Michigan Rates First In Number of Cattle Breeding Groups

Michigan ranks first in the number of artificial breeding associations for dairy cattle and eighth in total number of cows bred artificially, a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture report shows.

On January 1, 1949, Michigan had 133 associations, 29 more than Minnesota, its nearest rival. In number of cows bred during 1948, however, Michigan ranked eighth with 120,000. Wisconsin led with 420,000 cows serviced artifically.

Every state in the United States now has an artificial insemination program for dairy cattle and near-ly 2,500,000 cows are in herds to be serviced.

O. E. Reed, chief of the bureau of dairy of U. S. D. A., recently pointed to the Michigan program as an example of what artificial breeding can do to spread good inheritance to a large number of cows. The former MSC dairy department herd cited that 12% of Michigan's dairy cattle are now being bred artifically

Figures of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative at Michigan State College, East Lansing show that 40% of the dairy cows

Board of County Road Commissioners, of the County of Iosco. By: Elmer Britt, Chairman. Glen P. Sabin, Member. Clarence Curry, Member. Foreward Three important factors made it possible for the Road Commission to make a fair showing in 1948 in maintaining and improving our roads. These factors are: Assistance given by townships, State Highway maintenance contract, and a light snow fall; although some of our savings from light snow fall were used up in ice control. It has been necessary to continue with the number of employees reduced considerably below the number normally required, but some woth while improvements have been completed. These projects are listed here, with the cost, because most of them come under maintenance. While the cost is included in the following pages of this report, only a few will be itemized there. Foreward Three important factors made it possible for the Road Commission to make a fair showing in 1948 in maintaining and improving our roads. These factors are: Assistance given by townships, State Highway maintenance contract, and a light snow fall; although some of our savings from light snow fall were used up in ice control. It has been necessary to continue with the number of employees reduced considerably below the number normally required, but some worth while improvements have been completed. These projects are listed here, with the cost, because most of them come under maintenance. While the cost is included in the following pages of this report, only a few will be itemized there.
