Mr. Finley urged the continued use of superior sires as an important step in improving the quality calves. The practices of obtaining early calves born as close together as possible and calfhood dehorning and castration would insure top prices year after year. Continuing, he added, pasture improvement is probably the most important economic factor for cattle raisers.

LABOR LAW: 'Trouble, Trouble'

In the field of liberal-or, as some would term it, even "left wing"— Republicanism, the GOP's Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon was conceding nothing to no man.

THE SENATOR was vocally and vociferously hurt. The defense of the Taft-Hartley law by "big business" was giving the senator no rest and he meant to let everyone know

With little originality but much vigor, the senator was crying that the attitude of many defenders of the Taft-Hartley law was a "Judas betrayal of the capitalistic system."

IN A SUDDEN onslaught against many of the business men who have appeared before the committee in defense of the measure, the senator declared their attitude is "shocking . selfish . . . class-conscious . . . un-Christian.'

In contrast, he praised Senator Taft (R., Ohio) whose name the law bears, for his "fair-minded objectivity" in considering testimony on the "shortcomings" of the act.

Morse declared he and Taft are "much nearer together on the need for a law less drastic against labor" than they were in 1947 when the act was passed.

MEANWHILE, sentiment was growing among congressional observers that with every day of delay on legislative consideration of Taft-Hartley law repeal, there increased the probability of labor's failing to always preceded periods of national depression.

JOBLESS: 3 Million Out

At present count the number of jobless in the United States stood at three million.

However, according to the experts, there was no cause for im-mediate concern. Commissioner Ewan Clague of the federal bureau of labor said the time to become alarmed would be when the unemployed total reached five million and stayed there. Would it reach five million?

THAT WAS A POINT on which the experts disagreed.

Those who were loudest in pointing to the possibility of a depression pointed out that in just three months the jobless total had jumped from 1.8 million to the present three million That was a rate of acceleration which, they claimed vigilantly stand guard over their should cause everyone to be socialist homeland." alarmed.

Time was an element, Commissioner Clague contended. Wait, he said, until the spring weather begins to revive the construction business and Easter trade and then 'we'll be able to tell better just where we're going."

The federal official noted there was a drop of 1.75 million workers in non-agricultural jobs between mid-December and mid-January. Soviet army had "routed the hordes Part of this was seasonal, he said, of 14 powers.

Out of Mountain View, Calif. came one of the most chilling, awesome post-war tales of what Authorities for these statements were U. S. army engineers who destroyed 125,000 tons of the spray where it was stored in carefully hidden caves in Bavaria.

Maj. James M. Graham of the engineer corps said the Germans called the chemical "tabun," a combination of the scientists who invented it. According to Major Graham, who had charge of the disposal of the chemical, "tabun" was a military secret until about six months ago when some information concerning it leaked out to the American public. One thousand tons were spared from destruction and shipped to the army proving grounds at Aberdeen, Maryland.

THE MAJOR said the stuff is nearly odorless that a person has to know exactly what he is smelling before he can detect it with his nose. It has a faint fruity flavor and looks like crankcase

Then the Major said something that would add no comfort to those who fear a war with Russia. He said that the scientists who developed "tabun" were in Berlin when the Russians took over and probably became subject to Soviet Speculation was that it was not used by the Germans because of a reluctance to engage in chemical warfare for a lack of knowledge of what weapons in this field might be possessed by the Allies.

OLIVER TWIST:

Fagin Is Issue

Intelligent Jews would draw little consolation from the violent acts of their fellow men in multi-torn

With the world on tenterhooks over the possibility of a third world war and with the issue of Palestine not yet completely settled as it affects the Jews, a mob of Berlin Jews saw fit to demonstrate over he showing of a British-made film.

THE FILM was "Oliver Twist," a story familiar to almost every English-speaking schoolboy and, apparently, familiar to a great many Jews as well.

The Berlin Jews, it seemed, couldn't stomach the Dickens creation, Fagin, one of the major characters in the story. Fagin, depicted as a Jew, is an unlovely character who teaches children to steal for him and accords them brutal treattion's economic condition because of the simple fact that in past re-

The charge that the film was "anti-Semitic" was hurled by the Jewish demonstrators. Their demontration was effective. It resulted in temporary withdrawal of the film. German police hospitalized some of the rioters, but said they could not continue to protect the theatre.

THE ENTIRE AFFAIR provided a disturbing spectacle. Berlin, supposed to be the proving ground of the ability of nations to work tostatement in an order of the day gether, has become, instead, the malododous corpse of that concep-

North, South Fought Hard Over President Buchanan

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.-Democratic harmony, so far as the Dixiecrat revolt is concerned, remains an uncertain quantity. Democrats, basically, are still Democrats, but there will always be certain fundamental differences between North and South which existed even before slavery and secession became issues.

Beyond that, however, recent clashes with the Dixiecrats are largely only a levelling off process and probably nothing a sensible compromise

People outside of Washington are often surprised that differences still arise between

North and South over ancient mat ters which most of the country has forgotten. The country has also forgotten that it was here that the earliest outbreaks of sectional feeling took place. As early as 1848 there was a riot following an "underground" slave - running incident in BAUKHAGE BAUKHAGE which 76 household servants were spirited off to freedom. The Abolitionist Weekly was stormed and the capital suffered the biggest attack of jitters it had had since the British burned the White House 34 years before.

Nine years later a band of armed ruffians from Baltimore entered the city bent on helping the "Know Nothing" candidates in the local election. (We had local elections then.) The marines had to be called out: six men were killed and twice as many wounded.

The tide continued to rise and no President, from Tyler to Buchanan, could or would do anything about it. It was an open secret that Buchanan's sympathies were largely south of the Mason-Dixon line. Historians agree that he learned in advance the decision in the famous Dred Scott slavery case which was one of the last of the explosions which started the Civil War. Today supreme court secrets are kept secret. But Buchanan knew the court had ruled that Dred Scott was not a citizen under the meaning of the Constitution, and could not be made a citizen; further that the Constitution affirmed a property right in slaves, and such slave property was protected by the "due process of law" clause.

Buchanan realized what the effect of this decision would be, but in his inauguration speech piously advised the country to accept the verdict, no matter what it was.

Later when southern sentiment grew in the capital, Buchanan did try to organize a militia, but congress would have none of it. The regular army troops in the city were known to be of doubtful on paper, could muster only 150 men. Meanwhile the southern group, the Militant Jackson Democratic association, was drilling 800

Finally the militia managed to get a thousand men under arms. But feeling ran high, and on Washington's birthday following the election of Abraham Lincoln by the electoral college but before his inauguration, the militia paraded. Ex-President Tyler, a Virginian, went to Buchanan and protested the fact that they had been allowed to display the Stars and Stripes, and Buchanan is said to have apologized.

Most people have forgotten the northern animosity toward Buchanan, but it was to crop up again in my time when it was the subject of one of those asidulous debates for which Sen. Cabot Lodge was notorious. Many Presidents are memorialized in stone in Washington, but not all, and in Lodge's for the city. time, Buchanan was one who was became Mrs. Harriett Lane Johnston, lived to an affluent old age and when she died, left the sum of $50,000 (which bought a lot more marble and bronze then than it would now) for the erection of a statue of her uncle.

Buchanan had been a bachelor and had taken his niece with him to the White House as hostess to assist in the brilliant entertainments for which he was noted. She later | Truman.

The donation of a site required the approval of congress. This donation was cheap, considering that, unlike similar tributes to the nation's hero, all ex-penses were provided, Congress was willing enough, but not that stalwart yankee, Lodge, who lived perhaps nearer to the age of Buchanan to his own genera-

He chose to dig up all the unsavory memories his scholarly brain could muster to block the donation of the site. Naturally hot southern blood grew hotter, and what some of Mr. Lodge's opponents lacked in data, hey more than made up in oratory. The motion was passed, but not until tempers had been thoroughly ruffled.

The site chosen for the statue was not conspicuous. In fact, I had never seen it until it was brought to my attention by a gentleman fully conversant with the details of the dispute and likewise familiar with every nook and cranny of the capital city. I asked him to show me the statue. He said he knew where it was. In Meridian Park. But just before we arrived at the scene, he paused and said: "It ought to be

It developed that he had never seen it either.

It was there-in an inconspicuous spot, a huge bronze statue, of good workmanship, backed by a wide exedra which is defined as "a seat with a high back"-but this would seat several squads of infantry.

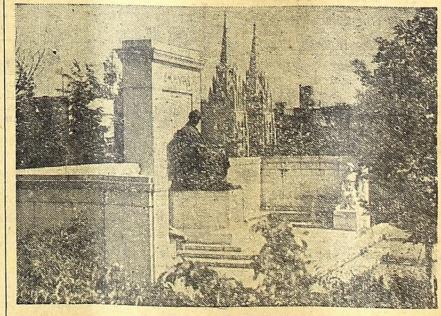

It is a huge piece of stonework flanked by two symbolic figures in classic style, one representing diplomacy, in which Buchanan was skilled (he had served well as minister to Great Britain) and one representing the law in which, if we may judge by his breach of ethics in connection with the supreme court decision, he was not of equal stature. Perhaps his niece was sensitive on this point for she specified the inscription-the only words on the statue beside the dates of his term and the single word "Buchanan"—It reads:—

"The incomparable statesman tain ranges of the law though it isn't indicated, it was Buchanan's own attorney-general who said that.

There is a certain ironic touch in the fact that Buchanan's memory had to be perpetuated in stone by family subsidy, for from 1820 to 1830 he was one of the few members of congress who pursued the futile attempt to get congress to approve a suitable memorial in the capitol to George Washington.

Efforts in this direction either were circumvented or ignored until 1831, the centenary of Washington's birth. At that time, the public was so aroused over the indifference of congress that George Watterson, then librarian of congress, formed an association which raised the money for the Washington monument which was-eventually-completed on the spot originally chosen for a statute of Washington by Major L'Enfant who drew the plans

The President said recently he didn't depend on opinion polls under any circumstances. Well, if anybody has a reason for that attitude, it certainly would be Harry

Letter to Telegram Senders Ladies and Gents:

What is the sense in protesting against the use of a blackjack when at the same time you are pounding yourself on the head with six feet of lead pipe? Deluging state legislatures and the national congress with wires demanding that something be done about mock trials in the Kremlin pattern is all very well, but what about us all personally doing a little less cheering, hat tossing and voting here on home grounds for candidates for city, state, and national office who are known to be so far to the left that a slight breeze could send them over to the Moscow line? Huh?

Is there anything screwier than expressing indignation over the Cardinal Mindszenty outrage, with its threat to religion everywhere on earth under communism, and then taking it on the double to the polls to vote into office leaders who are not wholeheartedly for the American way?

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, not eternal tele-grams. Americans must wage this fight at the polls not at the Western Union offices. Ballots, not wires or postcards are Uncle Sam's first line of defense if he is really indignant over that Hungary trial and wants to make sure that no court routines of that type ever come to America.

If I were a congressman I would answer all wires with a terse, "Received your telegram urging me do something. Fine idea. What are you doing besides sending wires? Are you by any chance among those millions of easilyfooled folks who by word, deed or vote make the way easy for the Communist routine in America? Don't answer too fast. Sit down and give your conscience a good checking up."

This country's Number One Loons are the boys and gals who think they can stop the "reds" and "pinkos" by Western Union instead of by an all-out determination never to support for any office (government, labor union or chowder club) any candidate who has a smile for the Kremlin way. All Russia laugh up its sleeve at that kind of hypocrisy. They love it and count on it. And they have been getting it from plenty of telegram senders.

You can't stop by wire an evil which you are not trying to stop by your own love of country and mental alertness. It makes no

I don't mean to lay off telegrams of protest against persecutions of the church and defiance of all the But you're just performing in a wax to prevent spotting and wasquirrel cage if you rush off a wire of indignation in the morning and dash off in the afternoon to vote into office some crumb you know very well is the type who might play footsie with Pal Joey.

Using his "calf bar," Art Schmidt of Luverne, S. D., can feed 100 calves in 40 minutes. The device consists of a nipple, attached to a rubber tube which is dropped into a two quart glass jar. The "bar" feeds eight calves at a time; when the jars are empty, the calves which emptied them are put in a separate pen and eight more "customers" are turned in.

When calves are slow in "catching on" they receive preliminary training with a nipple pail-a bucket with a large rubber nipple protruding from its side, from which they quickly learn to suck.

Spring Fashions Offer Little That's New

By Ertta Haley

WHEN YOU START looking at the new spring clothes, the first idea which will come to you is that nothing very new has been added to the fashion picture. There is only more elaboration of details which we have already seen.

This will come as a welcome surprise to those of you who want to get along on a limited clothes budget. Since skirt lengths are about the same as last year, that means you don't have to run out and buy all new dresses and coats.

Furthermore, those of you who were able to buy only a basic wardrobe, can now add some of the trimmings which give you the well groomed look. You might like to add a new hand bag, new shoes and perhaps a scattering of pins to your costume.

Smart Fabrics, Exquisite Handwork are Featured

You will be impressed by the sheer beauty of fabrics this sea-son like never before. There are perfectly wonderful linens, heavy, luxurious satins, real silk in solid colors or excellent prints, and then the soft sheer fabrics like chiffon which is a very important part of the fashion picture.

The woolens which you'll be seeing in suits and coats are also materials which will make you sigh with delight. They are beautifully woven and in stunning colors. Really sleek and silky gabardines that can show tailoring to perfection are as handsome as it's possible to be.

Exquisite handwork is featured on much of the clothing. You'll be seeing a lot of it on the new blouses in the form of magnificently emwell as the bodice and sometimes on the cuffs.

There is something so rich an atterly feminine about handwork in

Grey Chiffon

This full-skirted pale grey silk chiffon afternoon dress, worn over a matching color crepe slip, is from the spring collection of a New York designer. On the beach dresses which you'll be buying now or later, you're most apt to run into the strapless variety. These dresses, however, often come with a bolero or stole with which you can cover up, if desired.

Choose Silhouette Most Flattering

This year you may choose the silhouette most flattering to you. The full-skirted look is still with us, but then, too, there's the slim-tailored variety, and several others inbetween those two.

Softly gathered at the waist, it falls in gracious folds that seem to hug the figure.

Most formal dresses are longer most popular.

Rounded Shoulders Are Essential

The stiff-looking artificial shoulders which we started seeing some time ago have gradually disappeared, and fortunately, too! They have no place in a fashion world which highlights beauty and femi-

In the really high-priced dresses, no shoulder pads are used. If you do have them, make certain they are small and cleverly concealed. In other words, use padding to give a nice round line, but have it done so carefully that no one realizes you're wearing pads. Coats Use Plenty

Of Materials Most of the coats seen currently are long and full, whether they're of the belted variety or princess style or fitted. If they're full length, that is, coming to the dress hemline, they're bound to use a lot of material.

Because of the lovely rich fabrics used on coats, you'll be amazed at some of the lovely details in tailoring. These features have often been used in the past, but it takes a good material to show them up to full advantage.

Be Smart!

One of the features of the Empire waistline is the opportunity it gives for a new type of decoration. Newest is the use of scatter pins, many times larger than those worn on your shoulder, so large in fact, that usually one is all you'll want. Very narrow belts are much favored. For sheer wools and those classic dresses of spun rayon, you'll like the ever-sosmart cord belts, many of which are leather. For soft dresses, there's a newer style: lace-like, jeweled belts that look much like the highly ornamental necklaces you've been wearing.

The handsome 29-year-old confessed robber, who wooed her with promises of marriage, jewels from his loot, and a luxurious apartment, had been grilled in New York about a series of daring robberies on the West coast and in the East.

BETTE DAVIS, according to latest reports, was the movies' highest paid woman star of 1948. Yet, when she first tackled Hollywood practically no one, except Bette herself, would have thought she had the ghost of a chance to get anywhere near the top. She was not pretty; her figure was not especially good. Hollywood swarmed with very beautful girls, many of them with influence that counted in their favor. But she had what counted-belief in her own talent, determination to get ahead, willingness to take roles the pretty girls wouldn't touch with a ten-foot pole. She deserves every penny of her salary.

A quartet of gay comedies worth remembering if you like to laugh—
"A Foreign Affair," (Dietrich, Jean Arthur, Lund) "June Bride,"
(Davis, Robert Montgomery) "A Letter to Three Wives" and "Family Honeymoon."

Pity Penny Morgan, who conducts more than 300 auditions a week to weed out the talent for Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts." Everywhere she goes entertainers appear and try to impress her with their talent. Even when she stays home there is no respite. "I even have a singing mailman and a tap dancing grocery boy," she complained the other day.

When "My Friend Irma" reaches the screen, via Paramount, Marie Wilson will have the role she plays on the air. Diana Lynn will be "Jane," John Lund will be Marie's friend, Don DeFore will be the millionaire who falls in love with Diana. Martin and Lewis, the comedy team, will appear-not too often, let's hope-as a pair of ambitious actors.

Seeing Jane Greer smile at Dick Powell in RKO's "Station West" it's hard to believe that nine years ago she thought she would never be able to smile again. She woke one morning to find the left side of her face paralyzed. Two months of treatments did no good. But she looked so funny when she tried to smile that she took heart, exercised till she got well.

It is rumored that a newcomer to Hollywood, Brad Evans, may replace Sinatra on "Hit Parade." A former disc jockey, Evans is also an ex-FBI agent, under his own name, Joe Dosh. But he makes records under his own name.

Warner Bros. lost no time in scheduling "The Trial of Cardinal Mindszenty." Top priority has been given to the film, so that it may be produced as quickly as possible. Anthony Veiller has been assigned to produce and write it.

"I Am With You" is the first film made under religious auspices considered good enough to be distributed commercially as well as in 16 mm. form for churches, schools, etc. Portraying the experiences of Swedish missionaries on South Africa, with professional actors in important roles, it is highly dramatic and deeply moving. If you ask for tickets to "The Adventures of Sam Spade" you won't get them, and producer-director William Spier once more will feel like the meanest man in radio. But there cannot be an audience for this mystery show; the action must be kept taut and tense, and a gasp or an "Oh" or "Ah" might spoil it. So hundreds of would-be spectators are turned down each week.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Wayne Morris has nice plans for next summer's vacation - wants to fly his wife to Alaska in his own plane . . . Leon Errol will star in another RKO series of two-reel comedies, which extends his association with the studio to a record-16 consecutive years . . . Bob Hope did 39 shows in 34 cities, grossed $650,-000 during his recent personal appearance tour and gave many free shows at GI camps and for charities as well.

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

awards of crowns and coronets by various clubs, boards, associations, chambers of commerce etc. we discovered the startling fact that weight, power, Grantland Rice strength, and displacement had been rather rudely shoved aside. Brain at last returned to its ruling place in the eyrie and the big hulk is stranded on the beach.

For example, we might as well start with football. Who drew the big bulk of the awards? The answer is quite simple-Doak Walker, Charley Justice and Frankie Albert. Walker, of S.M.U., weighs 165 pounds. Justice of North Carolina weighs the same . Albert of the San Francisco 49'ers is around 160.

This is on the light side of a game that has been taking on weight year after year.

We read now about lines that average 225 pounds from tackle to tackle-or 223 pounds from end to We read of backfields that average 187 or 191 pounds.

But most of the post-season glory was awarded to athletes below 170. This meant they had to be intelligent and mentally alert. I've seen more than a few 220 or 230-pound guards and tackles who were fast, but not overburdened with any mental weight. Some of them were swell linemen just the same.

It was an amazing thing for Frankie Albert, a wolverine among the mastodons and mammoths, to get so many votes. In addition to his smartness and his skill, Albert has always had, from his Stanford days, another qualification so often missing. This is stamina. You can also add ruggedness.

In Other Fields, Too

Football isn't the only game that enters this consideration of brawn versus brain. Baseball hands most of its laurels to Lou Boudreau, another 165-pound entry.

In the past we've had Cobb—185 pounds; Wagner—200 pounds; Babe Ruth—225 pounds; Lajoie — 200 pounds; Hornsby—190 pounds, and Joe DiMaggio-195 pounds. Stan Musial, running close to Boudreau, is in at 170 pounds and Cat Brecheen won't pass 155.

Track follows the same ideas. Two highly-crowned and laurel-embossed trackmen last year were Harrison Dillard and Mel Patton. Dillard is on the smaller side. Patton is slender. Neither goes in for surplus weight. Young Bob Mathias, a well-built kid, is one of the few brawny ones to make the grade.

What about boxing. Last year not one heavyweight got within ten kilometers of having a purple toga thrown across his shoulders. Louis? Walcott? Charles? Nothing doing. Most of the awards went to Ike Williams, a lightweight, Sandy Saddler, a featherweight, and Marcel Cerdan, a middleweight.

Cerdan, the Frenchman, led the pack and drew most of the decorations for stopping Tony Zale, a tough guy to stop.

Nothing above a middleweight was even mentioned-no light heavyweights-no heavyweights. And in the latter division, it may be several years before anyone comes along to act as a standout. What about golf? Prior to his automobile accident, 137-pound Ben Hogan was the acknowledged champ-one of the best that ever played. Mangrum, who has been close and still is, is another lightweight in the 142-pound class. Hagen weighed 185 pounds. Bobby Jones and Gene Sarazen were short, but powerfully built, in the 170-pound bracket. Nelson is a 180-pounder and Snead is close to this mark. Jimmy Demaret is solidly built. But Hogan and Mangrum are two rare exceptions. They take you back to the days of Bill Johnson in tennis-a remarkable competitor at 118 pounds.

White Coal

White coal is the figurative name for falling water that is capable of being used for power purposes. The term originated in France; it is the literal translation of houille blanche and was probably suggested because much of the falling water in France originated in snow-covered mountains, or because falling water when filled with air bubbles appears white when compared with the blackness of coal.

Tide water, usable for power, is sometimes called "blue coal."

Tawas City, Whittemore Are Winners

Forward Revord and center, Mielock, for the winners shared in the top scoring column with nine apiece. Shellenbargr led Hale with

What is surprising about the Whittemore team, is that this is their first year with their own their first year with their own Bover, c auditorium, previous to that they practiced out in the school play Weishelm, g ground, sometimes with snow on the ground. In 1943 Whittemore really upset Tawas City's apple cart, when they defeated them in the finals for the Class D trophy. Since then they have been without a gym, but still sent out teams in the tournament and regular season competition.
