GERMANY:

Clay Speaks Up

ROOSEVELT:

Old Tradition

The old tradition was running true to form: you can't beat a Roosevelt. Young Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., most like his father in looks, charm and smile, won the New York congressional seat left vacant by the death of Sol Bloom. And he won it with the national administration and Tammany allied against him.

FDR worshipers were jubilant. Those who had fought the "champ" throughout his years in the White House professed to see in the election result the creation of a new Rooseveltian political dynasty.

Already the cry of the exultant victors was "on to Albany," New York capital which Franklin D. Roosevelt, four-time President of the United States, used as a springboard to the White House.

Denied the Democratic nomination, young Roosevelt ran on the Liberal and Four Freedoms parties' tickets in a contest which kept Manhattan's west side in an uproar for months. A surprise to many Americans, who did not know such procedure was permissible, Roosevelt does not reside in the district he will represent in congress. It seems that all the while there has been no bar in the law to prevent a candidate from living in one district and representing another.

DESPITE his victory as a standard bearer for two other parties, Roosevelt declared he is still a 100 per cent Democrat.

Campaigning, he visited thousands of voters, turned on the old Roosevelt charm, mingled with the less Germany is restored to the masses in their homes, attended house parties as honor guest, made alliance with Russia by our former street corner speeches.

One defeated candidate sounded a familiar note heard so frequently during other Rooseveltian cam-

"The formula in this election was a glamorous name and a quarter of a million dollars, and neither of these did we have."

BARKLEY:

No Guards

"I'm a big boy now. And besides, who would want to harm a young man like me anyway.'

Thus did Kentucky's Alben W. Barkley, Vice-President of the United States, dismiss the idea of personal guards.

BARKLEY, who will be 72 in November, goes where he wants, when he wants and flatly refuses protection of any sort.

He told newsmen that President Truman had "tried to get me to accept a few secret service men," but was turned down.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and ton G-man J also offered to provide bodyguards. But Barkley wanted his freedom. "I like it better that way," he Barkley claims he's just a "common man, nothing fancy." In fact, he gets a kick out of people trying to figure out how to address him. "I STILL call myself senator," he says, "a habit after 22 years in congress, but the kids call me 'veep.' I like that."

He could also be called Mr. President, since that's how he's referred to in the senate over which he now presides.

RADIO: Godfrey Tops

Carrot-thatched, gravel-throated Arthur Godfrey, radio's chief exponent of the "be yourself" type of entertainer-announcer, led the CBS network in earnings during 1948. He was paid $440,514.16 last year by the broadcasting system for which he labors.

Newscasters didn't fare so badly, however. Lowell Thomas was a close second with $420,300. Oddly enough, the network boss, Frank Stanton garnered only a measly state and we reject Communism.' $109,798.80. All these figures covered income before Uncle Sam took his cut, so there was some difficulty in trying to ascertain just how much "take home" pay these gentlemen received.

For the ABC network, Don Mc-Neill, emcee of the Breakfast Club, was tops with earnings of $180,229 .-

Paul Whiteman, ABC's musical director and vice-president, received $145,316.56. Again the network president ranked lower. ABC's president Mark Woods got that of the Soviets, the latter can-

ACCIDENTS:

Three Reasons

Plain stupidity, bad manners, and liquor are the top three causes of automobile accidents, accounting for three-fourths of all fatalities, or over 24,000 deaths per year, according to a case analysis by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

By far the top killers are the "stupid" group of driver offensesexcessive speed, ignoring traffic signs or traffic officers, passing on hills or curves, and other miscel-laneous "dimwit" violations; the study finds that one or more of these offenses is involved in 40 per cent of all fatal accidents, and is the principal cause of 32 per cent. FOOLISH ACTIONS by adult pedestrians-crossing against traffic signals, crossing intersections diagonally, crossing between intersections, coming from behind parked cars, and walking in the roadway in the same direction as traffic cause another 12 per cent of fatalities, based on experience records of 1946, 1947 and 1948, the study finds. Thus 44 per cent of our annual traffic death toll results from failures by drivers or pedestrians to use common sense.

Bad manners, such as road hogging-driving over the center line or actually on the wrong side of the road, and "barging through" when the other fellow has the right-ofway cause another 15 per cent of traffic fatalities, the records reveal.

TRAFFIC DEATHS due to alcohol are estimated by the insurance statisticians at a minimum of 15 per cent-12 per cent due to drinking by drivers and 3 per cent due to drinking by pedestrians. This is the most difficult group of cases to measure accurately, the study points out, because: Many drinking drivers try to conceal such facts in case of an accident, and an unknown number succeed; second, a considerable proportion of other violations such as reckless driving, which are directly blamed for certain accidents, would not be committed if the driver were fully sober and his judgment clear.

Summary: Of our annual traffic toll of 32,000 to 33,000 deaths, 44 per cent result from acts of folly by motorists or pedestrians, 15 per cent result from bad driving manners, and at least 15 per cent from liquor. Total: 74 per cent.

SNEEZER:

150,000 Times

Michael Hippisley had sneezed 150,000 times and was still sneezing. London doctors sought frantically to bring some relief to the 14-year old schoolboy who had sneezed once every three seconds for nine

THE only time the boy hadn't sneezed in the nine days was when he was knocked out by drugs or sleeping.

"I've had kerosene up my nose, drops down my ears and hundreds of tablets," Michael told reporters. 'Then they cauterized me. I couldn't feel anything any more, but I kept on sneezing.

When news of Michael's plight, got about, some 50 callers offered sympathy and advice. One suggested hypnotism. Another said sneeze in a paper sack. Unfortunately, all remedies had been tried. SCIENCE, making great strides with allergy controls and remedies seemed stymied on this case. The Hippisley family doctor said that's what he thought it was-the constant "aa-chooing" was due to Michael's "abnormal sensitivity to pollen dust."

Cheats Death

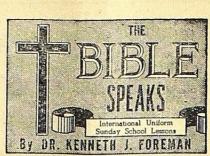

Flashing a smile of victory over death, Reid C. Lewis, is shown in hospital at Santa Monica, Calif. His heart stopped after a minor operation and remained stopped, as did breathing and pulsebeat, for 12 minutes. His doctor, remembering an old Boy Scout trick which sometimes revives drowned persons by breaking a bone, snapped one of Lewis' ribs and the shock restored him

PARKING:

No, Thanks

In a nation where parking space is at a premium, parkers were shunning a Great Bend, Kas., parking lot in great numbers.

Joseph Nolan, a short-time parking lot operator is authority for the reaction. Nolan opened his lot in the heart of the downtown district. In eight days his gross income was only and exactly $1.20. He tried every device he knew, even "free parking." Still they stayed away.

Behold The Man!

Lesson for June 5, 1949

L AST JANUARY a man in Holland wrote to the high court of the new nation of Israel, petitioning for a review, now nearly 2,000 years afterwards, of the trial of Jesus by the court at Jerusalem in the year 30 A. D. That court may never review the case, and perhaps has no legal right to do so. But history has reviewed it, and reversed it. Jesus Dr. Foreman was tried by at least four tribunals on the early morning of the first Good Friday. But the verdict of history is that the courts were guilty, one and all, while the prisoner was innocent.

Sentence first, Verdict afterwards

BESIDES the informal hearing be-fore the ex-high priest Annias, there was the formal trial before the High Priest Caiaphas. He presided over the Sanhedrin, the supreme court of the Jews at that time. It was a learned tribunal, venerated all over the Jewish world. As the lawyers might say, its writ ran everywhere; its decisions were quoted as precedent in Alexandria, Babylon, Spain. You might have expected it to be dignified, honorable. But not on that night, with that victim.

You might as well expect a pack of wolves, starved in midwinter, to be dignified and honorable with a sheep in their circle. These men, and their intimate friends, had been described by the Prisoner, not long before, in words that stuck in their brains like arrowheads. "Whited sepulchres . . . full of all uncleanness . . . ye say, and do not . . . yet devour widows' houses . . . blind guides . . . offspring of vipers. . ."

If there had been any hope that they might change, Jesus would not have used such words. So they had made up their minds: He must die. Now was their hour, while the city slept. Leader of the pack was this Caiaphas. As the farce of a trial went on and the high priest by grace of Rome faced Jesus, High Priest by the grace of God, what did he see in Jesus' eyes?

That Fox

IF CAIPHAS was a wolf, Herod was a fox. It was Jesus' nickname for him. On that April morning this fox had the surprise of his lifetime. Before he could collect his wits, he was facing the very man whom his private police force had been vainly trying to arrest-Jesus of Nazareth. Two kings faced each other in Herod's hall that morning. The one wearing a robe and crown, seated on some kind of throne, was one of the most un-kingly men who ever bore the royal title. The other, in plainest citizens' clothes, and no crown, no throne to be seen, was the one real king who has lived among men.

"Suffered Under Pontius Pilate"

PONTIUS PILATE, procurator of Judea, deputy plenipotentiary of his Imperial Majest, sat on his judgment seat and looked at Jesus. Six times he had looked at him; six times he had made certain that this young prisoner was an innocent man, and six times he had said so, even in the face of the mob.

The noises in the street confused him. He could not hear, down through the centuries, the voices of millions of men, women and children, rising up week after week and repeating the words, almost like a curse: "-and in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord, who . . . suffered under Pontius Pilate." The voices in the street drowned the voices of the centuries.

But if, as Pontius Pilate turned Jesus over to the will of those who hated him, he had dared to look into Jesus' eyes, and what would he have

To this very day, and to the end of time, in all places and among all men, this Christ whom the world holds in chains is yet the Judge of every man. Men may say of Jesus what they wish, and he will be silent still. But in his eyes in the verdict. A man is judged by his own judgement of Jesus Christ. And you, too. Facing you, he looks straight through you. What do you see in Jesus' eyes?

Mighty Casey Hasn't Struck Out

Grantland Rice snapped a ligament in his pitching arm. By this point, Casey had reached the spot where nothing else could happen. Some experts were beginning to look for some place lower than eighth where the team could finish. The lowly Browns had a new rival. But the Casey of early April and the Casey of today are two entirely different men. The staggering Casey of early April is the mighty Casey of late May.

"There is ease in Casey's manner and a sneer on Casey's

There is scorn in Casev's bearing as he moves his swinging hips.

And when he looks around the field to call his rival's bluff Not a rooter in the place can doubt that Casey knows his stuff."

In any event young Jerry Coleman, at second, suddenly turned into a star. So did young Dick Kryhoski at first. His pitching staff became the best in either league, and his batsmen started ripping the cover off the ball. Above all, when something was needed, Tommy Henrich would hit a home run or a triple or make a killing play in the outfield. Bobby Brown and Billy Johnson began driving in runs.

Who would have said on the 17th of April that the Yankees would be something like six games ahead of the Red Sox on May 10?

As one Yankee veteran explained it, "When our batters fall down our pitchers step in. When our pitchers blow, our batters come to life. But most of the time, both our pitchers the answer. The Yankees always had good pitching. But it is even better than it looked to be. A staff that carries Vic Roschi, Bob Porterfield, Tommy Byrne, Allie Reynolds, Joe Page, etc., is a stand-

This doesn't mean the Yankees are due to break up the American Keller ripped a new league. But it does mean they are a far stronger ball club than any back. Johnny Linone thought they would be. They dell sprained an can hit and field and they have can hit and field and they have able pitching. And they have, in manager Stengel, a leader who no longer fears to look fate in the face.

Casey would have received his share of razzing if the team had blown up. Why not slip him the loud nuzzas for his place in the standings today?

Early Checkup

May is still too early in the campaign to start any checking.

The big surprise in the National league has been Giant pitching, especially Hartung's pitching. Durocher's staff has more than held its own. The team has also been hitting. So far, no club has settled down to any consistent play. The pitching has been spotty. The Dodgers have held their own more through speed and youth than through expected good pitching. The team is also hitting better than it figured

The Giants have been up around the front even with Larry Jansen, their star pitcher, off to a ragged start. He is due to be much better from now on.

The National league race has proved to be as even as it figured from the start. At the end of the third week of the season, a gap of only four games separates the eight clubs. The Pirates and Cardinals are due to move up with long home visits ahead. Especially the Pirates.

The slump of Johnny Sain has cut heavily into the Braves' shot at a good early lead. Like Jansen, he got away badly, but you can't rate him that far down.

Washington, after a ragged start, has bounded back in the American League with a spectacular rush. Chicago's White Sox have been a hig improvement over expected doom. You will see the Red Sox and Athletics start moving soon.

LIVING-ROOM SQUAT

Television is developing a race or sitters-a vast, immovable population of living-room squatters, as it were. In all areas of the country where video has come into play, great masses of people are "settin' " glued around the set, absorbed and silent, neglecting small talks, books, papers and even the racing

The decline in conversation at house parties in television belts has become alarming. Guests hardly speak to one another or to the hostess. Whole evenings are spent in which "come in" and "good night" sum up the total exchange

The old man doesn't go down to the store for the papers or a cigar. Mom cuts the cinema. It isn't because television is all sheer entertainment. In fact, it has been rather trying, often downright annoying. Video is still in the baby stage. It doesn't look like an extra smart kid. But there is such a diversity of attractions on so many programs over so many channels that there is a fascination for millions in it, good or bad.

So many more thrillers, playlets, vaudeville sketches, hockey games, fights, wrestling bouts, debates, concerts, newreels, soap operas, comedians, tragedians, actors, dancers, scientists, clowns and puppets come zooming into the old homestead that the audience at least gets action. The reactions are curious. We know one addict who says, "It's so bad that it's absorbing." Another demands, with more enthusiasm, "Show me another medium through which I can get a hockey game, a ski tournament, a forum, a circus, a Broadway show, a couple of westerns, a book review and a carload of miscellaneous entertainers and celebrities without getting out of my chair!"

We have even discovered a fellow who finds some commercials attractive on television. He hated commercials on the radio, but a close-up photograph of a mince pie, a layer cake, a stack of wheaties, a bubbling glass of beer or a gal whipping up a dinner on a cooking program) intrigues him. He gets sore if a plate of frankfurters and beans doesn't screen well or if a display of gelatins is out of focus. His chief interest in all products seems to be their degree of screen

Men and women who could take their regular radio or let it alone have been known to go nats over television. The business of operating the various dials to bring in the entertainment gives them the feeling of tors, dramatic coaches, vaudeville kibitzers ond movie promoters. They are never satisfied. They are always monkeying with the dials, trying to achieve the perfect show.

The American public is getting more and more amusement-mad and it looks as if books, magazines and newspapers may have to go all out for showmanship. Man's house used to be his castle; it is now his fight arena, his ball park, his theater, his concert hall, his information bureau and his personal clambake.

The answer to "Shall we go out somewhere tonight" is "Why?" People used to leave the apartment to kill boredom and seek some diversion. They now accomplish the same objectives with an "aerial stack" and a "booster."

Hurry up with the dinner, mom! There's a prize fight, a wrestling show, six musical revues, a tour of the nighteries, four westerns, a travelogue, a newsreel, four mystery dramas, 18 newscasts, a rodeo, a mardi gras and a sailfish tournament on the video tonight!

President Truman, at 65, attributes it to the fact, "I worked hard all my life and never had any time to get into mischief." That is clearly overlooking the fact that he deliberately ran for re-election to the presidency, it seems to us.

Commissioner Chandler seemed in such haste to get out from under in that recent baseball riot case that he may go into the baseball records as the first man in history to slide from first to home.

AS ISRAEL ENTERED UNITED NATIONS . . . In a significant United Nations moment, the new nation of Israel was voted into the international assemblage of nations at the general assembly meeting in Flushing Meadows. The vote was 37-12, with nine nations not voting. In this photo United States Delegate Warren Austin proffers congratulations to Israel's Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett in front of the seat the new nation's representative will occupy during general assembly deliberations. Israel had been an established nation slightly more than a year when membership in the U.N. was accorded.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE (BERLIN) BALL GAME . . . That might be the refrain as in addition to lifting of the Berlin blockade, the other big news item was the opening of the Berlin baseball season. In this photo, the retiring U. S. military chief, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, is shown in fine form as he throws out the first ball in the initial game between the 759th military police and headquarters company, 782nd special troops. General Clay seems to have dropped all his administrative cares and to be enjoying the moment thoroughly as he prepares to "fog" the ball over to get the diamond season underway.

DRUCIE CHRISTENS "COVERED WAGON" . . . The United States treasury, in promoting its "Opportunity Drive" U. S. savings bond sale, is going almost as much out as it did during war days when bond-selling campaigns were being conducted. In this photo Miss Drucle Snyder, daughter of Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder, is holding a bottle of water from Sutter's Creek, Calif., with which she is about to christen the covered wagon. This replica of the old "prairie schooners" is one of 30 being used to push the sale of savings bonds through the campaign ending June 30.

NO LAP CAT, THIS FELINE . . . This tabby cat goes all her predecessors one better in the business of drinking milk. While the ordinary kitten is content to get milk from bowl or saucer, this feline pet of Barbara Baiena, Brooklyn, will have none of that. Instead, the kitten, unnamed by the photographer, demands the same sort of service as her mistress when milk is being handed out. So, the kitten sips the milk daintily from a straw, just as Barbara does. No, the cat does not eat her ration of liver with a knife and fork the photographer said.

Several questions pertinent to the proposed Tawas Memorial Hospital have come to my attention, which I will endeavor to answer in Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ulman and which I will endeavor to answer in Mrs. John Ulman visited Mrs. Hel-

1. Will the hospital be owned by the community?

Answer: Title to the property will be in the name of Sisters of St. Joseph, the organization that will operate the hospital, subject to U. S. Government regulations for a period of 20 years and a re-visionary clause of forfeiture to the communities for failure to community?

Answer: No. It will operated by private group for benefit of the community. 3. Will it be staffed as fully as possible by local personnel?

Answer: Yes.

4. The financial profit or loss will acrue to the local community?

Answer: The community will not share in any direct profit or loss arising out of the operation of the hospital. This is one of the main advantages to the present plan, as investigations have indicated that operation of hospitals are a definite financial risk whch this community must avoid.

5. Will the hospital be available for all the people in Iosco County?

Answer: Certainly. That is the only reason for building the hospital-it will serve all who need its services, regardless of race, creed or color. Has a reasonable chance of fi-nancial success, and all income groups may be accomodated?

Answer: The proposed operators of the hospital feel the urgent need of the community for such a service outweighs any financial losses that may accrue to them, and all income groups may be accomodated in the hospital. However, it will not be operated as a free charitable hospital.

7. May patients be treated by the physician or physicians of his choice in accordance with the wishes of the patient without regard to religious affiliations?

Answer: Any properly qualified physcian may practice in the hospital. However, the rules and reg-ulations of the American Hospital Association governs this matter.

The above answers have all been publically stated on several occassions in the press, however, the Association is always ready to repeat any information for anyone who may so desire and invite any interested persons to attend the Association meetings which are held at the Chamber of Commerce building on the second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each

Pastel Colors Vie With Whites in Bridal Gowns

By Ertta Haley

LUCKY is the girl who is being married this season, for more than one reason! Gowns combine all the lovely, sentimental and romantic trends which have been making fashion history during the last few months.

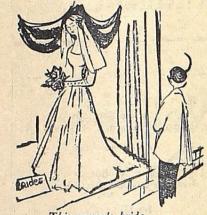

Another reason is that you may have a dream dress at a price that is far, far from being a nightmare. Naturally if you intend to choose a gown using 25 yards of the finest organdie or 80 yards of nylon tulle, the price of the wedding dress will be understandably high. However, if you choose a somewhat simpler gown, there are a number of enchanting dresses from New York designers at a "something new" in

For under $60 there's a particularly heart-melting white imported organza dress designed with an offshoulder ruffle of eyeleted cotton, snug waistline and a full skirt lengthened into a generous train, It comes with its own taffeta slip.

For a little more you may have an adorably young, puff-sleeved white satin dress, high waisted and frilled with Swiss organdie below a flesh-toned yoke of nylon tulle. It, too, has a wide train.

Choose "Something Blue" In Wedding Gown

This year's bride may want to choose as "something blue" her own gown. Pearly white satin has lost none of its appeal for brides, but for those who prefer a pastel, the girl may choose an ice blue or a blush pink, both of which are very attractive. Both of these colors have been recently introduced in a lightweight but highly lustrous summer satin. Lace combined with satin, all cotton lace in a Chantillylike pattern, marquisette and organdie are other fabrics of importance throughout New York collec-

Crisp, rather than frothy or ethereal is a dress of snowy pique, the gathered skirt fully trained and the bodice sleeved to points over the wrist. Framing the wide-spreading V-neckline is a deep bertha-like collar echoing the decor on the

Interest Shown In Sleeves, Yokes

Many designers sponsor cap and puffed sleeves in their bridal fashions. In most instances, however, matching mitts or gauntlets go along, leaving little of the arm bare. An exception to this is the beautiful hoop-skirted white satin dress with bell-puffed sleeves, meant to be worn with short, white

Bridal Finery

Here's a stunning capeletsleeved princesse white satin bridal dress from the spring and summer collection of a New York designer. The bodice is yoked with a marquisette and richly embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent pailettes, and buttons in back. Satin gauntlets are embroidered at the top.

Yokes, frequently defined with ruffling of lace or eveleted organdie, give a demure touch to many of the new bridal dresses. The yoke in some cases is done in pale blue or flesh-colored nylon or net rather than the traditional white.

Full Skirts Featured In Bridesmaid's Dress

Simple designing marks the bridesmaid's dress this year. This does not mean, however, that it's in any way an ugly duckling. With full, charming skirts, scooped or wide-open necklines and sash waistlines, these gowns are very romantic looking. One in light blue combines plain and eyeleted organdie and has a small ruffled apron over

Perfect for a garden wedding is a hoop-skirted, floor length dress in green and lavender plaided cotton with a matching cartwheel.

Can look lovelier than ever.

Snug bodices, very wide skirts with wide sashes, appliqued flow-ers, all are features on the new bridesmaid's dresses.

May a Shopper Collect Damages if Knocked Down At a Bargain Sale?

A dry goods store ran a month-end sale on bed linen, and got re-sults far exceeding its fondest screamed, fainted and even climbed up onto the counter! During the excitement, one housewife was knocked down a stairway.

Though not badly hurt, she determined to sue the store for damages. She claimed that the company should have taken special measures to prevent this kind of accident. However, the court rejected her suit. The judge pointed out that the store had no reason to expect such a violent response to the sale!

Is a Fire Engine Driver Liable for Reckless Driving?

On the way to a fire, a fire engine sideswiped a parked taxicab. The cabbie was injured, and later hopes. A huge crowd gathered and began milling around. Women damages. The fireman protested that he was not personally responsible for something that happened in the course of his urgent public duty. However, the court ruled that was no excuse and held him liable for reckless driving.

Is a Beekeeper Responsible If His Bees Attack a Mule?

A farmer set up a beehive alongside his back fence, right close to the favorite grazing spot of his neighbor's mule. One hot day the bees lit out after the mule and stung him so badly that he died. When the neighbor sued for the value of the beast, the farmer protested that he was not to blame for what his bees had done. However, when he admitted that the so tempting to children. However, the court his bees were vicious, he should not have stationed them so close to her fingertips. Her daughters are 16 and 9 now, the roads at night. They invariably the neighbor's animal.

ding, it's the wise bride who goes on a beauty ritual before the wedding. She may be perfectly lovely, but a few beauty routines followed faithfully for a week or 10 days before the wedding when her days are healthy, wholesome look for her hectic, will give her good grooming as well as confidence.

Properly chosen food, rest and cleanliness will assure her of a wedding day. These will be beneficial for all-over beauty, especially for preventing the skin from breaking out all of a sudden from too much rich food during bridal showers!

No matter how busy her program the bride-to-be should plan to get her full quota of eight hours sleep. If she can't manage this every night, she should take an hour or two for a nap during the day. No bride should appear at her own wedding with dark circles under shining eyes!

A daily tubbing will take care of cleanliness, but special attention should be directed to the face, arms and legs, especially if the skin is dry. Use a cleansing or lubricating cream if the skin is dry, and do this treatment faithfully.

Lovely wash fabrics such as the many fine cottons are taking novel turns in the current skirt blouse styles, and nearly all of them are designed with variety in mind. In the model sketched, stunning appliqued flowers of the same white as the blouse become even more flattering with quilting. The skirt is worn with or without the pretty weskit, according to your mood. Another idea that is extremely popular is the skirt with a wide, matching sash which can double as a stole or a cleverly draped hal-ter, according to need.

Youthful Errors Leave Scars

TWENTY YEARS ago a certain wider world.

The motor trip lasted five days. For those five days, and they weren't by any means days of unclouded happiness, the girl threw away her honor. It seemed fun to register as Mr. and Mrs.; it seemed fun to spend his last $19 of allowance and the $10 she had borrowed from a sorority sister on the delights of little wayside meals and overnights at the picturesque motels of Southern California. A "motel" is an informal one-story hostelry, and at many of them guests are not too closely questioned as to age or relationship.

This girl was a sensitive, wellbred, proud young thing, who came to me a few months after this brief interval ended, half-mad with self-contempt and shame. No, she was not going to have a baby; the escapade hadn't left that scar.

Tortured with Remorse But she was writhing under the too old for her 19 years. Knowledge seriously at all. Knowledge that yielding to his casual importunity. Knowledge that many of her colcouldn't help showing that they For that particular relationship didn't like it-or her.

No, man, in the honorable and consciencious beginnings of his business life, likes to remember that when he was in high school, he used to slip his hand into the pockets of coats hanging up in the schoolhouse hall, and take what he found. No man likes to remember the time he lied flatly-and successfully!-about cheating in the finals in his Freshman year.

The chance that got him out of a disgraceful night club raid, while the other fellows had to face the publicity and scandal of it, isn't anything to be proud of, in later life. These ghosts of past follies and young sins rise to haunt us and to jar our self-respect and sense of security in later years.

This is so of all schoolday mistakes. Untruths that got someone else into trouble. Small thefts and forgeries. The abandoning of friends when one might make a safe escape from trouble and leave them burning misery of knowledge far behind. Cruelty to a devoted mother.

And more than all these-these that the boy hadn't taken the affair little foxes that gnaw and gnaw through our memories is the knowwhat she had thought a generous ledge in a girl's heart that in her surrender had only been a cheap unthinking girlhood, she threw away something that meant nothing to her casual lover, but so lege associates suspected what had occurred, and the nicest of them ever dreamed.

to a girl, is the very key to her whole life. It is the key to honor, dignity, wifehood, position, home, children. It means these things to her, whether she quite knows it or not at 18.

Koreans Run Thieves Mart

Seoul Natives Sell Variety 'Hot' Items

SEOUL, KOREA.-Any modestsized American department store would be envious of the thieves' market in this capital city with its variety of goods ranging from surgeon's scapels to G.I. uniforms. With a sly grin the native calls it "our Korean P.X."

The market, which is stuffed with goods obtained mainly through realized that he was the sort of questionable channels, is made up of hundreds of wooden stalls on a muddy, twisting side alley almost a mile long.

The American influence on this little community of "hot" goods is plainly evident. The three years of American military government combined with the large civilian personnel still here has been the market's best source of supply.

The market, whose merchants operate on the basis of "you name it; we have it," or "if not, we can get it," is glutted with medicines, shoes, toilet articles, civilian and GI clothes, plaster pin-up girls, So what? What's the moral? The and almost anything else you can

The market has grown into quite a little industry with its own dyeing and tailoring concerns. It is only a matter of hours until a "hot" man's suit can be tailored over into a woman's garment and dyed a different color.

Another favorite pastime of the local slippery finger men is the lifting of automobile headlights, provided they can't make off with the vehicle. But those thieves specializing in the automobile trade apparently are imbued with a certain amount of community con-

Wedding Plans

IF YOU'RE PLANNING to enter-tain after the wedding and make all the refreshments yourself, with just a little help, do consider a simple menu as the most effective means of doing it. You'll probably have to cook in large quantity since many guests will be there.

menu which can be carried out more perfectly than a larger, elaborate menu.

FOR A LARGE wedding reception, a simple but effective menu goes like this: Assorted Tiny Sandwiches

Potato Chips Stuffed Olives Salted Nuts Fruit Punch Coffee Wedding Cake Ice Cream or Ice Cream Mold

The cake many be made in several layers of different sizes. If you desire a smaller cake, use three or four layers of the same size. In either case, make the cake and decorate it at least 24 hours ahead of serving time so that it can be sliced easily.

Here's a good recipe for a large cake. The filling and icing recipes for the roses.

Six Layer Wedding Cake (Serves 16-18)

6 cups sifted cake flour 6 teaspoons baking powder 1 teaspoon salt

11/3 cups shortening 4 cups sugar 2 teaspoons vanilla

1 teaspoon almond extract 2 cups milk 10 egg whites

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening with vanilla and almond extract until fluffy. Fold in sugar and blend until thoroughly mixed. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, in small amounts, beating after each addition, until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff but not washed, hulled strawberries and dry and fold in gently. Pour into greased, waxed-paper lined pans and bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 30 minutes. This recipe makes six nine-inch layers.

Lemon Filling (For 6 nine-inch layers) 21/4 cups sugar 1/3 cup cornstarch 1/2 teaspoon salt 3 tablespoons grated lemon 1 cup lemon juice 11/2 cups water 3 eggs, beaten 3 tablespoons butter ients in order given and blend thoroughly. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until thickened.

Ornamental Icing 2 cups sugar 1 cup water 3 egg whites 1/4 tablespoon cream of tartar ½ teaspoon vanilla 1/2 teaspoon almond extract Boil together sugar and water,

VANESSA BROWN typifies everything that a young actress ought to be. Very pretty, with chestnut hair and blue eyes, she has managed, at 20, to complete her college course and make pictures at the same time. Asked how it happened that she was chosen for the maid of the all-star cast of Paramount's "The Heiress," she laughed and said she'd been teaching William Wyler's daughter to swim; after testing older actresses he realized that Vanessa was right for the role, her ninth. You've heard her on the air—she toured Alaska with "Vox Pop," has appeared on the Screen Guild and other important shows. She writes other important shows. She writes, too; has sold three stories to a newspaper syndicate.

Five of filmland's glamour girls recognize a voice that has made love to them when they tune in Mutual's "Scattergood Baines." John Miljan deserted films two years ago to devote his time to his avocado ranch at Vista, Calif., but could not resist the role of "Mr. Howard" in "Mrs. Mike," the Dick Powell-Evelyn Keyes starrer being produced for United Artists.

When Guy Lombardo does the summer replacement for Phil Har-ris, starting July 3, his show will feature the "Musical Autographs" format that gave him one of the highest Hooper ratings of any musical program aired during the war

As if Ben Grauer didn't have enough to do (he's all over the air!) he contributed his services recently for the documentary short, "For Us the War Goes On," about the mutilated war children of Italy, who will receive the proceeds.

Joan Fontaine in "Bed of Roses" will be back at RKO for the first time since she starred in "From This Day Forward" in 1945. A modern drama, it stars her as an iron-willed girl with an insatiable desire to have her own way. Friends who knew her and Olivia de Haviland in their school-girl days say the beautiful Joan herself always had a way of getting what she wanted.

Crooner Jack Owens of ABC Breakfast Club fame came in for severe criticism after his 8-year-old daughter Noel visited his show recently. Disapproyingly silent at dinner that night, she finally explained to him—"I really don't think it's your live in the same of the it's very nice of you to go around sitting on ladies' laps and singing to them when you have a wife and three children at home!"

Ray Morgan, announcer for Mutual's "Take a Number," heard Saturday evenings, is a minister of the Congressional church. He has no church of his own, but substitutes for vacationing or ill ministers near his Long Island home.

Jane Wyman began her Hollywood career as a blonde, went dark for a couple of years when she danced in chorus lines, then dyed her hair red. "The Yearling" was her last blonde appearance, but instead of starting the cycle all over again she has kept it various shades of brown. She says it will stay brown, and natural, as it is in "The Octopus and Miss Smith."

Dennis Morgan has a new reducing formula-"a one-mile footrace with my 12-year-old son every morning." The daily contest has been going on for six weeks. So far Morgan has lost all the racco.

Bill Lawrence, who has been singing for the last six months on Arthur Godfrey's broadcasts, has been selected to pinch-hit for Perry Como on the Supper Club show this summer, but will continue to appear with Godfrey as usual
