Omen of Better Days!

The five-cent cigar is reported back. It is creeping into the cigar cases of America again, and few things have made the country feel better. The nickel stogie stands as an emblem of a smoother-going life, uncomplicated by almost every known type of worry. It marks an era when men trusted one another, hated nobody to speak of, and never tossed all night, harassed by thoughts of taxes, assessments, new bites, etc.

The five-cent cheroot marked an age when you could know nothing about economics and still not be considered a hillbilly . . . a time when "index" was generally thought to be a mountain goat and when a "spiral" was widely accepted as some type of tropical fish.

When the five-cent straight smoke reigned supreme the only tax a man ever had to pay was a $2-a-year poll tax, unless he owned property. Anybody who talked of income taxes was laughed off as a radical, a nut or both. The word "questionnaire" hadn't come into our language, tax forms were for landlords only. America was safe from invasion, Mart Badger was selling shoes for $2 a pair, you could get a tailor-made suit for $30 (silk lined) and you could take the family to dinner for what it now costs to get a shrimp cocktail.

You can't think of the nickel sto gie without recalling the days when only the village bum sneered at thrift, when hard work wasn't jeered at and when a fellow wasn't scuttling the labor movement if he went back to the office and did some nightwork.

It was a time when a fellow could meet his grocery bill without outside financing, argue for horse sense in government, hold out anywhere for honest bookkeeping, advocate operation of government on a business basis and even denounce trick budget-balancing without fear of reprisals

In the day of the nickel cigars a spendthrift got no applause except in a saloon: Everybody thought economy was a good idea. A man always had some idea where he stood financially at any hour. Only gypsies lived in tents.. . . . If a man had the wisdom and frugality to save up enough money to provide for his family after he kicked the bucket, he could determine without consulting a staff of legal experts whether they would get more than $4 of his estate.

five-centers and a 10-cent one was regarded as something of an extra- which, it is claimed, motivates the vagance. People let their major worries center on the common cold, the weather for Sunday's picnic, dandruff, slippery sidewalks and how many quarts of soup could be made from a soup-bunch.

We toss a lid into the air at the five-cent smoke's return. And we feel better now about China, the Russian war danger, President Truman's policies, the crisis in South Africa and the world mess generally. Gotta match, bud?

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Congress Gets Control Proposals Which Would Curb Wages, Prices; Doctors Offer Public Health Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

CONTROLS:

Needed or Not?

The administration at Washington has made its move for price and wage controls.

It has asked congress to place ceilings on prices which threaten to go above last December's level. It also has proposed creation of a six-man board to regulate wage in-

Already, however, it was becoming increasingly clear to the people that constantly shifting factors are changing so swiftly that some of the major points in the administration's legislative program may become obsolete before they are called for consideration.

FOR INSTANCE, the downward trend in prices would indicate that a proposal for price control, except in some few isolated cases, might even appear ridiculous. Consequently, continuing decline in prices would naturally knock out any validity of wage hike demands.

The sincerity of the administration in this respect might be open to question, but not seriously so. Practical politicians and people who realize the need for application of politics in government procedures will understand that whether the government actually wants what it asks is somewhat beside the

The real point is that these measures were pledged by President Truman in his campaign, and it was as early as inauguration day that administration leaders stated publicly they meant to implement campaign pledges in every way. Now the administration is going through the motions of seeking to have adopted all the legislation the President promised the voters when he was a candidate for the office.

A QUICK RUN-DOWN of the administration's legislative-potential will show that civil rights, tax increases, outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and socialized medicine, all admittedly needing some treatment, are in for a rough time in congress.

That being the case, it is difficult to understand how Mr. Truman and his advisers could make price and wage controls stick should there be no apparent need for either.

PUBLIC HEALTH:

Physicians' Plan

There would be discussion of motive, of course, but whether actuated by the belief that socialized medicine was an undesirable alternative, or by a sincere desire to widen their field of service, America's physicians had come up with

OBVIOUSLY, the plan was a counter move in the developing All life was sweeter when most of battle over socialized medicine, and the cigars in the showcases were in it one could see some concession socialized medicine effort.

First, the doctors through their American Medical association's board of trustees, urge creation of a federal department of health, with cabinet status, which would be authorized to promote the general welfare by aiding and fostering programs in the field of health. This department also would contribute to individual, family and commu-

DEFENSE PACT:

Gilded Lily

There were puzzling things going on in Washington as the proposed north Atlantic security pact came up for discussion.

As any schoolboy knows, only congress can declare war. Yet Senator Vandenberg of the foreign affairs committee was quoted as saying that if any pact were drawn he expected such a pact to "reserve to congress the complete right of decision" on what to do about an armed attack.

THAT STATEMENT of Vandenberg's amounted to nothing more than a thick coat of gilt on the lily. The pact could do no less than "reserve" such decision, because the constitution of the United States is quite clear as to what governmental body in the United States has the authority to declare war. The constitution does not relegate that power to a senate committee or to the state department.

The point is made only to highlight the trend of official thinking in federal circles. Despite the constitutional provision, Senator Vandenberg and apparently those who draft the pact, are "willing" to let congress make any decision on going to war.

There were other puzzling factors connected with the pact. Both Senator Vandenberg and Senator Con-nally declared that signing the pact would not commit this nation to war in the event another pact signatory were attacked.

IF THAT were the situation, the critical queried, what would be the of the pact?

The senators had an answer for that one-an answer reminiscent of American thinking before Pearl Harbor. They pointed out that, as Vandenberg put it, "in my opinion the mere formal recognition of this community of interest in the event of an armed attack on the Atlantic community-without another word in the treaty-would be an infinite assurance against World War III."

What the senator was intimating in effect was that with the United States a signatory to the pact, any nation would be afraid to jump either on the U.S. or another mem-

THE SENATOR'S MEMORY seemed to be waning. Japan wasn't "afraid" to attack Pearl Harbor. That was World War II. Germany wasn't "afraid" to sink the Lusitania. That was World War I. The "fear" bulwark hadn't done so well on two occasions.

Did Senator Vandenberg have some special information, or intuition, that it would work better to prevent World War III?

LONGEVITY:

The Hard Way

So you'd like to live to be 102? There's a way-but it will appeal only to the rugged. A Westerfield, N. J., woman has passed the century mark with vitality still good, interest in things about her still unimpaired. OF HER 102nd birthday party she said: "It was a most wonderful party. I felt just like I was walking on air. The house looked like a greenery. All those flowers and even an orchid. It was wonderful." About reaching 102 . . . well, the lady who did it, Mrs. Katherine G. Lyon, said she was in favor of exercise and fresh air.

"It's all a matter of chewing your food properly, and getting plenty of fresh air. Anyone who is 102 years old and can't walk at least two miles ought to go to a doctor and find out what's the matter with them . . . I'm always ready to go" Mrs. Lyon did not stipulate that entire answer.

TRENDS:

Dictatorial The gentleman who was talking knew whereof he spoke. When he began to express himself on dictatorships, the public might listen respectfully for he had but lately concluded an assignment to put down one of the most vicious dictatorships the world had ever seen.

But he wasn't talking of foreign dictatorships. Instead, he was warning the Columbia college forum on democracy that dictatorship was an actual possibility right here in the United States.

THE SPEAKER was Gen. Dwight D. "Ike" Eisenhower, who was supreme commander of allied forces in the war against the dictatorships -World War II.

Discussing the supposition that this nation was in danger of falling into the hands of a dictatorship without a shot being fired, Eisenhower said he was not talking about the usual type of seizure of power by

He was talking, he said, about a gradual dictatorship of bureaucracy which could result from the "constant drift toward centralized government."

"There is a kind of dictatorship," he said, "that can come about through a creeping paralysis of thought and readiness to accept paternalistic measures from the government, along with a surrender of our own responsibilities and, therefore, of our control over our own lives and our right to exercise our vote.

"IF WE ALLOW this drift toward centralized bureaucratic government to continue, finally it will be expressed . . . in the actual field of

"There'll be a swarming of bureaucrats over the land, ownership of property will gradually drift into that central government, and finally you have to have dictatorship as the only means of operating such a huge organization."

When a man of General Ike's stature is publicly concerned over the probability of a dictatorship in the U. S., benign or otherwise, it seems it were time the public, too, should begin to look into the situation.

MYSTERY:

As one southern reporter described it, it was the "biggest run in the South's history."

One moment everything was all right. The next, disaster had struck. It happened in Jacksonviile, Fla., and there was no warning of its coming. Women and girls arose in the morning, donned attractive, sheer nylon stockings and started about their business.

Then, the nylons simply started coming apart. Working girls went bare-legged to lunch, carrying their stockings-or what was left of them -in their purses. A horrible possibility failed to materialize-the girls were spared disintegration of their nylon underwear; but there were many anxious moments as they watched the nylon stockings disintegrate on their legs. The health department advanced a theory that incompletely-burned particles of soot carried a gas which caused the stockings to come apart. At Wilmington, Del., a technical engineer for a nylon manufacturer said it's happened before in Washington, Chicago, Nashville and Minneapolis.

He explained that the trouble was acid-bearing soot. These tiny particles, he said, even from ordinary coal fires, contain sulphur dioxide, sulphur trioxide and other acids. When they land on a coat or hat, the concentrate may destroy a thread, but you don't notice it.

But when they land on a stocking thread-zip! And there's a story to make the nation's headlines.

Radio Cough Causes Battle Over Pay Rate

NEW YORK .- The act of coughing has become a labor problem and a test of dramatic art. Instead of being merely a nuisance in the theater and concert hall, it suddenly acquired a market value—from $6 to $12.50 per well-modulated bark.

The elevation of coughing to the status of a paying profession was the result of a ruling by the American Federation of Radio Artists, the AFL group that covers all performers on the air. Specifically, the union decreed that a staff radio announcer was no longer just a staff radio announcer if he had to cough

Result of Promotion

The determination of the importance of coughing came as the result of a promotional scheme planned by station WMCA.

After thorough exploration of all the possibilities, WMCA chose the device of a one-minute transcription to be played at intervals for two days before the program of tuberculosis control went on the air. It was learned that the announcer would proclaim the need everyone has for air. Then he would inhale, exhale and, as a climax, cough. This would be followed by announcement of the tuberculosis program.

Upon making a routine check-up at the actors' union, however, WMCA learned it had a dilemma. There was a contract with many provisions. The provisions were very specific that a staff announcer should not try any extra dramatic embellishments in the course of making spot announcements. He shuld read what was before him and that was all.

Had Enough

WMCA decided it had enough. The union scale for actors on spot announcements begins somewhere between $6 and $12.50, a station official noted. He decided that even for a cough by a "name" cougher, that price was too steep.

Union officials somewhat reluctantly acknowledged that they had interposed objections to the coughing announcements. They explained that the criterion was not a cough or two but the matter of establishing a precedent which might lead to extensive extra-curricular activities by staff announcers without additional pay for their added

Atomic Clock Can Split Seconds With Accuracy

WASHINGTON.—An atomic clock that can split seconds with the extraordinary accuracy of one part in 20,000,000 has been added to the arsenal of research science.

The national bureau of standards developed it and scientists said it was a great improvement over the observatory method of telling time by the stars which had previously been the last word in accuracy.

Dr. E. U. Condon, director of the bureau, said the instrument provided an entirely new and amazingly precise method of measuring not only time but also frequency. He said it should prove an "invaluable tool" for research in medicine, chemistry, physics, engineering and electronics.

The bureau said the clock "is already being improved." Its potential accuracy is theoretically one part in 10,000,000,000. At that rate, it would take about 3,000,000 years for the clock to gain or lose a second.

The face of the clock looks like just what it is-a large, conventional electric clock.

What makes it different is an atomic attachment that acts as a regulating "governor" for the electric works.

This attachment consists of a thirty-foot copper tube filled with ammonia gas, a quartz crystal oscillator, and certain electronic instruments known as frequency multipliers, dividers and discrim-

The oscillator puts out a radio signal which by itself is extremely consistent in frequency. In fact, until today, a simple quartz crystal attachment was the most accurate governor available for time-frequency measurements.

Britain Would Recruit 50 American Scientisis

LONDON.-Fifty American scientists are to be recruited by Britain's Colonial Geological survey and the Colonial Geodetic and Topographical survey to fill the gaps in personnel created during the war years, according to the colonial office.

The project, under which the scientists would be concentrated in East Africa, where large railway developments are proposed, the colonial office says, is under consideration by the E.C.A. in Washasked E.C.A. whether the American scientists and technicians can fill the posts "while recruitment catches up."

It has been suggested that their basic salaries be met by European recovery program funds while their local allowances be paid in sterling.

GOP Tries to Face Facts: Changes Are Sure to Come

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator. WASHINGTON-I don't want to get into semantics but I have to say something about the word "conservative", purely as a word, if I am going to discuss some of the undersurface terms in Washington re-

If it is fair to define a conservative as a person who has something to conserve, and I think the American people are naturally conservative in that sense, when you take away that something, Americans will join the radicals or anybody else to win back what was taken away.

The majority of the people don't want a free lunch. They just want a chance to earn enough to pay for their own lunch. But if they can't get lunch any other way. they'll take it how and where they can get it. That is a lesson which certain conservatives (in the political sense) are learning slowly. Last month Tom Dewey returned from his political grave to say at a Republican Lincoln Day dinner that if BAUKHAGE the GOP tried to go back to the 20's, it would become the "deadest pigeon in the coun-

The burden of his theme was that the party was split wide apart and it had better get together, slough off one extreme element which wants to "turn the clock back" and the other extremists who want to "outpromise the Democrats." He demanded that the party stand for "social progress under a flourishing system of private enterprise where every human right is expanded." Those opposed to "liberal and progressive policies" should get out of Here again we run into semantics -what is "progressive," what is 'liberal'-for that matter, what is Sylvia? To one an owl, to another nightingale. To the pinks, a 'liberal' is a reactionary. To the conservative a "liberal" is a red.

Dewey said that the Republican party (or the party as he sees it) believes in "unemployment insurance, old age assistance on an increased basis, in broader social security generally, in slum clearance, in public development of our water resources, in farm price supports, in vigorous protection of the rights of labor "

And he seems to recognize that all of us, Republicans included, will have to take certain things for granted. Certain social and political changes which we may not like any more than our grandfathers liked a lot of "new-fangled" ideas they met with, like the safety razor,

The federal reserve board, the income tax. women's suffrage-all were once considered little less than the instruments of the devil himself by a lot of people who neve think twice about them now. What policy the federal reserve board follows is debatable by either political party, but nobody would be fool enough to try to eliminate the board as an institution. Both parties claim they invented it.

The size of the income tax, and how it's distributed is also a matter to be settled by the party in power, but I can't quite see anybody trying to eliminate income taxes entirely. Other matters like the principles of government regulation of interstate commerce, of old age and unemployment insurance and dozens of other activities seem to be here for good.

If I am a Red for saying that, you can measure me for a suit of long underwear to match, tuck me into the one-hoss-shay and send me home.

As a matter of fact I am really pretty much of a moss-back. Although I'd trade in my used airplane for a rocket, if anybody has a surrey with the fringe on top and I had a place to park it, that's what I'd really prefer.

Mention of Taft Evokes Criticism

One can't discuss the Republican party without mentioning Mr. Taft. And whenever I say anything good on the air about Sen. Robert A. Taft, I get letters like the following from a man in Lakewood, New York (I had in the same broadcast described a truck-driver who nearly ran over me):

"I can see a picture of you," he writes, "looking down your long nose at that truck driver and believe me, I know just exactly how you felt towards him. However, I wonder which is the most dangerous, an idiot with a truck or an idiot with a vast radio audience.

"You see, I look down my long nose at you just as you did the ington. The colonial office has truck driver and I have the advantage of having heard a few thousand of your broadcasts. Through this medium I have explored your brain and believe me I find not much there. Your speaking of the truck driver as well as Taft's intelligence is a fair measure of your own. . . .

This was my answer:

"Dear Sir: I have your letter saying that you wender which is the most dangerous, the truck driver I referred to or an idiot with a vast radio audience -and also that you have heard me a few thousand times. I am glad to note we have so much in common.'

My reference to Taft which so infuriated the letter-writer was in connection with an implication that Senator Taft IS the Republican party in the Senate as it exists today. This situation may change, though there are no present indi-cations it will. Taft rides the elephant, regardless of who happens to play the calliope.

And paradoxically enough it will be Senator Taft, the strongest figure in the senate, arch-Republican, symbol of reaction to his enemies, who probably will be a powerful tactor in the enactment of more than one of the so called "socialservice" laws which are a vital part of the administration program. Housing and federal aid to education are two measures which might be named. And although the Taft-Hartley act will have a new name, the imprint of its senatorial sponsor will not be entirely eradicated from its structure when it comes out of the hopper.

Taft was able to drag out the labor bill hearings for two weeks longer than was originally planned, and I would not be surprised if these. lines appear in print before his gently-led filibuster against the repeal is over, or at least long over: .But that does not mean Taft or his party controls the senate.

As this was written a theory was abroad that the Republican strategy had developed to the point where, if the party would keep its "young Turks" in line—the so-called liberal Republican senators who tried and so dismally failed to curb Taft's power-they could count on enough votes of the southern senators on most controversial issues (unless these issues step on the toes of southern tradition) to wrest control from the Democrats.

In fact, the expounders of this theory were only a little while ago pointing to defeat of the bill to exempt the tax on the inauguration as proof that the fate of the Democrats in the senate was a pretty dark one. They explained it was symptomatic when 41 Republicans voted against the measure, and found to their surprise and pleasure that they were able to get six Democrats to join them, thus providing a majority and defeating the measure. That made things look very simple. But there is another side to that story. That vote backfired and hurt the Republicans more than it helped. It did more than a little to create Democratic solidarity, and the really deep-dishers on Capitol Hill are predicting that the Democrats are going to achieve enough unanimity from now on to maintain their majority on major issues. There will be, of course, matters where members of both parties will desert because the issue involved is such that the particular state or area from which the senator comes has an interest which conflicts with the majority of his

There will be some issues in which Democrats will join Republicans as well as vice versa. And, as said earlier, there are some things that don't appear on the surface.

The burden of the attack against the Democrats, whether you call them New Dealers, Fair Dealers, or Trumanites, is that they seek government control of business.

Now 1 believe most Republican eaders have the brains to admit (and if they haven't they can expect to be defeated, just as the liberals and conservatives were beaten in England) that the best way to kill government control-the antithesis of free enterprise because it is government monopoly-is to kill private monopoly. The latter is a two-edged sword against free enterprise. First, private monopoly kills competition. Second, it opens the way to government ownership.

Today the intelligent leaders of the GOP have to admit what I am sure they believe at heart, namely, that they will have to let the federal government do certain things for the people, if private enterprise can't or won't do those things. Taft, as well as the young Turks, knows that. They also know that private monopoly breeds state control.

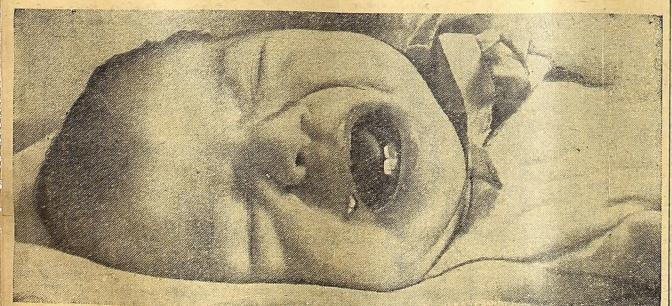

IT'S FUN TO BE CAPTURED BY IHESE CORSAIRS . . . With the "Jolly Roger" flying from the mast, the good ship "Gasparilla" sails into Tampa's Hillsborough river with a crew of 300 "pirates." The ceremony was part of the annual Gasparilla festival honoring Jose Gaspar, a sword-swinging, swashbuckling pirate of the Spanish main. More than 500,000 people, Floridians and their winter guests, were on hand to particlpate in the surrender and the subsequent week of carnival festivities with which Miami takes its place alongside Mobile and New Orleans in staging vast gala events each season.

THRONGS PROTEST CONVICTION OF CARDINAL MINDSZENTY... Shown kneeling in prayer at city hall, New York, are some of the hundreds of people protesting the sentencing by a Hungarian peoples court of Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungarian primate, on a charge of treason. The Cardinal was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment. Critics charged that the trial and verdict were politically inspired and that the cardinal was guiltless. This meeting pitcured above was one of many such gatherings held all over the nation to protest Hungary's Communist-dominated court action.

TRIBAL CHIEFS DON NATIVE GARB TO FALK LAND DEAL... FOR BER THE CHRISTMAS WISH WAS NOT IN VAIN... Even if it was way areas of time, there was no gainsaying that a much vocalized Christmas wish had come true for little Christine Schilby of Los Angeles. Here she is with those "two front teeth" about which there was general yapping tast year at Christmastime. Christine, now several weeks old, startled the California hospital staff and her mother, too, by entering this world with "two front teeth." As anyone can plainly see, these are a pair of real "steak choppers," perfect teeth, the doctors say.

Farm Groups Disagree

THE THREE LEADING farm organizations are again split on what they want in the way of a long-range farm bill.

The National Farmers Union wants 100 per cent parity price support for the average product of a family size farm. The NFU, however, would give no support, or at least only a sliding scale, for production above that family sized average, thus frankly rigging the parity for the family sized farmer as against the big producers. The American Farm Bureau Federation is satisfied with the present Hope-Aiken farm bill with its flexible price support program.

The National Grange is not satisfied with the Hope-Aiken bill, believes that modification of the act is necessary and that, while they favor the principle of flexible price supports, these supports must vary with each crop and, temporarily, conditions may justify fixed price supports with acreage allotments until things get back to normal.

The position of Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, for a high parity program, may be explained by the membership of these three farm groups in his home state. The National Farmers Union has some 35,000 members in Oklahoma, the second largest state in the Farmers Union; the Farm Bureau Federation has about 11,000 members, and the National Grange about 3,000 members in Oklahoma.

Allan Kline, president of the AFBF says the present Hope-Aiken law is a good one worthy of a trial before changes are made, and there will be "plenty of opportunities to press for changes if and when experience seems to warrant such action".

Albert Goss, mater of the National Grange, told this reporter that the Grange is for the basic principle of flexible supports, "but I don't believe the same medicine will react equally on wheat, raisins or potatoes. Many crops under different conditions may require different treatment", he said.

"A sound farm bill would set up objectives we want to attain and give administrative authority leeway to use the devices provided by congress

"Under normal conditions", Goss said, "a flexible floor is much sounder procedure than a fixed floor with acreage controls but, temporarily, conditions may justify fixed price supports with acreage allotments until we get back to normal. Hence, we believe a modification is necessary in the present law which might apply the basic principle of a flexible floor prepared to apply to the commodity it will fit."

Public Approval

The United States Steel corporation, traditionally a rich man's club, close to the house of Morgan, obviously is attempting to win friends and influence people. It is becoming public relations conscious—sending out releases to Washington correspondents, sending statistics on production and expansion to congressmen. It has a fine weekly radio program and now, with one eye on the department of justice, has split up its common stock on a three-for-one basis in an effort to gain wider stockholder distribution.

This giant closed corporation now sees the advantage there might be in the voice of a large volume of "widows and orphans" stockholders raised in the right places.

It could be that the department of justice anti-trust suit against the American Telephone and Telegraph company with its 700,000 stockholders is an example to U. S. Steel, and again it may be that President Truman's state of the union message may have had something to do with present policy. At any rate, something has stirred our biggest business into action seeking better public reaction.

Somebody's Wrong

When Gen. Omar Bradley, now chief of staff, was boss of the Veterans' administration he deliberately adopted a policy of decentralization of the huge organization and established 13 regional offices for more efficiency, economy and better service for the veterans.

Now Carl Gray, his successor, is abolishing the 13 regional offices and is building up a larger centralized office in Washington for the same reasons. Either Carl Gray or General Bradley is wrong and this reporter would string along with General Bradley.

There are also persistent rumors here in Washington that establishment and location of veterans hospitals as political plums may replace the policy of General Bradley and Dr. Paul R. Hawley, former head of the medical division of the VA, to establish hospitals only in connection with or near large medical centers and supplies of doctors, nurses and other medical facilities General Bradley fought many/a plitico, including the commander of the American Legion, on this issue of no politics.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: "My bedroom has two doors with opposite faults; when unlatched, one will not stay open, the other will not stay closed. Can this be corrected by adjustment of hinges? Is it something an amateur can do."

ANSWER: The trouble in both cases is because the pin of the lower hinge is not directly in line with that of the upper hinge. To check on this, use a plumb linethat is, a string with a small weight tied to one end. If you hold the loose end of this at the bottom of the upper hinge pin, the weight will show you which hinge needs resetting. The door originally was set with the hinges in line, and the trouble has come because of settlement that has somewhat distorted the door frame. It may be that moving one hinge will be enough, although possibly a small adjustment of both hinges will be easier.

When you have decided what to do, open the door part way, and jam books or blocks under the outer corner to take the weight. You then can remove the hinge pin of the hinge that is to be shifted, and do whatever is necessary. Take off the hinge plate on the door frame, and pack the screw holes with wood putty. You might find it necessary to place a shim (in the form of a piece of cardboard or a thin piece of wood) under the offending hinge.

Gives Arguments For and Against Reorganization

Planned to give arguments both for and against state adminstrative reorganization, a pamphlet pub-lshed by the cooperative extension service of Michgan State college is now available to Michigan res-

For more than 30 years, Michigan people have heard of plans to streamline the state government which has continued to grow. With this increased growth, due to demands for more services, has resulted a heavier tax bill. March 5-13 National 4-H Club Week

Mr and Mrs. D. D. Pearsall losco County rural young people who are eligible but not yet members of 4-H clubs will get a special

> Week, it is the time that the program for rural young people is to be introduced to rural youth and parents. Harold R. Clark, county two agricultural agent asks that persons interested in the work not contacted get in touch with his office.

During he last year there were 474 different boys and girls enrolled in the 22 clubs in the county. To meet Michigan's goal of 57,000 members in 1949, Clark said this county should add 100 members. There are 1288 boys and girls in the county eligible to participate in 4-H club work but who do not belong. The goal is to have as many as possible enroll from this group.

Securing local leaders is one our great organization problems. Although there are men and women in the county giving their time to help this youth program there are several areas in the coun-ty not organized because of a shortage of leaders

A local volunteer leader and at least five or six boys or girls between 10 and 21 years of age are required to start a club. The office of the Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service located in the Federal Building, East Tawas wibe glad to offer information to any prospective leader or member.

Decline in Livestock

The number of livestock on U. S. farms has been declining continuously since the peak was reached in 1944. The drop in 1947 included a reduction of 933,000 head of dairy cows.

Come in and see the new DE SOTO On display beginning Saturday March 5th

Let us show you all the new features of this great car

Here is what thoughtful people everywhere have been looking for and hoping for!

Here, at last, is a car that gives you all the best features of modern design without demanding sacrifices of your family's comfort, safety or convenience. It was designed to fit YOU . . . instead of you having

You don't have to wriggle into the new De Soto. You walk in . . . and you keep your hat on. The steering wheel doesn't hit your knees. There's more leg room for all passengers, front and back. And not only are the windows and windshields bigger. You can see out of them ... because you're sitting on luxurious chair-high seats. Yes, it's a thrill to look at. But you won't have to rebuild your garage to get it in. A dented fender doesn't mean an expensive body job. And you can still change a tire, if you have to.

Ride? The smoothest you ever had. Drive? De Soto lets you drive without shifting. New features? Come in and see them all. No matter what car you thought you were going to buy, compare it with this brilliant new De Soto. Then decide.

Tune in "HITTHE JACKPOT" every Tuesday night, all CBS stations

CLAUDETTE COLBERT'S new picture "Family Honeymoon," (Universal-International) is another of those gay comedies in which she specializes. Fred MacMurray is the bridegroom with whom she embarks on a honeymoon, taking her three children along. The Colbert-MacMurray combination works beautifully, as always, but the real hilarity is provided by the children. Jimmy Hunt and Peter Miles are exceptional; little Gigi Perreau is enchanting. Beautiful, talented, completely natural, she may well develop into our next big child star. The comedy situations in "Family Honeymoon" are not subtle, but the cast is excellent and the picture is packed with laughs from beginning to end

Further notes on Gigi Perreau. Samuel Goldwyn has lifted the first six-month option, has her under contract for seven years. Featured in "Enchantment," currently appearing in "Roseanna McCoy," she will be starred in her next picture.

Lex Barker, the new "Tarzan," finds that he is expected to set a good example for his friend's children. "People like Van and Evie Johnson ask me to show their kids how I eat spinach, or cereal, or something else the kids don't like," he complains. "It's rough on my waistline, and besides. I don't like some of the stuff my friends ask me to popular-

There probably never has been a more extensive tour of Florida than the one being made by the CBS 'Hint Hunt," which began Feb. 14 and continues through April 1. Bread Stuffing Makes Fish Savory

(See Recipes Below) Lenten Favorites LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

IF YOU HAVE only a slight acquaintance with how savory meat less foods can be, then Lent is the time to let your ingenuity go to work. You may discover, as have many homemakers through the years, that small acquaintance can lead to enduring friendships.

Fish may readily become a yearround favorite just because you discovered a special way to prepare it during Lent. Although the Lent. Although the family may alpect eggs for breakfast, may discover that creamed, deviled or hard - cooked eggs combined with other foods make delightful luncheon or supper dishes.

Both fish and eggs are nutritious foods. Fish and egg yolk contain protein, that important body building and repair substance which everyone needs daily.

In both vitamins and minerals, both of these foods rate as excellent sources. Egg yolks are rich in iron, builder of red blood cells; they also supply calcium needed for bones and teeth. You'll appreciate the fact that eggs are a good source of phosphorus, riboflavin, and vitamins A and D.

Fish are very active, and since the B vitamins (thiamine, niacin and riboflavin) are necessary for energy production, their flesh is rich in these. All fish are rich sources of phosphorus and ocean fish and sea foods are excellent sources of iodine, the element ncessary to the prevention of

COMPARED TO MEAT, fish has little fat and, therefore, it requires little cooking time. A short cooking time for fish is also essential so that you will loose few of the important B vitamins which are so readily destroyed by heat.

Long slow cooking time breaks down the muscle fibers of fish which leaves it dry anl unappetizing. Cook it as directed in these recipes and serve as soon as it is taken from the oven, and you'll have fish so delicious no one can resist it.

*Stuffed Fish (Serves 6 - 8)

Select a fish weighing 3 to 4 pounds. Clean. Rub salt inside and out. Stuff with bread stuffing made by mixing 11/2 cups bread cubes with 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon thyme or marjoram and 1/2 onion, minced. Slowly add 3 tablespoons melted butter.

Close the cavity of the fish with toothpicks or skewers and draw edges together by lacing with string. Brush with melted fat and place in baking pan. Bake for 15 minutes in a very hot (450°f.) oven. Then reduce heat to 400° f. and bake for 45 minutes longer.

Garnish fish with parsley and tomato pan mixture. Heat, adding lemon wedges. Serve with a sauce made of 1 cup white sauce to which has been added 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, or 2 tablespoons capers or 1/4 cup mushrooms, chopped.

Stuffed Fish Fillets (Serves 4) 2 cups soft bread crumbs 34 cups chopped, cooked or canned mushrooms

LYNN SAYS: Here's How to Serve Eggs Attractively

Minced parsley or watercress may be added to mashed yolks for stuffed eggs. A bit of tart salad dressing contributes tangy flavor. Minced green onion, minced green pepper and pimiento are good to use with the mashed yolk for deviled eggs. Chopped hard-cooked eggs mixed with chopped black olives and mayonnaise make a delicious sandwich mixture.

OUR MARRIAGE has become a farce," writes Elinor Price from Minneapolis. "But we don't want a divorce. We both love our home and our adopted daughter, Georgette, who is 8. I dread the scandal of a divorce and the shock to our child. Paul has none of the usual faults that lead to separation and I don't think I have. But we've reached a point of such boredom in our 12 years of marriage that we sometimes hardly can be civil to each other.

"This eight-room suburban home was his mother's. It has every convenience-washer, dryer, furnace, lovely garden. Paul works in a bank, belongs to a good club, is admired and popular. Georgette is a little dream of beauty and goodness. With help three times a week I can keep my home as neat as

"We breakfast at 8. Paul leaves half the paper, touches his cheek to the back of my head, is gone. Georgette gets her milk nickle and lunchbox and goes. Then silencesilence. I go to market and look at beaver coats in windows, evening frocks in windows, pictures of successful movie stars no older

Monotony Moves In

"That night Paul sits by his radio and reads his paper. Georgette has her supper and does her homework in bed, as we have to watch her chest in our cold winters. I get dinner, speak to Paul. He puts his paper down, answers.

"Sundays we talk vaguely of a picnic or a walk; go to a 4 o'clock movie; think we will drop in at the Wilsons, decide not to, come home. I open the ice box; tell them what's there. What does any-

"Well," the letter runs on, either we do or we don't and either way it's a failure. We get a slow waiter, Georgette gets sleepy, the food is expensive and poor. Nobody's happy.

Want To Be Happy

"Don't think I'm stupid or sponed. It's really serious. We both want us to be the busy, happy, con-Heat corn. Drain oysters and add tented people we see about us. We've lost the key. Paul makes pathetic efforts; I make feeble efforts, too. He brings me home a few flowers or I say brightly at dinner, 'Your old favorite cake, Paul.' It all seems to drop flat. How can I put life into my marriage? When we first were married, we were very happy; we aren't really unhappy now. Isn't there a cure for this?"

An easy way to chop nuts is to put them in a clean cotton bag and roll over the bag lightly with a rolling pin.

Keep a shaker of boric powder on the kitchen shelf and sprinkle it in your rubber gloves before and after you use them; this helps them slip on easily and acts as an anti-septic in the case of any skin abrasions.

Calcium deposits in bottles and teakettles may be removed by boiling in or with a solution of vinegar and water.

If you need to boil an egg that is cracked, wrap it in wax paper and twist the ends before dropping it in boiling water. The paper will prevent the white from running out of the shell.

To make a longer, stronger shank in sewing on buttons, sew over a hair pin laid on top of the button.

To prevent seam puckers in sew-ing sheer fabrics, loosen sewing machine tension and use a longer stitch. Or with regular setting, stitch seams over strips of paper, then pull off paper. Test scraps of fabric before starting on garment.

Teen-agers Use Picks, Shovels Helping Get Play Field Ready

CRANFORD, N. J. - Teen-age pupils worked with pick and shovel on topsoil supplied by local townspeople in a community-sponsored effort to build a recreation field for Cranford high school. Folks here are proud of the project, which has been a cooperative enterprise from its incention. from its inception.

Boys and girls in mathematics classes did the preliminary surveys on the block-long lawn behnd the school set aside as the play area. Industrial arts students have got some practical training hoeing and grading the land.

It started when a faculty report prepared by Frank Zimmerman, vie principal of the shool, with Vincent Sarnowski and Paul Buonacent Sarnow guro, teachers, urged the establishment of play facilities near the school. The institution's athletic field is a half a mile from the school building.

Everybody thought the faculty suggestion a good one. Youth in British City To Get Police Training

Australian Urges Flight Round South Pole in 1950

PERTH, AUSTRALIA. - Charles K. Foot, West Australian, is trying to promote a round-the-South-Pole flight next year.

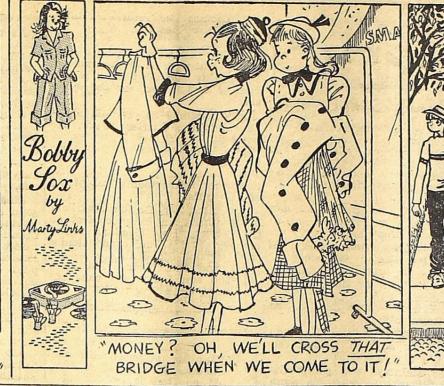

He thinks such a flight should be made early in the year to mark the visit of King George VI, Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret.

Foot says such a flight would strengthen Australia's claim to part of the Antarctic continent and add to scientific knowledge of the old south. He suggests that the flight be made by flying boat and start and end at Perth.

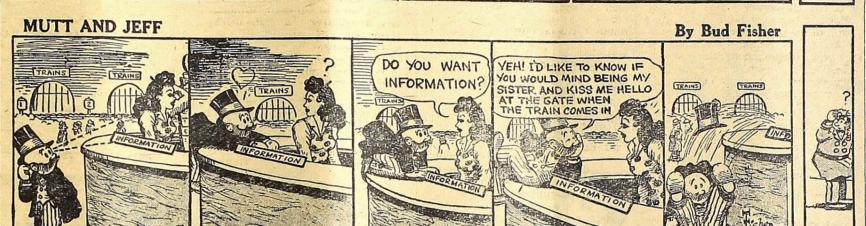

From this west Australian city, he says, the plane could fly to Hobart, Tasmania. Then it would head south, refuelling at Macquarie island at a rendezvous with a ship in the Ross sea and then at Palmer Archipelago.

It would make the next stop at Magallenes, the Chilean city at the southern tip of South America. From there the plane would fly to Cape Town, South Africa, stopping on the way at a permanent whaling station at South Georgia in the South Atlantic. Then it would fly to Prince Edward and Heard islands before completing the round-the-world flight at Perth.

Win Season's Final From Harrisville

The Tawas City Elks finished up their season finals, when they detheir 1948-1949 season Friday evening, when they nosed out a 46 to 43 win over the Harrisville Tigers.

After a 12 to 12 tie at the end of the first quarter the Harrisville Tigers broke loose with a one of the third quarter outsorping Haralest After a season finals, when they defeated Harrisville 22 to 18. The little Elks record now stands at 15 wins and one loss.

After a slow start in the first half, with Harrisville leading 8 to 6, the Reserves stole the show in the third quarter outsorping Haralest at 12 to 12 tie at the end of the first quarter outsorping Haralest at 15 wins and one loss.

Tigers broke loose with, a one point lead over the Elks in the second frame, 8 to 7. The half-time score reading 20 to 19 The Elks were up to their old stunt of trailing at half-time while local form ing at half-time, while local fans sat on the edge of their seats chewing on their finger nails.

In the third quarter, the Elks broke loose with a 14 point barrage while whistling "Hold that Tiger," and they did just that holding Harrsville to nine. In the final quarter, the Harrisville team final quarter, the Harrisville team had a one point advantage over the Elks, 14 to 13, but couldn't connect for enough to make up for their third quarter defict.

Don Westcott, rangy center for the Elks, agan led his teammates in the scoring end of the game with 23 markers. Next in line was Bruce Myles who garnered 12 and Bruce Myles who garnered 12 and Barry McGuire came through with seven. Herb Look and Jerry Gracik played a stellar game on defense and Herb also added four more points. Vinson led the Harrisville five with 13 points.

The final tally in the won and loss column for the Huron Shore

Champs now stands at a very impressive 16 wins and two losses. Their victims for the year were: Sterling, two games; Mio, two games; East Tawas, two games; Harrisville, two games; Hale, two games; Oscoda two games; Bernards, two games; Pinconning, and the Elks Alumni team. Their two losses were at the hands of Houghton Lake and the Bay City Business College.

This week-end will be the big test for the Defibaughmen, as they tangled with Oscoda last night, the winner of this game will square off against the winner of the East Tawas-Arenac Eastern game, for the Class C toga. Reserves End Season

IN THE CERCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF IOSCO IN CHANCERY

In the Matter of the Petition of Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Iosco, in Chancery: Murl K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for taxes under the linquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

provisions of the act last above mentioned;
3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above ance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned; 4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment therof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute. each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lieu upon each of the said saveral provide of land decembed in said the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended; b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be said as the law provides: severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

MURL K. ATEN, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Safety in Driving

One of the simplest ways to prevent automobile accidents is to drive a car that's kept in safe operating condition. Equipment items suggested as having special relation to safety are: headlights, tail and stop lights, brakes, tires, windshield wipers, steering and wheel alignment, the muffler and exhaust system, the windshield and other glass, the rearview mirror, and horn.
