A compromise had been effected with the aid of GOP support, but the administration was committed to oppose the peace formula which had been adopted.

THE FILIBUSTER had continued 15 days over a proposed change in senate rules. There was no doubt that southern senators, who led the talkathon, had emerged victorious. The talkfest was staged to delay President Truman's civil rights bill, and it had done just that.

The provisions of the peace for-

1. Unlimited debate in the senate would be permitted only upon a motion to take up a rules change.

2. Debate on all other matters could be curbed by the "yes" vote of 64 of the chamber's 96 members. Majority leader Scott Lucas (D., Ill.) attacked the compromise proposal as a "move to perpetuate the filibuster.'

"Of course I'll oppose it," he told newsmen. "It's an effort to take the senate back 40 years."

MEANWHILE Truman Demo- Home Rule Favored crats were reported launching a new parliamentary move to clamp down on debate. The senate already had overturned a ruling by Vice-President Barkley that discussion to take up the proposed rule change could be ended if two-thirds of those voting desired. The vote over-ruling Barkley was 46 to 41. Administration leaders hoped to find some way to another ruling and, if they could change as many as three votes, a Barkley ruling 24 the administration wanted, and could be sustained.

CHILDREN DEFY FATHER AND PRAY . . . A father who doesn't want his young daughters to believe in God is under court injunction to stop trying to teach them atheism. Camera study above typifies triumph of faith over sterile skepticism as the two girls, Nanette, 11, (left) and her sister Peggy Lynn, 7, sing hymns of worship before stained window of a Chicago church. The father, Duane Free, a printer, is in Detroit. The mother, Mrs. Esther Free, who lives with her daughters, is suing for divorce.

HEY! FELLOWS, HOWYA LIKE THIS? . . . This young fellow is not a fugitive from an Orson Welles broadcast. It's Stefan Olsen wearing a "man from Mars" helmet by which means he's actually controlling the flight of the sound control glider. The helmet contains a tiny radio transmitter which can broadcast through an amplifier to control the glider at distances of 400 feet. The glider can be flown out, turned and flown back to hand. This fascinating gadget is one of thousands of new toys available now.

BABY LEOPARDS ARRIVE BY AIR . . . Squirming in the arms of Miss "Jungle Jenny" Cuprys of Williamstown, N. J., are two threemonth-old leopard cubs that arrived at Idlewild airport by air from the Far East. They were included in a cargo of live animals which made the 12,000 mile trip from Singapore and Bangkok on a DC-4, converted into a flying zoo. There were 133 animals in the flying zoo, including six baby elephants. The cargo weighed 13,000 pounds. A 23-foot python was also a passenger on the trip.

DISTANCE LENDS ENCHANTMENT . . . The two top men in the field of long-distance flying met each other during a nationally-broadcast radio program in New York. On left is Capt. Bill Odom, who flew nonstop from Hawaii to New Jersey, 5,000 miles, to break all such records for non-stop light plane flights. At right is Capt. James Gallagher, commander of "Lucky Lady II", B-50 long range U.S. bomber that flew non-stop around the world, refuelling in flight.

METAL WINGS . . . That's what "Mutt" the ostrich had when he was flown from LaGuardia field to Brazil, Bonnie Leopold, airline staff member, sits astride "Mutt" in baggage room and uses bandana for halter as she pretends to ride the critter.

GALLIC GLAMOUR . . . Patricia Patrick was recently selected in a contest in Paris, France, as the actress typifying what French movie-goers like to see on their silver screens, Pat's name is really Patricia Gonzales.

overty living fairly close together. On either side of the opulent firstlivision Yankees and Cardinals in St. Petersburg, there are two strong tail end contenders at fampa and Clearwater. They are the Reds and the Phillies. There is a broad rumor to the effect that Chicago's Cubs expect to leave their old pals fourth, fifth or sixth place. If this happens, the Reds at Tampa and Phillies at Clearwater should be the logical Grantland Rice candidates for the bottom spot. This seems to be rather a shame. Eddie Sawyer of the Phillies and Bucky Walters of the Reds are two popular managers and they have a number of good ballplayers- excellent ballplayers. Here are a few who could help any ball club:

Reds-Ewell Blackwell, Johnny Vander Meer, Ken Raffensberger, Herman Wehmeir and Harry Gumbert—all good pitchers; Ray Lamanno, Ray Mueller, Virgil Stallcup, Johnny Wyrostek, Hank Sauer, Danny Litwhiler and Frankie Baumholtz-all good ballplayers.

The Phillies - Robin Roberts, Schoolboy Rowe, Blix Donnelly, Curt Simmons, Ken Heintzelman, Hank Borowy-pretty good pitchers: Ed Waitkus, Dick Sisler, Granville Hamner, Richie Ashburn, Del Ennis, Johnny Blatnik and Bert Haas-pretty good ballplayers.

This doesn't include a number of lively-looking rookies who could help quite a bit.

But, unfortunately for the Reds, Ewell Blackwell, their crack pitcher, is just recovering from a sore arm and a kidney operation. The Phillies have too many young pitchers who need experience.

Blackwell's early absence and his dubious fate is a heavy blow to the Reds since the six foot, sixinch star is one of baseball's best. He would be good for between 22 and 25 victories, even with the Reds, if he were the Blackwell of BASEBALL community, ex- | lies' youth around 1950 or 1951 A tended, is like any other big since owner Bob Carpenter is quite community. There is wealth and willing to spend any amount to get talent.

The Red-Phillies Finish

Neither Bucky Walters of the Reds nor Eddie Sawyer of the Phillies care to be labelled a tailend contender. But what teams can they beat out?

The Phillies have a possible and even probable star in young Richie Ashburn, who batted .333 last seathis season and son and was the fastest man the move higher up, into league has seen in some years.

Ashburn was injured after playing 117 games, but he is O. K. now and more than keen to prove his first year was no fluke. The second year is al-ways the hardest. He easily may be one of the game's future stars.

The Phillies have another kid in Curt Simmons, an expensive lefthander who is only 19 years old. Simmons won seven and dropped 13 games last season. Robin Roberts won seven and dropped nine. Roberts, only 22, is another possible star, maybe better than Simmons.

Waitkus, from the Cubs, - will strengthen the Philly infield. This team can be dangerous if it gets better pitching than it picked up throungh 1948. It is the type of team that won't win any pennant or finish in the first four, but it can beat a lot of ball clubs and should be an improvement over last year.

The Reds have a great ballplayer and one of baseball's finest citizens in Bucky Walters but, like the Phillies, their strength is too spotty.

It could be a difficult story if Blackwell could hook up with Vander Meer, Wehmeir, Gumbert and Raffensberger. They have a good power hitter in Hank Sauer with 35 home runs to his credit last year, and a good third baseman in Grady Hatton

Both the Reds and Phillies have good ballplayers scattered here and there but too many others who are not too able.

But the fact that teams as good as the Reds and Phillies should be scrapping it out for last place proves the balance of National League. You wouldn't think that six clubs will beat out this pair-and maybe six clubs won't.

That's only the way it looks as March buds are waiting to show

Weather conditions that made soft backwoods roads passable well in advance of the trout season will help the conservation Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Herriman entertained company on Sunday.

Mrs. Ralph Burt entertained the program. Trout fishing starts Appropriate to the program. ril 30 this year.

The goal again is one million "keepers" to be planted in the state's trout streams and lakes. In recent years the plantings have come within 25,000 of the mark. Still an obstacle to the one million goal is the hatchery food supply problem. As in wartime days purchase of slaughterhouse products of the desirable hatchery food is on a day-to-day basis, but as long as the supply lasts the trout are being reared to the full seven-inch length before releasing.

BETTER RETURNS FROM

Dairymen anxious to earn a better return from their dairy herds ter return from their dairy herds are turning to improved practices according to Harold R. Clark, County Agricultural Agent.

County Agent Clark listed some of these practices as:

1. Regular milking practices using fast milking procedure and spacing milking time twelve hours ions based on the actual product-ion of each animal in the herd.

of cows within the herd, the county agent suggests, will allow farmers to know which of their animals are making them money.

it's ROADMASTER!

WHEN this sight greets you in your rear-view mirror-mister, better give over!

Overtaking you is just about the ablest performer on the road today -and wise drivers long ago learned the only thing to do with ROAD-MASTER is give it road room and a salute as it passes.

Reason is - ROADMASTER is something excitingly new in fine cars. Big, yes - stretches a gorgeous eighteen feet, with all that such size means in comfort and inside stretch-out space.

But part and parcel of every one of its 4,400-odd pounds is the fastest footwork on the highway. Action is the key of every part, from its 150-hp Fireball power plant to the swift, silken, unbroken surge you get from Dynaflow Drive.

As a matter of fact, action's even invited by the price tag. By the pound, by the inch, by any yardstick you want to lay against it, it's the buy of the fine-car field.

For proof, just gather a few delivered prices on other cars and bring them around. We'll show you so much more for your dollar you'll waste no time getting an order in.

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area . SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access . "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions . By Ertta Haley

YOU CANNOT ALWAYS afford the new wardrobe you want, but you can always be certain your hair is just right; and, for most women, this inspires just the confidence they need to meet the new season or any situation.

We're going through a fortunate period with hair styles right now. Those of us who are old enough will appreciate the fact that we don't have to impose on ourselves below-the-waist length hair to be in Neither do we have to dye the hair a certain color, unnatural to us, because our own coloring is considered best. Then, too, we don't have to use all sorts of de-vices in the hair style to make it appear just right.

The prevailing fashion is short hair and an easily managed style which, more frequently than not, c a n be brushed to gleaming smoothness to frame the face.

For you who shampoo your own hair, the short styles will save time and energy in care. If you give yourself a permanent, or set your own hair every week or every the hair cut to a short length. If the job is well done, you'll like it and get complimented about it.

One of the ideas which we might well borrow from grandmother is the daily brushing. With short hair, it's easy to concentrate on this exercise that means so much in gleaming good looks.

Shampoo Your Hair When It's Dirty

There used to be some idea that hair should not be shampooed more than once a month, or at least not more often than once every two or three weeks.

We now know that hair should be washed every time it gets dirty. In dirty localities and particularly if you have oily hair, you may have to have a shampoo twice a week to keep the hair looking best. If you have soft water, this makes it easy to get a lovely shampoo. However, don't let hard water scare you. Many good shampoos have a water-softening agent right in them that softens the water as you use it, and it's as lovely to use as though 'you'd gathered the water from the rain barrel.

Follow this Schedule

In Shampooing

Just how is the right kind of shampoo given? Here's a simple outline, easy to follow:

First comb, then brush the hair to help separate the dirt and get rid of the snarls in it. It's a good idea to part the hair in as many ways as possible for the brushing so that no area will be neglected. The scalp should be massaged

HAVE YOU EVER been puzzled extra long stems and need staking by all those initials and names in Winter protection is necessary the books on roses? What does it They are fine for climates where all boil down to in terms of the home garden?

Here are a few brief facts. Roses grow all over the world, Europe, China, Persia, America, from the warm climates to the very cold splendid effects on fences and ones. Because of the beautiful flow- banks. ers the roses have been taken from the wild and grown in gardens and interbred until now there are many groups each with a mixture of color, size, shape, fragrance and hardiness from numerous ancestors. Those initials or names indicate something of the ancestry. For the home garden there are eight groups of importance.

HYBRID TEA ROSES (H. T.) are the most common kind today. These have large, fragrant flowers in all colors and are the greenhouse and showy garden roses. There are several hundred varieties. Some are very hardy and others are quite tender. They all bloom more or less The others will only need to nave continously all summer. In cold the old branch stems removed climates they will need winter proyearly. #### Kansan Elected Constable Through 'Joke' of Friend

KANSAS CITY, KAN .- Harry O. Tinklepaugh made probably the shortest "acceptance" speech on record.

Tinklepaugh went to vote Renz Edwards, long-time friend, told him he promised to vote for him for constable.

Tinklepaugh said: "fine."
Edwards did some quick campaigning. He lined up four votes for his friend. Tinklepaugh thought no more of the "joke." When the counting board finished its work, it certified Tinklepaugh as constable on the basis of this four write-invotes. There were no candidates on

Average Man Works Less, Gets More Wages for It

LONDON .- A boilermaker in Kansas City smacks home a half-dozen rivets in two minutes. It earns him a loaf of bread. The black-haired little Italian who comes around to mend the furnace in a Rome apartment works nearly half an hour for his loaf. In London, where government subsidies pay a large part of bread cost, the boiler maker has to work twice as long for a loaf as his Kansas City counterpart.

27 People Required To Wake Sleeping Boy BROOKLYN .- It took 27 persons,

including 10 policemen, to waken 12-year-old Louis Gossman by taking turns banging on his bedroom door at 1370 42nd street, Brooklyn. The siege of the modern Rip Van Winkle began at 7:15 a.m. and ended nearly an hour later. At 6 a.m his mother, Mrs. Gussie Grossman served breakfast to her husband, William, 50, a soft drink dealer, and their elder son, Lawrence, 19. With the pair packed off to work, she caught a little more sleep and got up at 7. Then she called to Louis to get up for school. He mumbled something and she went out, did a little shopping, came back and found Louis' door locked and unopenable.

She knocked. No answer. She banged on the door. She screamed. No answer. Neighbors began to come in. They too yelled and knocked. At length seventeen women were getting hysterical when two radio cars and a police emergency squad, mustering 10 policemen, arrived.

They were about to break the door when Louis opened it. He was well, but yawning.
