Iosco Fair Grounds At Hale Enlarged

Interesting Program of Entertainment

Liberal Premiums to Encourage Exhibits in All Departments

The Iosco County Fair Board is making an attempt to enlarge the Iosco County Fair which will be held at the new fair grounds at Hale, on September 1, 2 and 3.

Premiums will be awarded on exhibits owned and entered by residents of Iosco, Alcona, Oscoda, Ogemaw and Arenac counties, except for the horse pulling contests which are open to any Michigan team meeting the requirements.

On each day of the fair there will be a horse pulling contest. Thursday at 8:00 P. M. it will be for teams weighing less than 3000 pounds. The contest will be held under the lights in front of the grandstand.

Friday, the teams weighing more than 3000 pounds will have their contest at the same time and place.

The prize money being the same for both contests is as follows: First, $60.00; Second, $50.00; third, $40.00; fourth, $30.00; fifth, $15.00 and sixth, $10.00.

On Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in front of the grandstand there will be a free for all pulling contest with six prizes the same as above.

These contests are open to any team in the state of Michigan. We are asking all persons wishing to enter a team to secure a copy of the fair book containing the rules and regulations governing the contests.

Another new feature to be added to the fair this year is the calf scramble. Ten spring calves will be placed in a pen to be caught by farm boys between the ages of 12 and 17 years. Any boy qualifying for the scramble can take the calf home and raise it for a year under the supervision of his county agent.

The boys must enter their calves at the 1950 Iosco County fair to be judged as to the care and attention given them during the year as well as for conformation. After the judging the calves will be sold at auction to the highest bidder and after deduction of the purchase money, the balance will go to the boy catching and feeding the calf. There will be ten calves and applications will be restricted to farm boys between the ages of 12 and 17 years who are in a position to feed and care for these calves a year and agree to return the calf at the Iosco County fair in 1950. Get your application in as soon as possible to Andrew A. Matthews, Hale, Michigan, as the number of contestants will be limited.

Other features of the fair will be a Donkey Ball game, Grand parade, tug of war, amateur boxing program, midway and carnival, ball games, etc.

Offer $50 in Prizes For Clown Acts

The Board of Directors of the Iosco County Fair Association announces a new added feature to the 1949 Fair, by offering $50.00 in cash prizes for clown acts. Three prizes of $25.00, $15.00 and $10.00 will go to the best clown performances during the three day event.

The purpose is two-fold: it rewards local talent and furnishes added entertainment for the enjoyment of the fair patrons.

Rules for Contestants
1. Contestants must enroll with the secretary before 1:00 P. M. on the opening day of the fair, Thursday, September 1.
2. The acts may be one or more individuals, male or female of any age and may have animals or any props which are required. Residents of Iosco, Alcona, Oscoda, Ogemaw and Arenac counties are eligible.
3. Contestants must perform two hours each day of the fair and are required to participate in the parade Friday, September 2. Schedule for appearance will be given by the secretary.
4. This new feature should give the local folks an opportunity to show their talents at a profit.

Locals Out Hit West Branch But Lose 10-6

Tawas City Plays its Final League Game Sunday at East Tawas

Sixteen hits were not enough! Out hitting the West Branch team 16 hits to nine, the locals still went down to defeat 10 to 6 at the local athletic field Sunday. Inability to hit with men on base, and not being able to keep a West Brancher from scoring, after he reached first, proved the locals downfall.

Bill Groff, led the extra base hit parade with a line drive homer in the fifth, L. Neubecker tripled in the first inning with two aboard, and doubles by Dale Landon, Bob Rollin, with two, and Oliver with one.

Bob Rollin, third sacker for Tawas had a field day at bat, with four hits for five times at bat. Included were two doubles and a pair of singles.

Reg. Bublitz started on the mound for Tawas, and allowed six hits in the three innings he worked. He was relieved by Landon who allowed three hits, in the remaining six innings, one in the fourth, one in the sixth and one in the ninth.

Two big innings for West Branch, the first and fourth, were all they needed, as they scored seven of their nine runs. A double, single, two errors and a triple in the first accounted for three runs and in the fourth one hit, three walks, a single and a "backfired" fielder's choice, gave the Oil towners four more runs.

Tawas City scored three runs in the third on five hits, one run in the fifth on Groff's homer, and two in the seventh on four hits.

Don't forget the game Sunday, at East Tawas, when the locals and East Tawas tangle in the final league game of the season.

Drop 1 to 0 12 Inning Game To Alabaster

Look and Felsing Stage Pitcher's Battle Before Record Crowd

Alabaster kept the Northern Division of the NEM League in a turmoil last Sunday, when they gave the league leading East Tawas team their second straight loss of the year.

For the second week in a row East Tawas dropped a tough 1 to 0 decision. Two weeks ago, West Branch topped them 1 to 0 in nine innings and last week Alabaster came through with a 1 to 0 victory in 12 innings. These two losses puts East Tawas one game ahead of Alabaster and West Branch, with only one more Sunday of play remaining. This Sunday, August 14, Tawas City will play the league leading East Tawas team, and should East Tawas lose, a three way tie could result, with East Tawas, Alabaster and West Branch in the money.

Before the largest crowd of fans at the Alabaster diamond, this year, Herb Look for East Tawas, and Felsing for Alabaster, staged a pitcher's battle, with Look going eight innings before allowing a hit. East Tawas got seven hits in seven different innings off Felsing. He held East Tawas to two hits in the first seven innings, then they got one each from the eighth to twelfth inning.

Vern Hill was the first Alabaster man to solve the slants of Herb Look, getting a single in the eighth inning. In the eleventh, E. Erickson singled, and Peterson replaced Look on the mound. Anschuetz went to first base. Peterson then retired the side.

In the all important twelfth inning, Herriman doubled for Alabaster, and the veteran centerfielder, Joe Roberts, drove him in with the winning run.

Rapp's double, for East Tawas, in the twelfth was the longest hit of the day, and brought Joe Martin in to pitch for Alabaster. Martin struck out Ulman and Anschuetz and Peterson grounded out.

This Sunday, August 14, should bring out a capacity crowd when Tawas City will play at East Tawas. This is the final game of the (Continued No. 4, Back Page)

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Signs North Atlantic Pact; Brannan Farm Plan Beaten in House; British Clamor for A-Bomb Secrets

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

ENVOY TO COSTA RICA SWORN IN . . . Joseph Flack (left) of Doylestown, Pa., places his left hand upon the Bible as he takes oath of office and is sworn in as new ambassador to Costa Rica from the United States. He succeeds Nathaniel P. Davis. The wife of the new envoy is looking on as Stanley Woodward, chief of protocol officer at the state department in Washington, D. C., administers the oath.

BRANNAN PLAN:

Loses Trial

The house approved a measure continuing the farm price-support program in its present form. The bill was slated to go to the senate. The house vote was 383-25.

The retention of the 90 per cent of parity supports killed the Aiken law, passed by the Republican-controlled 80th congress and which was scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1.

The administration gained a partial victory in eliminating the Aiken law but saw defeat in being denied a test run of the controversial Brannan agricultural plan.

Under the Brannan plan, perishable crops would be allowed to sell at what the market would pay; then the government would pay the farmers the difference between the support level and the average price the farmers got.

The Pace bill, which embodied provisions for a trial run on three farm products of the Brannan plan, lost out, 222-152.

A substitute for the Pace bill, the Gore measure, suspending the Aiken law and continuing the present farm program, won by a final vote 383-25.

One of the surprises of the session was the very few votes cast to keep the Aiken law alive.

Corridors of the house office building where the meeting was held were filled with lobbyists for various farm organizations. Police had the area roped off.

Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) argued that opponents of the Pace bill were obligated to offer some kind of alternative.

"I'm concerned about the consumer," he said. "When he reads about millions of bushels of potatoes being burned under the present farm program, he wants to know what's wrong."

WARNING:

Pact Okayed

Russia received a warning that any further aggression in Europe will be considered an attack upon the United States. The warning came in the form of an 82-13 ratification of the Atlantic pact by the senate.

It was the first time in American history that a peacetime pledge had been made that the United States will take action (military action, if necessary) if certain other nations are attacked.

UNDER the north Atlantic treaty this nation and 11 other nations pledge that an attack upon one will be considered an attack upon all. The pact also pledges that the 12 members of the treaty shall prepare for mutual defense before the need for military action actually arises.

A small minority waged bitter opposition to the pact during the 13 days of senate debate upon it. Three Republicans, Wherry of Nebraska, Taft of Ohio and Watkins of Utah, tried to write a reservation into the treaty, specifying that ratification did not impose upon the United States the moral or legal obligation to supply arms to the other 11 signers.

The heavy vote for ratification and the impressive vote against arms reservations were victories for the senate bipartisan foreign policy. Only two Democrats voted against ratification—Johnson of

ATOM DATA:

England's Needs

Reports say the administration has investigated the possibilities of sharing atom-bomb secrets with Britain by executive agreement without action by congress. Some law-makers have sought to tie the President's hands.

The idea has been discussed but no decision has been reached to carry it through. It is considered a matter of the senate-house atomic committee, the state department, the armed services and the atomic energy commission. A secret meeting at Blair House was thought to have been called by Truman to discuss the matter.

The United Kingdom and Canada co-operated in atomic development during the war and are believed to know all about the wartime bomb. The atomic energy law of 1946 has forbidden further exchange of information.

Some sources say Great Britain can produce an atom bomb of its own if it decides to concentrate on the problem.

Britain may have threatened the United States with loss of uranium ore from British-owned Belgian Congo mines if the U.S. refuses to yield atomic secrets.

Britishers have been resentful that their observers were not allowed at the Eniwetok bomb test. Roosevelt established the precedent of presidential co-operation with Britain in things atomic without congressional authorization.

HOUSING:

Modest Home

A modest home may be built for $5,900, federal rent director Tighe Woods has proven. He was trying to solve the military's housing difficulties.

The over-all size of the house is 15 by 38 feet. The price includes sewer and water systems.

Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.) of the house armed services committee said he was going to examine Wood's home near Fort Belvoir, Va. The committee has studied a military construction bill authorizing the armed services to spend more than 449 million to house 7,795 military families.

THE BILL would limit homes in the United States to $16,500 cost each with no limit on those built abroad.

PROTEST:

Russia protested against Italian membership in the north Atlantic alliance, but her protest was denied by secretary of state Dean Acheson. Russia claimed Italy's participation was a violation of a treaty she had with Russia and other allies after the war that she would join in no alliance directed against any of the victors. Acheson denounced the Soviets.

INCOMES:

Profits Decline

Net corporation income, according to the securities and exchange commission dropped to an estimated two billion, 400 million dollars after taxes, in the first quarter of this year.

THIS INCOME was approximately 16 per cent below the profits for the corresponding quarter of 1948 and 18 per cent below the preceding quarter.

The drop in sales, the report said, more than offset lower costs and expenses.

Experiencing the largest declines in net earnings were the large corporations. These lower profits were said to have been reflected in lower rates of return on stockholder's equities.

The SEC reported: "The ratio of profits after taxes to stockholders' equity for corporations over 100 million dollars in assets dropped from an annual rate of 18 per cent in the fourth quarter of 1948 to 14.4 per cent in the first quarter this year."

SMALLEST-SIZE CLASS corporations with less than $250,000 in assets showed an increase from a small loss to 8.4 per cent.

All but two of 22 industry groups showed declines in profits after taxes from the fourth quarter of 1948 to the first of 1949.

ARMISTICE:

Israel-Syria Accord

Syria and Israel have signed an armistice agreement that will keep their military forces behind their international frontiers and established demilitarized zones in the contested areas.

THE CEREMONY, taking place between the Israeli and Syrian fighting lines in north Galilee, will lead, it is hoped, to an early settlement of issues between Israel and the Arab states in the Lausanne, Switzerland, talks of the UN Palestine conciliation commission.

Israel has signed armistices with all the Arab countries that took part in the Palestine conflict—Egypt, Lebanon, Iraq, Jordan and Syria.

The agreement is another tribute to the skill of Dr. Ralph Bunche, UN mediator, and Brig. Gen. William E. Riley, US chief of staff.

IT HAS been agreed that un-restricted civil life may be resumed in the demilitarized zones pending final peace negotiations when an international boundary will be clearly defined.

The agreement calls for the withdrawal of defensive forces to a line three and a half miles deep on either side of the armistice line. This keeps the Arab legion and the Israeli troops out of grenade-tossing distance of each other.

GUATEMALA:

Rebellion Off

A military revolt in Guatemala against the government of President Juan Jose Arevalo died out. Calm spread over the capital after 24 hours of fighting that followed the assassination of Col. Francisco Javier Arana, chief of the armed forces.

FORT GUARDIA DE HONOR, the seat of the revolt, was regained by loyal troops and civilian volunteers. All fighting ceased.

Forty persons were reported killed, according to the police director. No United States citizens were among the casualties.

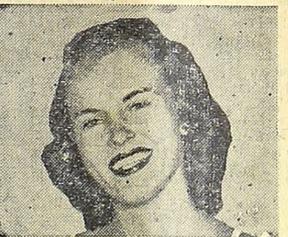

Observers said the colonel was killed because he refused to lead an uprising against the government, and then his death was used as an excuse to attack the government.

Among those fighting were many who belonged to a political party backing Arana for president. All state ministers were loyal to the president.

THE GOVERNMENT armed large groups of civilians for the battle against the rebels.

Several United States citizens were endangered by the fighting but none were injured.

Queen

Is there anyone to dispute the decision of the Judges in selecting Janice Harvell, 18, of Carolina Beach, N. C., as queen of the Lions? The smiling miss won the title in competition with beauties of other nations. The crowning occurred at the 32nd annual convention of Lions International at Madison Square Garden, N. Y.

PROTEST:

Reds Denied

Russia protested against Italian membership in the north Atlantic alliance, but her protest was denied by secretary of state Dean Acheson. Russia claimed Italy's participation was a violation of a treaty she had with Russia and other allies after the war that she would join in no alliance directed against any of the victors. Acheson denounced the Soviets.

Dreams for Sale By Old Chinaman At Two Cents Each

SINGAPORE.—Wong, the half-blind consumptive story teller, has a dream for sale.

For 20 years Wong has pierced the sad cold walls of illiteracy in Singapore's Chinatown with the drone of his metallic voice. He sets up his wooden boxes, his kerosene lamp and, for all who care to pay two cents, he is willing to give to his fellow Chinese the magic benefits of his ability to read.

To thousands of illiterate laborers in the overcrowded streets in this island speck at the bottom tip of Asia, Wong is an oasis in a desert of sorrow.

The story of Wong's work is told with sympathy and understanding by Sot Yin Fong, young Chinese feature writer for the Singapore Straits Times.

Sot sat and listened in a smelly back lane (at other times Wong holds court on a temple porch of a traffic island) as the story teller read the news of the day from Chinese language newspapers.

Sometimes as many as 100 gather around. Emergency regulations in this area of turmoil prohibit mass assemblies, but the police understand and tolerate Wong's sessions. Chinese story telling is as old as the colony itself.

Wong spices the news with comments of his own and generally simplifies world events for his backward audience. It is only through Wong's weakened eyes that some poor Chinese keep abreast not only of momentous events, but also of municipal regulations and government statutes.

In his story telling he talks with few gestures and transports his listeners from the drab, unhappy land of today to the world of Chinese fancy, of ancient wars and adventures, of heroes and fairies.

The poor coolie, sitting in the dim light of a wick lamp, is lifted by his soothing words to consort with the three brother heroes—Kuan-Yu, the fierce god of war, Liu-Pei, the noble-minded emperor, and Chang-Fei, the gallant impulsive warrior.

He may dream of crossing swords with Tsao-Tsao, that tyrant of tyrants, or making love to that seductive lady, Sable Cicada, whose beauty was the downfall of heroes. He finds himself within the precincts of the many-walled, moated mandarin mansions, sharing the intrigues of an aristocratic family.

Then comes a tap on the shoulder and the geni's voice is stilled as the coolie is asked by the story teller's assistant to pay up the two cents.

Felon Outwits Police; Leaves Jail With Loot

ATLANTIC CITY.—Police were somewhat red-faced when they discovered that a prisoner not only had sneaked out of jail, but took with him $141 belonging to a cellmate.

Acting Detective Capt. James Pike said it all happened this way: Twenty-eight-year-old Major Lofston was jailed for brandishing a loaded revolver at another man.

Because the resort jail is crowded, Lofston was placed in a cell with another man, who was getting over some boisterous celebrating.

Lofston managed to sneak from his cellmate's pocket a police receipt for valuables—$146 in cash—checked at the desk when he was admitted.

Armed with the receipt, Lofston waited for police to change shifts. He hollered for the new turnkey, announced that he was now sober and wanted out.

With his receipt as evidence, Lofston passed himself off as his cellmate, collected $141, minus $5 for bail, and walked out a free man.

It wasn't until the morning checkup of prisoners that Lofston's absence was discovered.

Police immediately got busy. They found Lofston at his home, and $113 in an empty can.

Back to jail went Lofston with two new charges against him—"jailbreak by ruse" and "larceny by trick."

Beaders Get Credit

For Conservation Work

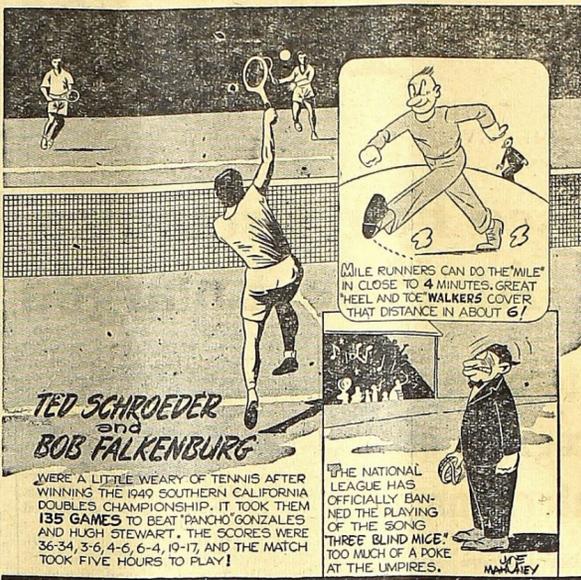

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y.—Three pairs of beavers brought to this area in 1920 by the Palisades interstate park commission as an experiment are making it possible for thousands of city families to enjoy outdoor meals beneath canopies of lush green foliage despite the record drought.

Capt. Sterling Gassaway of the Palisades interstate park police said the lakes made at beaver ponds were keeping near-by foliage in excellent condition.

Henry James, administrative director for the park commission, said this was the first large-scale proof of the conservation value of the commission's long range plan for drought protection.

"Depressions from the Ice Age left natural hollows for lakes and ponds," James said. "The beavers were placed near these spots and they dammed up water to form waterholes. The park authorities built twenty-six lakes at such sites and the beavers went ahead to select new natural sites."

Cards, Dodgers Rule the Roost

By GRANTLAND RICE

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE is a baseball circuit where practically all the pennant playing lately has been by the Cardinals and the Dodgers.

Once in a rare while some interloper, such as the Braves of 1948, breaks into the picture. But for the greater part of the time it is the Cardinals and the Dodgers rolling together down the stretch.

Once they get into the world series the Cardinals are a far different team. The Cards have won a flock of such postseason pastozals while the Dodgers have yet to come safely through.

But they can stir up a lot of dust trying. In the last eight years only the Cubs and Braves have each slipped through once, probably when the Cardinals and Dodgers were not looking. Now we get the same story in the steamy year of 1949. The Braves and Phillies may be rated a chance, but the bet is that either Dodgers or Cardinals will take over the August and September stretch.

Last spring it looked as if the National League would have much the better race. Now with the Athletics and the Red Sox still busy, with Cleveland's Indians beginning to act in a hostile manner again, the A.L. race may be much the better show.

It is about time the other six clubs in the National picked up more steam. The crash of the Pirates was a heavy disappointment, as much of a jolt as the downfall of the Red Sox was up through July Fourth. The main idea seems to be that anything can still happen in baseball.

Apparently a number of golfers are getting much slower than they were some time ago. Just as we were trying to work up a message, the following arrived from F.A.W., an eminent golfer and also a hot rooster for Michigan's football team against all comers.

This seems to cover the field completely—"People love golf and I love people, and so today's remarks are addressed to the genial host of high handicap golfers. God bless 'em; without them there would be no lush green fairways, bordered with sky blue lakes and stately pine trees; no beautiful and beautiful outdoors brought to your doorstep. They are the majority. "Frequently they, or rather you, play with low handicappers, business associates and other friends, and suffer mental anguish because you know they would prefer playing with better golfers. You are definitely right, but for an entirely different reason than you think. Seventy and low 80 shooters do not mind if you carve out a neat 105, but when you bother their game by not observing the simplest rules, they feel like crowning you with a niblick—and you do not always observe them. "A good golfer only wants to be permitted to play his own game, undisturbed. Here are a few suggestions:

- (1) "Do not delay the game. This is the most common fault, and this alone is enough to ruin the concentration of other members of your foursome. (a) "Be in a position to play when it comes your turn. (b) "Do not take a lot of practice strokes; preferably none. (c) "Do not painstakingly play out a nine or other high score when you are completely out of the contest. Pick up. Others want to get on with the game. (d) "Do not ask everyone in your foursome what club to use.
- (2) "Be quiet, motionless and look at the player addressing the ball until he has played.
- (3) "Many duffers cuss out their own mistakes, loud, long and continuously. Don't do it. Others are trying to concentrate on their own game."

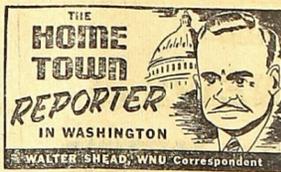

Joe Surprises

There have been a flock of great ballplayers around New York and Brooklyn in the last two days. Their tongues, as usual, were busy. The first topic was Joe DiMaggio and his spectacular return to his best form with no chance to get in top shape. It seems he did.

DOES YOUR DOG CHASE CARS?

ONE WAY TO PREVENT DOGS FROM CHASING CARS IS TO ATTACH A SMALL RUBBER BALL TO ONE OF THE DOG'S FRONT LEGS. THE BALL WILL PREVENT THE DOG FROM RUNNING FAST. SERIOUS ACCIDENTS HAVE BEEN CAUSED BY DOGS CHASING CARS.

Seldom in the history of any legislative program has the leadership been thrown into such a dizzy dither of uncertainty and confusion as is now apparent in the beleaguered farm organizations heading up the agricultural industry as a result of the much-discussed and controversial Brannan agricultural program.

Three leading farm organizations oppose the plan; one is for it. But none are agreed on a program to take its place. Out of the maze of perplexity has come a dozen farm bills—the Pace bill, the Cooley bill, the Gore bill, the Thomas bill and many others until one farm leader remarked—"Everybody wants to get into the act."

The Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange are in disagreement and are backing different proposals, and both get back to the defensive statement that "the farmers don't want the Brannan plan." The National Farmers Union favors the Brannan plan. At explosive hearings before both senate and house committees, the farm leadership marshalled its forces bringing into Washington leaders from throughout the country to testify against the Brannan plan. Red-hot statements have been issued.

The Farm Bureau, usually even-tempered and conservative issued a release called "Washington Ringside," questioning the sincerity, the motives, and insofar as this reporter can judge, even the veracity of the secretary of agriculture. And in so doing the Farm Bureau went back to the 1948 campaign issue of grain storage, taken away from the CCC by the 80th congress. This congress has written into the law again the authority of CCC to again provide storage for commodity credit grain on loan or purchase.

One thing is certain the whole question of an agricultural program will be a major issue in the 1950 campaign and the Farm Bureau was the first to take off the gloves and make its fight against Secretary Brannan and President Truman, who also called for enactment of the Brannan plan in his message to congress, on a strictly political basis.

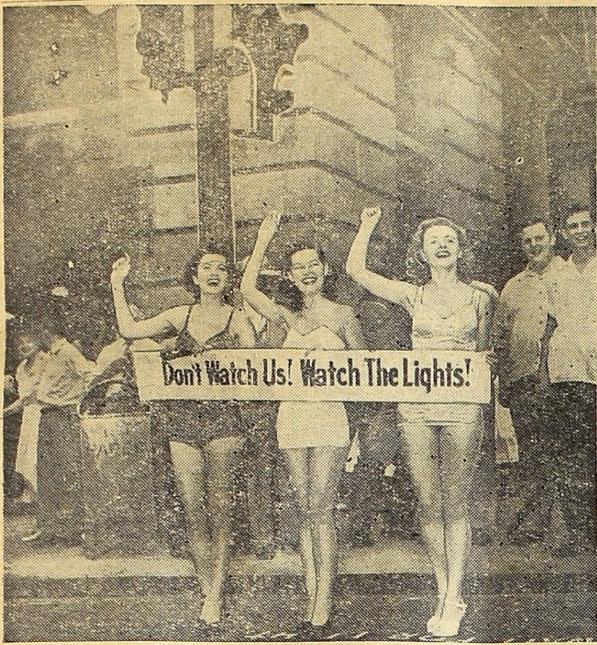

Another thing is certain. The Hope-Aiken law, with its so-called flexible provision of 60 to 90 per cent of parity, either will be replaced by another law, or will be so amended as to be unrecognizable. So blistering has been the heat turned on the Aiken law that even Senator Aiken himself now says that anything called for in the Brannan plan can be done under his law and easier, too . . . without going before congress for an annual appropriation for direct subsidy payments to farmers.

Senator Aiken now also denies that price support under his law was ever intended to be operated on a sliding scale, that prices should be supported at 90 per cent of parity the same as now; that the sliding scale was put in merely to protect the farmer against supports being dropped by administrative action below a certain point.

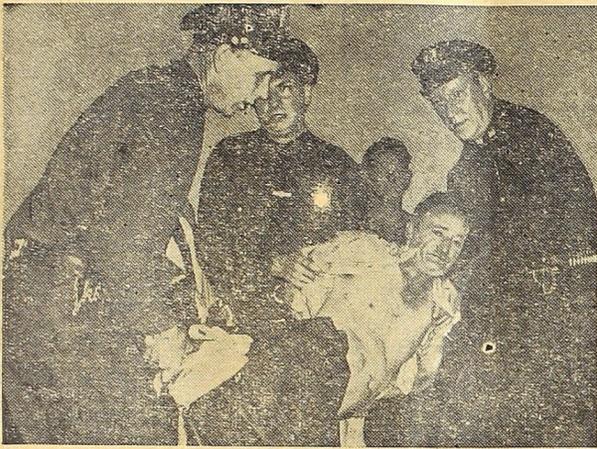

The National Council of Farm Cooperatives after issuing a statement that it generally was opposed to direct subsidies as proposed by the Brannan plan, has subsided somewhat and is riding out the storm, mainly for the reason that some cooperatives want the provisions of the Brannan plan.

Mr. Allan Kline, president of the Farm Bureau federation, who is an Iowa Republican, and was mentioned prominently during the last presidential campaign as a probable choice of Gov. Dewey for secretary of agriculture, has been the most outspoken opponent of the Brannan plan, and Mr. Brannan levelled some rather caustic criticism at Mr. Kline during Brannan's appearance before a senate agriculture committee hearing. The Farm Bureau declares that under the Brannan proposal, "the only hope for a fair income (for farmers) would depend on government hand-outs from annual appropriations by congress." That refers of course to the direct subsidy of compensatory payments provided for under the Brannan proposal and the fact these payments would come from the federal treasury. The question naturally arises as to whether anyone is naive enough to believe that the present subsidy of price support payments comes from any place except the federal treasury. Another question naturally arises. If the farmers themselves don't want the Brannan plan, why all the shooting?

The Pace Bill, introduced by Congressman Stephen Pace of Georgia, virtually kills the 1948 agricultural act (Hope-Aiken law) and contains the important features of the Brannan plan.

Don't Finish
A Dull Book

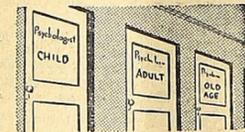

By Lawrence Gould

Should you finish every book you begin?

Answer: Certainly not if it does not interest you. The idea is as foolish as that a child should be made to "clean his plate" at meal-times, whether he is hungry or not. You get very little out of any reading that you do because you "feel you ought to," since your interest in ideas or pictures is what makes you "retain" them. But besides that, authors nowadays are compelled by their publishers to "pad" what they write so much that few books deserve to be more than skimmed through, and most have "said it all" in the first hundred pages.

most often led to "purely functional disease"—neurosis. Housewives topped a list including doctors, lawyers, farmers, clergymen, and teachers with 27 per cent of neurotic patients, while down at the bottom came the railroad engineers, with only two per cent of nervous ailments.

Is there more than one kind of psychologist?

Answer: Decidedly. The latest directory of the American Psychological Association lists no less than twenty "divisions" (specialties) in which its members are active, from "Childhood and Adolescence" to "Maturity and Old Age." But there is also the broader distinction between experimental psychology, which studies how humans and animals behave, and dynamic psychology, which studies the inner forces that make them behave as they do. One asks, for example, what proportion of men are untruthful and the other, what makes people tell lies.

Does housework create nervous tension?

Answer: Yes, although the tension probably comes not so much from over-work as from the frustration of the housewife's desire to do things she feels are more important. Doctors of the famous Mayo Clinic made a study of nine different occupations to see which

Goiter May Develop Cancer

By Dr. James W. Barton

AS A YOUNGSTER at school I knew two members of a family, a brother and sister, who had a large lump on the neck. We all expected that they would be choked to death or the food could not get down to the stomach and they would starve to death. I must have watched them for 10 years and nothing happened.

I know now that although these enlargements in the thyroid gland are called goiters, and that while some of them are dangerous or poisonous others are, of themselves, not dangerous. As this latter type was the kind with which our two school mates were afflicted, we might still have been waiting to see something happen to them.

As some of these non-dangerous or innocent enlargements of the thyroid gland may develop into the dangerous or poisonous type, there is always the question as to whether these "nodular" enlargements should be removed so that they will not develop.

In the "Journal of the American Medical Association" Drs. George Crile, Jr., and W. S. Dempsey, Cleveland, state that surgeons find that while as high as eight per cent of these "innocent" enlarged glands develop cancer, this high rate occurs only in the cases where cancer is suspected.

"In the millions of non-toxic (non-poisonous), symptomless, and innocent goiters which never are removed, the percentage of cancer cases is so low that cancer of the thyroid stands sixteenth in the list in which cancer is found."

However the lesson is plain. In all cases of a lump in the neck, the family physician should be consulted and if he advises there is nothing to worry about there is no need for further consultation, unless patient notices that lump is growing or he is becoming nervous or getting thin. Dr. Crile suggests that both physician and surgeon be suspicious of cancer in all these cases undergoing operation for removal of the enlarged gland.

A man is as old as his fear, and nobody grows old merely by living a number of years. Years wrinkle the skin, but giving up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

Twenty-five per cent of people who have blood in their urine are found to have cancer somewhere in the kidney, bladder or other part of the urinary tract.

Use of the electroencephalograph, which records the movements of the brain as the electrocardiograph does the heart, is a great step forward in understanding and treating epilepsy.

Glutanic acid is of some help in aiding the intelligence. A quart of milk contains enough glutanic acid for the day's needs.

TRAILS of the BOOKMOBILE

Perhaps the most popular reading at the lake resorts this summer are the ever popular western novels by Zane Grey, which are published by Harper & Brothers. Harper recently totaled the sales of all the editions of Zane Grey's books published in the United States since the author first submitted his "Heritage of the Desert" to that company in 1910. It is interesting to note that the grand total come to 24,261,768 copies. To date Harper has published 46 novels by Grey, many which have been reproduced from manuscripts left unpublished by the author's death which occurred ten years ago. Plans are now being made to publish two more manuscripts entitled "The Deer Stalker" and "The Maverick Queen," which will be released sometime next year. The county library has recently purchased nine of the more outstanding Zane Grey novels plus Max Brand's "7 Trails" to meet the demand of the many western novel readers.

The most ardent reader of horse tales at the Anschutz Circus Book Club is George Binder who has galloped his pony a distance of three miles for a perfect attendance record.

Little Deby Nichols of the Cottage Book Club is setting a goal for her book club members, constantly reading while recovering from a leg and head injury.

The Long Lake Book Club which was organized on July 15 is eagerly gaining new members through efforts of pin wearers, Carol Jo and Emma Lou Carter, Cleo Ciosek, Barbara and Joyce Dorsey, Margo Neff, Linda Starkey and Russell VanPatten.

Names are important at the Jordan Book Club where Alfred, Bobbie, Bonnie, Gerry, Ila Mae, JoAnn and Larry Jordan are active members.

Charles Gollnast tells the South Sand Lake Book clubbers that he lost a lot of sleep reading the 575 page volume of African Game Trails by Theodore Roosevelt and is trying to obtain credit for having read at least three regular novels.

Joyce Dodder of the Taft Book Club is finding a shortage of books on her favorite personage, Napoleon Bonaparte.

WONDERFUL NEIGHBOR by HOMER CROY

Homer Croy blinked back tears as he drove along the country road amid scenes of his childhood.

CHAPTER IV

"I'm pleased to be here today," he says. This isn't true, but it's all right to say it on the Last Day.

"Why, right in this schoolroom I once listened to a debate. Resolved: A College Education Is More to Be Desired Than a Thousand Dollars."

Now he is about to finish; his voice takes on a ringing note, for, after all, he can speak better than we thought at first.

It seems wonderful to us; and it seems wonderful to the parents—especially to the parents of the boys and girls taking part.

The teacher closes the curtain and hand clapping fills the room. A yearning comes over me; maybe sometimes I can get to see a city play with fine actors.

My Essay Is Well Received I grip the pages of my essay. The essay is going to say that cultivating a fine character is the most valuable thing I have learned from life.

Finally—after a heroic struggle—I get a word out. Then I get another out. Ma smiles reassuringly. In a few moments I have an exalted feeling.

At last I am through. I give a little bow and start for my seat. A hand clapping goes up. My mother beams. Pa tries to look modest.

and, standing before the school, every eye glued on her, opens the present—a copy of Pilgrim's Progress.

"Thank you, Teacher; thank you very much." Then she starts for her seat, doing her best to look modest.

"Listen, please, everybody," says Newt. No ravel pulling now. "The directors have just had a talk to-there was hardly any barbed wire. So the early settlers had planted osage hedge. It grew rapidly but was not a very good fence.

"Here's some chips," he said with an effort to be casual and set the bucket down by the door.

"I liked it." His feet continued to fly. "Did you?" "I'm going to keep it."

"It wasn't anything," allowed Newt, a bit embarrassed now. "I just happened to think of it."

The matter of the chip was dropped; there were other things to talk of; there were always things to talk of on a farm and in raising a family.

She had another way of showing her affection for him. Newt wore high-topped leather boots. In bad weather they became soaked.

SPORTSMAN'S HORIZON By JIM RHODY

Duckological Doings There's good news from Canada where Ducks Unlimited reports the waterfowl breeding season is progressing favorably in all parts of the range.

Substantial increases in the Mallard breeding stock have been reported in all three provinces while the number of Pintails seems on the rise in Manitoba and Alberta.

That's the way the fall hunting season on ducks is shaping up right now. In the main, it looks good. Happy hunting.

Good News Here's good news for the fly fisherman: The Shakespeare company's famous glass fly rod—the Wonderrod—is now to be made in two new models.

Shakespeare pledges the new rods will have the same fine action of their expensive companion models, with the only difference being in the finish, handle and put up.

Singing Holidays Lesson for August 14, 1949

IF A CITIZEN of the U.S.A observed all the holidays that are officially counted as legal, somewhere in his wide country, he would have 43 days off every year.

God and Country It looks as if some kinds of holidays produce songs and others don't. It appears to be a general rule: If the holiday is specially patriotic or religious, then people sing; otherwise they don't.

Hallelujah OUR word "Hallelujah" is Hebrew, and comes from the Psalms. It means "Praise ye the Lord!"

Parodies A SAD FACT today is that the un-Christian world, which does not understand religion at all, has taken over our religious holidays but leaves the religion out.

For people who are not Christians, Christmas is only Xmas, a time for exchanging useless presents, a time for shopkeepers to make money.

And as for Easter, there are cities where the big items are only the bunnies and the parade, neither of which has the slightest thing to do with the real Easter.

Theories Not Wanted
WHAT AMERICA NEEDS most in our efforts to weather the conditions that inevitably follow the destruction of an all out world war is a definite knowledge as to what the nation's economic system of the future is to be.

What we may call such a system, whether socialism, nationalization, Communism, fascism or human welfare, is of small moment.

If our private enterprise, profit system is to continue, it calls for a continuous flow of new capital into industry, transportation, finance, utilities, merchandising, all of which represents business, big and little.

In his public addresses, other than some of a purely partisan character, President Truman lauds the private enterprise system, and insists it must continue.

Personally, I am convinced that his public, non-partisan addresses represents the president's leanings, that he is for private enterprise; that his partisan addresses, and his demands on congress for legislation that would lead to socialism are the products of socialisticly inclined theorists.

To-day we do not need to accept theories. There is an abundance of opportunity to secure the facts as to the operation of socialism as a national policy.

Some may guess at the result, but guesses do not dispel fears, or change the thinking or the efforts of the theorists.

The president could name a commission instructed to report on what has been accomplished under a socialistic system in England.

Then, and then only, can there be a definite decision as to our economic course. Such a decision should, and would, stop the weasel words that befuddle us to-day.

If we are to forsake the ways of the past, and adopt socialism as an economic system let us do so openly and honestly, not through the back alleys of deceit.

Under the present wasteful and cumbersome governmental system of purchasing it costs more to buy $10 worth of lead pencils than the price of the pencils.
