

Identical twins (twins), those rare look-alikes who are closer than two (two) carbons of the same letter, are in a fair way to becoming immortalized more or less (less)—through the Hollywood Twin club. This organization is either one club with 36 members or two matched sets of 18 each—take your choice. Six members of the Twin club and their carbon copies (left) smile nonchalantly at the poor photographer. Meetings are held once a month for the sole purpose of getting together to relax and enjoy mutual hobbies.

Ditto Sisters

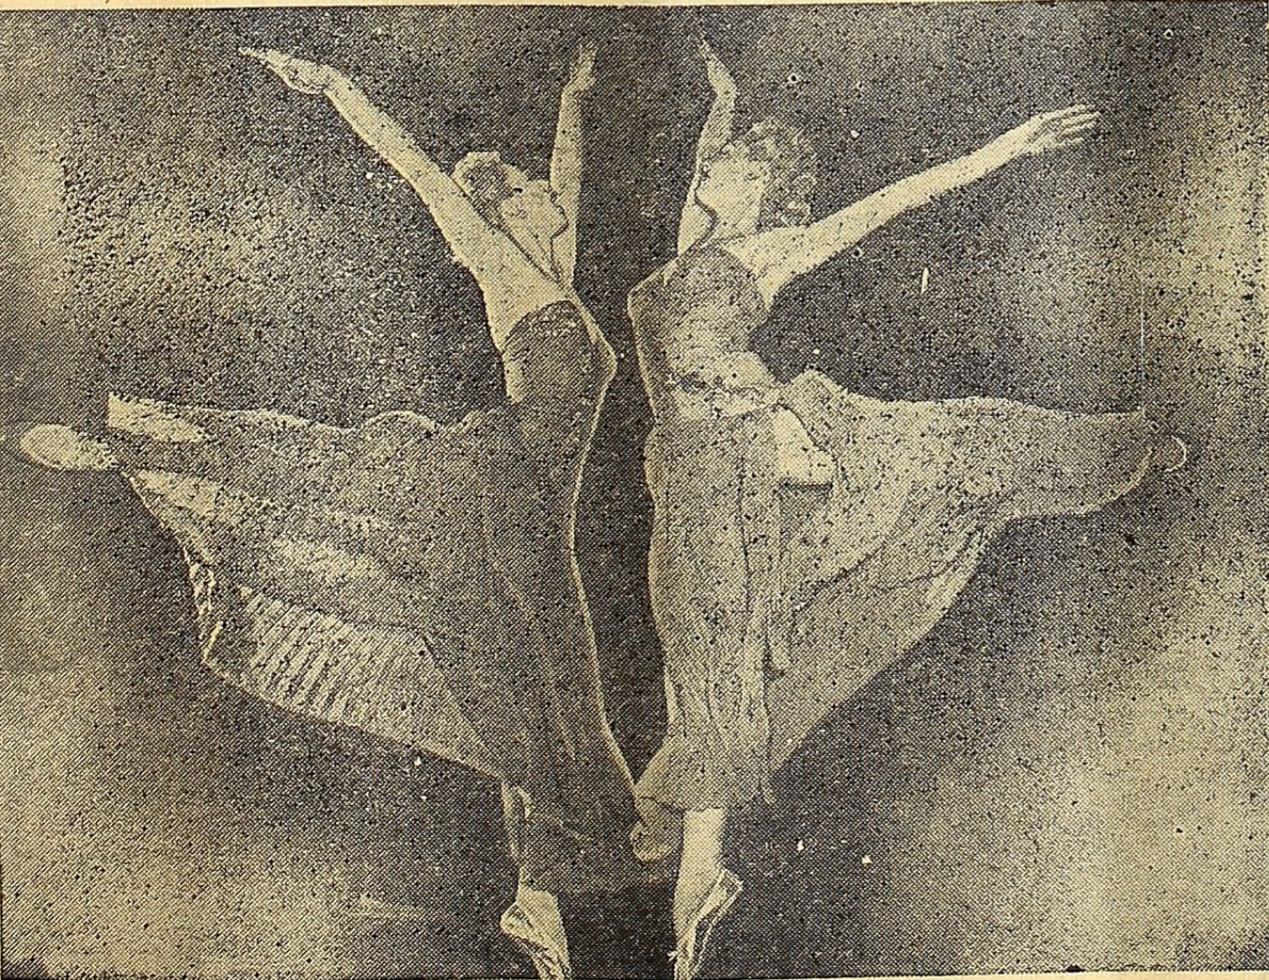

The Pope twins, Jane and Jo (right) have more in common than their faces. They have the same taste in clothes, food and frolics, including horseback riding. All members of the club are as versatile as they are beautiful, and all are engaged in some phase of theatrical work. Even in Hollywood, where illusions grow in abundance on movie lots, the twins are conceded to be unusual, unique and novel.

An effective routine used by Marion and Martha Neff is this "mirror" illusion. Martha, or maybe it's Marion, holds a hoop in the foreground and Marion, or maybe it's Martha, duplicates the pose in the background to present a "reflection" that isn't. The Twin club was formed in 1945, starting with five sets.

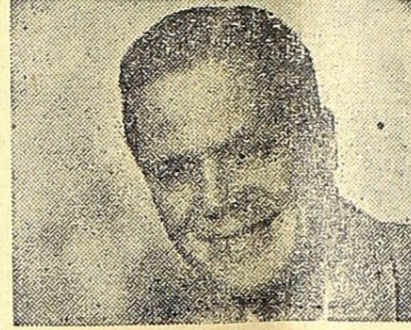

Jane and Jean Luther (right), who perform on skates in West coast ice shows, hold still in a pretty pose long enough for you to get a look at their faces in case you want to try to tell them apart—and what good would that do? The Costellos, Dorothy and Ruth, (below) are ballet dancers and are considered good at it. Here they carry out the twin business with identical dancing poses to match their physical appearance. The girls are both blonde and blue-eyed.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By INEZ GERHARD

DAN DURYE (real name) made his reputation on stage and screen as a heel. He has slapped Joan Bennett, Elizabeth Scott and Yvonne De Carlo. In "Manhandled," his latest film for Paramount, he twice delivers a short right to Dorothy Lamour's chin. As an actor no one can be slicker or slimmer. In real life he's one of the nicest guys you could ask to meet, devoted to his wife and two young sons, active in PTA and with the Boy and Cub scouts. He played a cur on the stage in "Missouri Legend," which set him for a similar role in "The Little Foxes" on stage and screen. In some 25 pictures he has given such excellent performances that someone's description, "a heel with sex appeal," will probably type him forever.

If Alexander Knox doesn't like his role in "The Judge Steps Out" it will be his own fault; he collaborated on the screen play. A reporter for 12 years before taking to the stage, he starts his 10th year in films with this one.

Ben Johnson, star of "Mighty Joe Young," was the favorite stunt man of Gary Cooper, Errol Flynn, Johnny Weismuller and most of Hollywood's other male stars before John Ford and Merian Cooper discovered him in "Fort Apache." He was doing stunts for the picture on location at Monument Valley, Utah — now he's starring in their new picture.

In one of the biggest deals in radio history ABC has arranged with Ted Collins for a new series of shows, "Kate Smith's Music Room." Kate and Collins will play records, discuss songs and composers and present nationally known guest stars. Said to be a $5,000,000 deal. The show will run from 9 to 11 p. m. beginning July 4, but will not affect Kate's two MBS shows.

Bob Hope seems to be anchored to Hollywood most of this summer — will be busy making "Fancy Pants" during his radio vacation. Doesn't see how he can accept an engagement at London's Palladium, but you never can tell!

Warner Baxter's good luck charm is a small, pearl-handled revolver which was given to him 18 years ago by William S. Hart. Baxter has used it in almost all his motion picture roles, and in his latest film, Columbia's "Prison Warden," carries it when he leads the chase for an escaped criminal.

The opportunity to paint Paulette Goddard posing as "Anna Lu- casta" accounted for the stampede of students to enter the contest sponsored by Columbia Pictures at the Art Students league in New York. There will be money prizes, and the opportunity to have pictures exhibited at a New York gallery — but what the students want most is to see Paulette.

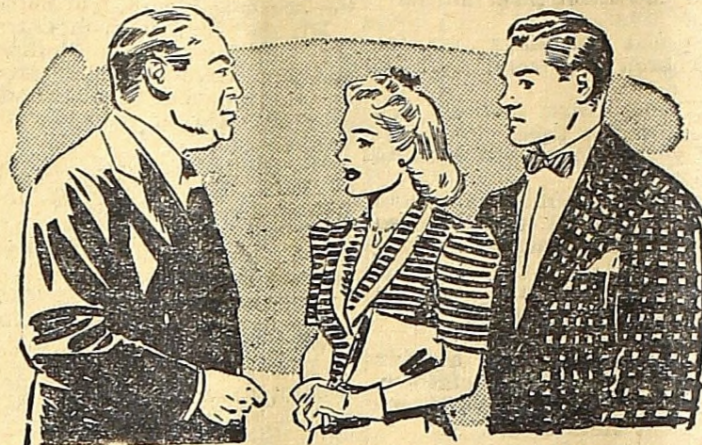

Merey Amsterdam's strong sense of civic responsibility is shown by his serving on the honorary committee of the National Amputation Foundation, along with Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Truman, James Farley, William Randolph Hearst, Jr., and Eddie Rickenbacker. The foundation is sponsoring a baseball game July 26 in New York between two teams of amputees.

"It's in the Groove," the new March of Time, tells the story of record making, from Edison's time to the present. The two-reel picture is packed with talent, with the big names whose recordings have made record history.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Asked if he would retire after completing his co-starring role with Sinatra and Jane Russell in RKO's "It's Only Money," Groucho Marx said, "I don't know; ask me again after the picture is previewed." Beginning July 4 CBS' "The Second Mrs. Burton" goes south; 33 southern outlets are being added to the list of stations carrying the Monday-through-Friday daytime drama. . . . Coleen Gray is Bing Crosby's new leading lady in "Riding High."

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Should Weigh Dad's Dislike
By Lawrence Gould

Should you marry a girl whose father dislikes you?

Answer: This might largely depend on how the girl feels about her father, since your greatest danger in this situation is that her remorse at having married someone whom he disliked might in time have the effect of "turning her against you." But most fathers do not relish the idea of giving up their daughters and may take out their resentment on any man one of them wants to marry. If this is the situation, you can only go ahead on the assumption that "Dad" will eventually realize his daughter is a woman and entitled to her own life.

Does anyone want to be neurotic?

Answer: Yes. At bottom there can be no other reason for developing a neurosis. But because the person does not know what he is doing and cannot help doing it, to blame him is as unfair as it is useless. A neurotic symptom—a phobia, for example—represents the only way of getting satisfaction or avoiding danger the person can recognize with his emotions, whatever his "common sense" may tell him. And he'll cling to it like the proverbial drowning man until he is helped to realize that the same goal can be attained by less painful methods.

Are normal children interested in sex?

Answer: Of course, just as they are interested in all that goes on around them, especially if their parents make a mystery or secret of it. If you are worried over your child's concern with this subject, read a new book, "The Normal Sex Interests of Children," by Mrs. Frances B. Strain. This book

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

KEEPING HEALTHY House Dust Often Causes Allergy

By Dr. James W. Barton

WE ARE familiar with allergy in which the tissues of some individuals (15 to 20 per cent of the population) react differently than most of us to certain substances that float in the air, are eaten in food, or injected under the skin. We see it in forms of hay fever, asthma, head colds, stomach upsets, hives and other skin eruptions.

Allergists, specialists in allergy, tell us that there are many substances causing allergy that are still unknown or not suspected. One of the commonest causes is ordinary house dust, to which one or more of the family are allergic but blame their symptoms on pollen or similar substances.

Some years ago a magazine mentioned a case of allergy in which the father of the household, afflicted with asthma, traveled ahead of his family to locate a district where he would be free of asthma. Finding such a place, he would send for the family. Shortly after the family arrived, his asthma again would afflict him. It was only after several such movings that it was learned that it was the fur of the beloved family cat that was causing the asthmatic attacks. While allergists have found some cases of allergy to be caused by street dust, it is more often substances in the air of the home that are to blame. Some of these substances are the children's toys stuffed with wool or cotton lint, insect sprays, heavy curtains, mattress fillings or feathers or cotton, certain domestic articles, the odors of perfumes, and powders, hair dyes, eyebrow and lip pencils.

The thought, then, is that where the cause of the allergic symptoms is unknown, and the usual test for foods and pollen have been made, the dust in the home—particularly in the bedrooms (mattresses) and in setting rooms (stuffed chairs and sofas)—should be carefully tested by an allergist. The cause of allergic symptoms can be found in the majority of cases if diligent search is made.

HEALTH NOTES

While all foods are nourishing, the foods that should be eaten daily in the usual servings (the protective foods) are meat, eggs or fish, milk and dairy products and green vegetables.

If all of us were to visit our physician and dentist regularly, many of us would not be afflicted with chronic illness in old age, as is so often the case.

Cancer is the subject of the greatest research work in history.

Boys and girls who enroll in their Circus Book Club may select their own attractive paper clown. Polka dots are added to the clown's costume to represent the number of books which have been completed, based in the pupil's reading age level. Upon the completion of two books, each member will receive his Circus Book Club pm. Reading Certificates will be presented to those who complete ten major selections during the period and a club party is being planned for these outstanding members. Good Buy - all around

FRIENDS gather, look over that long bonnet and wish they had as much Fireball life as you have here.

They size up the broad windshield and narrow corner posts—and don't have to be told how these things step up "see-power."

They appraise the smart styling, the roomy interiors, the usability of luggage space—and agree you've made a buy.

But don't stop, please, with letting them look. Invite them in and introduce them to some of the special pleasures you'll know as a Buick owner.

Show them, for instance, how completely different Dynaflo Drive† is, with every mile cushioned by flowing oil and none of the rigid harshness of direct-drive cars.

Let them sample the matchless Buick ride, with all four wheels cradled on soft, coil springs and low-pressure tires made still easier-riding by extra-wide rims.

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

Point out how solid this Buick feels. That's what you get from husky frames, low-sprung weight, and power delivered through a torque-tube instead of the rear springs.

For the truth is, this Buick's a bargain on much, much more than you can see.

It's a big buy on the solid goodness a demonstration quickly makes plain. On increasingly favorable delivery dates. On attractive price. On the kind of "deal" your Buick dealer makes.

That's why we keep saying "Better see your Buick dealer—and get that order in promptly!"

BUICK alone has all these features

- Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRIFLEX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS
- Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Cruiser-Line VENTIPORTS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER

Not Enough Byrds . . .

FOR YEARS in the United States senate Harry Byrd, Democratic senator from Virginia, has been a lone soloist in the interest of the American taxpayer. His theme song has been government waste and extravagance. He has systematically opposed the ever-increasing appropriations for government support of the handout-seeking people, and the ever-increasing army of bureaucrats. So persistent has been his efforts that he recently called forth this statement from President Truman: "There are too many Byrds in the senate."

That statement may or may not have had anything to do with the fact that the number of Byrds in the senate are increasing. Two others have definitely joined, and what was the Byrd solo is now, at least, a trio, with the possibility that it may soon become a chorus.

Singing for economies in the government operations is not now as unpopular in the august body as it has been over the past years. There is some, though as yet small, evidence that an awakening to the dangers we are facing is at hand.

Two of the President's own party, Senator Douglas, of Illinois and Senator McClellan of Arkansas have joined the Byrd refrain. Other senators of both parties are twittering a still-feeble "me too," and it is possible the President's demand for more and greater spending may be drowned out by a Byrd chorus.

For years, congress has been on a run-away spending spree. The war emergency was the alibi through the fighting years, but the spending did not stop with the defeat of the enemy. Any wild proposal to pay for more leftist schemes met with immediate response. Such lavish handouts were presumed to be vote producers, and members of both parties "wanted in" on the purchase of votes with the taxpayer's money.

The end of that wild and reckless spending highway we have been so blithely traveling is drawing nearer. It ends in a morass of national bankruptcy, with poverty for all; of a loss of our economic system; of our cherished liberties; of our jobs and means of livelihood; of our world leadership; of a deflation greater than any we have known in the past.

It is what lies at the end of that highway of wild and reckless spending that is causing members of both houses of congress, and of both major political parties, to pause. With that is also the letters they are receiving from the folks back home. The home folks are viewing with alarm the spending congress has been authorizing, and they are threatening to vote against those who persist in continuing a spending program. Members of both senate and house are being told that their re-election will depend on their support of government economies rather than on government spending for more and greater handouts.

Many members of both houses, and of both parties, who have had a ready "yes" vote for any and all extravagant appropriation bills, who have personally sought millions and more of government money for their states or districts, have quite recently stopped to look and listen before that usual "yes" vote. They seem, at long last to realize what must be at the end of the road they have been following.

For such reasons there is now a bit of a hope that the "one too many Byrds" will develop into a real Byrd chorus before it is too late to save us from the catastrophe that lies at the end of the extravagance and waste road we have been traveling.

A continuance of the letters from the people back home, the people who have the say as to whether or not the members of both houses of congress shall continue on the job after the next election, demanding a halt in the efforts to socialize America, will help materially in producing such a desired result. America owes much to that "one Byrd too many in the senate."

Neither senators nor congressmen draw large salaries, but they do have sizeable expense accounts—and no questions asked.

The farmer wants socialized transportation as a means of reducing freight rates on farm products, but he is horrified at any suggestion of socialized farming. The doctor condemns socialized medicine, but endorses socialized law. So it goes through all segments of business, industry and the professions. What all are looking for is something for less, but none want socialization for their particular line. We all seek a cheaper price for what we buy, but not for what we sell.

An empty nail keg can be easily converted into a novel magazine rack for the rumpus room. Set keg on barrel rack and nail into place, and paint any color, colors, designs, etc. to harmonize or contrast color and motif of room.

Never disconnect iron or other electrical appliance by pulling cord; grasp and pull plug to prevent strain on connection.

Empty egg shells can be easily converted into attractive place favors for your next bridge luncheon. Start saving shells in advance by taking time to blow out eggs when recipes do not call for separated eggs. Blow out eggs by making hole in round end with point of knife and carefully lift off shell until the hole is about the size of a dime. Hold egg over bowl and, with the point of a large pin, puncture a hole in the other end—egg will drop out into bowl. Rinse and dry shells; then dye or color them as desired. Holes may be covered with gummed paper or secure decorations, etc. within them—let your imagination, party motif, etc. be your guide.
