than 90 million by 1955 and more than 100 million by 1970.

What has some Americans and Japanese thinking is that Japan is faced with a scarcity of everything -but babies.

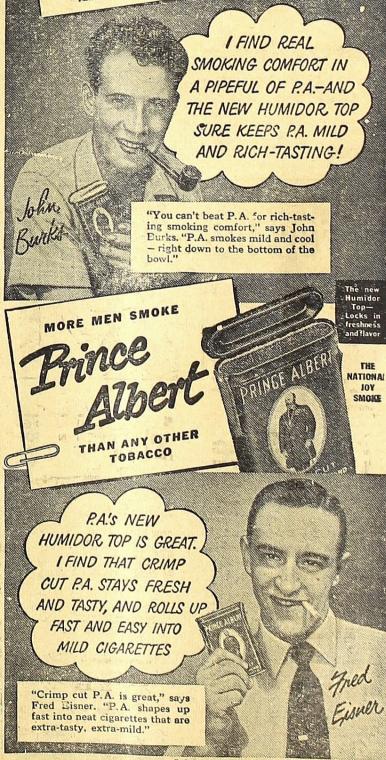

Lion Claws Girl; She Forces It Into a Taxi

EAST LONDON, SO AFRICA. -A three-year-old circus lion became restless while being led thru the main street in this coastal city of southeast Africa. Ray Walker, girl lion tamer, hitched its chain around a post and the beast walked around until it was pulled up tight. In terror it turned and clawed the girl, forcing her to her knees.

Three men rushed in. One put his hand down the lion's throat, another tried to pull the lion off, and the third-an Indian-pulled the girl clear. Then the lion broke the post.

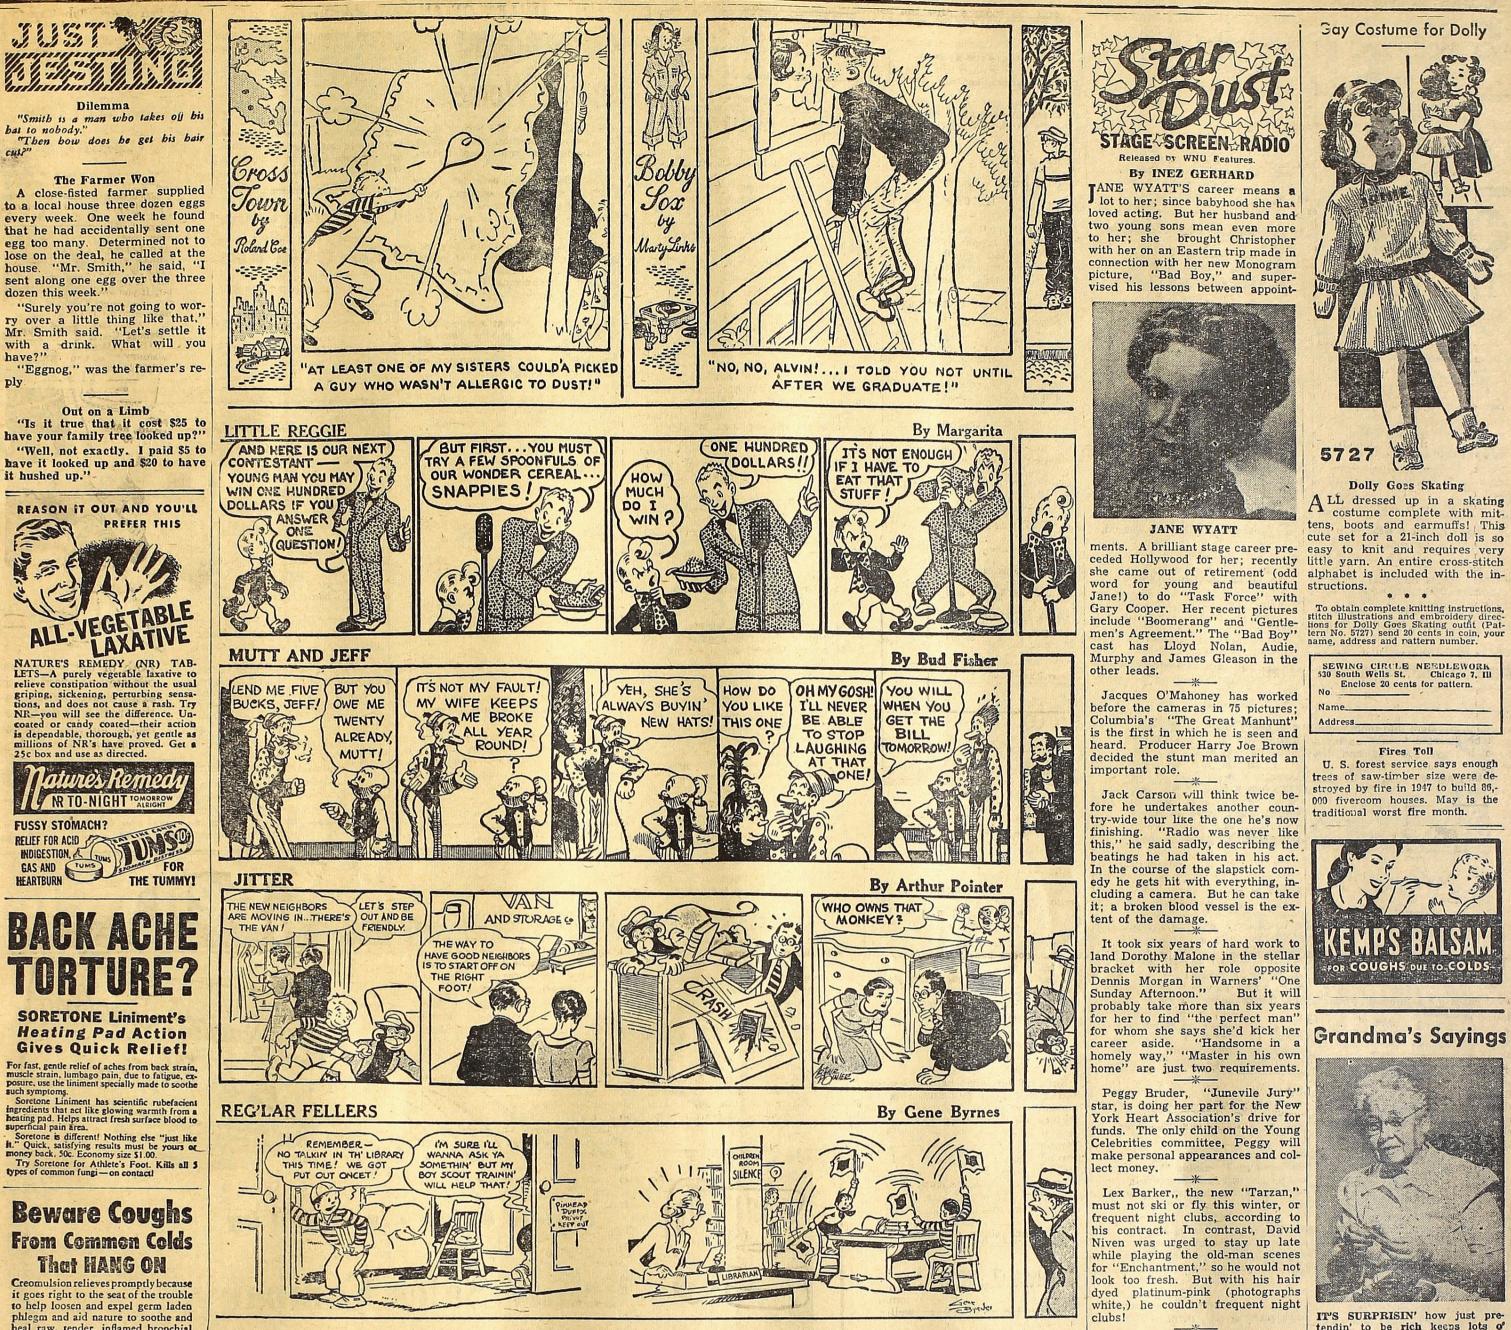

The girl, blood pouring from her wounds and forming a pool, turned and faced the beast. Slowly she forced it into a taxi! Then she took it to the circus grounds and a few hours later she and it appeared in their act as usual.

Newly Appointed Cadillac Dealer for Tawas City and Vicinity

It is a pleasure to make this dual announcement. It marks the introduction, in Tawas City, of the finest Cadillac ever built while, at the same time, assuring the highest type of Cadillac sales and service to motorists of this vicinity.

The 1949 Cadillac-the most beautiful car ever to bear the Cadillac name-offers a wholly new V-type, eight-cylinder engine which is, beyond all doubt, the highest development yet attained in automotive power plants. So smooth and eager is its performance that the car almost seems to move by automatic propulsion.

You are cordially invited to see this new car and inspect the modern and complete facilities of this new Cadillac dealership, operated under the able management of Mr. L. G. McKay. Cadillac service work will be handled by factory-trained mechanics, using approved tools and methods and genuine Cadillac replacement parts.

Regardless of whether you now own a Cadillac car, you will be a welcome visitor at this new dealership. You will find it an interesting and enlightening insight into modern motor car progress.
